SUMMARY.

Mr. T. A. Coghlan, Agent-General of New South Wales, has been elected a Fellow of the International Institute of Statistics.

The "New York Herald" cabled to the Japanese Foreign Minister that only a dozen newspapers sympathise with the jingo demand to transfer the battleships to the Pacific.

It was, therefore, not true that the demonstration was backed by the entire American people.

Viscount Hayashi replied that all Japan had unshaken confidence in the policy of justice and peace displayed by the American Government.

The "New York World" believes President Roosevelt will not consent to send the fleet to the western coast.

It declares that the jingo demonstration is finished, and attributes it to the ridiculous Fourth of July "buncombe."

There are signs that the people of California are beginning to regret their campaign against the Japanese.

The "Times" says that though the Seoul Court was surrounded with Japanese, the Emperor of Korea maintained an agent outside the kingdom.

This agent surreptitiously despatched a mission to The Hague and St. Petersburg. Hence the demand for the Emperor's abdication.

The Korean Ministry has resigned.

The theatrical syndicate is not projected for the purpose of merging existing organisations, but to acquire vaudeville and legitimate theatres.

It will be conducted on American lines. The principal London theatrical managers deny participation in the trust.

Cape Colony has made a claim against Germany for the sustenance of refugees from German South-west Africa.

Germany refuses to recognise the claim, but the Cape Government is persisting in prosecuting the claim.

The R.M.S. Ormuz has on board 193 free emigrants for the North Queensland sugar-cane fields.

A business building in Ontario collapsed, and hundreds of people were buried in the ruins. Fifteen were killed.

George Ardill (New South Wales) won the first prize of £30 in the Barlow at Bisley.

Sir Harry MacLean is held a close prisoner by Raisuli, near Tangier.

The Sultan of Morocco's troops surround Raisuli, and the Shereef of Wazzan is influencing the tribes to co-operate with the troops.

A heat wave prostrated 1000 people in Philadelphia on Thursday.

The executive of the Miners' Association of Johannesburg has decided, by a large majority, to declare the strike "off."

Edward Pooley, the old Surrey cricketer, has died in the Lambeth Infirmary.

At the half-yearly meeting of the Commercial Banking Company references were made to the notable career of the general manager.

Mr. T. A. Dibbs has completed his sixtieth year of service in the bank.

The first of the series of three Rugby matches between Australia and New Zealand will be played on the Sydney Cricket Ground to-day.

Three Queensland players are included in the Australian team, which is regarded as a strong combination.

Messenger is not available, owing to having sprained one of his ankles.

The "All Blacks" have made some important alterations in their team. Booth has been substituted for G. Spencer as full-back.

The idea of despatching a New Zealand professional Rugby team to England is reported to have been abandoned.

It is probable that the team will play a series of matches in the Commonwealth.

Federal Ministers will probably submit their tariff amendment proposals to Parliament early in August.

It is understood in political circles that Ministers have framed their new schedules on what are called high protection lines.

Mr. Dibbs' portrait is to be hung in the banking-room, and a service of plate is to be presented to him.

The steamer Fido, 899 tons, bound for Sydney with Ocean Island phosphates, was stranded on Thursday night near Tweed Heads.

Captain Larsen, the crew, and two passengers landed in Danger Bay, just across the Queensland border.

Seas are breaking over the vessel, which it is believed will become a total wreck.

The Harbour Trust is doing its utmost to minimise the smoke nuisance on the harbour caused by ferry steamers.

The first sod of the tram line between East and West Maitland was turned yesterday by the Minister for Works.

The question whether a lady-help is a domestic servant within the meaning of the Act has been decided in the affirmative by Mr. Acting Justice Sly.

The Bishop of New Guinea (Dr. Stone Wigg) arrived in Sydney yesterday.

The theatrical combine is regarded in local theatrical circles as a blow at Australian enterprise in securing the visits of old-world artists.

Australia, remarks Mr. Ramaciotti, can produce her own artists, and, taking them all in all, they are above the average.

The jubilee of the Sydney Grammar School will be celebrated on August 5.

In connection with the anniversary, it is proposed to raise a fund to equip the recently acquired school ground at Rushcutter Bay.

Dr. Ashburton Thompson points out a remarkable oversight in the Federal Quarantine Bill.

He says no medical officer is referred to as being concerned in the execution of the quarantine laws.

How long it will continue in force before some disaster occurs, he was not prepared to say.

The Postmaster-General says that there is very little doubt that the cable rates will be reduced, not only for press purposes, but for the public.

The Commercial Banking Company has had a prosperous half-year. The chairman (Mr. G. J. Cohen) said the balance-sheet was the strongest he had yet presented.

At the half-yearly meeting of the City Bank of Sydney, it was announced that an increased dividend had been declared.

The Transcontinental Railway Bill was read the first time in the Senate yesterday.

The Land Bill in New Zealand proposes to substitute a 66 years' renewable lease for the present lease in perpetuity.

A successful demonstration of Dr. Harker's invention for the prevention and extinction of fires on shipboard was made yesterday.

Coal bricks are being manufactured out of waste coal—commonly known as slack—on the South Maitland coalfield.

No finality has yet been arrived at in regard to the coal-lumpers' trouble. The unionists are, however, more conciliatory.

Mr. W. M. Hughes, M.P., who has been mediating between the parties, is still hopeful of the best results.

The Minister for Works says he believes we are on the eve of a state of prosperity superior to anything ever known.

The last of a series of six lectures on Greek sculpture, by Professor Woodhouse, was delivered in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last night.

He remarked that where present-day sculptors sought to portray abandonment they sacrificed grace.

Reports from Tonga state that there has been an eruption at sea off the Island of Tongatabu.

A column of smoke and steam was ascending, and there was every indication of a remarkable submarine disturbance.

Many Wanganui people are leaving Wellington by the Maheno to witness the Webb-Towns sculling race on the Parramatta.

A moderate amount of business was done in the Stock and Share market yesterday, prices being firmer.

In the Mining market, stocks were freely quoted, although the amount of business was very small.

ANDERSON'S FOR TREES AND SHRUBS.

The Planting Season is always of great interest, not only to ourselves, but to folk generally—and in order to help in keeping the interest of the citizens "up" we are making a SMALL DISPLAY OF SUITABLE TREES AND SHRUBS for garden adornment at our warehouse in George-street, to enable those who are desirous of planting some of our Shrubs to see exactly what the Plants are like in their young stages of growth. There are lots of other Shrubs not included in this list, which we can supply, but as we haven't room to display everything, there will be no difficulty in bringing them in for you to-morrow or the next day—or else we will send them to you.

THE HEROES OF A HUNDRED FIGHTS have had to STRIKE THEIR COLOURS in Sunny New South Wales.
WILL HISTORY REPEAT ITSELF TO-DAY?
Last week 52,000 people attended the MIGHTY STRUGGLE on the Sydney Cricket Ground. SOME SAW the MATCH, SOME SAW the CROWD, and SOME SAW but LITTLE. Varying estimates have been made as to the NUMBER of MALES in the CROWD, but the consensus of opinion puts the figures at 41,000.
The expert who presides over the GENTLEMAN'S TAILOR-MADE CLOTHING Department at the NEW PALACE EMPORIUM is of OPINION that a very large percentage of the 41,000 football enthusiasts had CLOTHED THEMSELVES PER MEDIUM OF
ANTHONY HORDERNS'
FAMOUS LOW PRICES.
In CORROBORATION of this VIEW he points to the RECORD PRODUCTION of SMART SEASON'S Tailor made Clothing by the firm's highly-skilled employees. This is ONE POINT for OUR BOYS IN BLUE TO-DAY.
There are OTHERS: KEEP on the BALL, KEEP on SIDE, KEEP on SCORING, PASS Quickly, PASS Accurately, PASS Frequently, but NEVER PASS
ANTHONY HORDERNS'
FAMOUS LOW PRICES,
which always stand for TOP QUALITY, BOTTOM PRICE.

MEN'S TAILOR-MADE SUITS.
The TAILOR-MADE SUITS in our Men's READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING Department have ACHIEVED a REPUTATION for EXCELLENCE, and have been noted TOP QUALITY, BOTTOM PRICE, by the people from CAPE YORK to CAPE HOWE, and POINT DANGER to the LEEUWIN.
All MATERIALS for our CELEBRATED SUITS are THOROUGHLY SHRUNK, cut by EXPERT TRADESMEN, FAITHFULLY made, and WELL finished.

ANTHONY HORDERNS'
READY-TO-WEAR CLOTHING for Men reflects the LATEST FASHIONABLE CUT and THIS SEASON'S PATTERNS. It is a FALLACY to IMAGINE that the CITY MAN cannot SECURE a READY-TO-WEAR Suit for the city that will GIVE him GOOD WEAR and HONEST satisfaction. OUR SUITS are MADE for the TALL or SHORT, and STOUT and SLENDER, and the EXTENSIVE range of CROSS SIZES enables us to GIVE A SATISFACTORY FIT and a SUIT THAT WILL PLEASE.

THE CITY SUITS.
COAT, Single Breasted, round or square cut, with padded shoulders and raised shoulder points, buttoned cuffs, and stitched edges. VEST: Single Breasted, high cut, with or without collar. TROUSERS: The new cut, side or cross pockets, raised seams.
THE CITY SUIT has all the points that tell the tale of first-class workmanship, and is offered in Sizes 3 to 7, with all the CROSS SIZES created by the Sartorial Artists to meet all possible requirements of all sorts and sizes of men.

THE ACID LINE.
Most people in cities live just on the line of acid surplus, and pass over the border every few days. A State dinner, a day of extra mental activity or emotional excitement, and over the boundary they go; a chill, a damp day, impeding the surface eliminations, or a persisting constitutional tendency, and over the acid line they drop. The proof is in the prevalence of the acid diathesis, shown in rheumatism, neuralgia, and gout. Rheumatism is undoubtedly caused by germ ferment in the intestinal tract, precisely at the point where the blood takes up its serum albumen from the peptone.
Microbes planted there sour the serum. It is offered to the blood as an acid to live. With heroic efforts, parting with its own alkalinity to effect it, the blood seeks in vain to neutralise this acid; the impoverished blood cannot prevail against the microbe ferment, but is itself rendered acid.
Acid reaction is always shown in the blood of Rheumatics.
To these people we suggest the Alkaline Sparkling Mineral Water known as HELIDON SPA WATER, and to all who may be advancing towards the ACID LINE.

AS DAINTY AS THE FRAGRANCE OF FLOWERS.

There is a subtle charm in daintiness, whether it be that of flowers or of foods—the dainty always appeals to our senses, and particularly to the sense of taste.

You like dainty foods, whether you are a man, a woman, or a child; and of all the dainty, delicious, and appetising foods there is nothing in the City to compare with those prepared by

VICE-REGAL PHOTOGRAPHERS.

PHOTOGRAPHY is one of the professions which admit of all classes of aspirants. As sure as the various standards of Gold differ in value, so sure is there an equal difference to be found in Photographers.

IF A PHOTOGRAPHER be not an artist he is but a mechanic, working by rule to obtain a given result. But the work of the artist appeals to the heart.

PHOTOGRAPHY IN ITSELF is not Art any more than writing is literature, but an Artist behind the Camera ensures an Art Picture.

OUR WORK is an incentive and an Ideal to every true lover of Art.

WE HAVE supplied the Public with Artistic Portraiture, and gained for ourselves the reputation of being the recognised Artists of Sydney.

AS AN ICE-BREAKER

an Edison Phonograph is invaluable. The difficulty of starting an evening at home in a bright, cheery, and responsive manner is readily overcome by the introduction of the Phonograph.

To give an evening without an Edison Phonograph is to court failure. The Phonograph just says or sings or plays the right thing at the right moment, and the ball once set rolling the evening spins merrily along, and people who might otherwise remain strangers are drawn together harmoniously, and when the parting hour comes it is with regret they separate, and the praise of the happy time is mainly due to the Edison Phonograph.

A FAMOUS FACE SPECIALISTE.
THE NEW SYSTEM OF FACE RESTORATION.
An entirely new method of restoring the face to youthful freshness and health is that of Electrical and Plastic Massage, as practised in European Beauty Schools, and of which MADAME PATTIE is the Australian exponent.
This system is new to Australia, and rapidly removes all TRACES OF AGE, WRINKLING, CARE-FURROWS, Adipose Tissue, or Blemish, and restores the face to the BLOOM of YOUTH and Health in a few weeks. OLD FACES, however blemished, ARE MADE YOUTHFUL by this new and natural process.
ELECTRICAL MANICURING AND HAND MASSAGE.
MADAME PATTIE has all the latest and most modern electrical machines for Hand Massage and Manicuring, which ensures A PERFECT NAIL AND FINGER TIP. Ladies are invited to call and personally inspect these machines and this system, which are entirely new to Australia.
SHAMPOOS AND HAIRWORK OF ALL KINDS.
Ladies' Hairwork made up at reasonable rates, own combings, or tints to suit natural hair if required. NATURAL HAIR-PADS, TRANSFORMATIONS, PINCURLS, etc. Any suitable style to suit Theatre, Ball, or Private Dance Parties, effected rapidly.

The Treasury,
Sydney, 10th July, 1907.
TENDERS are invited by the Government of New South Wales for a STEAMSHIP SERVICE, three-weekly, from Sydney to Java ports and Singapore, via Brisbane and other Queensland ports; or ALTERNATIVELY for a Monthly Service between Sydney, Queensland ports, Java, Singapore, Penang, Rangoon, and Calcutta.
The tenderer to state the number of steamers which it is proposed to put upon the line of route, their speed, engine power, carrying capacity, etc. (giving particulars of the refrigerated and general cargo space intended to be provided on each steamer), and proposed accommodation for First and Second Class Passengers, respectively.
The tenderer to name ports at which the steamers would call on the inwards and outwards trips, and to state the amount of subsidy required for the respective services.
All tenders should be addressed to the Under-Secretary for Finance and Trade, Treasury, Sydney, endorsed "Steamship Service Tenders," and will be received up to the hour of noon on Monday, the 19th day of August, 1907.
The lowest or any tender not necessary accepted.
The Government reserves the right to alter or amend the terms of tender should it be considered advisable to do so.
J. W. HOLLIMAN,
Acting Under-Secretary for Finance and Trade.

BICYCLES AND MOTOR CARS.

YOUR MOTOR CAR.

Time, you know, is valuable, and if you are a busy man a Motor Car will enable you to extract much more pleasure out of your business trips, and also cover the ground in half the time.
Of course the Car must be a thoroughly reliable one, and any of the following are quite the best in their own particular class.
All our Motors are specially strengthened for the hilly Australian Roads, and they will stand any wear that you may subject them to, and still retain their reputation for durability and fine workmanship.
If you like we will take you for a trial run in whichever car happens to meet with your requirements.

THE DEPENDABLE DE DION
is a great favourite, and the 1907 models which we have recently landed are the best that have ever been seen here.
The Patterns are

8-H.P. Single-cylinder, A. L. Pattern, expanding clutch, to seat 2 or 4 persons.	8-H.P. Single-cylinder, A. U. Pattern, sliding gears, pressed steel frames.

A DE DION is the most economical car on the market, and you would be surprised if you knew how little it costs to run one. 10 and 15 H.P. cars arriving shortly.

THE 14-18 H.P. CLEMENT-BAYARD is a fine four-cylinder Car. It has four speeds, and reverse, with the ever popular side entrance. This is a car that will give exceptional service, and we will be glad to give you all particulars concerning it. 10-14, 20-24, and 35-45 H.P. machines will arrive shortly.

THE 14-H.P. VICTORIOUS VULCAN is the Car that while in full touring condition, and carrying a full load, won the Flying Kilometre and Standing Mile at the Blackpool Tests. A similar car was second only to a 60-H.P. vehicle in the Flexibility Trials, and in the Scotch Hill Climbing Tests a 14-H.P. Vulcan won three out of four events, and came second in the fourth.
These are fine records, and well worth noting. We have other Vulcans of 10, 12, and 20 H.P.
If you will write we will send you full particulars of these, but if you can call in at the Garage an expert will thoroughly explain any pattern that you desire.

MOTOR GARAGE OF SYDNEY, LTD.,

258 ELIZABETH-STREET, SYDNEY, BETWEEN BATHURST and LIVERPOOL STREETS.
Sole Agents for Vulcan (British Built), Genuine Licensed De Dion, and Clement-Bayard.

REO CARS.

What a Car has done is proof of what it can do. We are receiving glowing accounts from all parts of the country from dozens of owners of REO CARS. Call in and we will show them to you. They speak for themselves.
REO CARS are built for rough country, where there are no good roads. Let us prove it to you.
8-H.P. 2-seated REO CARS £210
8-H.P. 4-seated REO CARS £225
16-20 H.P. 5-seated REO CARS £400

BELSIZE CARS.

These Cars run quieter, climb hills better, and are more easily handled than we anticipated.
We expected something good, but did not believe that a British-built Car of the quality of the Belsize Cars could be turned out at such a moderate price. Call in and see them and have a trial run; it is yours for the asking.
12-H.P. TWO-CYLINDER £325
20-H.P. FOUR-CYLINDER £595

DAIMLER MOTOR CARS,
AS SUPPLIED TO HIS MAJESTY KING EDWARD VII.
We have been appointed SOLE AGENTS for these Famous Cars, and CAN SUPPLY the 28-H.P., 35-H.P., and 40-H.P. Models with all classes of Bodies.
We have to arrive one 28-H.P. Daimler Roi des Belges Body. Sample 28-H.P. Car can be inspected at our Garage. The purchaser of this Car has his smaller 14-H.P. Daimler Car for Sale. Price, £450.
DAIMLER CARS ARE NOW BUILT FOR AUSTRALIAN ROADS, WITH A CLEARANCE OF FIFTEEN INCHES. CALL IN AND SEE THEM.

THE VICTORIOUS ROVER.
After a score of notable victories in the old world, the Rover Motor Car astonished all Australia by running over
22 MILES TO THE HALF-GALLON OF PETROL
in the Petrol Consumption Test of the Automobile Club of Australia.
Thus covering a greater distance than any other car in the competition, and scoring a wide margin win in its own class.
This test conclusively proved our assertion that the Rover Car is remarkable for the supreme qualities of efficiency and consistent economy.
You must remember that in this test the Rover Car carried the same number of passengers as the high-powered leviathan cars over three times the mileage, winning hands down in a

CHAPTER V.

THE CITY ACCURSED.

In after years Captain Brazenhead could never hear the name Raymond, be told that the day was the sixteenth of May, or be reminded of the city of Toulouse without an affection of the muscles of the face painful to witness. A series of twitchings, like those incessant flickering sheets of light which the Italians call Saint Elmo's fire, played upon him without mercy. He looked like a palsied man. His lips shot open and showed his teeth chattered together; his eyelids glimmered over eyes all white; his ears seemed endowed with a life of their own; and his moustachios bristled of themselves. The reason of this malady, fortunately transient, has now to be related. In the city of Toulouse, on May 16, 1428, under the governance of Sieur Raymond de Breteuil, chief Consul of the place, Captain Brazenhead suffered defeat, deprivation of goods, wounding of his members, and rigorous confinement to gaol. Let these things be related in order.

If we are to consider as defects in his character that he too readily believed persons to be what he wished them to be, and too readily supposed circumstances to be remediable by exertion, our judgment upon him will be lenient, for these are noble defects. His was that generous nature which gives as lightly as it takes; it made him an ardent friend as well as a gallant enemy; it caused him to forgive as readily as to pursue; and while his head was exceedingly fertile in shifts and delightful altogether in plots against the law, human and divine, it was not within his force to refrain his heart from exulting in their remarkable subtlety, nor from inviting approbation of them from those whose fitness to approve was sometimes peculiar.

Some of these qualities of the Captain's have already been exhibited. It may be said that he had been precipitate in his alliance with the fair Nicole, peremptory in his dealings with Simon Muschamp; that he had been predatory, indeed. He had possessed himself of a heart to which Simon had had a claim, of treasure which Simon had secured for himself, of a County of Picpus; lastly, he had laid hands upon the person of Simon, had drubbed it, trussed it, put it on a shaft. Pass all these things; to the victor the spoils—he would have been the first to admit it. But then his nobility—that greatness of soul which must needs be generous with what it has not, sooner than ungenerous—entered into a plot against him. He was reproached by Madame Cornichon—or felt it a reproach—that he was a Count who took a lady into his lands, not as his Countess. He could not bear that; he made her his Countess. He was made next to feel very keenly the perilous tenure of the coronet which Nicole had been asked to wear, and agreed, too readily perhaps, to the remedy which she proposed. In other words, to ensure her a County which he did not possess he agreed to her assumption of a name to which she had no claim. Had this been all it had been enough; but there was more. Madame Cornichon had regretted the absence of a servant. Could a Count bear that his lady should so travel through France unattended? He felt that keenly; it stung. Remembering Simon Muschamp, with whom he might well have been content to cry quits, remembering him greatly, he forgave him, and set him up as a servant. He did unwisely; he started a new score on the slate, which he had to pay.

Following the course of the Garonne towards its fountain-head, all went well with Captain Brazenhead until he left English territory at Maimande and entered the distracted soil of France. Here, as he told Nicole, it was necessary to go tender-foot, to avoid cities, to lie close by day, to work in the dark. Nicole agreed to these reasonable precautions very cheerfully; she was a charming companion, full of resource, complaisant, and not easily daunted. Partly upon her advice, partly because, it will be remembered, he admired the name, he used his title of Count of Picpus whenever it was absolutely necessary to declare himself. It may have helped him here and there, or it may not; it certainly gave him a great deal of pleasure, and he may have indulged a pardonable vanity in respect to it more than was prudent. Simon Muschamp, the Loyal Servitor, as he was pleased to call himself, used it on every occasion. There was no inn at which they baited, no smithy, no toll-gate, no ferry, no monastery in which they spent the night, and no tavern in which the Captain delighted to tell his tales, where full warning had not been given beforehand to his Excellency's wealth, prowess, rank, and ancestry. The consequence of this was that the fame of Monsier de Picpus went before and spread about him, and that when he arrived in any village the inhabitants stood to receive him with their caps held out. In these he did not fail to drop coins of silver. He endowed marriageable maidens, he gave honest youths their indentures. In or near Montauban it is said that he touched for the evil, but I think this must be an exaggeration, although it is certainly a fact that a member of the house of Picpus had once been anti-pope for a week. Another consequence was that Simon was pretty soon able to leave the renown of M. de Picpus to take care of itself—and another that the sack of rose nobles became less and less inconvenient to carry.

Nevertheless, all went passably well until in an evil hour, Captain Brazenhead fell in with Nicole's whim and consented to diverge from his safer road—which had been across the watershed from Vilemar into the valley of the Tarn—in order that she might make her offering at the famous shrine of Saint Sernin in the city of Toulouse. He should have known better, and he did. The men of Languedoc were his detestation and derision at once. He considered that they talked too much and too loud; he considered them vainglorious and liars; and he could not deny that they were as handy with the sword, or nearly so, as they said they were. Toulouse, again, was perilously near Perpignan, where Pym should be awaiting him and his treasure—Pym of the drooping eyelid, with the Bishop of Agde on his mind. All this the Captain urged upon his Nicole's attention, but so delicately that it is just possible she missed his apprehensions. He did not say, "My life, let us avoid Toulouse as we should the devil. If I am known in Toulouse I may be taken; if you are known there, you may be put to the Bridewell, or whatsoever plague of a name they give that sort of place in this country." This he did not say, but instead, taking her rosy face between his hands, smiling upon her in that easy way a man well fed is wont to take—"Why, chuck," said he, "hast thou a thanksgiving to make on my account? Hath heaven been so kind? Hast thou a man at thy feet who can deny thee nothing, and must thou needs boast of that to Our Lady? Store it up, child, in thy pretty head until we reach the good town of Albi. There is a rare church there, I know, for once, when I served Burgundy I helped to sack it—and this cicatrice, look you——" he bared his right arm, and there, deep in forested hair, showed the white scar—"came from a dint with his crosier which the Abbot of Saint-Symphorien gave me. In Albi minster shalt thou give God thanks for stout Salomon, thy lord, pretty sweeting—but not in Toulouse, as thou lovest him." Nicole pouted and withdrew her face from his hands. The Loyal Servitor intruded.

"Your pardon, sir," he said, "if I make bold to speak."

"It is granted, Simon."

"Then, sir, I say that Madame is right, and your Excellency in error."

"How so, by the face?"

"Thus, sir. In Albi you are nearer to your mark, but further from your power of hitting it. From Toulouse—if you retire to reach it—you can spring further."

"The Captain said, "I take you—I am obliged to you—enough said," which was his invariable habit when something was put to him which he did not understand. He had no more objection to offer, and Nicole once more put her face between his hands. They rode into Toulouse by nightfall the next day. That was the 15th of May.

The offering which Nicole designed for Saint Sernin's shrine was a handsome candle of ten pounds' weight. It was very necessary that it should be carried for her to the church, and indeed, as Simon pointed out, that some warning should be given to the Canons of the Church of the approaching bounty. Space would be required for such a candle; the shrine might be locked, the guardian away. Now, for a lady of the condition of Madame de Picpus to present herself with a ten-pound candle and be kept waiting was not to be thought of. What did his Excellency advise? His Excellency, who was sleepy, and had been too early roused, was short about the candle.

"Waiting. Will they keep thy mistress waiting? There will be ears to be slit if they do, the southern swine. Go you, Simon, and tell Messieurs les Chanoines that Madame de Picpus is inclined to salute Monsieur Saint Sernin, who, if he is the gentleman I take him for, will be too much honoured by the compliment. Go you and leave me to my repose."

"I will go, sir," said Simon, and went. At a later hour Monsieur de Picpus accompanied Madame to the church of Saint Sernin, which, with the Golden Violet of poets, is the chief glory of the city of Toulouse. I must be more exact. He accompanied Nicole to the door of the church, but excused himself from further attendance.

He had always had churches in suspicion, chiefly because for fighting purposes they cramp a man—with their doors which lead to other doors, and their cloisters, where you may chase about like a rat in a cage and never get nearer your man, or further from him, as your case may urgently need. Outside, he would admire with all the world, and there was no better judge than he of the scope of a great nave, the buttressing of chapels, the poise of a cupola, or the right proportions of flanking towers. Inside he would not go if he could help it. "They talk Latin in there; they talk to themselves. It may be mischief they are devising; who knows? Once I was carried to church, and they put salt on my tongue, and scared me, as I hear by report. Other times I have been, and once more I purpose to go; but then I shall be carried thither, and in a manner careless what tongue they choose for their conversations." He was very stout upon this matter, and the fair Nicole, whose hope it certainly was to get him to church before long, had to give way. He held aside the curtain for her and bowed her in, and that done he walked up and down the square, expanding his chest, and spreading his cloak to the early morning sun. There was much business doing there; the market was at its height, and the chattering as shrill as that of pies in a pear-tree. Captain Brazenhead admired and was admired. The fine eyes he made, the fine figure he was—his crimson cloak, his gold ornaments, his long sword, and his thigh-boots! If he caused hearts to flutter and eyes to fall there's no wonder, for his affability was extraordinary, and Tolosan beauty is famous all the world over. But his eye was very much upon the young men, whose fine bearing pleased him, while he disapproved their clamouring. "With some of these striplings I could do very well," he considered. "They would look well in the Picpus livery, the Picpus bannerol fluttering from their spears. A forced march, a series of them, a night surprise, the barbican snatched—the seneschal on his knees, with the key on a cushion: I see it all. And these dark-skinned young heroes for my feudatories, crying, 'A Picpus! A Picpus!' The thought warms me. I must make a levy: It was good that I came hither, it seems. Bless the pious thought of Nicole my Countess that is to be!"

These and other imaginations occupied him very pleasantly for an hour and a half. He carried them with him to the tavern of The Burning Bush, where they lost nothing by the application of strong waters to their fire. It was towards the hour of noon when he went again to the church and sat himself upon the steps of the parvise, to wait for Nicole, and to continue his meditations. It is certain also, and not surprising, that he slept; for his nights had been broken of late, and he had much need of repose.

"HERALD" THIRTEENTH PROBLEM TOURNEY.

The "Sydney Morning Herald" thirteenth international problem tourney. Conditions: (1) Competitors may send in as many original problems in diagrams, accompanied by full solutions, as they please. "White to play and mate in two moves." (2) Each problem to have a nom-de-guerre or motto. The composer's name and address to be enclosed in a separate sealed envelope, with the like motto. Seals will not be broken until the awards are made. (3) Each problem to have but one author, not to have competed in any other tourney, or being published before. (4) Problems to be addressed "The Editor, the 'Sydney Morning Herald,' Sydney, Australia," and reach this office by December 1 next. The prize we offer for the problem that the judge (Mr. F. J. Young, of Hobart, Tas.) deems best is five guineas. Should he so recommend, two special prizes will also be awarded. Further competing position to hand: "Occupy" (8).

NOTES.

Simultaneous Chess.—Mr. C. S. Howell at an exhibition at the Deal Congress, playing 23 boards, won 16, drew 2, and lost 5—total, 17-5 in his favour.

Zukertort's Record.—We quote from the Pittsburg "Despatch":—

Matches:—Defeated Anderson, 5-2 (1871); Steinitz, 7-1 (1872); De Vere (1874), Potter (1875), Rosenthal (1880), Blackburne (1881); lost to Steinitz (1886), Blackburne (1887). Tourneys:—1872, London, third prize; 1876, Simpson's Divan, second prize; 1877, Leipsic, second prize (tie); 1877, Cologne, first prize; 1878, Paris, first prize; 1881, Berlin, second prize; 1882, Vienna, fourth prize; 1883, London, first prize.

The French Defence.—"In the French defence (says Lasker) I have been unable to prove the M'Cutcheon variation unsound. To assume that therefore it must be sound would be a compliment that I do not merit. In fact, I doubt whether White cannot obtain a very strong and embarrassing attack along the lines that I followed in the middle portion and near the end of the match, where the White King is driven to Q2. I changed my tactics merely because it is possible to follow the rules of development laid down in 'Commonsense in Chess,' and thereby to convert the French defence almost into an open game. The twelfth and fourteenth games are instances."

A Far Cry.—The "Argosy" (Georgetown, British Guiana) contains an excellent chess column.

Simultaneous Chess.—Lasker, at Boston, played 26 boards, winning 18, drawing 6, and losing 2, or 21-5 in his favour; at the Queen's County C.C., played 19 boards, winning 17, losing 1, and drawing 1, or 17½-1½ in his favour; at the Morriston C.C., played 19 boards, winning 17 and drawing 2, or a score of 18-1 in his favour. Marshall, at Brooklyn, played 34 boards, winning 26, drawing 3, and losing 5, or a total of 27½-6½ in his favour.

A Fine Record.—Mr. G. Sergeant, playing for the Metropolitan C.C., in five years, in 49 matches, had not lost a game.—Via "Lasker's."

The Hastings C.C. Tour.—The tour this year was through Lugano, Basle, Zermatt, Geneva, Berne, Interlaken, Grindelwald, with matches against Basle, Zurich, Geneva, Lausanne, Berne.

The N.Z.C.A.—Through the courtesy of some correspondent, we are in receipt of a report from the Wellington "Post" of 3rd ult., of the quarterly council meeting. We make the following extract—it may be of interest to Australian players desirous of emulating Messrs. Viner and Crakanthorp's example:—"It was unanimously decided, on the motion of Mr. Davies, that play in the next championship tourney commence on Easter Monday (1908). The hon. secretary undertook to inquire about a suitable room. It is the wish of delegates to give Australia a chance of retaining the New Zealand championship, and to this end two motions were tabled for decision at the September meeting as follows:—(a) Mr. Keeling will move that tourney rule No. 2 (requiring competitors to have resided in New Zealand for six months) be repealed; and (b) Mr. O. Davies will move that said rule 8 be suspended. A hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Allen for presiding closed the meeting."

The Sydney C.C. Continuous Tourney.—Recent results are:—Mackenzie beat Britton (2), Giles beat Nicholls (5), Nicholls beat Giles, Spence beat Rumford (2), Giles beat Turner, Apperly beat Mackenzie.

CURRENT LITERATURE.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

The fifth volume of the "Times History of the War in South Africa, 1899-1902" (Sampson Low, Marston, and Co.), has to do with the guerilla war that was waged after Lord Roberts had emphatically beaten the Boers and had gone back to England to receive the rewards which he had so justly earned. Yet he left behind him a deal to do, and the importance of this remanet is clearly pointed out in this volume. Mr. L. S. Amery, the editor of the whole publication—the "general editor" as he is perhaps appropriately styled—has little to do with the actual production of this volume, as indeed he had little to do with its immediate predecessor. The bulk of the work has been done—and well done—by Mr. Erskine Childers, who himself served in the war. But Mr. Amery is able to give us some leading on the main point of the guerilla campaign, as viewed from the Boer standpoint. It is well known that men like General Botha recognised the fact that the war was practically over when in succession the capitals of the Orange River Republic and the Transvaal had been occupied by Lord Roberts. President Steyn thought otherwise, and in the circumstances Botha and the other leaders of Transvaal Boers were prepared to maintain the combat. Mr. Amery tells us that in so deciding the Boers asserted the preponderance of individual and national character over mere calculating reason. They got no better terms, it is true. Great Britain, no ungenerous foe, would have granted them the same terms on the fall of Pretoria as she granted after the stubborn conflict which meant the expenditure of so much blood and treasure. It is mainly, says Mr. Amery, to this prolongation of the war that the Boers owe the strengthening and the purification of their national character, which has enabled them to get happily rid of "the corruption, the insolent arrogance, the insatiate ambition which had grown up under the Kruger regime." They gained in self-respect as well as in respect for the people whom they had despised as "rooineks," but who, they learned, were, when all was told, at least as determined and as capable as they. And whilst the Boers learnt this lesson from the prolongation of the war, Great Britain also learnt a lesson. The South African war was, in Mr. Amery's words, "the first serious trial of the national spirit since England had become a democracy." It might have been expected that when battles were succeeded by "drives," and "raids" took the place of sieges, the popular enthusiasm would have waned to the disappearing point, and, that being so, that the war would have been abruptly ended by popular command. This was not the case, and the result to the Empire, besides the establishment of greater military effectiveness, was the addition of loyal provinces, and a general strengthening of the respect entertained by units of the Empire for each other.

Mr. Childers here takes up the story, which he details with much knowledge and animation. He insists, first of all, upon the particular fitness of Lord Kitchener to take up the command of any army after Lord Roberts had retired. Thenceforth there was little need for strategy of the kind that was exhibited in Lord Roberts's great march to Pretoria; the newer methods of the enemy had to be met by new activities. The man for the hour was undoubtedly Lord Kitchener. We have here particular and detailed accounts of the various operations included in Lord Kitchener's sweeping plan. The value of the volume would have been largely enhanced if, besides the full table of contents, there had been an equally full index; and we hope that this fine work will not be considered complete by its editor until there has been furnished a careful index to the whole five volumes. Here as in preceding volumes the reader is helped by excellent maps and plans. There are some 30 of these, admirably drawn, and besides there are about half as many Rembrandt photogravure plates, showing some of the main figures in the war on both sides. On the whole it must be said of this great "Times History of the War in South Africa" that it is eminently worthy of the important occasion. Written with full knowledge, and with an admirable freedom from bias, it takes rank amongst the notable histories of our language.

A GREAT JOURNALIST.

Mr. Edwin Lawrence Godkin, the founder and editor of the New York "Nation," had what is vernacularly known as a hard row to hoe when he set about the reformation of American journalism. To begin with, he was a foreigner, and he came to the commercial capital of the United States at a time when the only right thing in the popular estimation was to praise American literature. To be sure, it was to be said in his favour that he was one of the few men who honestly believed that the North should win in the civil war, and who, in his capacity of American correspondent for the London "Daily News," consistently sought to prove that the probabilities were on the side of the anti-slavery party. At a time when violent abuse of Abraham Lincoln was the fashion—abuse which descended to vulgar criticism of Lincoln's personal appearance and manners—Godkin, who had discerned the real greatness of the homely rail-splitter, kept his paper well informed of the real facts of the case, and insisted upon the heroic qualities of the man. When we add that Godkin was abused because he was not an American by birth, or because he was an Englishman, or because he was not an Englishman but an Irishman, readers will have some idea of the difficulties in his path.

All these and more are set forth in "Life and Letters of Edwin Lawrence Godkin," edited by Rollo Ogden (Macmillan and Co.). In his early twenties Godkin represented the "Daily News" in the Crimea, and his letters, though they did not command the attention deserved by those of his colleague on the "Times," showed a remarkable grasp of the position. We may be pardoned for referring to one thing on which Godkin insisted all through his life—and that was the importance to the English-speaking world of the newspaper press. He and others were baulked upon occasion during the currency of the Crimean War by the hostile attitude of men in office, "who were instant in season and out of season in using their influence against the newspaper correspondents, and who, as Englishmen, ought to have been ashamed to talk thus to a foreigner of the greatest glory of their country—the newspaper press."

The rule of life which Godkin made for himself in his twenties was maintained by him when he transferred his energies to the United States. All through his life Godkin was for the people, and he naturally fell foul of the individuals who aimed at making fortunes by exploiting the people. When he founded the "Nation" he was confronted with difficulties begotten of this compelling tendency of his. But he had his reward. Men came to his way of thinking, and his paper became a power in the land. Matthew Arnold could say of him, with truth, that he was a "typical specimen of the Irishman of culture." But he was more than this. He had studied men and manners to such purpose that he could guide men and direct manners. His honesty of purpose became as evident in course of time as his ability, and Americans like Lowell and Emerson, who had distrusted the foreigner, came to know him later as one of the keenest patriots of them all.

PAGES FROM AN ADVENTUROUS LIFE.

Mr. J. E. Muddock—known to many readers as Dick Donovan, the author of sensational stories with a happy mixture of Lecocq and Sherlock Holmes and sheer romancing—writes his autobiography in "Pages from an Adventurous Life" (George Bell and Sons). The author is not yet in his middle "sixties," but he has managed to see a deal of the world in his time. Born in England, he journeyed to India in time to see Nana Sahib, to witness an execution by blowing away from the guns in Bombay, and to be present informally at the death of John Company. Thereafter he travelled through much of the world. On his return to England he set sail for Australia, where he was to be directed to untold wealth by an uncle. The uncle did not "pan out" to expectations, but incidentally our author learned a good deal about Australia. He and a chum made their way through Bulli and Kiama to Shoalhaven, and there they were offered a job in connection with the building of a breakwater. Supplies failed the subcontractors, who thereupon resolved to interview the "boss" on the subject:—

> To this end we cut a sapling for a mast, stepped it in the boat, and rigging up a blanket for a sail, put off as the dusk was closing down. The tide was ebbing, but a fair wind was setting up the river. We had not proceeded very far before our sail went wrong, and while we were engaged in rigging it up afresh we failed to observe that the boat was drifting back, until, suddenly, to our consternation, we found we were out of the river and in the open sea. All attempts to regain the river were futile, our sail and mast being too fragile. It was now pitch dark, and the sea was thundering on the shore, the rollers being of enormous length. There was nothing for it but to keep our tiny craft parallel with the shore during the hours of darkness, and then attempt a landing. We passed an anxious night, one of us bailing incessantly, the other steering. When daylight appeared we found ourselves abreast of a great expanse of beach which was thrashed and pulverised by the mighty Pacific breakers. Our chances were rather slender, but we took the risk. We set the frail craft straight for shore, trimmed our blanket sail to catch all the wind, mounted on the crest of a huge roller, and then amidst a thunderous roar and a hell of hissing surf we were flung on to the desolate beach. I narrowly escaped being sucked back by the undertow, but my friend saved me.

We have given this narration at length, because it seems to us about the only thing in the book which justifies the title. Though the author travelled much he had nothing worthy of the name of adventure except this little trouble in New South Wales. As a matter of fact, his book is very largely an extolling of the virtues of the Savage Club, which is adventurous only in name. It happens that this club is fifty years old now, and numbers of people are anxious to join in celebrating its jubilee. In the beginning it was a collection of Bohemians who drank beer and smoked clay pipes. "What is the subscription?" asked Edmund Yates, and the reply was: "Just whatever the member chooses to owe." Nowadays the Savage Club is a high and mighty affair, which entertains princes and generally conducts itself in the manner required of a great social institution. Mr. Muddock has much that is interesting to say of the persons he met in the club—of George Augustus Sala, for instance, of Henry J. Byron, Artemus Ward, the Broughs, George Cruikshank, Mark Lemon, Francis Talfourd, Andrew Halliday, J. R. Planche, Henry Irving, and J. L. Toole. We hear so many stories of the victimising of other people by Toole that it is almost refreshing to learn that he was once at least bitten himself. Mr. Muddock tells the story at great length, but the gist is that four impecunious members of the Savage Club wanted refreshments. The only financial person was one who possessed a shilling, and this shilling was, after careful consideration, invested in a telegram of congratulation to Toole, who was then playing in Dublin. The reply came: "Thanks, dear boys. Drink my health. Order in what you like. I'll square. Toole." Of course, this was what is commonly called "nuts" to the four Savages, who were thereafter joined by all the available strength of the club, constantly recruited. Toole's health was drunk with great enthusiasm hundreds of times—and when he came back he had a very respectable bill to pay.

NOTES.

Mr. G. Bernard Shaw says that he is making something like £6000 a year out of his plays and essays, and one has no reason to doubt the statement. Dublin University men who remember his father as an eccentric Fellow of the University, resent the popular hero's systematic ignoring of the man from whom he derived, as well as life, the genius which has made him what he is. Shaw the elder was Junior Dean, the official, that is, who had it in his particular charge to preserve the morals and to observe the ingoings and the outgoings of undergraduate—especially their ingoings. In his spare time the old gentleman—not so old as men count age—used to meander down past King William's statue on College Green and edit "Saunders' Newspaper," which was in those days the official organ of conservativism in Ireland. Poor old "Saunders" died the death—not because of its politics, but because of its indomitable determination not to be a newspaper. That was in itself a blow to Shaw the elder, who for the rest was in all matters of wit and learning a worthy father of his brilliant son.

For a delightful collection of short stories commend us to "Merry-garden," by "Q" (Methuen and Co.). Mr. A. T. Quiller-Couch can no longer take refuge in the shelter which "Q" provided, and we honestly do not know why he wanted to take shelter at all—unless it was because deserved praise is as distasteful to some people as deserved condemnation is to others. Here we have half a dozen capital stories—to be more exact, and yet not quite, we have more than the half of a baker's dozen. Stories crisp and inviting and nourishing, attractive to look at, pleasant to discuss.

"The Daughter of a Soldier" is the first item in a little volume which bears this name, and which comes from Mr. J. A. Packer. The author is Miss Agnes Littlejohn. We understand from the prefatory note that some of these stories have already appeared in print, but that others now appear for the first time. Now, some of these stories make a person laugh, and others make her cry. That means something. It means really that the root of the matter is in this author. She has, in a way, the dramatic insight and the dramatic powers of presenting pictures. Whether or not this will develop one knows not; but Miss Littlejohn has it in her to do something worthy of serious note.

Mr. Bertram Mitford, who is unexcelled—pace Mr. Rider Haggard—in the description of native life in South Africa, tells us in "The White Hand and the Black" (Long's Colonial Library) something about the recent rising in Natal. It will be remembered that the white men in Natal suppressed this rising "on their own," and that the Imperial resources were not called upon. Herein a record, which will, doubtless, be pursued, was established. There is a pleasing love-story entwined in this story of the natives' rising against the whites.

From various quarters inquiries have come as to the identity of the author of "Fraulein Schmidt and Mr. Anstruther," which was recently published serially in the "Herald." The information has been given before, but it may be repeated. A Miss Beaumont became the second wife of the Count von Arnim. It is the Countess of von Arnim who is the author of the delightful sketches of gardening which have appealed so strongly to the English-reading public.

Mr. Charles Garvice, who displays a pleasing tendency to the christening of his books after "Love" and "Cupid" and the like, has been particularly successful with his latest story, "Where Love Leads" (Hutchinson and Co.). Our copy, which comes from Dymock's library, is of the second edition.

Another book which has suddenly rushed into popularity is Mr. Frank Richardson's "2835 Mayfair" (T. Werner Laurie). Possibly the attraction in this story (copy of which comes to us from the Sydney Book Club) is to be attributed in some degree to its gruesomeness in parts. The headings of the chapters are fearsome enough. "The Dead Man" is followed by "Concerning the Corpse" and "The Disappearance of the Corpse." But the story is remarkably well told, and this may account for the fact that it is now in its third edition.

The frivolously-inclined will find their market in "For the Week End," by Handasyde (John Lane), "A Gallant of Gascony," by Philip L. Stevenson (Bell's Indian and Colonial Library through Messrs. George Robertson and Co.), and "The Husband Hunter," by Olivia Roy (T. Werner Laurie). In "For the Week End," we have the story of a married lady who is ideally in love with a man who is not her husband. The husband, who is a good fellow, but stupid, does not object, and happily all ends honourably. "A Gallant of Gascony" is the story of a Gascon nobleman who became attached to the court of Marguerite de Valois, the wife of Henry IV. of France, and the author of the "Heptameron." Incidentally he becomes attached to certain ladies of the court, and the story proceeds on a pattern suited better to those days than ours. "The Husband Hunter" describes the adventures of two modern Englishwomen, who deliberately lay themselves out to catch a husband for one of them. Their schemes succeed in a way, but the campaign ends more favourably than either of them expected; ends also more creditably to their womanhood.

A pathetic, if somewhat sentimental, sidelight on the German struggle, aided by British money and arms, against the great Napoleon is furnished in "Letters of a Betrothed during the German War of Liberation, 1804-1813," edited by Edith Freiin von Cramm, and translated by Leonard Huxley (Smith, Elder, and Co.). The writer of these letters was at the first a girl in her teens, who was so properly brought up as to regard with surprise the action of a girl who would allow her hand to be pressed by a man or flowers to be sent to her. She got wiser later on. While she vehemently opposed the application for her hand by a staid suitor—the man was 44 years of age, and she was only sweet sixteen—she was modern enough to fall madly in love with a cousin of about her own age. This cousin was shot by order of Napoleon on a trumpery charge. Whereupon our heroine was properly disconsolate, but we gather from the fact of the present editor being her granddaughter that in process of time she got reconciled to her fate and married somebody else. Meanwhile her account of things in Germany in those troublous years has many points of interest, all the more because she never intended her letters to become public property.

"The Wingless Victory," by M. P. Willcocks (John Lane, through the Sydney Book Club), has reached its third edition. When people exclaim against the vileness of modern taste in fiction it may at least be recorded in our favour that a book of this high standard has been welcomed so warmly.

(a) A weak move, if not absolute loss; 9—13 and 9—14 are sound and strong, forcing White to step carefully for a draw.
(b) Barker puts out a nice draw against this. J. Kirk and T. Kirkup works out a White win as follows:—[illegible]
(c) If 9—13, then 17—14, 10—17, 21—14, and White can gain a man and the game.

NOTES.

The contest between Messrs. Drury and Brown ended in the latter's favour, by seven wins to one, and eight drawn games. The end game given above occurred in one of the series played, which was drawn, many of our experts expressed the opinion that Black should draw. Mr. Stormont, in conjunction with Mr. Lee, examined the position. The former maintained White should win, whilst Mr. Lee was not satisfied. What say our critics? Can White win?

The Dunedin town v country match took place on the 6th ultimo. One hundred and twenty-six players were engaged in the contest, which resulted in a win for the town players by 90 wins to 80 wins, and 30 drawn games.

The final for the London Junior Championship between Messrs. Sallaway and Kaiser, which should have commenced on the 22nd ult., was postponed owing to the former being engaged in checking the Jordan-Reed duel on that evening. The pair met, however, on the following Tuesday, and contested two games. The ballot brought out 9-14, 22-17, and the first encounter, a regular "Double Corner," which ran on well-known lines, was quietly played to a draw. The second game opened 9-14, 22-17, 11-15, 25-22, 15-19, and thus [illegible] the game known as the "Double Corner Dyke." Mr. Kaiser had the black side, and getting into difficulties on the ending, whereby he lost a piece, Sallaway called the first win after two hours' play. The tie was to be continued on the following Thursday.

G. E. Ansley has won the Isle of Thanet Championship Cup once more, having defeated the holder, G. Moses, of Ramsgate, by two wins to one, and one draw. Only one more win, and three championship tourneys held in the isle, but was defeated by Moses in last year's final.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

The next concert of the Sydney Amateur Orchestral Society, on Wednesday, July 31, will open with "The Hebrides," or, as it is also called, "Fingal's Cave," overture, conveying Mendelssohn's impressions of Highland scenery. It is recorded that the oft-repeated opening theme was conceived by the composer as he entered the wondrous cave, and he sent the first 20 bars of it in one of his now historical letters to his sister Fanny. On mentioning her he added: "The legend cannot be described in commonplace words, so I will play it to you, and you can tell me afterwards whether you understand it thoroughly." Mendelssohn composed also one other Sea Picture, quite ideal in character, entitled "Calm Sea and Happy Voyage." Signor Hazon, whose time with us is now so short, will also conduct Schubert's "Symphony in B Minor No. 8" (unfinished), composed, however, six years before his early death at 32 years of age, and regarded as one of the most individual creations of his life. In this admired music, the transitions from pure, reposeful melody to strains of a wild and pathetic character, sadly illustrate Schubert's own admission in his journal, when he wrote: "My compositions are the result of my abilities and my distress, and those which distress alone has engendered appear to give the world the most pleasure." In contrast with these beautiful examples of the melodiously classic in art, there is to be a repetition of the grandiose "Ouverture Solennelle, 1812," of Tchaikowsky, composed in memory of the disastrous retreat of Napoleon's army from the burning city of Moscow. The idea of this overture was suggested to the composer in 1880 by Nicholas Rubinstein (brother of the greater Anton) as a suitable theme for the consecration of the Temple of Christ in Moscow, built to commemorate the tragic events of that campaign. Kashkin, Tchaikowsky's biographer, further states that Rubinstein tried to have the overture performed before the Cathedral by a colossal orchestra, the big drums to be replaced by salvos of artillery. The rendering of this overture is in any case a most exciting event. "The Ride of the Valkyries" is also to be performed, so there will be no lack of the sensational.

Mr. George F. Boyle, who made his mark here as a composer, and also gave promise as a pianist, before his departure in October, 1905, has since studied a good deal in Berlin under Signor Busoni, and in England under Mr. Graham Moore. He began his professional career this year by touring Holland as solo pianist with the operatic soprano, Mme. Nevada. He is now in London, whence he forwards programmes and press cuttings to show that he is not idle. On Friday, March 22, at the Steinway Hall, Mr. Montreville Monti, a new operatic baritone, successfully introduced the Cavalier song "Boot, Saddle, to Horse, and Away." Mr. Boyle composed this song in Sydney for Mr. Wm. B. Beattie. It has now been published by Metzler and Co., who have arranged for Mr. Hamilton Earle, one of the leading baritones of the day in England, to include it in all his programmes throughout a long tour of the United Kingdom. Young Boyle was paid a good sum down, and gets a royalty on every copy sold. The second programme bears portraits of Alfred Kastner and Jacques Renard, the harpist and 'cellist of Mr. Henry Wood's orchestra, who joined in a recital at the Salle Erard on June 5, assisted by Elise Van Den Heuvel and George F. Boyle. The lady, who is a Dutch mezzo-soprano, made her English debut, and was recognised as an artist of power and charm. She sang music by Strauss, Brahms, and Gluck, and introduced two new songs, "When by Chance You Cross My Path" and "The Elves' Ride" (verses in each case by Heine) by Mr. Boyle, who accompanied her. This concert launched "Sonata for 'Cello and Piano, B major, Op. 32, George F. Boyle (born 1880 at Sydney, Australia)," played by Jacques Renard and the composer. The new work is favourably reviewed by the leading papers, of which the "Tribune" may be quoted:—". . . is a straightforward and sincere work, clearly set out, and well balanced. The first stirring movement shows somewhat the influence of Brahms, but has a tinge of modern fantasy; the second is very sympathetic in feeling, and the third buoyant." After the London season the pianist will return, as he expresses it, "to my beloved Berlin, and my still more beloved Busoni," from which it will be perceived that his young affections are upon a strictly alliterative principle!

Miss Florence Baines, a well-known English dialect actress and singer, arrived here during the week in advance of her new musical-farce company, which is due here by the Runic next Friday. Miss Baines will open her season at the Palace Theatre on August 3 with a smart and amusing piece entitled, "Miss Lancashire, Limited," by Sydney Sydney. The newcomer, who was born at Manchester, began her career in Battersby's Juvenile Opera Company, in which she played the title-roles in "Dorothy" and "Billee Taylor," and in many other operas during a period of four years. After that, Miss Baines played leading parts on tour in "The New Barmaid," and for five months starred with the late Dan Leno as a dialect comedienne at the Pavilion Theatre, where, and at the Tivoli, and other leading London halls, she became a favourite during the two years 1901-3. An engagement then took her to South Africa, where she remained 18 months, and acquired the manuscript of "Miss Lancashire, Limited." Miss Baines met Lord Roberts at Capetown, and embarked on the same ship with him and his family for England. Thus it came to pass that during the voyage England's Field-Marshal took the chair at a reading of the new piece, and declared that "he hadn't laughed at anything so much for ten years." This opinion, and the applause of others on board, led to the production of the piece at Croydon in September, 1904, when such a hit was made that Miss Baines has toured with it ever since, and is booked to resume, after visiting this country and the United States, in the autumn of 1908. The Lancashire comedienne will play her original part of a Lancashire farmhand visiting London, and will be supported by Messrs. Burt Burton, Patrick Evans, J. H. Booth, Walter and Richard Hicks, John Price, Misses Muriel Johnson, Gertrude Douglas, and Nellie Birchenough, all of whom are new to this country.

Upon his arrival in London, the first business completed by Mr. J. C. Williamson was the conclusion of negotiations with Mr. Charles Frohman for the production of "Peter Pan" in Australia at an early date. The actor-manager has also engaged Miss Beatrice Irwin to join Mr. Thomas Kingston as leading lady in "Brewster's Millions," the farcical comedy to be produced here on September 3. Miss Irwin has played parts with the late Sir Henry Irving, Sir Charles Wyndham, and in the Frohman companies. On this side, the firm is dealing with impending changes in Melbourne. Mr. Andrew Mack is now rehearsing an early 19th century drama, entitled "The Ragged Earl," which has to do with the adventures of one Gerald Fitzgerald, Earl of Kildare, a penniless, love-making, and chivalrous Irishman. Miss Jane Kelton, who will play the heroine's part, is an actress from California, who began her career as a child in vaudeville, but ultimately played Portia and Ophelia, and such modern comedy-roles as Katie in "Old Heidelberg." A great rush for "Mother Goose" is reported from Perth, whence the pantomime company shortly leaves for Broken Hill, ultimately reaching Ballarat and Brisbane. There will then be a new principal girl (Jill) in the person of Miss Olive Godwin, who is now recovering from the illness which originally prevented her from taking the part.

Mme. Clara Butt and Mr. Kennerley Rumford left London by the Mongolia yesterday, according to advices received here by Messrs. J. and N. Tait, bringing with them Miss Hook, who has frequently sung classical duets in London concert rooms in association with a sister bearing the same professional name, but it is not intended that she shall assist in the Australian tour, which opens in Melbourne on September 10, as the party already includes a violinist, pianist, and accompanist. There is a touch of more romance than usual in these work-a-day times in the way in which Madame Clara Butt and Mr. Kennerley Rumford became engaged. They met first of all in the middle nineties, and the two leading professionals were in the same companies on several tours, during which they played quite prettily at friendship. But the deeper feeling was beneath the ordinary camaraderie of the platform, and one day the climax came. They were singing at a concert in the Midlands, and one of their joint numbers was a duet entitled "The Keys of Heaven." In it are the lines, "I will give you the keys of my heart, and we'll be married till death do us part." Mr. Rumford, whose lines they were, must have put special tenderness into them, and they conveyed their inner meaning to Miss Butt, for they left the platform hand in hand—an engaged couple.

EASILY REMOVED.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE SUFFER FROM ACIDITY of the stomach and its attendant discomforts. Equally numerous are the victims who suffer from the more serious excess of uric acid, owing to imperfect excretion by the kidneys and bowels. We are all liable to these disorders, which lead to sour stomach, waterbrash, heartburn, loss of appetite, biliousness, and gastritis. An excess of uric acid affects the nerves, and inevitably leads to sciatica, gout, rheumatism, gravel, stone, diabetes, and Bright's disease. This acidity is the poison which brings on incapability of exertion, headache, nervousness, melancholia, and brain-dulness. The only remedy which effectually controls and is complete master of the trouble is the great solvent and eliminator, Kutnow's Powder. The highest medical authorities prescribe it for use in all the principal hospitals, and also use it personally to regulate the liver and bowels, to counteract any tendency to gout, and to restore the body, brain, and nerves to perfect health. Everyone can now obtain this powerful remedy from any respectable chemist and from all medicine houses throughout the world.

HOW TO REGULATE YOUR LIVER.

NATURE'S REMEDY.

When the liver becomes sluggish the bile ceases to lubricate the bowels, costiveness ensues, and the result is blood-poisoning.

The poisoned blood deposits uric acid in the tissues ready to set up an attack of gout at any time.

Depression of spirits, general irritability, pains in various parts of the body, general languor and debility, follow as a matter of course.

Kutnow's Powder, according to Prof. Lawson Tait, M.D., is a perfect solvent and eliminator of uric acid.

It exercises a powerful influence on the stomach, neutralises the acids, and gets rid of fermentation.

Kutnow's Powder keeps the liver in good order, controls the bile, and prevents the formation of gall-stones.

It dissolves and gets rid of the surplus uric acid, and thereby palliates and prevents the pains of gout and rheumatism and sciatica.

Kutnow's Powder cleanses the kidneys, and prevents the formation of gravel.

It regulates the bowels, flushes the food passages, and effectually clears away all poisonous, foetid debris.

Kutnow's Powder keeps the whole machinery of mankind clean and in perfectly healthy running order.

You never have headache and dyspepsia if you take your morning dose of Kutnow's Powder.

You never suffer from poisoned nerves if you use this remedy.

You never complain of inability to work, eat, and sleep if you take Kutnow's Powder regularly.

One dose of this famous remedy is sufficient to demonstrate its wonderful aid to robust health.

DISPELS DEPRESSION.
"Bethel Manse, Hamsterley,
"Witton-le-Wear.
"Kutnow's Powder is pleasant, mild in its action, and very efficacious. If people are depressed, it will soon remove that depression by gently, but successfully, inducing the whole machinery of their nature to act harmoniously and pleasantly.
"(Rev.) E. W. JENKINS."

PURIFIES THE BLOOD.
"Stirton, Southsea.
"Kutnow's Powder is most refreshing, and clears the system of Uric Acid, and acts on the Liver and Kidneys. I have recently been very ill from Rheumatic Fever, and since I have taken it I feel a great deal better, and I firmly believe it is a grand blood purifier.
"A. GRAHAME-HARVEY."

RELIEVES BILIOUSNESS.
"Grenada Lodge,
"Stockwell Park-road, S.W.,
"July 12th, 1906.
"I have much pleasure in testifying to the efficacy of your Kutnow's Powder, which I have taken for some considerable time, and derived a great deal of benefit from it. I have been a great sufferer from biliousness and gastritis, and am only too pleased to give you this acknowledgment.
"RICHARD WARNER."

BANISHES CONSTIPATION.
"9 Belvidere-place, Dublin,
"6th February.
"I feel bound to add my grateful testimony to the merits of Kutnow's Powder. I was led to try Kutnow's Powder last autumn, and, although having no faith in any medicines or drug for the habitual and severe constipation I have suffered from for nearly 20 years, I procured a bottle. Its effect was all I could desire, bringing about a gentle, natural action, almost unfelt, and leaving the bowels in a healthy, natural state.
F. W. BUTLER, B.A."

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST FRAUD!

The Genuine and Original Kutnow's Powder can be had of all conscientious chemists throughout the world. An enormous demand for Kutnow's Powder is a daily occurrence, and by substituting a cheap but base imitation the unscrupulous medicine vendor makes a huge profit thereby. The liver requires very delicate treatment, and you must therefore be careful to avoid spurious substitutes, which frequently cause irreparable injury. Kutnow's Powder is strongly recommended by all the leading physicians for the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels. Ask for Kutnow's, insist on Kutnow's, and refuse anything but Kutnow's. Examine the package, and see that it bears the fac-simile signature, "S. Kutnow & Co., Ld.," and the registered trade mark, "Hirschensprung, or Deer Leap," on the green carton in which every genuine bottle is packed, and also on the greenish tinted label on the bottle itself. This signature and trade-mark will enable you to

HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE

COUGHS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, & CONSUMPTION

Has the Largest Sale of any Chest Medicine in the World.

Those who have taken this medicine are amazed at its wonderful influence. Its healing power is marvellous. Sufferers from any form of Bronchitis, Cough, Difficulty of Breathing, Hoarseness, Pain or Soreness in the Chest, experience delightful and immediate relief; and to those who are subject to Colds on the Chest it is invaluable, as it effects a Complete Cure. It is most comforting in allaying irritation in the throat and giving strength to the voice, and it neither allows a Cough or Asthma to become chronic, nor Consumption to develop. Consumption has never been known to exist where "Coughs" have been properly treated with this medicine. No house should be without it, as, taken at the beginning, a dose is generally sufficient, and a Complete Cure is certain.

INFLUENZA AND BRONCHITIS.

TEN YEARS SUFFERING WITH A TERRIBLE COUGH AND WASTING AWAY.

COMPLETELY CURED BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of Influenza and Bronchitis, and for ten years was suffering with a terrible cough and was wasting away. I had medical attendance, and tried various medicines recommended, but without success, until, on my daughter's recommendation, I used Hearne's Bronchitis Cure, with the result that it completely cured me, and I am perfectly free from any cough now.

E. ASTALL, 116 Shields-street, Flemington, Melbourne.

DRY, HACKING COUGH FOR TWELVE MONTHS.

RELIEVED AT ONCE, AND COMPLETELY CURED BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. OTHER TREATMENT TOOK NO EFFECT.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—For twelve months or more I had a dry, hacking cough on my chest that used to trouble me terribly at night time. I was told it was a touch of Bronchitis. I tried different sorts of medicine, which took no effect, so I tried your Bronchitis Cure, which, I have much pleasure in informing you, relieved me at once. It has completely cured my cough. I am sure anyone can depend on your medicine for a thorough and immediate cure. I remain, yours truly,

DAVID MATTHEWS, Modewarre, Victoria.

BRONCHITIS.

A SUFFERER FOR YEARS CURED BY ONE BOTTLE OF HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. NO OTHER TREATMENT DID ANY GOOD.

Mr. Hearne. Sir,—My daughter, 12 years of age, had a very bad cough that had been a great trouble to her for years. I tried every cough remedy I could get, but not one of them seemed to do her any good. Then I tried one bottle of your Bronchitis Cure, and she has never coughed since she finished it. I am glad to say the effect has been wonderful. Yours, etc.,

J. BATSON, Homebush, Sydney, N.S.W.

ASTHMA.

TWO CHILDREN IN ONE FAMILY CURED TWO YEARS AGO BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. IN THE BEST OF HEALTH NOW. HAVE NEVER HAD A SIGN OF THE ASTHMA SINCE.

Mr. Hearne. Dear Sir,—It is with pleasure I can say that my two children, whom you treated two years ago with your medicine for Asthma, are keeping in the best of health. They have never had a sign of the Asthma since. I always keep a bottle of your invaluable Bronchitis Cure in the house now.

(Mrs.) L. EDGELL, Smeaton, Victoria.

TERRIBLE COUGH CAUSED BY MEASLES.

IMPROVED IMMEDIATELY AND QUICKLY CURED BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

Mr. Hearne. Dear Sir,—Please send me by return post one large bottle of your Bronchitis Cure, for which please find payment enclosed. I had a terrible cough caused by measles. It was tearing me to pieces. I chanced to have a small quantity of your Bronchitis Cure, took one dose, and improved immediately. I like to always have some on hand. It is well worth a testimonial on account of what it has done for me, and you are at liberty to make use of what I have written. This is not the first time it has done me good. Yours truly,

G. R. HOOK, "Hilsles," Clyde, Victoria.

BRONCHITIS.

A SUFFERER 73 YEARS OF AGE. THOROUGHLY CURED BY TWO BOTTLES OF HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. IMMEDIATE RELIEF—EFFECT WONDERFUL.

Mr. Hearne. Sir,—I have been very ill with Influenza and Bronchitis. A friend of mine persuaded me to try your Bronchitis Cure. The first dose gave me immediate relief, and after taking the second bottle I am thoroughly cured. Its effect on me has been most wonderful. I am 73 years of age. I trust you will make use of this statement by publishing it for the benefit of humanity generally. Yours most respectfully,

THOMAS R. TREZISE, Reedy Creek, Victoria.

SEVERE BRONCHITIS.

COMPLETELY CURED BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. IT ACTED LIKE MAGIC.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—It affords me very much pleasure to give you an unsolicited testimonial as to the great merits of your wonderful Bronchitis Cure. I can say without hesitation that as a chest medicine it has no equal. Having had Bronchitis in a severe form it completely cured me, and now in the winter months if I at all contract a cold on the chest it gives me instant relief. I have also proved its efficacy with members of my family, whom it has always cured of coughs, colds on the chest, also sore throats. It has acted like magic. Sir, you are deserving of the best thanks of the community for introducing to suffering humanity such a valuable medicine. I remain, gratefully yours,

W. DUNCAN, 23 Normanby-street, Windsor, Victoria.

ASTHMA.

RELIEVED BY TWO DOSES OF HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—Having been a sufferer from Asthma, I have much pleasure in stating that your Bronchitis Cure afforded me great relief after taking two doses only. I have since proved its efficiency in quickly curing a bad cold, and altogether my chest feels stronger. I can strongly recommend it as the best medicine for chest complaints and coughs, as I have tried them all. Thanking you for the benefit that I have received. I am, Dear Sir, yours faithfully,

D. BEATTY, Hume's-buildings, 65 Willis-street, Wellington, New Zealand.

COUGH.

DISTRESSING AND HACKING COUGH COMPLETELY CURED BY A BOTTLE OF HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—Last winter my youngest son Herbert, who is rather weak on the chest, had a dry, distressing, hacking cough, which troubled the poor little fellow very badly at night time. I tried many so-called panaceas, without any appreciable effect. But after using less than a bottle of your Bronchitis Cure I am pleased to say that the child was cured and is now quite well, all symptoms of the cough having entirely disappeared. I have had much pleasure in recommending your magical medicine to my friends. Believe me to be, yours very gratefully,

R. SHERIDAN KNOWLES, "Lillieslea," Union-street, Windsor, Victoria.

CONSUMPTION.

TOO ILL TO LEAVE HIS BED. A COMPLETE CURE.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—I am writing to tell you about the wonderful cure your medicine has effected in my case. About three years ago I began to cough. At first the cough was not severe, but it gradually got worse, and I became very weak and troubled with night sweats, pain in my chest, and great quantities of phlegm. On several occasions there was blood in the expectorated matter. I had been treated by a doctor, who pronounced my case to be consumption, and various other treatments had been tried, but without benefit. It was at this stage that I heard of your Bronchitis Cure, and sent to you for a course of the medicine. When it arrived I was too ill to leave my bed, but I commenced taking it at once and gradually improved. I am glad to say that the two lots of medicine you sent have effected a complete cure, for which accept my very best thanks. Yours gratefully,

J. BLAIR, Westminster Bridge-road, S.E., London.

SUFFOCATING DRY COUGH FOR TWELVE YEARS.

ENTIRELY REMOVED BY FIVE DOSES OF HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE. NO OTHER TREATMENT COULD EVEN EASE IT.

Sir,—My wife was for twelve years a sufferer from most distressing, suffocating, dry cough, that could not be removed or even eased by any remedy, doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines having been tried; but I am happy to state that the cough, pain in the chest, and difficulty of breathing, etc., were entirely removed by the fifth dose of your Bronchitis Cure. I remain, Sir, yours most respectfully,

WILLIAM CROCKETT, Baker's Swamp P.O., via Dripstone, N.S.W.

A FIVE YEARS SUFFERER.

CURED BY HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE.

Mr. W. G. Hearne. Dear Sir,—Kindly send me one large bottle of your Bronchitis Cure. I am more than pleased with the results of your wonderful medicine, as a small bottle cured my little girl, who had been suffering for five years, and now I do not feel safe to be without it. I remain, yours respectfully,

AGNES F. KENNEDY, Bethanga, Victoria.

Beware of Imitations! The great success of HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE has induced a number of unprincipled persons to make imitations, each calling his medicine "Bronchitis Cure," with the object of deceiving the simple-minded, and so getting a sale for an imitation which has none of the beneficial effects that HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE has. Consequently it has become necessary to draw your attention to this fact, and to request you in your own interests to be particular to ask for HEARNE'S and to see that you get it.

HEARNE'S BRONCHITIS CURE—Small Size, 2/6; Large Size, 4/6. Sold by Chemists and Medicine Vendors, and by the Proprietor, W. G. HEARNE, Chemist, Geelong, Victoria. Forwarded to any Address when not obtainable locally.

NOTICE.—Hearne's Bronchitis Cure No. 1A does NOT contain any poison within the meaning of the Act. It is equally beneficial for the youngest child and the most aged person.

AUSTRALIA.

VIII.—AS A LAND TO SETTLE IN.

(BY C. W.)

The first and last and sum of all questions for the Australian is: "How shall we make Australia the most perfect and ideal country for ourselves to live in?" This wide question includes a narrow one: "How are we to fill Australia with a people of the sort we desire quickly enough to prevent its being filled up for us by a people whom we do not desire?" In other words: "How shall we keep the wrong people out?"—the White Australia question. "How shall we get the right people in?"—the immigration problem.

There is not the slightest doubt that Australia needs every Briton whom it can get; and perhaps every western who can amalgamate with the Briton. It is life and death to us, and the time, the precious, precious years are flitting by only too quick. You would think there was cause for feverish haste. Yet certain members of a class, which is supposed to include all the labouring men in the country, have sent to English labourers their disinterested advice not to emigrate, as there are already too many workmen in the country. The only truth in it is that there are already too many workmen in the country for it to be possible to supply them all with artificially high wages, short hours, and restricted work in the cities. Any further immigration into Sydney and Melbourne of mechanics looking for city work puts the trades unions into a difficulty as to supplying the old workmen and the new with the only sort of work which the city men of Australia will tolerate. The objection of the Labour party to immigration could be understood if it extended only to mechanics looking for city work. But its hostility to all immigrants is not justified even by selfishness. The late Sir Henry Parkes fought this superstition all through his life. "In my judgment," he says, "in no sense modified by my lifelong experiences, the unreasoning opposition of a portion of the working classes to all immigration is little short of a craze. . . . . If there were four times the people in the country, the men and women of the right stamp, sober, industrious, self-helping, every one of the present population would be better off for the economic effects produced by the larger numbers." One might add, that, unless there are at no distant date ten times the people in the country, the present population will run a great risk of ceasing to own the country at all. There is little doubt that the Labour party sees the force of the last argument, and has, at the present, two minds on the question.

That is the Australian side of the question. You may find it far better expressed every day in the newspapers. What the writer wishes to show, as best he may, is the point of view of the man whom the Australian asks to come in and fill up his country for him. Canada is within a week's sail of Britain. It offers free land to anyone who will take it. Pretty well every man, woman, and child in England knows this. There is a gay shop window just off Trafalgar-square, which belongs to Canada. In bold type, just above the leaders of a little Essex paper, which I receive week by week, there is an advertisement calling for unskilled labour. Here it is in full:—

> The cry for unskilled Labour greater than ever. Splendid opportunities for healthy men and women.
> Britain's nearest and greatest colony.
> 160 ACRES FREE.
> Get your own Farm; quit paying Rent; Happy Homes; Healthy, Bracing Climate; Under the old Flag; Cheap Fares; Comfortable and Speedy Travel.
> WORK IS FOUND
> on Farms for experienced or inexperienced Men, for Domestic Servants, for Navvies, Carters, and all willing workers.

Now every man, woman, and child shivering without wood or coal for a fire in the dismal English March, every Hodge that shoulders his hoe down the lane from the farm, with his miserable pittance in his pocket, knows that if he or they can raise a couple of guineas for the passage, the rest will be done for them. Work or land—both if they wish it—will be provided for them at no further cost to themselves. They ask no more. And they are trooping into Canada at an almost fabulous rate.

Afterwards, in the same paper, comes a letter from one of those who has gone and seen and come back. He was dumped in a corner of a forest miles from any railway. He had no tools and no knowledge. He found a little ill-paid work with a distant farmer during a few summer months; and then there swooped down upon him the bracing climate, as promised, and for month after month not an hour's farm work could be done. He has wriggled off the hook, and now he advises his fellow-labourers against taking the bait.

As like as not he exaggerated the horrors. He was probably one of those who always find an insuperable difficulty wherever they go, because they carry it about with them. But at least that bracing climate is no fairy tale. We all know that the Canadian farmer has to face feet upon feet of snow, day after day of ice and sleet and fog, month after month of the bitterest winter which the earth provides. In the face of it all, the great number of those who go there are content to brave it. Canada, though she needs them only to develop her wealth and not to preserve her life, is glad to get them; and they are satisfied with Canada. Look now upon this picture and on that.

Consider that advertisement. The only statement in it that Australia could not make is that she is Britain's nearest and greatest colony. Canada is the nearest, though a long way at that. And Canada is being made into the greatest by this very inrush of British men.

As for the 160 acres free, Australia could offer it; but I think that she will not, for the reason that it would be a deceitful inducement in these days. If a different policy had guided the country some 50 years since, Australia could have made that promise too with fairness. As it is she had her fling. She threw the dice, and there are fifty years of genuine vested interest between her and her farm land. But even as it is, I am well within the truth in saying that almost any British navvy who comes to this country young and determined to work intelligently, comes with a reasonable certainty that he will, if he so wishes it, be farming his own land, and living in his own home with the comfort of a gentleman before he dies. I know men who have done it; who came here without a penny, and by hard and intelligent work made themselves what they are—well-to-do farmers. On their authority I have it that what they did any man can do. Two men in particular I have in my mind. The one is a German who came to this country as a boy. Out of his earnings he bought himself a farm in the north. He grew vines mainly, and from the profits so increased his holding, that at this day he lives in ease on a valuable property. The other came from Scotland at an early age. He made some money carrying goods to the west; increased his little capital as a tenant or share farmer, and bought about a hundred acres on one of the rivers. He has constantly educated himself by annual visits, even if it be but for a day, to an agricultural college. And, by the use of what he has seen there, he has made his hundred acres carry 50 cows and over 50 sheep; a small but excellent stud of bulls and horses; a little cultivation, and finally an orchard. In addition to this he is a shareholder and director in the nearest butter factory, from which he gets a good price for his cream, and a comfortable dividend. Each of these men is working his farm mainly with his own family. Each of them came to the country with no more chance than any other immigrant, poor men, of no education. Each of them has done what he says any other man could do, farmed another's land (or taken rural work) until he could buy his own. And each of them to-day lives with the ease which we associate with a gentleman. If that is true, and one hears it so often from men who must know it by experience, that one cannot help believing it, Canada has little advantage in her 160 free acres which Australia does not also offer. Her gift is indeed far more attractive on the face of it, because it is a gift of something for nothing, and the emigrant does not wait to consider that the value of what he gets is problematical. Let us grant that the gift is worth giving and receiving. There the advantage of Canada stops. Enter on her side of the account that she has some 9000 miles to the good, and 160 acres free, instead of when you have saved the money to deposit on it.

What else, if you think of it, may Canada claim? Cheap fares? The assisted passage to Australia costs £6. Under the old flag? This country is under the same, and its people are of a more purely British origin than even the magnificent population of Canada. As time goes on, and Canada is more and more affected, as it must be, by the American Republic, with its hybrid crowds, the purity of the Australian race will grow by contrast. It will not be long before Britain and Australia will be the only lands in which a purely British race exists.

What else is there? The bracing climate? One may concede the bracing climate. The tired feeling is not likely to be endemic in a land which is under snow for near on half the year. But that does not make Canada a poor man's paradise, which is just what the Australian climate does make of this country. I suppose it is the only temperate continent in which a man could live the whole year round without a fire, or even a roof over his head. Despite the occasional great heat, which itself is healthy in this land, the warm days, cool nights, and cloudless skies of Australia make life there more livable to the white man than in any other country I know of. Every fruit, every cereal, every vegetable that the white man eats grows profusely in one part or another. Meat is fabulously cheap. As for lodging, if you come to a pinch it is not necessary, and many of those who prefer not to work do actually go without it.

For all these reasons they do not know in Australia what poverty means. Of squalor and vice and dirt there is plenty, but not real poverty as we know it in England. There may be many almost as penniless as any English pauper. But there is not the same need for the penny. There is no winter with its horrors of frost and snow. There are no fires and warm clothing to be procured on pain of death. London in winter is a hell for the poor man, and I'll warrant that Canada is not less so. This much for the Australian climate. If there is any objection to it, it is that life is made too easy for your immigrant.

The climate is really the last word in the Australian case. All the rest follows from it. Comfortable and speedy travel. Are the comfort and speed more likely to be had in the snow or in the sun? Happy homes? Are they to be happier where the sleet and the bitter wind come not anigh, where the apricot and apple and pear and plum and vine crown about every snug little country cottage, where the purple and orange creepers mass themselves over the verandah, and the rose climbs across the wall, where the windows may stand wide year in and year out, with never a fire needed but in the kitchen, or where, whatever the wealth of the summer, in the autumn there creeps as sure as death upon life a paralysing winter down upon the countryside, and for half of the year the earth is muffled in its dead white mantle? Where is the little home the happier?

That is really the sum of it. If Canada offers, as she does, splendid opportunities to healthy men and women from the old country, Australia has still more splendid chances to give. It is not that her farms are so much larger and richer than those of Devon. They are both. But their attraction lies not in that, but in the fact that the man, who can acquire them for himself in the new country, is a man who could never hope to own or work an acre for himself in the old one. He would reap and sow another man's land or drive another man's cart all his life, with never a chance that either he or his children after him could ever do better for themselves.

I think it is true to say that more than every one of the healthy advantages offered by the united pleasure resorts of Great Britain are to be had within half an hour of this capital—and of most other Australian capitals, too—and so cheaply that every pauper enjoys them constantly. The man who in London would toil through five miles of grimy streets to his dismal lodging, where an hour's hard scorching, with his nose on the front wheel of the bicycle, divides him from the nearest green field, has only to step up the plank of a ferry boat in the heart of Sydney to plunge into an exquisite landscape. Night or day, fair weather or foul, the ferries can show such scenery to Sydney folk as I think they scarcely appreciate. After the day's work, a seat in the bows to Mosman and back, a stroll through the Gardens to Farm Cove, the front bench of a tram to South Head—these and a hundred other means will bring you face to face with beauties such as men hunt around the world and do not find. Where the Londoner travels 40 miles in a third-class carriage to enjoy a gruesome trip in a "sixpenny sicker," in Sydney every larrikin owns a sailing boat or a share in it. Every pauper and his family can picnic as he likes and, at the present, where he likes. No one is out of the reach of cricket or football. And if foul weather stops all other sport on the half-holiday, a run to South Head will more than make up for it. Suave mari magno—it is a sight to dream on when the great ships come round the corner, meet the full swell of the Pacific not half a mile below you, heave their bows clear of the water, and again wallow nose under in the foam. You can look on there at seamen fighting almost for life beneath your very eyes. You and your companions—they are there by hundreds—resemble nothing more than Spaniards at a bullfight or Romans at their games. All of which, with a deal of bracing fresh air, and the scenery of Land's End in Cornwall thrown in, are to be had in the half of an afternoon for eight pennies return from the heart of this city.

It is not necessary to paint Phil May's poor little Londoner by way of contrast. The whole wide earth, and a wider world than that, separates the most indigent Sydney child from those poor mites; just as a whole world separates Hodge with his hoe and his hovel from James M'Neil of Mudhole Flat. It is that world of health, which Hodge cannot preserve, and comfort, of which he does not dream, that makes Australia a country worth coming 12,000 miles to settle in.

FEDERATION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—There is now no question that the present phase of Federation has aroused the greatest dissatisfaction in New South Wales, and that many persons feel very strongly that this State has not only gained but little, but has lost a great deal by the hasty and little considered union which was entered into.

The most tangible reasons which have been set forth by the dissentients are the pecuniary losses to which we have been subjected, and the little consideration which has been accorded our reasonable protests against unfair treatment.

That there is some foundation for indignation I do not deny, but I do refuse to accept secession from the Commonwealth as the best or even a reasonable remedy.

Had the majority who so unthinkingly and as they now feel, so unwisely, voted for the adoption of the bill as drawn up by the convention to be submitted to the Imperial Parliament, given fair consideration to those persons who showed their realisation of the evils certain to arise and their foresight, by speaking and writing in protest against Federation and in favour of unification, the present trouble would have been avoided.

It is not perhaps so generally realised as it should be that the very largest proportion, if not all, of the causes of dissatisfaction, both in this and other States, for the irritation is not confined to New South Wales, has arisen from the divided authority existing between the Commonwealth and the provincial Governments.

I venture to suggest that the remedy will not be the decadent action of separation, but genuine amendment by the abolition of the State Governments and Parliaments, and the consequent development of a truly effective central Government to act in all national questions, and the creation of greatly enlarged district councils to deal with purely local matters.

Such districts should be as large as would be compatible with the condition that there should be no divided interests in any one of them.

In addition to the gain which would follow lessened friction, the pecuniary saving would be immense. Whilst the services of many men of the best intellect who are now content with the State Legislatures as a field of distinction would be secured to that of the Commonwealth.

I know that such a way out of our troubles is little likely to receive any general acceptance now, but the time will come when its soundness will be realised, and I feel it a duty to ask at all events reasonable consideration of the suggestion.

The advocates of the secession of New South Wales, I submit, hardly realise the position in which this State would be placed. We could not reasonably expect to go out of the Commonwealth directly back to our old position.

It is unquestionable that the Imperial Parliament which by an Act created the Commonwealth may by the same power release any State from it, and in doing so can make such conditions as are thought most in consonance with the wishes of the peoples interested. This being so, it follows that if the State of New South Wales, in the furtherance of what it believes to be its material interests, demands to be released from a compact voluntarily made, it must be equally reasonable, that the inhabitants of any part of that State, who show that it is to their well being that they should be freed from a connection which was not a voluntary act on their part, should have their desire granted. Is it not probable therefore that when New South Wales is authorised to secede that there are parts which might wish for separation from it?

For instance, is it not probable that Riverina, as far, at all events, as the Murrumbidgee, would prefer union to Victoria, Melbourne being its natural outlet? That the district of Broken Hill possibly as far as the Darling would request to be united to South Australia. Also that the Tweed, and perhaps the country to the Richmond River, would renew its former demands for inclusion in Queensland, so as to have the advantage of Brisbane as a market and port of entry and export.

It is evident therefore that secession might not be an unmixed gain to us as a community, but possibly a great advantage to our neighbours, who even then we should only be justified in considering friendly rivals.

I feel confident that our duty is not to seek a remedy in separation, but in such a close union that there will no longer be large bodies of inhabitants whose apparent interests are differentiated by imaginary boundaries that ought not to exist between people of the same race and blood.

In justification of the reasonable probability of the forecast I have dared to make now I shall venture to ask that in a future issue you will do me the favour of publishing that I made in 1899 as to the evil results of the inconsiderate rush into Federation, which has since been so accurately fulfilled in every detail. I am, etc.,

THE WORLD'S PRESS.

The authoress of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and one of the most remarkable literary women of the United States, Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, celebrated her 88th birthday on May 27. For many years she has occupied a unique place among American women as poet, essayist, and lecturer, ever foremost in works of philanthropy and education. She was one of the most ardent advocates of the anti-slavery movement, and is still warm in her championship of woman suffrage. John Stuart Mill was well advanced in Greek when he was about three and a half. Mrs. Howe, who is a good linguist, did not begin the study of that classical tongue till she was nearly 50. She is deep in Kant and Spinoza, and her Boston home has long been a delightful rendezvous for the cultured from all parts.

Japan has solved the problem of how to find employment for the blind in a simple way. Sightless persons have a monopoly of a particular occupation—massage. No person with sight is allowed to practise massage for a livelihood, and although some of the Japanese are in other employments the bulk of them pursue the avocation which the benevolence of their country's laws has made their special preserve. Always elaborately polite, the Japanese are especially courteous to their blind neighbours, and the occupation of masseur is considered a most honourable one.

Cardinal Gibbons, with whom that virile French writer, M. Paul Sabatier, is engaged in a literary duel over the present conflict in France, has long been regarded as the Cardinal Manning of America. He is an ascetic, and keeps open door for all and sundry who may wish an audience with him. His reputation as a pedestrian is known all over the States. Though seventy-four, his daily constitutional is never less than twelve miles, which he covers at a rapid pace, and he outwalks every companion rash enough to follow him in these jaunts. The Cardinal attains his majority this year as a "Prince of the Church," and has been Archbishop of Baltimore for thirty years. He occasionally visited London in the days of Cardinal Manning, with whom he had much in common.

Mr. A. M. Chalmers, the British Consul in North Formosa, states in his latest report to the Foreign Office that the number of opium smokers in his district appears to be slightly decreasing, there having been 123,650 at the end of 1906, against 131,272 in December 1905. This increase, however, appears to be mainly among the poorer classes, as among smokers of first-class opium there has been an increase, and there is little diminution in the actual value of the opium consumed. It is estimated that 4 per cent. of the native Chinese are smokers, the proportions in the two sexes being 1 male in every 14 and 1 female in every 100.

At the Government House, in Poona, India, every cat which may happen to pass out of the front door after dark is saluted by the sentry, who presents arms to pussy. Tradition relates that in 1838 Sir Robert Grant, Governor of Bombay, died in the Government House. On the evening of the day of his death a cat was seen to leave the house by the front door and to walk up and down a particular path where the late Governor had been in the habit of strolling after sunset. A Hindoo sentry observed this, and told a priest, who declared that in the cat was Governor's Grant's soul, and it should be saluted. As the particular cat could not be identified by the sentry it was decided to present arms to all the cats.

Now that a large sum of money is being expended upon the work of widening one of London's principal bridges—Blackfriars—it is interesting to recall how the money was raised for the purpose of bridge-building in London in the "good old times." In 1736 an Act was passed for building a bridge at Westminster, and authorising a lottery of 125,000 tickets at £5 each for the purpose. This scheme was so far successful, it is recorded, that Parliament sanctioned other lotteries in succession until Westminster Bridge was completed. It was by means of a State lottery, too, that the funds for establishing the British Museum were raised! An Act of 1753 authorised the raising of £300,000 by such means for this purpose. In this case a large number of the tickets were fraudulently "cornered" and sold at a premium, by which means an enterprising gentleman is said to have made something like £40,000.

The "Corriere della Sera" announces that some workmen have discovered during the rebuilding of a wall in the Church of Santa Maria Gloriosa, in Venice, the sarcophagus of Paolo Sarello, General of the Venetian Republic, who fell at the assault of Padua in 1465. The skeleton is in perfect preservation, and the cuirass and leather thigh-pieces still remain intact. One shoe, however, is missing, and no weapons were found. The sarcophagus is surmounted by an equestrian statue of the long dead warrior, whose remains will shortly be replaced in the position which they have peacefully occupied for 500 years.

There is nothing new about the term "Methodist." The Methodists of ancient Rome were medical practitioners, who had reduced the art of healing to a few very simple principles and a few very stern and unrelenting rules for the observance of patients. The name was first heard in England as a term of reproach during the Puritan era, "being of ready application to the Puritans or precisians in religion." An old writer accurately describes how the term came into existence:—"When it came to pass therefore about the year 1730 that Mr. John Wesley, then Fellow of Lincoln College, Oxford, had prevailed upon other members of the University, principally his own pupils, to join with himself in stricter religious observance than was at that time fashionable in Oxford, adversaries and satirists of these proceedings soon appeared, who were not slack in reviving the Puritan appellation and fixing it upon Mr. Wesley and his companions." Methodists have taken adequate revenge by adopting the term and converting it into a badge of honour.

Professor Delepine, of Victoria University has discovered a minute globular bacillus which is responsible for an epidemic of sore and swollen throats in Manchester. The outbreak was at first taken to diphtheritic, but the professor has certified that the bacillus of diphtheria has not been found, and the organism he has discovered is apparently new and distinct.

Mr. Llewellyn Weston, of High Wycombe (England), owns a large oil painting with the label, "H. Fragonard." The subject is a sleeping female figure. Recently there was a picture sale in Paris of the Charles Sedlmayer collection, in which a picture entitled "Reviel de Venus" (the Awakening of Venus") was sold for £5520. The one in Mr. Weston's hands is stated on good authority to be a companion picture—"The Sleeping Venus"—by the same artist. He picked up the picture at a local art dealer's establishment, the latter having in his turn purchased it in London. It was sold to him as a painting which had formed part of the collection of the late King Victor Emmanuel of Italy. Mr. Weston has declined an offer of £1000 for the work.

"Plays by Shakespeare, Goethe, and Sardou," says the "Cologne Gazette," "have been produced in Tokio, Japan, this season—all admirably translated and well performed. M. Matsui, the director of the theatre, has been in Berlin for some time, and has acquired the right to produce several plays, by Henrik Ibsen and Gerhardt Hauptmann, and these are already being prepared for the Japanese stage."

Another vacancy has been caused in the French Academy by the death of Andre Theuriet, the charming author of "Sous Bois," "Sauvageonne," and other books, in which intimate love and knowledge of the country blended with a graceful turn for fiction. He naturally began as a poet, and was the author of four volumes of verse, besides being a dramatist played at the Maison de Moliere. His name may be familiar to others as the "introducer" of Marie Bashkirtseff's once famous journal.

An idea of the rapidity with which the timber is disappearing from some sections of Pennsylvania can be obtained from the following figures, which refer to the timber cutting on the Hicks Run tract in Clearfield County:—Original size of tract, 9000 acres; timber cut the first two years, 3000 acres; still standing, 6000 acres; amount of timber cut, 50,000,000ft; amount standing, 200,000,000ft; daily capacity of sawmill, 200,000ft; daily shipments, 15 carloads; amount of timber in Hicks Run yard, 6,000,000ft; time of operation, two years; estimated time to cut standing timber, four years; number of men employed, 800 to 1000.

Ian Maclaren was a capital raconteur. He had a fund of anecdote relating to his lecture tours in America. One man he met there had just come back from Jerusalem, disappointed, disillusioned. "Sir, that Holy City is a back number," he lamented. "Would you believe it, there isn't a single trolly-car or daily newspaper in the whole place!" Another gentleman followed him to Liverpool, tracked him to his house, sent up his card, and immediately followed it into the author's study. "My name is Elijah K. Higgins," he breathlessly exclaimed, "and I am a busy man; you also are a busy man, and I have no time to fool away. Your days are all I can give to your United Kingdom, and I wished to shake hands with you. Good-bye; I'm off to Drumtochty," and he vanished.

AN HISTORIC DOCUMENT.

(BY H. B. B.)

Napoleon remarked, "I will go down to posterity with my code." Mr. Nugent Robertson may well say that he will go down to posterity with his Privy Council appeal. There are many circumstances connected with his case which make it of interest. First of all, that a barrister should tempt the goddess of chance in the law courts, is of itself sufficiently remarkable. Secondly, that the dispute should have originally arisen out of a refusal on his part to pay one penny—it will turn out to be an expensive penny for some one. Mr. Robertson, to state the casus belli shortly, paid a penny to go through the turnstile at the Balmain Ferry Company's Wharf, to cross over to Balmain in their steamer. Having missed the boat, he wanted to get off their wharf. They said, in effect, "No, the charge to get off is the same as that to get on." He said, "Not at all"—or words to that effect—and endeavoured to pass through an opening bewteen the wall and the turnstile. The attendant prevented his so doing, hinc illae lacrimae.

Mr. Robertson went to law, a jury found in his favour, with damages, £100—the penny had fructified. The Ferry Company appealed to the Full Court, but without success, and then, by special leave, to the High Court, who found for them. Mr. Robertson, not to be outdone in persistency, went one better, and appealed to Caesar—that is, the Privy Council. Before he could bring his case before them, he had to apply for special leave to appeal, which brings us to the only object of this paper.

The Bench to whom the application for special leave to appeal was made was a remarkable one. There were present the Lord Chancellor, the Master of the Rolls, Lord Robertson, Sir Ford North, Sir Arthur Wilson. Mr. Wise, K.C. (formerly Attorney-General of New South Wales), for the (plaintiff) appellant, moved for special leave to appeal.

Leave to appeal was granted, and the sitting of the Privy Council, at which the report of the Judicial Committee was considered, furnishes the document under notice, with its unique historic character. The members present were:—The King's Most Excellent Majesty, his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught and Strathearn, Lord President, Lord Privy Seal, Earl of Elgin, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Robert Bond, Sir Joseph Ward, Dr. Jameson, Mr. Moor, General Botha.

It will be noticed that the colonial Premiers, being present in London on the occasion of the Colonial Conference, advantage was taken of the opportunity to pay the new members of the Privy Council a graceful compliment. The document goes on to state the grounds of the appeal; to state that in the opinion of the Judicial Committee special leave should be granted to the appellant, and concludes with a direction by the Privy Council that the special leave be granted.

There could be no stranger juxtaposition of names than those at the meeting above referred to. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, a Frenchman; General Botha, a Boer, and an erstwhile foe; Sir Joseph Ward, from New Zealand; Dr. Jameson, who has had surely one of the most adventurous of careers; Sir Robert Bond, Mr. Moor; and if Mr. Alfred Deakin had not had scruples, his name would doubtless be on this historic document. A man would indeed be dull of mind whose imagination was not fired by a fabric of Empire reared in Seven Seas; who sees the name of Laurier, and Botha, and Ward at the same Board, who thinks of a system of government so elastic, and yet so strong; a system of administration of justice which, with all its slowness, its costliness, and the fact that it is far removed from our eyes, has yet in the main fulfilled its purpose, inasmuch as no suggestion of bribery, of prejudice, of carelessness or trifling, has ever been made against it. In truth, Mr. Nugent Robertson will go down to posterity with his Ferry Company, and in good company.

BOGUS DEGREES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Mr. Meagher's suggestion that the Sydney University should move in this matter is a good one. As the law at present is unable to stop the dishonest practice, the Senate should put the facts before the Justice Department or the Education Department—a course which would almost certainly result in a short Act dealing with the subject. "Graduate by Examination" refers to the "shallow adventurers" who, though they have never passed through any reputable university, style themselves "D.D.," etc. But here, perhaps, the principle, caveat emptor, applies. At any rate, the churches should be able to protect the public in such cases, and after all, these "graduates" do more harm to themselves than to anyone else. It is a very different thing, however, when men obtain their "degrees" by purchase, or by "writing theses" for bogus institutions, and then undertake the instruction of the young.

HEADACHE, INDIGESTION, AND CONSTIPATION.

AN IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

It will interest sufferers to know that a valuable medicine, called Frootoids, has been discovered, which is now completely curing each of the abovenamed complaints. Frootoids are elegant in appearance, and pleasant to take, and what is of the utmost importance, are thoroughly reliable in affording quick relief. You do not require to go on taking them for a prolonged period, as is necessary with some medicines, which even then are mostly disappointing; you simply take a dose of Frootoids when ill, and repeat the dose if necessary, but generally one dose is quite effective.

Frootoids are immensely more valuable than an ordinary aperient, in so far that they not only act as an aperient, but do remove from the blood, tissues, and internal organs all the waste poisonous matter that is clogging them and choking the channels that lead to and from them. The beneficial effects of Frootoids are evident at once by the disappearance of headache, the head becoming clear, and a bright, cheery sense of perfect health taking the place of sluggish, depressed feelings by the liver acting properly, and by the food being properly digested.

Frootoids are the proper aperient medicine to take when any Congestion or Blood Poison is present, or when Congestion of the Brain or Apoplexy is present or threatening. They have been tested, and have been proved to afford quick relief in such cases when other aperients have not done any good at all. It is of the utmost importance that this should be borne in mind, for in such cases to take an ordinary aperient is to waste time and permit of a serious illness becoming fatal.

Frootoids act splendidly on the liver, and quickly cure bilious attacks that antibilious pills make worse. Many people have been made sick and ill by antibilious pills that could have been cured at once by Frootoids. People should not allow themselves to be duped into contracting a medicine-taking habit by being persuaded to take daily doses with each meal of so-called indigestion cures that do not cure. Frootoids have been subjected to extensive tests, and have in every case proved successful in completely curing the complaints named.

A constipated habit of body will be completely cured if the patient will on each occasion, when suffering, take a dose of Frootoids, instead of an ordinary aperient; by so doing the patient will require doses only at longer intervals, and will so become quite independent of the necessity of taking any aperient medicine.

Frootoids are only now being placed on the Australian market, consequently you may at present have a difficulty in getting them from your local chemist or storekeeper; but ask for them, and if you cannot get them at once, send stamps or postal note for price, 1s 6d, to W. G. Hearne, Chemist, Geelong, and a bottle of them will be immediately forwarded to you post free. Chemists, storekeepers, and wholesalers can now obtain wholesale supplies from W. G. Hearne, Chemist, Geelong, Victoria.—Advt.

SCIENCE NOTES.

(W. G. P.)

ABOUT PTERODACTYLS.

"He who understands," says Professor H. G. Seeley, "whence the flying reptiles came, how they endured, and disappeared from the earth, has solved some of the greatest mysteries of life." And, in fact, there is no more dramatic page in the history of nature. We can trace the mammals, birds, and reptiles back to a common stock, and an aberrant offshoot from this, which failed to maintain itself, comprises those extinct flying reptiles which, most remarkably, include also many of the primitive characters of birds and beasts, and it is not without meaning that the traditional dragon of the air was at the beginning a winged mammal, though, in the course of a curious evolution, he became an angel, while the dragons of China and Japan still preserve a reptilian appearance. Among living animals we have a few hints of how a flight mechanism may be evolved. Thus there are flying frogs provided with a broad membrane between the digits of the hand and of the foot. The animal lives in trees, and the membranes support his weight as he leaps from branch to branch. We have no true extant flying lizards, though the dracovolans of Malay have extended ribs that form their body into a kind of parachute. Flying squirrels and foxes illustrate other devices, and one entire order of mammals, the bats, shows how far such a development may go. In the bat four of the digits of the hand are enormously prolonged, and form the framework for a wide membrane; the remaining digit, a short claw, being applied to the ground when walking. Roughly, the flying lizards have followed the mode of evolution of the bat; but only one finger is enormously prolonged, the rest being applied to the ground in walking. They began to be found in the lithographic stone of Bavaria as long ago as 1784, and Cuvier, in 1801, identified them as lizards, and invented their name—wing-finger animals. Thirty years later they began to be generally regarded as types of a transition from reptiles to birds and mammals. Many naturalists of more recent time have been mainly impressed with their reptilian characters, and have thus classified them as flying reptiles, but a more detailed study of their organisation shows that they rise considerably above the reptile in many respects. An immense amount of material is available now for their study. They range through the secondary geological epochs, and were widely distributed, thousands of bones, for example, having been taken from a greensand formation near Cambridge, while other important finds have been made in Brazil and in Kansas. They also included a wide range of forms. The smallest were no bigger than sparrows, and the largest seems to have been as big as the moas, the extinct giant birds of New Zealand. They varied much also in the development of their parts, some had enormous heads and others equally enormous tails; some are confessedly uncouth, while others attain, in their authentic reconstructions, a weird grace, such as that with which the imaginative artist endows the creatures of another world.

SOME TRIUMPHS OF RESEARCH.

Science is only the application of the methods of Zadig or of Sherlock Holmes to the facts of nature, and when we are once in the secret there is nothing very marvellous about the way in which the history of extinct animals is unravelled. As long ago as 1837 it was noted, for instance, that the flying lizards had bones filled with air, for their bones had the unmistakable little openings for this purpose seen in birds; and so, from a single bone, the inference that they were flying animals might have been drawn. The only other animals which have bones of this type are flightless birds, whose wings are rudimentary or have disappeared. In the Pterodactyls, these air openings into the bones are placed exactly as they are in the case of those birds which possess them, and from that we are able to say that the lungs of the flying lizard, which of course have not been preserved, must have been very like in structure to the lungs of birds, and therefore unlike the lungs of reptiles. It is also possible to say that they had the same type of brain. This is quite different from that in reptiles and in mammals, and many moulds of the brains of pterodactyls have been found which are quite bird-like. But the nervous and the respiratory systems are two of the most important parts of the organism, and if the flying lizards agreed closely with the birds in these, we may be allowed to assume, provisionally, that they have the same type of heart—the four-chambered heart of the bird and the mammal. Thus they are raised a good deal from the level of reptiles. But that they were not birds is shown by the fact that among the many thousand remains of Pterodactyls nothing like a feather has been found; on the other hand, the skull mixes the character of reptiles and birds, leaning now to one side, and now to another; while the lower jaw of some orders is different from both, and resembles the condition in the monotremes and mammals. It has reptilian teeth; but these have, of course, been discovered in many extinct birds, and some of the American Pterodactyls were toothless. The rest of the skeleton shows the same strange mixture, but the hand is unique, there being nothing elsewhere to compare with the wing-finger, which in some cases was as long as the backbone. In the larger specimens this gave a wing stretch of some 20ft. While the other small fingers were placed on the ground, this one was turned backwards. Some species seem to have been habitually quadruped, and others biped. The skin, so far as is known, was without covering, which gives a smooth and bizarre effect to restorations of the animal, the grotesqueness being accentuated in the tailless varieties. Altogether some 16 genera have been distinguished, but, strangely enough, we know nothing of their beginning or their end; nor can we trace an evolution of form within the geological time that the remains cover.

POLYNESIAN ORIGINS.

Polynesia presents the ethnologist with three striking problems, the occasional European face and figure of its inhabitants, the presence of huge stone monuments along a track of islands leading back to the North Pacific and the Asiatic mainland, and a remarkable resemblance between the culture of British Columbia and Polynesia, although the British Columian face and figure is normally American-Indian in type. Professor J. Macmillan Brown has evolved an ingenious theory to connect and explain these three sets of facts. He has collected evidence which goes to suggest that in neolithic time a stream of Caucasian migration left Europe and crossed eastward to the Pacific through Northern Asia. They were a maritime race, following the great lakes which then existed, and resuming their fishing and voyaging habit when they reached the ocean. The migratory Caucasian marked this track by huge stone monuments (of which another series extends west to Ireland) more or less like Stonehenge, bare, or mounded over; and these continue as he made his way little by little through the Pacific. Professor Brown regards these structures as having been initially burial places, but a discussion of this point is not essential to the argument for a Caucasian migration, though a proof that the structures are homologous is, and is not quite clearly forthcoming. As another relic of his passing the Caucasian left along this track, by admixture with races adjacent to it, his long head, wavy hair, and fair complexion. This can be traced across the Pacific to British Columbia, and southwards through Polynesia to New Zealand. In British Columbia there had been much mingling with the Mongoloid-Indian stock of America; but there was little early mingling in Polynesia, for no Mongoloid migration went that way, and the negroid element came in from South Asia as a conquering race only in later times; so that negroid features are artificially cultivated. Ethnology thus contradicts the view of the earlier philologists that Polynesia was peopled from Malay. A closer study of Polynesian languages, however, reveals many Aryan affinities. Professor Brown is not content, however, with a neolithic Caucasian invasion of the Pacific; that must have taken place at the outside ten thousand years ago. But much of the culture is more primitive than neolithic; in fact, a clear stratum of paleolithic culture has persisted to this day—and this is at least a hundred thousand years old. Professor Brown's explanation is perhaps a little too ingenious. In this paleolithic time there was a fairly continuous land bridge, along which women as well as men could progress in Caucasian migration number one—and unprogressive woman lights her altar fires to the primitive! Later this land bridge disappeared, and the track became only passable for men in neolithic time—Caucasian migration number two. These brought the masculine arts up to date; but left the women to follow their domestic duties in their own paleolithic way. Finally there was migration from South Asia, bringing mingled with it negroid blood. As we know from the absence of iron, all this happened before the beginning of our era; and the final migration along the northern route had stopped much earlier—before the Caucasians had a written alphabet. Professor Brown thus throws back Polynesian origins first to paleolithic and then to neolithic time, and presents us with a past—in which hitherto the Pacific has been unfortunately lacking. There are many details that fit into the scheme in an interesting manner, and the theory has at any rate the merit of sugestiveness.

THE SEA-CUCUMBERS.

The sea-cucumbers are interesting animals, if only on account of their peculiar habit of occasionally throwing away their stomachs. They belong to the same general phylum, Echinodermata, as the star-fish, sea urchins, and brittle stars, but their sausage-shaped body, almost devoid of calcareous skeleton, and their worm-like crawling habit present no external resemblance to the ray-like formation of the star-fish. There are some 520 species known, a typical one being about a foot long and three or four inches in diameter. When strongly irritated the animal ejects its inside, which, absorbing water, splits up into a tangle of threads, in which an enemy may be completely ensnared. A large lobster has been seen thus hopelessly enveloped. This heroic measure of self-defence is not necessarily fatal, as the animal regenerates its lost parts; but, even so, the adaptation is one of the most remarkable in nature. The sea-cucumbers are widely distributed, being found from the Arctic regions to the tropics. A tropical species constitutes the much-prized delicacy of the Chinese, "Trepang." These are cooked in sea-water, dried in the sun, boiled again in fresh water, and sent out dried to be used in making soup. Some species are remarkable for living at abysmal depths, crawling over the soft ooze of the ocean floor, and feeding upon it. Other species have long, curiously branched tentacles, and of these an Antarctic form carries its young on its back. Aristotle has described what appears to be a sea-cucumber, and from the name he uses they get their scientific title, Holothuridae. The six orders into which the group falls are a good deal differentiated, according as the primitive stock migrated into deep water, or took to swimming, or developed burrowing habits. Their bodies being almost devoid of skeleton, fossil remains throw little light on their evolution. Their larvae forms, however, connect them closely to the other echinoderms, the whole phylum being descended from a simple free-swimming ancestor, represented by the present larvae forms. We have a rather immediate interest in this ancestor, for the three aberrant and very primitive forerunners of the vertebrates have a larvae form of the same type; so that apparently the vertebrates and the star-fish had the same ancestor. The ray-like arrangement of the latter is a secondary characteristic, the larvae form showing that "bi-lateral symmetry" which the vertebrates have maintained. The star-fish are thus much modified descendants of a free-swimming ancestor, and the sea-cucumbers are much modified star-fish.

IN THE GARDEN.

SOWING SEEDS.

This will soon be an important operation for our garden amateurs. Naturally the first consideration should be to obtain good seeds. Half a dozen good plants well cultivated will give more pleasure than twice this number neglected. Many beginners take to annuals with peculiar fondness, but as they acquire experience in garden management their love for the friends of their youth declines and they soon become indifferent to the culture of annuals. This should not be, for many of our hardy annuals are exceedingly neat and gay, and many of them are equal in beauty to any perennial known, whether hardy or tender, and last as long in the gayest trim as any one can desire. They may be wholly grown from first to last without the aid of glass or flower pots or composts, or sticks, or shades, or even with little or no water, and will yet make a liberal return for the very little care which their simple cultivation requires. There is no other class of plants that can give an equal display of colour and an equal range of characters and colours, gay and various, for the small amount of labour required to produce a brilliant border of hardy annuals.

Doubtless, the one grand secret in securing a fine bloom of any hardy annual is to sow early and thin severely, and to proportion the thinning to the growth of each sort, so that every separate plant in each clump should have room to spread and be encouraged to make much growth before it begins to flower. The surface soil should not be wet when the work is done. Most seeds are commonly sown too deep, and that is a mistake sure to end in failure. A good rule is to cover all garden seeds lightly, generally not deeper than their own depth. If planted deep the tender seedlings have a poor chance, and in most cases will not grow. Always be careful to get seeds suited for the purposes for which they are intended. If a climber be desired to cover a fence or trellis, the morning glory or climbing nasturtium and similar plants will give satisfaction, while some of the more tender climbers will not be likely to "come up" if planted in such a situation; and if they do happen to grow will not cover the space designed for them, and disappointment will be the result. If the object be a brilliant showy bed on the lawn, or in the border, the petunia, phlox drummondii, verbena, etc, will meet one's wishes; while a bed of mignonette or any of the smaller or less showy flowers would be entirely out of place. If flowers of taller growth be desired for a showy bed more in the background, the zinnia, Klondyke cosmos, summer chrysanthemum, etc, are admirably adapted; while some very beautiful dwarf-growing flowers would be worthless; even good flowers are sometimes condemned merely because they are out of their proper places.

The best soil for most flowers, especially for young plants, and for seed beds, is a mellow loam, containing so much sand that it will not cake after heavy showers. As but little success is to be anticipated with delicate seeds in a stiff heavy soil, advantage must be taken of the various plants to ensure their proper germination. It is useless to try to grow good flowers on a poor or unbroken soil, or in a bed where weeds predominate. In either case the plants become dwarfed, arrive at maturity too early, and flower and ripen their seeds before they have attained half their natural size. Such a soil can be much improved by a little sand or ashes and manure, and by constant working.

The manner in which seeds are sown is another important matter, and one in which beginners are most likely to fail. A hotbed, if properly managed, is of great aid in effecting the germination of seeds, and it is well that all should know why this is so, for there are many cases of failure as well as of success. If seeds are planted too deeply they either rot in the damp, cold earth for want of the warmth necessary to their germination, or after germination perish before the tender shoots can reach the sun and air. If the soil be impregnated with clay it is often too cold at the time when the seeds are planted to effect their germination; for it must be understood that warmth and moisture are necessary for germination. Neither of these will do alone. A heavy soil becomes hard on the surface, and this prevents the young plants from "coming up;" or, if during showery weather they happen to get above the surface they become locked in, unless the cultivator is careful to keep the crust well broken, and in doing this the young plants are often destroyed. If the soil is stiff where fine seeds are sown, it should be made mellow, particularly on the surface, by the addition of sand and light moulds. If the seeds are sown in rough, lumpy ground a portion of them will be buried under the clods and will never grow; and many that do start, not finding a fit soil for their tender roots, will perish.

Many disappointments in seed sowing can be avoided by establishing a forcing frame. It need not be an elaborate structure, and can even be formed without sashes. A bush covering over the sides and ends will answer very well, or a strip of thin calico made to roll over the frame. The main requirement is a little bottom warmth to induce root growth. This is to be secured by placing the frame, if it is only a box without a bottom, upon a couple of feet or greater depth of manure. Seedlings may then be raised by sprinkling a few inches of sandy soil upon the manure, and sowing the seeds on the soil. The better plan, however, is to sow in shallow boxes or pans, and set them into the manure. Plants, seedlings, cuttings, etc., are raised in great quantities in this way. They require abundance of air, which can be secured by allowing free ventilation, but draughts must be avoided—the high sides and ends of the frame will help in that direction.

SANDY SOIL AND SHADY NOOKS.

Just as there are shady nooks in most gardens, so there are many garden plots the soil of which is naturally sandy or light. While some plants will flourish in such, the majority need a stronger staple to do well in, and a mixture of marl or clay is the only remedy in such cases unless a special collection of flowers to suit the soil be made. As a rule lilies and all kinds of bulbs luxuriate in light gritty soils, especially if enriched from time to time with cow manure, and such a soil is an ideal one for hyacinths, narcissi, iris, and gladioli. Nasturtiums, and all varieties of the tropeolum family flourish in light soils, producing flowers more abundantly with less stem and foliage than when planted in rich retentive soils. Geraniums and pelargoniums are much the same, giving more flower and less foliage, while begonias also make a brave show. Columbines, anemone japonica, and perennial pyrethum among permanent plants, annual chrysanthemums are good things for light soils, as also is mignonette if there is some lime present in the ground, but otherwise this odorous plant will not thrive whether the soil is light or heavy.

In all gardens there are places more or less in the shade, and if sun loving plants are placed there, they will be to some extent failures, according to the density of the shade. On the other hand if shade loving subjects are placed there the spot will always be gay with bloom or foliage. Primroses, polyanthus, etc., among early bloomers do well in shady positions; lily of the valley, solomon's seal, and perennial candytuft will furnish blossom for a later period of the season; and violas will continue it throughout the summer. Campanulas and Canterbury bells where the shade is not too dense flower freely, and fuchsias always do much better in partial shade than full sunlight, while forget-me-nots and the bright coloured mimulus luxuriate in the shade. Anemone japonica and foxgloves bloom in such positions liberally, and shrubby calceolarias retain their blossoms much longer in shade than in exposed places. Nicotiana affinis, with its lustrous white flowers, is an excellent plant for shady beds and borders, while all ferns are lovers of shade. Some of these do well under trees, such as ferns, periwinkles, and hypericums, but the shade referred to is not such as is caused by over-close contact with trees.

WHITE HYDRANGEAS.

Our gardens are rich in shrubs and trees which flower in spring, but of those which bloom in the later summer and autumn months there is not so rich a supply that we can afford to dispense with the presence of such a handsome and effective scrub as the hardy Hydrangea paniculata grandiflora. When the flowers first expand they exhibit a purity of colour equal to those of the snowball tree itself, and as every healthy shoot produces a large head of bloom on a plant, some 3ft in height and as much through carrying from 15 to 20 of them, it is easy to form a true idea of the exceptional merits of this hardy subject. Its hardiness is indeed one of its chief recommendations, for no amount of inclement weather appears capable of making the slightest impression upon it. The flowers when first opened are snowy white, and charm by their refinement and purity, scarcely exceeded in the latter respect at least by any tender plant. As the season advances they assume a tinge of pink, which later on develops into a still brighter tint. In each phase of colouring the plant is beautiful, but chiefly so before the flowers have lost any of their pearly whiteness. This plant is equally suitable for either large or small gardens, as it is grand when massed, and its compact and moderate habit of growth renders it of great value to the owners of small gardens generally, and by annually pruning the young shoots back to two eyes, the plant will be kept in a small compass, and the growth will be stronger than when unrestricted development is allowed, with the consequent effect of increasing the quality of the flowers whilst not diminishing them in quantity. This hydrangea can be recommended to the owners of villa and small gardens, and where there is room for only one flowering shrub it would be well to plant this.

Although as compared with the generality of flowering shrubs the panicled hydrangea may be considered as a moderate grower, it by no means follows that it is deficient in vigour; on the contrary, it grows with sufficient freedom and strength to admit of its employment in the shrubbery, or in the mixed plantation, where it does not come into immediate contact with rank-growing soil-exhausting trees, and may be made to form when judiciously grouped a beautiful and interesting feature in such places. Where, however, it is considered expedient to encourage growth to the fullest extent, the soil should be deeply stirred and richly manured, and care should be taken that no other coarse-rooted subject be allowed to appropriate to itself any portion of the nutriment intended for the exclusive enjoyment of the hydrangea. Propagation is best effected by placing established plants in bottom heat in early spring, the young, tender shoots quickly forming roots in a genial temperature. If the weather is warm they will strike readily in the open ground.

There are several varieties of hydrangea—amongst them Hortensia variegata, which, when grown in a shady position in moist soil will exhibit blue flowers, but when exposed and dry the flowers are in most cases of a pink colour. The foliage of this plant being nicely variegated renders it very attractive.

RHODODENDRONS.

These beautiful and attractive evergreen flowering shrubs are very seldom seen growing to perfection in the gardens of our amateurs. It is thought by many that being mountain plants they will only succeed in cool, shady positions in high altitudes. If, however, they are grown in some of the warmer districts of the State in shaded, cool positions in well-drained soil, they will do remarkably well, and present a magnificent show of bloom during the season. It is pleasing, however, to note that during the last two or three seasons there has been an increased demand for these beautiful free flowering shrubs, for they are certainly amongst the most attractive of our garden shrubs, and deserve the attention of every amateur. They may also be grown successfully in large pots or tubs, if kept in the open air during the summer facing the south or east, and afterwards bloomed in a cool greenhouse or bush-house. They require no pruning, but it is necessary to remove all seed pods as soon as they have finished blooming, care being taken not to injure any of the young shoots. The blooms are produced in clusters on the end of every growth, presenting a gorgeous and attractive appearance, ranging from pure white to deep crimson.

In planting rhododendrons, if the soil is at all heavy, use a free mixture of sand and leaf mould well incorporated, avoiding lime or old mortar in the compost, lime being most fatal to them. They will do well without the aid of manure, but being surface rooters a mulching of leaf mould will tend to keep a moist surface, and supply the plant with all the fertiliser needed. The soil round the roots must not be dug deeply, or the roots will be injured; very shallow loosening round the roots is all that is necessary. In the whole range of flowering shrubs the rhododendron has but few equals, and there are none more beautiful. Amongst the popular varieties are R. congesteum roseum, bright rose colour beautifully spotted; R. pista grandiflora, a free flowering white; R. baronecreca, purplish rose; and John Waterer, a lovely dark crimson. All of these are most showy and attractive.

"ART AND ARCHITECTURE."

The Institute of Architects has forwarded the new number of "Art and Architecture," which is the title of the institute's journal. As with its predecessors, so with this number, it is an art production. The pictures are beautifully printed, the type is bold and clear, and the quality of the reading matter is very good. This publication contains a leading article on the draft Building Bill, drawn up for the City Council for submission to Parliament, and while the bona-fides of the council is fully appreciated, it is pointed out that the bill is founded upon a bad model—the London Building Act of 1894. The last Paris Act, or the New York Building Act, would have been a better model. The magazine also contains some strictures on piecemeal improvements to the city, instead of a recognised general plan. It counsels that a plan be first elaborated for city improvement, and that it shall then be followed in all works having for their object the beautification and the convenience and sanitary improvement of the area under the City Council. Another short article calls attention to the need for preserving some of the historical landmarks of Sydney. Other articles are of interest to the architectural profession.

FEEDING FOR HEALTH.

DIRECTIONS BY A FOOD EXPERT.

A complete change in food makes a complete change in the body. Therefore if you were ailing in any way, the surest road back to health is to change your diet. Try the following breakfast for ten days and mark the result.

Two soft boiled eggs (if you have a weak stomach, boil the eggs as follows: put two eggs into a pint tin cup of boiling water, cover and set off the stove. Take out in nine minutes; the whites will be the consistency of cream and partly digested. Don't change the directions in any particular), some fruit, cooked or raw, cooked preferred, a slice of toast, a little butter, four heaping teaspoonsful of Grape-Nuts with some cream, a cup of properly boiled Postum Food Coffee.

The Grape-Nuts breakfast food is fully and scientifically cooked at the factory, and both that and the Postum have the diastase (that which digests the starchy part) developed in the manufacture. Both the food and the coffee, therefore, are predigested and assist, in a natural way, to digest the balance of the food. Lunch at noon the same.

For dinner in the evening use meat and one or two vegetables. Leave out the fancy desserts. Never over-eat. Better a little less than too much.

If you can use health as a means to gain success in business or in a profession it is well worth the time and attention required to arrange your diet to accomplish the result. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."—Advt.

POULTRY.

Questions relative to fancy or commercial poultry-keeping, diseases, etc., should be addressed to "Arcona," Herald Office.

Glenorie.—Ovarian troubles, such as you mention, are not due to any system of feeding, but inherent in the fowl, and treatment is rarely successful. It is advisable to remove the two hens from the flock, feed sparingly for a time; and should there be no improvement it would be better to dispose of them.

Wales.—1. Your feeding is quite right. The eggs of the pullets will increase in size as the season advances, and particularly on the second laying. 2. From the symptoms you describe, it is evident that the fowl has liver disease, and so far advanced that the only thing you can now do is to kill the bird. 3. Orpingtons or Wyandottes should suit.

The entries for Manly show, although making a respectable total, are scarcely up to expectations in the poultry, this arising principally from the superabundance of shows the present year, four alone of which have been held at the Agricultural Ground. The management at Manly announce that exhibitors will be allowed to remove their stock early on Saturday evening.

Show people who have not had enough of exhibiting the present year can be accommodated at Parkes show in the middle of next month, when 53 classes are provided for fowls, with 7s 6d first prize money, and several specials of a guinea each. Schedules can be had from the secretary, Mr. R. J. Baker.

The present has been the best July that poultrymen have experienced for several years so far as egg prices go. Often in the middle of this month as low as one shilling has obtained, the late is 9d being in favourable contrast. Even what are sometimes disparagingly spoken of as river sorts have for two or three weeks fetched the excellent figure of 1s 7d. Seeing that 1s to 1s 3d per dozen have been the Adelaide and Melbourne prices, our poultrymen can be congratulated. A falling market for at least a couple of months may now be expected.

The sixty pens of hens competing at the second "Herald"-"Mail" egg-laying test at Berowra, for the week ended on Thursday evening last made another good week's laying. Messrs. Jones, Gamble, and Reynolds' birds did the best, all three being equal with 32 eggs each. Messrs. Stewart Bros. report that all the birds now look well, and increased production is expected. The week's laying and totals appeared in yesterday's issue.

EXPORT OF EGGS.

A paragraph in an issue of the "Herald" of last week was to the effect that Mr. Laurie, the South Australian poultry expert, was in Melbourne making arrangements for a joint shipment of Victorian and South Australian eggs to England. South Australia has a large number of small landholders who make poultry-breeding a side issue of their operations, so important that egg-production is actually millions of dozens beyond the State's requirements. Over one million dozens find their way to and a ready market in this State annually, but immensely larger quantities go to Western Australia, last year's interstate egg exports from Adelaide amounting to over £100,000 sterling. With such surpluses the ordinary onlooker may feel surprised at the southern State sending an emissary with the object of inducing the Victorian poultry-farmers and others to join his State, particularly as the English market has been tested repeatedly by the Victorians, and last year by the South Australians themselves, and, according to one paper in that State, with satisfactory results. As the poultry-farmers and other egg-producers of this State experience a two or three months' cheap period, and may have an eye Londonwards, the following may interest them:—South Australia has for years found Sydney an excellent paying market for its surplus eggs, but the increased production expected, as a result of the laying competitions here, gives that State grounds for the fear that this would not always continue so, and London was considered the only other place to exploit. A deputation waited on the Ministers for that State, and were successful in securing a promise that if a trial shipment of eggs was sent to London, the loss, if any, would be borne by the department. Every facility was given breeders to contribute, as few as 20 dozen being accepted. A difficulty was, however, experienced in securing the number required, and negotiations were opened up with this State and Victoria to assist to secure the necessary quantity. The latter State has a surplus over local requirements, and readily promised on behalf of producers a certain quantity. The Victorian poultry-farmers, however, hesitated to accept the reputed profitableness of the venture, and the promised quantities from that State would have been verging on nil had not Mr. W. White, a Sydney rabbit exporter, with large interests in the three States, stepped into the gap, and signified his intention of shipping, not a sample lot, but two or three hundred cases from each of the three States. Mr. White went thoroughly into the matter, and found that while the egg cases and fillers could be purchased more cheaply here than in either Adelaide or Melbourne, the eggs themselves were to be had one penny per dozen cheaper in Melbourne than here, and another penny cheaper in Adelaide than Victoria, and as these differences in the cost alone would be a clear profit, the purchases were made in the other States, and amounted to between 500 and 600 cases, this being the largest individual shipment. The eggs were graded by the States' officers in Melbourne and Adelaide, were duly shipped, and through Mr. Norton, the South Australian Commercial Agent in London, received a splendid advertisement, some of them realising what was considered good prices, this being admitted by Mr. White himself, who was in London on their arrival. With such a favourable history the natural inference would be that large quantities of eggs would be forthcoming from that State for the ensuing season, but rather than this, we find the South Australian expert visiting Melbourne soliciting further consignments. It may be said that in all the above it is not shown what the financial results have been to the Sydney shipper. That gentleman, on being interviewed, intimated that business people do not usually publish their profits or losses, but said that should any poultryman or others contemplate shipping eggs to London he would be very pleased to give them his experience of the business. Mr. White's office address is the Government Meat Markets, Sydney.

Following is a Melbourne report on a shipment of 608 dozen eggs, and which is apart from those mentioned above:—"The complete consignment consisted of 30,000 dozen, Victoria having sent 6000 dozen, and South Australia 24,000 dozen. Account sales recently to hand show that the eggs were sold in London and other large centres in England and Scotland at from 12s per 10 dozen for large browns, to 11s per 10 dozen for large whites. Small eggs, browns and whites, realised from 9s 8½d to 9s 2½d per 10 dozen. The sales for them amounted to £28 18s 1d for 608 dozen, and the charges in Melbourne and London amounted to £12 13s 11d. The Victorian Government charged 2s 6d per 20 dozen for testing, grading, and packing, providing packing material, cold storage, and shipping, and the ocean freight came to 2s 9d per 20 dozen.

"London charges were, for inspecting, lighterage, cold storage, breakages, and commission—the latter item being 5 per cent. In view of the excessive charges and the consequent small net result the manager of the company says he does not think that arrangements will be made by his directors this year."

The following report is on a shipment of eggs selected from those laid by the hens at the Dookie College competition:—"The eggs were carefully selected, and they weighed, on the average, between 27 and 28oz per dozen. The net cost of marketing the eggs in England was 6½d per dozen, and in Melbourne 1 1-6d per dozen, while eggs sent to the leading grocers cost 0 6-7d per dozen to market. Allowing for cracked and broken eggs, the net price per dozen received for the London consignment, after paying all charges, was 8d or 8 1-8d per dozen for eggs placed on the market in a saleable condition."

Appended are the wholesale prices quoted on the Smithfield market for British new-laid eggs, during last year, 1906. January, 18s to 12s per long hundred (120); February, 13s to 10s; March, 11s to 8s 6d; April, 8s to 7s 6d; May, June, and until the middle of July, 10s to 8s 6d; remainder of July, 11s 6d to 9s; August, 12s 6d; September, 13s to 11s 6d; October, 16s to 12s 6d; November, 20s to 16s; December, 20s. The whole matter has now been clearly shown, and from the particularised reports, and the information promised by Mr. White, the profitableness or otherwise of exporting eggs from this State to England should be outside the region of doubt.

In times of Epidemics of Fevers, Cholera, Plague, etc., too much care cannot be observed in keeping the digestive organs in proper order, and providing against all stomach troubles. It is a generally admitted fact that while Plague is transmitted by media of the flea, yet the individual attacked is more able to withstand its deadly effects if in a perfect state of health than one whose health is impaired. To ensure this, nothing is more efficacious than a stimulating tonic that will successfully combat all stomach ailments. The "Fernet Branca Tonic" and digestive Bitters is the greatest of all modern discoveries for counteracting these disturbances which precede Cholera, Plague, and other similar complaints, and as a remedy for those lingering ailments which last so long afterwards. It promotes appetite, aids digestion, corrects inertia and stomach weakness, and cures dyspepsia. "Fernet Branca" is composed of purely aromatic vegetable substances, palatable and agreeable; its action is rapid and most successful in all chronic liver complaints. Ask for "Fernet Branca Tonic" Bitters. Sold by all Chemists and Hotelkeepers, and wholesale by F. Gagliardi and Co., Jersey-chambers, George-street, Sydney.—Advt.

The Secret of Health.

To-day the great scientific fact is recognised that all infectious diseases are propagated by living seeds or germs, and therefore means are taken to prevent their propagation. If people understood this we should not hear such mischievous talk about Whooping Cough, Measles, etc., being diseases which children must have. They would know that there is no disease under the sun which anyone must have, but that there are many which no one should have if proper means are taken to prevent them.

The practical question for us then is "How shall we prevent infectious diseases entering our homes?" The answer is, "By destroying the seeds of infection." But how can this be done, as the seed is invisible? The answer to this is fortunately simple: "By Boiling; By Burning; By using Lifebuoy Soap."

Thorough boiling or burning will destroy every kind of disease germs, but we cannot, obviously, always employ such means. We cannot boil our hands or bodies on which the germs may lurk unseen if we have been near sick people, or people whom we suspect to have been ill. The nurse who is attending a case of Typhoid, though she knows the unseen infection is on her hands, and may convey the disease to herself, cannot burn her hands or boil them. We cannot burn everything in the room where measles, whooping cough, diphtheria or scarlet fever is nursed. No, in hundreds of such cases, we cannot destroy the living seed in this way. What are we to do then? Why, we can destroy it in another way which is simple, economical, and sure. "By the use of Lifebuoy Soap."

"How will this do it?" Because hidden in this soap is a weapon, which, in the hands of even the weakest woman, is powerful to destroy all those unseen germs by which infectious diseases are sown and spread.

In short, Lifebuoy Soap is so strongly impregnated with a potent disinfectant (i.e., a killer of infection) that its use will ensure the utter destruction of all germs of disease, which, because unseen, are often unsuspected until they have produced their deadly fruit.

Where there are dirty boards, filthy sinks, musty cupboards, and foul smells, there disease is surely germinating and will thrive.

Lifebuoy Soap will stop this deadly work. It will not only remove the seeds of sickness which thrive in dirt, because that might be done by any soap, but it will destroy them. If merely removed, they will undoubtedly spring up somewhere else, but once Lifebuoy Soap has been applied all lurking disease germs, not only those of infectious diseases, but the germs of putrefaction which produce sores and skin diseases, mould and decay, are killed, and, therefore, never again produce disease.

You may use Lifebuoy Soap in the laundry, bath, and nursery. The health odour from Lifebuoy Soap, wherever used, is health-giving.

EDUCATIONAL.

A SCHOOL AND A HOME FOR YOUR BOY.
CAMDEN-CAMPBELLTOWN GRAMMAR SCHOOL AND COMMERCIAL COLLEGE. SANATORIUM of N.S.W. (240 Acres).
Head Master—H. OLIVER, M.A., Ph.D.

Personal attention of Head Master. Grand climate for delicate boys. Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typewriting, etc. Comfortable home. High moral training. Progress assured. Special attention to backward boys. INDIVIDUAL TUITION. First-class education. EACH BOY GETS ATTENTION FOR HIMSELF. A GOOD MANY YEARS' EXPERIENCE convinces us of the advantages and naturalness of our system of individual tuition with the personal contact of master and boy under pleasing conditions, kindly school discipline, and a cultured home life. Our teaching is technical, therefore practical. We give boys what they need at the critical time, training them to be earnest, to think keenly, economise time, and so win success in business or profession.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

DISCOVERY OF A RATIONAL TREATMENT FOR DEAFNESS.

A glance through the medical literature of the last 20 years reveals to the close observer a remarkable diversity of opinion among aurists as to what constitutes the proper method of treatment for deafness and diseases of the ear. Some authorities recommend in obstinate cases cutting away the drumhead of the ear, other aural surgeons are emphatic in saying that the results obtained are too uncertain to justify such severe measures. Another class of medical men base the treatment of deafness almost entirely on the application of medicated vapours forced through the nose into the middle ear by way of the Eustachian tube, but it is strange to find these same aurists acknowledging, in their writings on this subject, that it is doubtful if medication applied in this way can reach the seat of disease which causes defective hearing.

In the midst of all this doubt and uncertainty there is fortunately the record of the discovery of a rational method in the Electricon to successfully apply Metallic Galvanic Electricity direct to the Ears, permanently curing Deafness, and completely banishing all distressing Head Noises.

Like all innovations, the Electricon received the severest criticisms, but notwithstanding such opposition, seven years' test of the method has given results so emphatically successful that the usual medical opinions on the curability of deafness have been completely overthrown.

Those who are interested in the subject would do well to read the complete description of this method of treatment in the "Journal for the Deaf," published by the L. R. VERNON CO., 60-64 Hunter-street, Sydney, and sent FREE to anyone asking for it.

ENGLISH AGENCY.—The undersigned, established in London upwards of 40 years, confine themselves exclusively to a General Commission Business, are well acquainted with Australian requirements, and possess special facilities for purchasing goods to the best advantage in the English and Continental markets.
Indents should be accompanied by cash remittances or bank letters of credit, to ensure full trade discounts. Account sales of produce under consignment rendered promptly, and net proceeds remitted or invested to order.
The shipping department has been largely developed of late years, and where indents are sent direct to manufacturers the shipments and insurance of the goods are effected upon the most favourable terms.

LIFE IN LONDON AND THEREABOUT.

(CHRONICLED BY HENRY W. LUCY.)

Ireland and the Government—President Roosevelt—Death and Life at the Opera—An Old English Schoolhouse.

WESTMINSTER, June 14.

When at the bidding of the National Convention meeting in Dublin Mr. John Redmond was compelled to eat his own words and assume towards the Irish Council Bill an attitude that resulted in its withdrawal, it was pointed out in this column that home politics had entered upon a new phase. The alliance, which for some years has existed between the Liberal party and the Irish Nationalists, was broken, Irish members being left free to return to their former habit of organised persistent hostility. This forecast has been speedily justified. Through the fortnight that has elapsed since the bill was dropped, the Redmondites have remained quiescent. They have abstained from taking part in debate, and have not systematically opposed the Government in the division lobby. This was a temporary pause imposed by the necessity of waiting till all the members should return to town and take counsel together. This was done on Tuesday, and there was straightway issued a manifesto declaring war against the Government and the Liberal party.

An initial step outside the precincts of Westminster has been taken by setting up a Nationalist candidate at Jarrow. He has no chance of winning the seat, but his intervention will have a disastrous, probably a fatal, influence upon the fortunes of the Liberal nominee. The Unionists are naturally elate at this turn of affairs. It not only vastly improves their position both in Parliament and the country, but they have the pleasure of seeing their hereditary foemen wounded in the house of a friend, once more stabbed in the back by a party for whose sake and whose cause they spent 17 years in the wilderness.

A well-known English statesman, just now in America, writes me from Washington:—"The President seems to be more popular than ever, and pours steadily on as if he were the Mississippi River. An energy really wonderful. He has an able group of men round him, the best, perhaps, that any President has had for two generations." This testimony of a shrewd keen-eyed outsider has an important bearing upon the burning question whether Mr. Roosevelt will offer himself for a third term of the Presidency. Of course, he has publicly declared his intention of retiring into private life at the close of his present term. But when Benedick said he would die a bachelor he did not think he would live to be married. The influence that will be brought to bear upon the President to induce him to reconsider his determination may prove irresistible. One reason which will be urged is that practically his offering himself for re-election would not involve him in what many regard as the heresy of a third term. He has only once been elected to the Presidency, the office in the first instance devolving upon him owing to the death of Mr. McKinley.

The personal question has something more than usual of interest for this country. Mr. Roosevelt has from the first shown himself a warm friend of England. Beyond that particular bearing, his influence upon the affairs of the Eastern hemisphere, as illustrated by his successful intervention in the Russo-Japanese War, is exceptionally weighty. Still in the prime of his manhood, in full possession of his extraordinary powers of mind and body, it is difficult to imagine him voluntarily retiring into a private life. There is no doubt that, should he consent to offer himself for re-election, he would be acclaimed by an overwhelming majority.

It is not often that Tragedy and Comedy suddenly meet, as they did during the opera at Covent Garden on Tuesday night. Even as the King and Queen, accompanied by the King and Queen of Denmark, entered the Royal box, welcomed by hearty cheering from all parts of the house, his Majesty's old friend and longtime servant, Sir Arthur Ellis, breathed his last in the ante-room to which he had been carried from the stalls, where, 15 minutes earlier, the hand of death struck him. Such an ending under his own roof would have been terrible enough. Coming amid the brightness and gaiety of this gala night, it was inexpressibly distressing. For those immediately concerned, the situation was made more painful by the necessity of comporting themselves through the full length of the opera as if nothing had happened. Their Majesties were not informed of the sad event till the curtain fell. A friend of Sir Arthur tells me that, last August he was one of a shooting party which included the late Comptroller in the department of the Lord Chamberlain; the condition of his heart, even then, known to be such that men were afraid to go out shooting with him, fearing what might happen before the day sped. An enthusiastic sportsman, Sir Arthur was not to be denied, walking out with his gun as if he were as hale as the rest of them. Widely known, everywhere popular, his tragic end has cast a gloom over the festivities this week in full swing at Court.

Week-ending in Surrey, we motored over to Winchester to see the old college built 500 years ago by William of Wykeham. Its chapel, hall, cloisters, and some other of the buildings stand to-day as they were when they were last looked upon by the pious founder. Eton and Harrow are in respect of age infants in arms compared with Winchester. On a summer day, with the trees in full leaf, the quaint shady courts seem removed by the breadth of a continent from the busy world of everyday life. The dining hall was at the time of our visit prepared for the midday meal. The simplicity of the arrangements is extremely severe. No cloth covers the much-dented surface of the long, narrow, oaken tables. For every boy is set a wooden platter and a mug, covers laid for Wykehamists ever since the days of Richard II. Whilst the form is observed, variation necessary as a consequence of modern civilisation has been introduced. The boys do not now have their meat served on the wooden platters, as was the wont in Plantagenet days. They are reserved for bread, meat being handed round in ordinary dinner plates. One kindly custom hallowed by time is strictly preserved. At the foot of the table stands a big iron-bound oaken chest. After every meal scraps from the table, remains from the dishes, are swept into it, and are in due course distributed among the poor of the town.

Among the house party was a distinguished Oxford don, who left Winchester for college just 60 years ago. It was delightful to watch him going over the old familiar ground. He told us how, in his time, there were two "mutton days" in the week. On each two sheep were killed, the carcases duly apportioned for the midday dinner. For the head boys there were the succulent saddles; for the forms below the legs were carved. "We got the rest," said the don, a note of infinite pathos unconsciously pervading his voice as he recalled his earliest terms at Winchester. Another injustice suffered by the smaller boys was in connection with what are known at Winchester as toepans. In the don's time the boys slept ten in a chamber. Every morning it was among the multifarious duties of the fags to prepare an ordinary hot-water foot bath. As there were ten boys, only seven days in the week, only one toepan allowed per morning, it leaps to the eye that someone must suffer. It was, of course, the small boys; the three fags who, having laboured to provide luxury for their masters, were themselves unprovided for. The difficulty was met by the small boys being permitted in turn to take a dip in the lukewarm and not absolutely pellucid contents of their master's foot bath. This weekly washing of feet was, the don testified, the only form of bathing which stately Winchester authorised or provided for its young gentlemen. In the summer time they raced off to get a dip in the River Itchen, on whose banks the ancient city is built. But from October to May neither masters nor boys suffered a bath, wherein they kept up the traditions of William of Wykeham, who probably did not even have a toepan.

This toepan, like the poet's piece of furniture—"a bed by night, a chest of drawers by day"—served a double debt to pay. The don, habitually the most modest of men, warmed by the excitement of old associations, confessed that when he was a boy he was a great hand at making a plum pudding. His chamber companions put their pocket money together to buy the ingredients, which were secretly conveyed and concealed under the bed till the master had made his last round and Winchester slept. Then the accomplished cook arose, and by the light of a single candle, surrounded by a circle of eagerly expectant youth, compounded the pudding in the solitary wash basin with which the room was endowed. The work completed, the pudding was hidden away till the following night, when the toepan was dragged out, filled with water, and placed on a surreptitiously made fire. Before morning it was cooked to a nicety, concealed with increased care since it was now edible, and at night there was great feasting.

One night when the pudding was bubbling on the fire the master paid a surprise visit. The sudden storm of snoring which on his entrance rose from all the beds did not drown the cheery noise of the boiling water. Taking in the situation at a glance, the master ordered the oldest boy to bring "that thing" round to the courtyard. This said, he stalked forth, awaiting obedience to his command. The boys were equal to the occasion. Getting the pudding out of the cloth at the cost of scalded hands, they soaked stockings and handkerchiefs sufficient to fill the cloth, which, tied up, was conveyed to the irate master waiting in the courtyard. "Dash it down," he commanded. With right goodwill the order was obeyed. "Again," said the master, puzzled at the unexpected result of his discipline. Down went the dripping bundle with a force that untied its bonds and disclosed its contents. "Go to bed," said the master, and went off to his own.

OLD-FASHIONED ENGLAND.

(BY S. R. T.)

Many Australians who visit Europe spend some weeks in England, run across to Paris or the Engadine, take a trip to Norway or the Mediterranean, and return to their native land well pleased with their achievements, and perhaps they may have seen a good deal, or, at any rate, been in several foreign capitals, staying at some fashionable hotels and spending hours listening to bands or watching frequenters of square and boulevard.

They may have kept their eyes and ears open, and provided they have some vocabulary, and possess pleasant voices, the account of their peregrinations will be interesting, but as children with English ancestors have they seen much of the country of their forefathers, of that charming rural England which may be viewed by coach or an easy train journey from the great metropolis?

Some may have gone as far as Richmond on Thames, or Harrow on the Hill, and seen a little of suburban London en route, a few green hedges, and on the road to Richmond some beautiful trees, limes, chestnuts, sycamores, a resident of some remote bush settlement would admire, but how many have traversed quiet country lanes, flower decked, fern strewn, such as one finds around Sanderstead and Addington, or in other pleasant parts of Surrey or Berkshire; ridden over Devonshire moors, watched the Southdowns frolic in fair Sussex, or driven through the woods of quiet Kent, called by some the garden of England? Oxfordshire, Hampshire, Dorset, these may easily be visited; while Bedford with the lonely Ouse will interest boating men.

As I write this a Hertfordshire home comes before me, and the silver birches standing by the dark green fir are a study for MacWhirter's brush; and I see the peaches ripening in a Cornish garden, gooseberry bushes with juicy golden fruit, raspberries that bring back childhood's days, growing three and four feet high, attached to tall green sticks.

How many Australians have visited Winchester, that ancient Saxon city so rich in historic associations, so charmingly picturesque and unspoiled? I know of no place so refreshing to one who has spent some time in modern cities and dislikes the bustle of gay places. Here King Alfred reigned, and William of Wykeham founded the great school in 1393.

Stand in the quadrangle and watch the boys' playing-fields on the way to St. Cross; you may not have such a panorama as from the Vaughan Library at Harrow, but Winchester playing-fields are large and fair enough.

Walk on to St. Cross and see the ancient hospital founded by a grandson of the Conqueror—Henry de Blois. An old brother showed me round. He belonged, he said, to a Cornish family, and was apparently one of the more aristocratic brethren, for there are, I understand, two kinds; and he took me through part of the hospital, the curious old kitchen with the spits for roasting beef, the leathern jacks, and candlesticks, which have been in use since the middle of the fifteenth century when the Wars of the Roses were going on.

What a sweet old place St. Cross seemed for the aged and poverty-stricken—nice little houses consisting of two rooms, a pantry, and kitchen, etc., and a beautifully-kept lawn. Arthur Collingridge, the artist, who died the other day, told me he had been there during his last stay in England, and I saw a lovely picture in the Academy of 1901 of part of the hospital. I was staying in Kensington, and a lady said to me, "I went to the Academy to-day, and was taken back some years by a splendid picture of dear old St. Cross."

From St. Cross through the meadows to Twyford is a very pleasant walk, refreshing on a warm day, when the birds are singing and the hawthorn adorns the hedges. How beautiful the hedges were when I first went to the old land in 1876. Then many were unclipped, and some delightfully shady lanes are now destroyed. Still, there are scores remaining, and any visitor to Teignmouth or Torquay will find even a wintry day quite pleasant walking in the lanes; while Sidmouth, once the abode of royalty, for the Duke of Kent lived there, has many sheltered walks.

But although Teignmouth and Torquay are more fashionable than Winchester, they are not in some ways really as interesting, at least to the historian. I won't give details now, but visitors to the old Saxon city should remember that the City Cross dates from the fifteenth century; that Castle Hill is the site of the old Castle or Royal Palace built by Henry III., the only remaining part of the once magnificent hall used as a county court.

THE OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE REVIEW.

We receive from Messrs. Archibald Constable and Co. the first number of "The Oxford and Cambridge Review," which is to be published once during each term. Now, the primary object of the founders of this Review, which is edited by Mr. Oswald R. Dawson, is to provide "a meeting house in which those who have the welfare of both universities at heart may come to a fuller understanding of their common points of resemblance and dissimilarity, and seek by free discussion the answer to some of the questions that confront them." Then the Review is to be a mouthpiece of university opinion on "matters other than affairs of purely academic moment," whilst it is at the same time to be thoroughly impartial. If the enemy should say that this Review is another attempt to buttress up Tory and reactionary views in politics and religion, the editor may at least reply that he publishes for the first time an essay "on social freedom," by John Stuart Mill. Perhaps this is the greatest achievement of the Review, provided always that the manuscript is genuine. Of this there is little doubt, so far as persons at this end of the world may judge. The style is Mill's, the arguments are such as Mill would advance, and the whole matter, setting forth "the necessary limits of individual freedom arising out of the conditions of our social life," is genuine Mill. Then there is an article by Mr. A. C. Benson on "Introspective Literature," and a defence of Dublin University from the Liberal attack, from the pen of Dr. Macan, a Dublin man, who is now Master of University College, Oxford. Dr. A. W. Verrall, in writing about "The Altar of Mercy," wants to know how it did not occur to Gibbon that his enumeration of views of religion was "singularly defective." Mainly the Review is interesting—as it should be—to graduates and undergraduates of Oxford and Cambridge, but the articles appeal only very gently to the rest of the world.

A WOMAN'S FRIEND IN NEED.

Woman's delicate constitution necessitates gentle remedies when there is any tendency to a constipated condition. The robust woman, the delicate woman, the growing girl, the young mother, and the elderly patron, are alike benefited to the utmost by California Syrup of Figs, which promptly and pleasantly remedies all their ills which do not arise from serious organic trouble. It is also a delight to children on account of its delicious flavour. Of all chemists, 1s 9d and 1s 11d.—Advt.

A WOMAN'S LETTER.

THE HEIGHT OF THE SEASON.

LONDON W., June 14.

This is evidently going to be one of the dullest summers on record. It reminds me in its gloom and changeableness of the summer of 1904, when the earthquakes at Martinique affected the season much in the same way. We have had very cold weather, alternated with thunderstorms and rain; then, as to-day, sultriness which can hardly be endured.

The chief note of the dresses this season is the wonderful embroidery used on gowns. Many of them are embroidered right on to the material.

The season is now at its height; everything is being crammed into that short space of time between the Derby and Goodwood. I think of all the shows on hand at the moment nothing exceeds the interest taken in the Horse Show at Olympia. The great hall has been lavishly decorated and made as ornate as a gala night at the opera. Flags hang in all directions, flowers and palms decorate the arena, and here all the very best that one can see in the way of horse flesh is on view. The American studs have caused keen excitement. The style and speed of trotting horses are proverbial as far as America is concerned. The only pity is to find that all the seats have been bought up by speculators, and that one has to pay half a guinea for a five shilling seat. The Kings of England and Denmark and their suites have visited the horse show, and altogether it is more fashionable than anything inaugurated this season.

Meanwhile there is no end to the charitable entertainments given at the great houses. The Duchess of Sutherland has had a magnificent concert in aid of the crippled children in the Potteries. There has been a great rainbow sale of work at Prince's, opened by Princess Henry of Battenberg; all the larger work societies have had sales, and last of all the Ladies' Work Association had a special matinee devoted to its benefit at the new Royalty Theatre, at which was presented a new dance-drama called "The Daughter of Herodias." This is the only Salome play licensed for England, and has been much noticed by the press. I am glad to say, since I was concerned in its production, that it was well received, and looked from the front a magnificent spectacle. Mr. Beerbohm Tree, always kind and artistic, lent some of his most splendid costumes for this little play, and when Salome appeared, closely veiled, and then, casting her veils as she danced, the effect was very wonderful. The house rose at it, and I am sure that the play will appear on a larger stage ere long. The dance-drama is quite a new idea for a short turn, and it is possible that an adaptation of Longfellow's "Spanish Student" will be made, so as to include three or four dances, and played under the title of "Preciosa." The dance before the cardinals and clergy will be of great interest.

THE JAPANESE NOTE.

It is curious to see how the Japanese note in dress still holds fast among us westerns. Though many women have done away with the extreme width of the kimono sleeve, there is still a good deal of it left. And the fashion for shoulder straps coming over the shoulder to the waist is now almost universal. Some of the blouses I have seen done in this way are extremely pretty, especially when carried out in lace and ribbon. I see a great many lace and ribbon blouses made of broad lace, laid with the edge of the pattern outwards, on the ribbon, say two broad pieces of lace, with ribbon under it, for the front, carried over the shoulder to the waist, opening over a tucked chiffon slip, with intersections of Valenciennes lace. There is a slight kimono sleeve with a loosely-puffed undersleeve, finished off with a lace cuff. This is a delightful blouse, because it gives such good lines to the figure. I see that some of the leading French dressmakers are discarding the loose elbow sleeve, and are taking to the much-drawn long sleeve, which comes over the hand, and is often pulled over the hand, so that gloves are unnecessary. This is rather a new departure. I think the elbow sleeve has been overdone, especially when it is made or carried out in common materials. The shabby long cotton gloves, too, have rather helped its downfall. Still, one sees all the smartest people wearing these elbow sleeves, with long glace kid gloves, wrinkled on the arm.

There is no end of pretty cotton voiles made to completely clear the ground with a deep hem. I mean by this a hem of some 10in or 12in, two deep tucks, fulled into the waist, and only left flat across the front breadth. The bodice matches, made in kimono fashion with some entredeux of embroidery or filet lace, a touch of vest showing near the neck if the blouse is not open back and front.

I have seen an exceedingly pretty little silk gown in diamond check silk made with a long skirt, finished at the edge with a frill; the rest of the skirt is plain, and gored to the waist slightly full at the back. The bodice is very simple; it opens to the waist over a lace shirt and loose elbow sleeves of lace, without any kimono band at all. The lace sleeves of this bodice come above the elbow, and are intended to be worn with a very long pair of gloves. The trimming is some little gathered knots of ribbon, and over the shoulders is a turn-over collar of cloth embroidered with ribbons and lace.

NEW COLOURS.

They are wearing long lace and embroidered coats in the park, with basques which come from the hips, or to midway between waist and knees. These are charming in thick silk guipure of a cream Shantung shade, also in brown net, matching the cloth gown, with which it is worn, embroidered in brown silks, with touches of carnation red or deep tomato, with a binding of brown cloth or silk.

Wedgwood blue in one or another of its several pretty shades is to the fore in park fashions for millinery and frocks alike. Very charming is it in voile in one of the tender pale shades mounted on a slip to match or in white and completed by a Wedgwood blue ostrich feather boa, and a crinoline hat with a crown of roses in faded pinks.

Old-fashioned lavender is much worn, and often covered with an over-slip of faint blue or green. A shot effect is so much more liked than just one pure colour.

But there are indications of a return to thicker materials in silks, and a smart dress in strong twilled lavender silk, with a half-inch line in a lighter shade, was worn in the park a few days ago, made up with a blouse of ivory-coloured lace. The skirt was plain and seamed up the centre, the line meeting in points and taking a vertical direction on each front gore.

Over the lace blouse was a charming and original little sleeveless wrap, partly pelerine, partly bolero, made with the new wide armholes, which were bound with pale lime-green velvet, similar velvet forming a narrow collar to the fronts. These were piped with velvet, and concluded in two narrow pleated ends, which rounded at the tips, crossed one another, and were attached to the waist belt of silk.

Pale grey and putty are colours much seen in cloth gowns, for owing to our curious summer most women are ordering soft fine cloths in either coats and skirts or in the fashion I have just described. In all these beautifully finished gowns hand embroidery has much to say in the effect of elegance and charm of colour which they bring about.

The tailors nowadays vie with one another in designing beautiful race coats and motor wraps. They are very smartly turned out, and are mostly made of thick Tussore silk treated in a severely tailor fashion. They are now made with loose wide sleeves, so as to allow the sleeves of a costume to go into them without fear of being crushed.

Alpacas, of course, are much worn for this purpose, and mohair, an old-fashioned fabric, is also once more called into requisition, anything, of course, which will throw off dust easily is much sought for.

Frenchwomen dress more elaborately for race meetings than we do, and one finds coats in pale pink cloth or tussore ornamented with gold and silver embroideries, mixed with rich silk work in the same tones as the cloth.

HATS.

I come to hats, and here my imagination falters. They are so elaborate. June has brought in with her, hats of broad brim, with a perfect garden of roses and huge daisies. I saw one a few days ago in pale biscuit straw, trimmed with a huge upstanding wreath of pink roses and pale green daisies, and wide loops of black ribbon.

All the best shapes are enormous and bell-shaped, the back projecting over the hair, the fronts narrower, and the hair elaborately dressed and puffed out at the sides, so as to fill the brim.

The simple hat of the year is very nice, and most girls look well in it. It is merely a wide-brimmed hat with high crown, round which is arranged a scarf of silk, with a chou and two ends falling behind the ear.

I have seen several pretty muslin hats with puffed crowns, and also some made of white net, with a row of fine straw plait laid round the edge; a large bow of ribbon or silk encircles the crown. The soft spotted net crown has caught on immensely, and forms a very nice background to flowers. Sometimes this is varied by a broad band of gold or silver ribbon, which is repeated on the brim of the hat, just a great bunch of roses finishing it at one side of the crown. In fact, lest you think it difficult to carry out these ideas, just buy a large shape and a dozen yards of tulle, flowers, and ribbon, and set to work to make the crown the centre of your attractions. You will soon find out the way, as no other part of the hat is trimmed.

SEAS OF AUSTRALIA.

II.

We will pass through the Strait, the strait that the wandering Spaniard threaded his homeward way through, unwitting that on the south lay the long-sought quest of navigators; and in the broad gulf that takes such an ample bite out of the continent we find that the tides are once more eccentric in their habits. In the Gulf of Carpentaria 12 hours' continuous work is too much for them; they must be allowed 24 in which to complete their allotted task. Vulgarly the moon is supposed to rule their ups and downs, but what influence the Carpentarian tides brought to bear on her is unknown generally. As a rule, the Carpentarian sea is sluggish and without animation; it can be stirred to wrath at times, and like other inhabitants of the tropics has monsoonic moods and tempers, but usually it stays calmly, surrounded by its mud flats and mangroves, idle and self-centred. The sea of the northern gulf is, however, peculiar in one respect—in no part of it can the man on board ship catch sight of mountains or any sign of elevated land. When he does sight land it is usually but a level black line, with here and there one taller mangrove than its fellows holding its head slightly aloft. No wonder the Dutch had such an evil opinion of Australia when they first discovered it, and put it down as a foul and barren coast, and kept so far from it that they mistook islets for capes and little openings for rivers.

But the native Australians of the Gulf are more active than the foreshore tides. Capital and clever canoe-builders were these Carpentarian coast-dwellers. They were not content with chopping out a hollow log, but built their canoes in a workmanlike fashion, and at concealing one of them in a salt-water creek they were unequalled. It is up here that, like the Ancient Mariner—

Beyond the shadow of the ship
I watched the water snakes.

In these waters the yellow-banded snake of the sea is pretty common, and anyone can gratify his curiosity by watching for them. At one time the residents of the Gulf only had communication with Thursday Island by means of occasional schooners; in time a monthly steamer was put on not nearly the size of the Manly ferry boat, and as proof of the sluggish nature of the sea, it is reported that the square gin bottles cast over the side on one passage would mostly remain floating in the same place until the return voyage, until at last there was a regular well-beaconed waterway, along which a landsman could take a boat between the two places.

West of Cape Arnheim we intrude on a sea, commonly known to the public by the romantic name of the Arafura Sea, though by many looked upon as a branch of the Indian Ocean. A sea best known to stay-at-home New South Welshmen by the exploits of King, Flinders, Wickham, and Stokes. Those naval surveyors of the commencement of the last century did their work—and did it well—with but cockleshell boats, and the most primitive instruments. As they all hailed from Port Jackson, which was their starting point, the people of this State should be interested in the north. The Malays, too, were interested at one time, as witness their annual despatch of fleets to the trepang fisheries of this land. A word on the Malays. One sees it constantly repeated that the northern blacks show an admixture of Malay blood. This seems to me about on a par with a recent yarn that they were web-footed. The Malays and natives fought whenever they met, it is well known; and no quarter was shown. That the Malays left slips and fragments of bamboo behind them is proved by this tree growing wild in Arnheim's Land only, where the Malays had camps and fish-drying grounds, but those were always hostile camps. Now if the Malays and aboriginals had intermixed, the Malays would have taught the natives the use of bows and arrows, or being on friendly terms, the native was quite smart enough to pick up that knowledge for himself, but he never did. Nor do his weapons or hunting gear show that he was ever taught any tricks of war by outsiders. No, to give him his due, Australia for the Australians, was ever his motto.

But as we progress we approach the confines of the Indian Ocean—that fretful and impatient ocean that is ever ready to quarrel and fall out with its own shadow, if it had one. This is at times the coast of havoc and despair. On the north-west we are once more in the hurricane belt—once more on a capricious sea which delights in playing with the pearling luggers, and even at times hurling them high and dry beyond the mangroves. The native boatbuilding of this coast is of the most primitive kind. Unlike the Carpentarian—who is a master—the blackfellow of the nor'-west is not even an apprentice. He casts himself on a very rude catamaran, or even a buoyant log, and troubles no more. Strange, too, for this is the coast of hundreds of little isles—the Buccaneer's and Dampier's Archipelagos. It is, moreover, the locality where the white man's boats have long been familiar; but the black man is strictly conservative, and always content with his log. It is an unquiet sea this ocean, and as we get fairly on to the west coast a sea that never seems to have any gentle spirit. Always resentfully turbulent at the coming of the whites, it harried and illused the Dutch, smashed up many a stout ship, and cast its timbers to rot upon the shore, and at last they shunned it in disgust, and the merchantmen bound for Batavia dreaded being blown south with such an angry coast ever awaiting them. Capricious is the most fitting character to give it. Look how it served the Batavia's people, with promises of fine weather one day, and squalls and tempest the next. From the time that he doubled the Cape of Storms till he sighted the land of Java the old Dutch skipper and his steersman had little rest from trouble and anxiety. Grey—Sir George Grey, as he is better known—got the full benefit of this ocean's caprice when his hoarded stores were scattered to the four points of the compass, and then afterwards he had boat after boat smashed in the relentless surf. Man has had to construct harbours for his own use, for Nature has not provided him with any. Dampier, who for some reason is always spoken of as a buccaneer, when in reality he was a most unwillingly pressed man, and got away on the first chance, took a great dislike to the west coast on his first visit, and came to examine it legitimately the second voyage, fully determined to give it a bad name, which he did. He was lucky to escape without seeing it at its worst. And so with this unruly sea we must bid farewell at the base of the Leeuwin, to the many seas that encircle our continent. They kept Australia safeguarded for our forefathers' advent, and now it remains for us to train some sailors to ride their billows, so as to keep them Australian.

FEARFUL SUFFERING

Of Little Boy—Had Sores Spread All Over His Head—Grew Worse Under Doctor's Care—Cuticura Remedies Effect Perfect Cure, Bringing Relief with First Set.

"When my little boy was about four years old a spot appeared on the side of his face, just under the ear. After a time it broke and spread further down. He was under a doctor's orders for about three or four months, when he was much worse. I got a complete set of the Cuticura Remedies, the Cuticura Ointment, Cuticura Soap, and Cuticura Resolvent. From the first bottle he began to mend, and before he had finished two he was wholly mended. About twelve months after he broke out again, at the back of the neck, and it spread all over the head. I used the Cuticura Remedies again, and cured him. I think it took me about three months each time. It is now about eighteen months since he was ill, and it has not broken out again. R. IN CHAMBERS.

(Before Mr. Acting Justice Sly.)

QUESTION OF SELLING DISEASED ANIMALS.

DEFENDANT'S APPEAL DISMISSED.

Re Joseph Bailey (Herbert F. Searle and others respondents).

Mr. Loxton and Mr. Young, instructed by Messrs. P. Macpherson and R. Harris, of Gosford (by their agents, Messrs. Aitken and Aitken), appeared for Joseph Bailey, of Wyong, farmer, and moved for a prohibition to restrain Herbert Frank Searle, grazier, and R. F. Pickering and Joseph Fagan, Js.P., of Gosford, from further proceeding on the order made against appellant. Dr. Brissenden, instructed by Messrs. Shaw and M'Donald, appeared for the respondent Searle to oppose the application. It appeared that Bailey was prosecuted under the 47th section of the Diseased Animals and Meat Act of 1902 on a charge of having, at Wyong, sold two cows suffering from tuberculosis. He was convicted, and fined £10 for each cow sold. Section 47 of the Act provided that any person who sold, consigned, or exposed for sale, or supplied for rations, any diseased animal should be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20. It appeared from the evidence that the cows were sold by an auctioneer at Wyong on behalf of Bailey. The points at issue were argued on Friday last.

His Honor, in delivering his reserved judgment, said that the last ground, which was argued first, was "that the evidence does not support the information, but proves that accused did not sell the two cows mentioned within the meaning of section 47 of the Act, and the conviction is against natural justice." It had been argued that this was not a sale by the accused within the meaning of section 47. Now, if an ordinary servant of the accused had sold the cattle for his employer the latter would have been liable, and if it were not so then the owner of diseased animals could always get his servant to sell them, and thus altogether escape the penalty provided for in the section on the ground that he had not bargained for or personally effected the sale. It was, however, contended on behalf of the appellant that an auctioneer was in a different position from an ordinary servant, but it seemed to him that there was no difference whatever in principle; and unless the auctioneer had authority from the owner he could not pass the property. He therefore held that the sale by an auctioneer was a sale by the owner of the cows. It had also been argued that because the owner might have been proceeded against and punished for exposing for sale, he should not have been charged with selling. He did not see any sequitur in that argument, because if the owner simply consigned for sale and no sale took place, he would still be liable to punishment. He was clearly of opinion, therefore, that there was no reason on that ground for upsetting the conviction. Then the other two grounds, which might be taken together, were "that the information was bad for not alleging that the cows mentioned therein had been seized, condemned, and destroyed by order of the Court, and that there was no evidence that the two cows were seized, condemned, and destroyed by order of the Court within the meaning of sections 50, 51, 52, and 53 of the Act." He thought there was nothing in those grounds. The Act was perfectly plain, and if it was intended that inspection, seizure, and condemnation were to be conditions precedent to the operation of section 47, the Act would have said so expressly. The Act made it an offence to sell any diseased animal, and it was not shown that there must first be inspection, seizure, and condemnation.

Appeal dismissed, with costs.

POLICE APPEAL FAILS.

Mitchell v Scales.

Mr. Piddington, instructed by Mr. J. V. Tillett (Crown Solicitor), appeared for appellant, Inspector James Mitchell; and Mr. Hammond, instructed by Messrs. Aitken and Aitken, for the respondent, Mary Scales. It appeared that Scales was charged before Mr. King, D.S.M., at the Central Police Court, Sydney, for that on February 28 last she did unlawfully pretend to one Luther Henry Gabriel to tell his fortune by clairvoyancy, in order to deceive and impose upon him. The evidence of Gabriel at the hearing, was to the effect that on the date mentioned he went, in company with Constable Jones, to defendant's premises in the Sydney Arcade, and Jones told her, "We are in a little bit of trouble over some mining speculation," and asked Scales to read his hand. Defendant replied, "I am not a palmist, I am a clairvoyant. If you come at 7 o'clock to-night, when I am in a trance, I might be able to tell you. Gabriel and Jones returned at 7 p.m. on the same day, and after the collection the lights were put out. Defendant then sang the hymn, "There is a land that is fairer than day," and some of the people joined in the chorus. Subsequently defendant took Gabriel by the hand and began talking about the planets. She said, "I can see you all among papers in a big building, and a man writing; it looks like some great court case." She added, "Never mind; you will come out on top." She then said, "You will cross the water and have some sickness," and wished to know whether he desired to ask her any questions. Gabriel asked her, "Can you tell me if my father is dead?" and defendant replied, "No; he is not dead; if he was his spirit would be here," and Gabriel left shortly afterwards. Upon the conclusion of the evidence, Mr. P. K. White who appeared for the accused, raised the objection, among others, that the Act 5, George IV., chapter 83 (Vagrancy Act), is not in force in this State. The magistrate, upholding the objection, dismissed the information, and Mitchell now appealed. Mr. Hammond pointed out that the High Court, in the case of Quan Tick v Hines, 2 Commonwealth Reports, page 345, decided, inter alia, that the Act in question was not in force in this State as far as proceedings before justices were concerned.

His Honor: I do not think it is for me to criticise the judgment of the High Court, and it would be impertinent for me to do so. I simply say that I am bound by the decision.

Appeal dismissed, with costs.

THE "LADY HELP."

HER STATUS DEFINED.

Re F. Barnett (H. W. Lovett and another, respondents).

Mr. Breckenridge, instructed by Mr. E. J. Peterson, appeared for Fanny Barnett, of Sydney, spinster, and moved to make absolute a rule nisi for a prohibition to restrain Henry W. Lovett, solicitor, and W. B. Smith, of Warren, P.M., from proceeding upon an order made by the magistrate on June 20 last. Mr. L. Armstrong, instructed by Messrs. L. Levy and Fulton, appeared for respondent Lovett, to oppose the application. It appeared by the affidavits that appellant entered into a written agreement with Mrs. Lovett to serve her for a period of six months in the capacity of lady help, at Warren, and shortly after entering into the service she left. She was subsequently proceeded against by Lovett for absenting herself without reasonable cause. Prosecutor stated in his evidence that when he asked defendant why she left in the way she had done, she replied, "Oh, I'm not cut out for domestic duties." It further appeared that a condition of the agreement was that defendant, though engaged as lady help, was to assist in all household duties, except the washing, and she was to receive 10s per week, with board and residence. The expenses of her journey to Warren were paid on condition that the amount was to be deducted from her salary should she leave of her own accord before the expiry of six months. Defendant was convicted, and fined £2 10s, with 6s costs, in default, 14 days' imprisonment, and she now appealed on the grounds: (1) That the conviction was bad, a lady help not being a domestic or other servant within the meaning of the Master and Servants Act, 1902; (2) that the conviction is bad for imposing imprisonment in default of payment of the fine. Mr. Armstrong quoted, from Murray's Dictionary, the definition of "lady help" as "a woman engaged to perform domestic service on the understanding that she is to be considered and treated by her employer as a lady."

His Honor said that appellant was engaged as a lady help, but was to assist in all household duties except washing. A domestic servant was defined to mean a servant who did domestic duties, and, in his opinion, household duties and domestic duties meant the same thing. The appellant, therefore, came within the meaning which the Legislature attached to the term "domestic service," and, consequently, she came within the provisions of the Masters and Servants Act. As to the other point, he also overruled it, and entirely agreed with Mr. Justice Pring's decision, in exparte Ridley, 20 Weekly Notes, page 202.

Appeal dismissed, with costs.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE.

A COMPANY FINED.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, before Mr. G. H. Smithers, S.M., Hugo Smith was proceeded against by Inspector Duncan, of the City Council, on a charge of not regulating furnaces connected with the chimneys of the premises 68 and 70 Elizabeth-street, so as to prevent the issue of thick smoke for a period of more than three minutes in a single half-hour, between 5 and 5.30 p.m. on July 5.

Mr. Davenport, who appeared for the defence, pleaded guilty. He said that the defendants, the Strand Electrical Company, had taken every possible means at hand to abate the nuisance, and a contract had since been entered into by them for that purpose, involving an expenditure of over £1000. This work was now in hand. In addition to this a message had just been sent to London for an expert to come out and endeavour to put a stop to the trouble. Until this officer arrived he asked that the case should be allowed to stand over, and in the meantime not to turn a prosecution into a persecution.

Mr. Smithers said that that argument was no defence. The same excuse had been made by other firms. One company said they had gone to enormous expense, but whilst that might induce the Court to impose a less severe penalty, it could not be held to be an excuse for the public suffering from the nuisance.

Mr. Waldron, who appeared for the prosecution, said the present defendants had already been fined twice, the first time 20s, and the second time £5. The smoke nuisance was detrimental to health, and, therefore, should be obviated.

Mr. Smithers imposed a fine of £5, with 6s costs.

POLICE COURTS.

CHARGE OF THEFT.

Robert Scanlon, 41, a grocer, was, before Mr. J. L. King, D.S.M., at the Water Police Court yesterday, charged with stealing 22 eggs and some butter, of the value of 6s, the property of F. Lassetter and Co., Limited, on July 17. The evidence for the prosecution was to the effect that accused was shopwalker and storeman to Lassetter and Co., and that Colonel Lassetter had taken great interest in him for some years past. Accused had no authority to take the goods. Accused pleaded guilty, and was fined £5, or in default two months' imprisonment, with hard labour. Fourteen days were allowed for payment.

INGRATITUDE.

Richard Godfrey, 29, a fish-hawker, was charged yesterday at the Water Police Court, before Mr. J. L. King, D.S.M., with stealing a pair of leggings, of the value of 10s, the property of Patrick Casey, on July 17. The prosecutor stated that he took accused home with him in charity and gave him assistance. Accused took the leggings, and subsequently pawned them. Accused, who pleaded guilty, was fined £2, with the alternative of one month's imprisonment, with hard labour.

ALLEGED THEFT FROM A GAS METER.

James Delaney, 19, described as a billiard-marker, was yesterday, at the Water Police Court, before Mr. King, D.S.M., charged with stealing the sum of 7s 5d, the property of the Australian Gaslight Company, on July 1 last. The evidence showed that the keeper of a bobs saloon at Riley-street, Woolloomooloo, had occasion to place a penny in a slot gas meter, and noticed that the cash receptacle sounded hollow. As previously it was very full, he shook the box, and it came out in his hand, and he saw that it only contained one penny. He then gave information to the Gas Company, and a man locked the box. A youth named Gladstone Shaw said that he saw accused in the saloon with the box in his hand, and he also saw him placing the box in the meter. Evidence was given by an employee of the Gas Company, who stated that the meter registered the amount of gas consumed, and from that the amount of money it should contain was estimated. There should have been 7s 5d in the box of the meter. Accused said that he found the box lying on the floor, and simply put it back, and otherwise knew nothing about it. The police prosecutor said that accused had been previously sentenced for an offence, and was at present at liberty under the provisions of the Crimes Act in relation to first offenders. Under the circumstances, Mr. King remanded the accused for sentence to the following morning.

HALF A LIFETIME IN GAOL.

At the Central Police Court yesterday, before Mr. G. H. Smithers, S.M., George Harris, 50, cook, was charged with having three milk jugs in his possession, reasonably supposed to be stolen. The arresting officer said he saw the accused carrying the jugs, and asked him where he got them. Accused replied that he had picked them up. Mr. Smithers said he had no doubt that accused had picked them up, for the list of convictions against him showed that out of his 50 years of existence he had passed 20 years in gaol. The sentence was three months' imprisonment, with hard labour.

SMOKING IN A TRAM CAR.

Charles Wrigley, a young man, was fined 20s, with 6s costs, at the Central Police Court yesterday morning, on a charge of smoking in a tram car not set apart for smoking.

GONE OFF POP!

Lowe's "Corker" Sale

Of Men's Wear, For 21 Days Only.

When you think of the number of sales that have been in full swing all round us for weeks past, it is really a marvellous thing that we have been just as busy as been all the time. That fact accounts for our sale being so late.

But—now it is here, and we tell you it's going to be a regular "corker."

There is no pretence about LOWE'S SALES. When we say goods are to be cleared—out they have to go—at prices unheard of anywhere else.

LOWE'S never buy in bankrupt stock or job lines to make a show at their sale. Every article offered is new and up to date.

We carefully study the wishes of our customers, and should you find that any of these lines are sold out when you call we would be glad if you would kindly refer the matter to our Mr. W. LOWE, who will personally see that no effort is spared to please you.

MEN! CAST YOUR EYES OVER THE SPECIAL OFFERS.

CORKER BARGAINS IN MEN'S CLOTHING.

JUST 197 FIRST-CLASS ENGLISH TWEED OR FINE TWILL SERGE SUITS, Lowe's famous 21s line, worth in the ordinary way 27s 6d and 30s; must be cleared before stocktaking at 17s 11d a suit.

MEN'S SUPERIOR SCOTCH TWEED SUITS, just 127 of them, in handsome neat check designs. These are worth 30s, but Lowe's Sale Price is 22s 6d.

ONLY 154 MEN'S HIGH-CLASS WORSTED SAC SUITS, worth 35s, but cut to 27s 6d now. Can also be supplied in Fine Twill Serge.

SUPERIOR TAILOR-MADE SAC SUITS, 97 only, West of England Worsteds and Fine Mill Indigo Serges. Regular Price, 50s; Sale Price, 39s 6d.

CORKER BARGAINS IN MEN'S OVERCOATS.

We have had a great season in Overcoats, and are now quite satisfied to part with the remainder of our stock at less than cost, as we must clear every coat before stocktaking, notwithstanding the fact that there is fully two months' cold weather still to come.

LOWE'S FAMOUS 21s RAINPROOFS are at any time the best value in the trade, fully equal to other stores' 30s coats, but we make them ourselves, and pass them on to you at practically what other retailers have to pay for them.

In Neat Stripe Effects, yoke back or plain, latest cut, plain or gauntlet cuffs and lapped seams, or you can have a Navy Blue Chesterfield, with Velvet Collar, a smart Tweed or Blue Melton Cloth Overcoat. There's only a very few left, and out they go at 15s 11d each.

87 SUPERIOR SCOTCH TWEED OVERCOATS, grey and fawn stripes, a regular 25s coat. Our Sale Price, 15s 11d.

High-class Tailor-made English Overcoats, totalling 257, latest London styles. Regular prices run from 45s to 95s, to be sold at 32s 6d to 65s. Remarkable value, and you should snap one up immediately.

97 Men's Macintoshes. Regular Price, 17s 6d; now, 12s 11d.

BIG SWEEP IN UNCLAIMED ORDERS.

Owing to the enormous Tailoring business we do we naturally have a good many orders upon which deposits have been paid, but for various reasons are unclaimed. Therefore after three months we transfer these to our Ready-to-Wear Department, where they are sold at practically half-price, and you reap the benefit of the deposits that have been paid, and also get a substantial reduction into the bargain.

BARGAINS IN BLANKETS.

Only about 15 pairs left. Pure Australian Wool, extra large size, very good quality, but slightly soiled. Regular 30s value, to go out at 18s 6d per pair. Secure yours. They are too good to miss.

WHAT ABOUT TROUSERS!

870 Pairs Men's Striped Worsted Trousers, first-class designs, imitations of the real West of England. Patterns are good, suitable for any gentleman to wear, having all the style of 7s 6d Trousers. LOWE'S Price is 3s 11d. Fit any sized man—ordinary, slender, and cross sizes.

SALE PRICE, 4s 11d.

FREE TROUSERS AGAIN—WITH ALL SUITS MADE TO ORDER.

We have always made it a feature to give away free Trousers during our sales, and fully realise that this is one of the best possible advertisements for LOWE'S fine tailoring.

After all, it is better to give some of our advertisement money to our customers instead of handing it all over to the newspapers.

That is why you are able to get a pair of good trousers, ranging in value from 12s 6d to 18s 6d, according to the grade, with every suit made to order at Sale Time.

Take advantage of this offer. Come in and make your selection early; or, if you live in the country, write for patterns and a single self-measurement chart. We pay the freight to any address, and guarantee you satisfaction or your money back.

LOWE'S BARGAINS IN BOOTS.

127 pairs Men's Glace Kid Boots, lace and button, all shaped toes. Sale Price, 7s 11d per pair. Honestly worth 9s 11d.

Gent's Patent Leather Evening Shoes, made by G. T. Hawkins, Northampton. A special lot. To go at 6s 11d per pair.

Although such striking reductions are announced for our sale we will adhere to our regular rule and pay the freight to any address on parcels of the value of 10s and over.

FARM AND STATION.

THE INDUSTRIOUS ANT.

A FAMILY INSECT.

It may be some satisfaction to the worried housekeeper who is afflicted by preying attentions of ants that the emmet is an indefatigable scavenger. Ants remove a great many things which would do no harm to anybody if left in the places where the ants found them. They also dispose of matter which is objectionable, and even dangerous, to human beings, and though there is an evident lack of system in their actions, they are highly industrious. Compared with the municipal authorities of Sydney, for instance, ants might be said to be very superior cleaners, and it is probable that the council, having declined to go to Alderman Taylor for instruction, might with advantage adopt the advice of the sage, and go to the ant. It is very satisfactory to be able to say that the ant has at least one good quality, because the existence of this mitigating circumstance enables us to take a lively interest in the work and life history of an insect which has been condemned with a heartiness of language measured only by the degree of suffering inflicted by it upon the human subject of its minute but multitudinous attentions.

It is, of course, understood that in writing of the ant in this connection only the comparatively harmless worker, which boasts nothing more formidable than a pair of nippers as weapons, is embraced. I am still hoping to meet the naturalist who has peered with microscopical keenness into the habits of the ferocious bull-ant, or has remained long enough in close proximity to a nest of hoppers to determine whether these lively fighters are of any service as scavengers, or if they are on earth solely for the purpose of enabling men of all ages to discover how far they can spring into the air when prompted by the prod of a burning sting. It is widely known that the bull-ant was created expressly to cause man to experience the greatest possible surprise of his life. When this ant selects a spot for its attack it inflicts a comparatively slight injury to the outer skin. The man, or boy, chosen by the ant for the experiment has just time to realise that he has received a fearful injury before the ant doubles up and drives the horrible dagger to the hilt. Then ensues the surprise, the victim being terribly surprised to learn that anything could be so much worse than the first agonising thrust of the sting. The tiny hopper is a revelation to the uninitiated in a different way. It stings with appalling rapidity, and you know the worst at once, but you are thunderstruck to find that the queer little jumper can make a large man hop as actively as itself.

Unqualified naturalists will be wise in refraining from tracking the "bull-dog" to its lair in the interests of entomological research, and even greater wisdom will be evinced by departing quickly from the neighbourhood of the hopper, and the demon greenhead. The habits of several of the species which are addicted to being found in the sugar, in household fluids, and in mouthsfull of jam, very closely resemble those of the laborious bee. They work as hard as bees, but for several reasons they do not store a surplus of valuable food which is carefully appropriated by man, and man is very much prejudiced in his opinions of other creatures, by the relative usefulness of these for his own purposes. The bee finds its way to our hearts by way of our appetites; therefore, we extol the bee; we write books about the marvellous ingenuity of its hive and its wonderful industry. Also we provide means by which the bee is greatly assisted in its labours; that is to say, it is assisted to produce larger and still larger surpluses for our delectation. The humble ant is allowed to worry along on its own account; in fact, we frequently attack it with great ferocity, and devastate its cities in the earth. Yet the ant is just as intelligent as the bee, and it trespasses upon food supplies only because it is driven by a keen sense of duty to a very large and helpless family to seek food wherever it may find it. Its powers are concentrated not for itself, because its own wants are small, but for the brood of the commune in the corridors and cells of the great city below the surface of the earth. These great workers never seem to be thoroughly decided as to what is food and what is not edible, and they are equally uncertain as to that which they may bear away to their cities.

They test many things with their mandibles, relinquishing those which are useless. When a 200lb man feels the nip of the mandibles he should know that the ant is not attacking him, or endeavouring to hurt him: it is merely deciding whether it can carry him off as an article of food. On these workers depend the preservation and increase of the species. When we dig up a large nest of ants, we find thousands of eggs, and usually thousands have reached the larval stage. The eggs have been laid by the queen ants, and it is the duty of the workers to place these in passages in proper position, so that as they grow they may be properly fed. Nearly all the food the workers gather is first stored in their crops, and then served in the form of liquid sweets to the young. Every time an ant is crushed to death the youngsters lose a provider, and no doubt the supplies are often interfered with. The workers and the young, however, are counted by the hundred thousand, and only the smashing up of the nest can seriously interfere with the wellbeing of the occupants. As the young ants approach maturity the strain upon the resources of the workers becomes intense. They travel abroad continuously, and intervals for rest are very brief. The only reaction known to the worker ant is the making of its toilet. It cleans itself in much the same fashion as a house cat, and occasionally it exchanges attentions with some of its fellows, each dressing and cleaning the other. Even after the city has been created by hard delving, mining has to be carried on to provide accommodation for eggs and nurseries for the numerous family.

The pressure on the resources of the workers and the crowding in the homes cannot be relieved until a swarm of virgin queens and males emerges into the sunlight and takes wing to other places. Judging from the occurrence of flights of ants in dry country, it would seem that the swarm waits upon certain atmospheric conditions. Streams of winged insects are seen issuing from the ground when rain is threatening. Often these have been described as peculiar specimens of insect life, and the flights are regarded as being unusual and strange. They represent, however, the natural relieving of the underground cities, and the worker ants certainly expect them to occur. Prof. Henry C. M'Cook, an American naturalist, who is famous for his entomological research, has stated that he had seen the workers driving the winged ants forth and nipping their legs with their mandibles in order to cause them to depart on the wing. The workers guard the young and slave for them, but when the time has arrived for the departure they are equally assiduous in seeing this carried out in the most complete manner. The flight is the honeymoon of the young males and the queens—or, more properly speaking, the princesses—and the whole scheme is as perfect in detail as the wonderful life history of the bees.

ITEMS.

Mr. R. N. Smith's farm of 1370 acres, at Towri Vyrang, in the Wellington district, is a competitor in the Slopes and Plains Division of the "Herald" and "Mail" farm competition. The property is situated very close to the boundary of the Northern Tablelands Division, and hence the delay in its classification.

Interest was awakened one day this week by a large parcel of Minchinbury claret from Rooty Hill, passing from Darling Harbour to the P. and O. Company's wharf. These 100 casks, representing one order for the London market, serve to prove that our State is as well able to supply the home market as our South Australian and Victorian neighbours. The shipment leaves by the steamship Macedonia.

For the month of June the Raymond Terrace Co-operative Dairy Company manufactured 35½ tons of butter, for which suppliers were paid 11½d to 12½d, less working charges. The cold, showery weather experienced during the month somewhat checked cream supplies. The weekly output now is nine and a half tons, and the number of suppliers is increasing.

A Queensland paper writes:—"Less than 40 years ago the prickly pear was coddled as a hedge plant on the Darling Downs, and now it covers over four million acres of country. Similar idiots let loose the thistle, lantana, and other noxious growths."

During the last two seasons (writes Wyandotte) I have placed eggs in the Government cool rooms. On taking out those placed there the first season but a nominal number were bad, while this year the percentage of bad ones was very much greater. In the former, an average of 13 per case of 36 dozen were rotten, while this year the average was 38 per case of a similar size. As I packed both lots in the same manner, with equal care, and had a few cases stored weekly in each instance, I am at a loss to understand why there should have been such a marked discrepancy in the results. It seems to me that there must have been some defect or default at the stores.

Touching the increase of the blackberry pest on the South Coast, the "Illawarra Mercury" advises local farmers to follow the example of some landholders in the Robertson district, and to buy a line of sheep. At Robertson the vines had been cut down and burnt, and sheep then turned into the paddock. As the growing shoots appear they are greedily eaten by the sheep, and, constantly checked, they die. "It is stated," says the "Mercury," "that the sheep have already worked wonders in the Robertson district, and other farmers are turning their attention to them. It is admitted that Angora goats are as good as, if not better than, the sheep, but they cannot be procured in sufficient numbers. The sheep idea is a good one, however, and might be tried in many parts of this district with advantage."

THE WOOL TRADE.

BEARING FOR CHEAPER WOOL.

During the week the volume of business transacted has not been large. Local scoureds have been the only wools on offer. The better inquiry noted last week has been maintained for the best sorts, and parcels that have changed hands have realised firm values. Not so, however, with the inferior grades; they are not in active request, and they are feeling the decline such wools are meeting with at the current London sales. This is the time of the year when an onslaught is made on wool values on the other side, and scoureds—especially medium and faulty—are the least able to stand up against the attack. Best greasies of good length are backed up by strong American support; consequently they are a shade better, while the lower classes of greasies are firm. Best scoureds, on the other hand, are about at a parity with the closing of the previous series, while medium and inferior descriptions are 7½ to 10 per cent. lower. A good Australasian season is being looked for, and no matter how prosperous manufacturers are throughout the world, and how decreasing the world's wool supply is outside Australasia, a section of the trade on the other side must make an effort to get cheaper wool. It seems to be ingrained in the nature of some wool men that it must be got cheap. The relative higher purchasing power of the mass of the woollen fabric-wearing people is not taken into account. A broader view is taken by others—that is, those who are concerned with doing a profitable business with wool, at however remunerative the level of values may be to growers. This is the attitude of such firms as Wenz and Co., who, in the closing paragraph of their review of last year's rates, say that though there was nothing unreasonable in the opening rates last season, it was hardly to be expected that the huge clip would pass into consumption without having the least effect upon the market. This again goes to prove that high prices are no check on business when manufacturers are well occupied and supplies are balanced by requirements. Moreover, what reason is there why wool should not follow in the path of other raw material? The supply has by no means kept pace with the increase of population, and as it will take some time to draw level, there seems no call for a marked reaction as long as the present era of prosperity endures. As against this it must not be forgotten that all raw materials are at a high level, that mills are working at high pressure, that money is tight, and that the unexpected may always occur.

INITIAL MOVEMENTS.

This season's clip is now being machined and shorn in the country west of the Darling and on several north-western stations. Work is progressing very favourably at Brewarrina and Walgett, and will next week start at Hungerford. By August 1 the inner sheds in the Bourke district will be in full swing. Wool is coming along very quickly, and several consignments of the new clip will be offered at the first sales of the current statistical year in Sydney next week. Unless wet weather arrests shearing somewhat, as during the spring and early summer last year, the growth of wool in many clips this season will not be so long as last. In some districts, too, there may be a break in the staple, owing to the droughty conditions during the summer and autumn. The supply of warp wool will evidently be less than last season. Although shearing is now progressing favourably, and some of the new clip wool will be offered next week, Queensland brands will be mainly in evidence. About 4500 bales will be catalogued, and the selection is a very fair one for the initial auctions of the year.

CURRENT SYDNEY QUOTATIONS.

The rates for the descriptions of staple now coming forward to the Sydney market, based upon the last public sales, may be given as follow:—

NEXT WEEK'S ROSTER.

At the sales on Tuesday and Wednesday next the roster provides for auctions by the 12 firms of selling brokers, but it is unlikely that more than nine or ten will submit catalogues. The roster is as follows:—

Tuesday, July 23.—(1) Pastoral Finance Association, Ltd., about 300 bales; (2) Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., Ltd., about 1000 bales; (3) Dalgety and Co., Ltd., about 750 bales; (4) Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Ltd.; (5) Schute, Bell, and Co.

Wednesday, July 24.—(1) Co-operative Wool Co., Ltd.; (2) New Zealand L. and M. A. Co., Ltd.; (3) Australian Mortgage, Land, and Finance Co., Ltd.; (4) John Bridge and Co., Ltd., about 300 bales; (5) Winchcombe, Carson, and Co., Ltd., about 600 bales; (6) Hill, Clark, and Co., about 200 bales; (7) Pitt, Son, and Badgery, Ltd.

SOME OF THE BRANDS.

Included in the wools to be offered will be the first instalment of the TG in block, from Avon Downs, Northern Territory, shipped from Burketown, a wool of fine quality that invariably commands considerable attention on the Sydney market. Other brands from Queensland and this State are as follow:—Greasy: Ada over Willoughby, Cudmore and Sons over Tara, Stagmount, Booligar, WHS over Huelva, OTM, ADW over Mourabie, AM over MM, M. Bros., Loughnan Bros., GJ over Muttabun, CXD. Scoured: Bladensburg over MHM, EW over DV, C and G over Retreat, FMY over Northampton, Ada over Willoughby, Cudmore and Sons over Tara, C and K over Alma Downs, GF over Bimerah, GF over Peak Downs, EC and Co over Bimbah, WW over W.

A BONUS ON TOPS.

On Tuesday last a Bounties Bill was introduced in the Federal Parliament which includes a bonus of 1½d per lb on the export of tops manufactured in Australia. It is proposed that such bonus be paid for the first three years, and thereafter at the rate of 1d per lb. The object of the bonus is to establish top-making in Australia, with the ultimate view to more widely extending woollen manufacture. This proposal was foreshadowed in these columns in April last. Accompanying the bill was a report of experts, who were of the opinion that the labour conditions were not sufficiently favourable to establish the industry without Government assistance for a certain period. It seems that inquiries were made by British and Continental topmakers, who contemplated opening combing mills in Australia, and that was the conclusion they came to. They were of the opinion that the top-making industry could be established by means of a bonus for a term of five years, during which the initial difficulties could be overcome. There were several factors favourable to ultimate success, among which were—(1) the climate and the quality of the water; (2) saving in freight; (3) the favourable position to secure Eastern markets; (4) the local trade in manufacturing cloth that might be developed as a result of the establishment of large top-making works, from which spinners and weavers could draw supplies more economically than by manufacturing the raw material themselves.

A BROAD BASE.

If the proposed bonus on tops becomes law there is great probability that combing works for the manufacture of tops will be established in Sydney without undue delay. Indeed, matters have progressed so far that tenders have been obtained for the necessary machinery, and a contract ready for placing forthwith. Not only would tops be manufactured for export or local sale, but it is highly probable that if up-to-date works were established many foreign buyers would avail themselves of such means for the purpose of testing the yield and quality of wools purchased during the season. This would in a great measure remove the uncertainty of estimating yields. The uncertainty as to yield and quality is a very great one with buyers, and to overcome it would be a boon to many. Instead of purchasing thousands of bales, and having to wait several months for the result tests could be taken as frequently on the spot as required. Thus the buyer's judgment could be tested from time to time, and fewer risks taken. Any such system should therefore work out very beneficially all round.

BRADFORD TOPS FIRMLY HELD.

According to our cable message of yesterday's date the Bradford top market was quiet, and everything was firmly held, all counts remaining without quotable change. At the corresponding date last year the Bradford top market was quiet, and there was a decline on the previous week of ½d per lb on super 60's, common 60's (merino), and forty-sixes (medium crossbred), and ½d on forties (coarse crossbred). The only counts to weaken for the week ended July 21, 1905, were forty-sixes and forties, which were ½d and ½d lower respectively. Quotations compare as follow:—

	July 19, 1907.	July 12, 1907.	July 20, 1906.	July 21, 1905.
Super 60's	28	28	27½	26
Common 60's	27	27	26½	25½
Forty-sixes	17½	17½	19½	18
Forties	16½	16½	18	16½

Writing with regard to the market on June 13 last, the Bradford "Observer" stated that there were no new features of any note. Top-makers were very busy, and there was sufficient new business to keep prices firm. Stocks of wool were being gradually depleted by the large and steadily maintained consumption, and top-makers were on the lookout to pick up fresh supplies wherever they could be obtained, which makes certain sorts, especially low crossbreds, very good to sell. Though spinners were not buying at all freely, their constant inquiries showed that they were watching the market very carefully. There was some English wool of the new clip on the market, and although the condition was not all that could be desired, it was not, on the whole, as bad as was expected.

SYDNEY WOOL RECEIPTS.

Upwards of 120 bales were manifested to arrive by rail at Darling Harbour station yesterday, as compared with 83 bales on the corresponding day last year. Wool is arriving freely by rail, and shows an increase for the present statistical year of 390 bales. The arrivals by boat are not so heavy, and show a decrease over the corresponding period last year of 257 bales. The total receipts by rail and sea for the present season, compared with last, are as follow:—

	Bales.
By rail—
At Darling Harbour Railway Station, from July 1, 1907, to July 19	1971
Corresponding period last year	1581
Increase	390
By sea—
From July 1, 1907, to July 19	1980
Corresponding period last year	2237

SYDNEY WOOL SHIPMENTS.

The exports since last week's review have been of a more cosmopolitan character than usual. Over 8000 bales have been shipped from Sydney to over-ocean ports, including London, Bremen, Marseilles, Calcutta, and Yokohama. For the time of the year that is very good, and shows an increase for the corresponding three weeks last year of over 7000 bales. The vessels, with quantities—which are subject to slight alteration by amended manifests—are as follow:—

	Bales.
Persic, July 12, for London	925
Patroclus, July 12, for London	545
Bulow, July 13, for Bremen	3,685
Orontes, July 13, for London	575
Euryalus, July 13, for Calcutta	227
Dumbea, July 15, for Marseilles	2,054
Tsinan, July 16, for Japan	38
Kumano Maru, July 17, for Japan	30
Total since last review	8,079
Total, Sydney and Newcastle, from July 1, 1907, to July 19	10,898
Corresponding period last season	3,710

AUSTRALIAN APPLES IN ENGLAND.

LONDON.—The shipment of apples by the steamer Afric arrived in fair condition. Some were too small. The market is dull, strawberries being still plentiful. At the sale on Thursday Tasmanians realised from 5s 6d to 8s 6d, a few New Yorks from 9s 6d to 11s, Australians from 6s to 8s 1d.

DAIRYING.

WINGHAM.—The Upper Wallamba Dairy Company's returns for June show the butter manufactured was 25,032lb. Suppliers were paid 10½d for first, and 9½d for second quality. The turnover was £1251. The Manning River Dairy Company's return for June show 130,924lb of commercial butter were manufactured. Suppliers were paid 10½d. The turnover was £648. The Upper Manning Dairy Company paid 10½d per lb for the month of June.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

GOULBURN.—Mr. T. Coggan, while working near Goulburn, recently saw two foxes in close pursuit of a yearling calf, which was showing its distress by bellowing. On seeing Coggan the foxes went away. Some persons doubt that foxes will attack lambs. Here is a case where the evident intention was to run down a calf—a yearling at that—with the object, no doubt, of getting the tongue as a titbit.

INVERELL.—The annual report of the Inverell P. and A. Association stated that the committee had acquired land with a view to enlarging the ground at a total cost of £1010. The show was one of the most successful held, and despite the fact that heavy rain fell on the second and third days the gate receipts totalled £333 8s, as against £268 3s for 1906. The roll of membership increased from 301 to 350, and of lady members from 36 to 60. Financially the show had been a great success.

TENTERFIELD.—Mr. W. J. Allen, Departmental Fruit Expert, gave a practical demonstration in pruning, budding, and grafting at Mr. J. Chick's orchard on Thursday. Over 30 persons interested in fruit-growing attended; also a number of boys from the local school. At the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Allen.

STOCK MOVEMENTS.

ALBURY.—2157 sheep, Nyngan to Melbourne, W. Anglass and Co.; 16 cattle Corowa to Bethungra, A. E. Bowman; 500 sheep, Hawksview to Western Australia, Fell and Hogan; 420 sheep, Albury to Walroa, F. Hunt; 306 sheep, Albury to Bonnawatha, F. Burns; 105 cattle, Wodonga to Lockhart, P. J. Quirk; 129 cattle, Allan's Flat to Narrandera, Lindsay Bros.; 147 cattle, Eskdah to Riverina, T. Cranford; 15 cattle, Wodonga to Tumut, P. J. Quirk; 1000 sheep, Tallangatta to Brae Springs, Thornton and Co.; 12 cattle, Thurgoona to Talgarno, P. Market.

TEETOTAL EXTREMISTS.

A CHALLENGE.

Sir,—Referring to Mr. B. N. Mayman's article in your issue of Saturday last, I desire to challenge him to debate the liquor question on the following conditions:—

1. Mr. Mayman to select a hall and choose a chairman.
2. Tickets to be supplied to male electors only, each party being supplied with half of those printed.
3. Each side to pay half the expenses of the meeting.
4. Subject for debate: "The Necessity for State interference with the Liquor Traffic, and the Wisdom of No-license."

Yours, etc.,
ROBERT B. S. HAMMOND.

SOCIAL.

His Excellency the Governor-General will visit Lithgow and Portland on Monday and Tuesday next, leaving Sydney by special train on Monday morning.

His Excellency the State Governor and Miss Rawson were prevented from fulfilling several social engagements during the week owing to indisposition from severe colds.

A Covent Garden gala performance affords probably the most brilliant spectacle of its kind to be seen in these modern times, and we in Australia can hardly realise what a scene it must be. It is one of those shows in which it is permissible, not to say imperative, on the part of one and all to make the utmost display possible. So on the occasion of the State performance at Covent Garden in honour of the King and Queen of Denmark on June 11, the sight was brilliant indeed, says an English correspondent. All the most notable people in the land were gathered together in festal array. The most brilliant uniforms, the costliest dresses, the most priceless jewels were worn, and made a most impressive effect. The house was converted for the nonce into a vast bower of roses, arranged on a trellis-work foundation over the whole face of the auditorium. The Royal box took the shape of a handsome loge, formed by the removal of six ordinary boxes, and situated in the middle of the grand tier. (Covent Garden opera house, it may be said en passant, has three tiers of boxes.) It was hung with yellow and white satin, decorated with palms and ferns, and lit up by soft shaded incandescent lights. Immediately beneath the Royal box, in the middle of the pit, there was another specially constructed loge, in which a number of Indian princes, who had been invited by the King, were present in gorgeous costumes of blue and silver and red and gold. Perhaps the most brilliant moment of the whole evening was that following the arrival of the Royal party, when the entire audience stood, the occupants of the Royal box doing the same, while the Danish and British National Anthems were played. The programmes consisted of excerpts from "La Boheme," in which Madame Melba and Caruso were heard; "Madama Butterfly," with Miss Destinn, Caruso, and Scotti; and a selection from the third act of "Die Meistersinger," in which Miss Hempel, Mr. Jorn, and Mr. Van Roon appeared. But the real centre of interest on a gala night is not behind the footlights, but at the opposite end of the theatre, and the magnificence and splendour left an impression upon the beholder that could scarcely be surpassed. His Majesty the King of England wore a Danish military uniform, and the King of Denmark that of an English officer. Her Majesty the Queen was in black and silver sequins, with the Ribbon and Star of the Garter. Her magnificent diamond tiara was in the design of fleur-de-lys and Maltese crosses, and was worn with a diamond collar and rows of pearls and diamonds. The Queen of Denmark was in pearl grey embroidered with silver, and a high diamond tiara and many diamond ornaments.

Captain and Mrs. Halsey, who for several weeks past have been the guests of his Excellency the Admiral and Lady Fawkes, have taken a flat at Naringla, Darling Point.

A correspondent in London by the last mail writes that General and Mrs. Finn were then in Ireland, but intended to return to England shortly and probably settle near London. Mr. and Mrs. J. Alison were in London, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Little, who recently went to England, are living at Amberley, in Gloucester.

The new premises of the Sydney Medical Mission in Riley-street were formally opened last Tuesday afternoon by Lady Fairfax, in the unavoidable absence through indisposition of Miss Rawson. The committee of the Sydney Medical Mission had issued a large number of invitations to those interested in the work, and were gratified at the good attendance. So many people are unacquainted with the objects of the mission that we may here state that its aim is to provide medical attendance and medicine for the sick poor in their own homes. It is also, as Professor Wilson said on Tuesday, a mission, an institution formed in the hope of bringing comfort and consolation to many an inflicted one. The building is bright and airy, and contains consulting rooms, committee rooms, and a dispensary, and was presented to the mission by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dixson, who also gave a sum of money to defray the cost of the necessary alterations and additions. The usefulness of the mission is thereby extended, and now Dr. Phoebe Chapple and Dr. Wiley fulfil the positions of resident medical officers. The ladies of Mosman rendered substantial assistance by the large sum of £137, which they handed over to the mission as the result of a fete recently held at Mosman.

Mrs. Stanger Leathes, Mrs. R. Richards, and Mrs. A. W. Meeks were the hostesses at an "at home" given at the Women's Patriotic Club on Wednesday afternoon in honour of Miss Calder, the organising secretary of the Ministering Children's League. About fifty ladies were present, and Miss Calder was introduced to the company by Mrs. Moseley. In a most interesting address, the guest of the afternoon explained the objects of the Ministering Children's League, whose motto is "No day without a deed to crown it," and whose aim is to promote kindness, unselfishness, and the habit of usefulness amongst children. Children of all ages are invited to join. Every member of the league is expected to "try and do at least one kind deed a day." In Australia there are branches doing inestimable good in the States, and in Sydney eight cots are endowed in the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children by the different branches in New South Wales, the general secretary being Miss Maiden, Botanic Gardens, Sydney.

Miss Jessie Ackerman, the organising secretary of the Girls' Realm Guild, has just arrived in Sydney, and will be the guest of honour at several social gatherings during the next few days. On Tuesday next Miss Rawson has invited a number of young ladies to meet Miss Ackerman at the State Government House.

On Tuesday evening a most enjoyable dance was given by a number of young medical men at Baumann's Rooms. The ballroom was decorated with tall palms and greenery, and the corridors were gay with flags and palms. The twenty-three hosts included Drs. Aspinall, Bradley, F. B. Craig, Dansey, Deakin, Diethelm, Gillespie, Hill, Lethbridge, Lightholler, Marsh, M'Culloch, Molesworth, Moran, Parkinson, Paul, Poate, Schlink, P. E. W. Smith, Stokes, Vickers, Welch, and Withers. Dr. O. A. Diethelm and Dr. O. E. Withers were the hon. secretaries, and were assiduous in looking after their guests. The supper tables were artistically decorated with yellow jonquils and dark blue hyacinths (the University colours). Dancing was carried on with great spirit all the evening. About 200 guests were present, amongst whom were Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Hollingdale, Mrs. Burns, Mr. and Miss Lenehan, Mr. and Miss Tillock, Dr. Blackburn, Dr. G. Dansey, Dr. Vickers, Dr. Gilchrist, the Misses Coleman, Dalton, Donaldson, Weedon, Bedford, Nimmo, Read, Murphy, Spruson, M'Dermott, Withers, and Messrs. Aspinall, Vere Read, W. Martin, V. V. Nathan, O. A. Ireland, Burke, Gaffney, Real, Murray Prior, E. Vickers, F. Hess, A. Halloran, Weedon, and J. T. Coleman.

The Newtown Free Kindergarten held its annual ball last Monday evening in St. George's Hall, Newtown. There was a large gathering, and the event passed off most successfully. Mrs. Gordon Craig and Miss Blanche Curnow, the hon. secretary and treasurer, and the ladies of the committee worked hard in the cause of the deserving movement they have at heart.

An enjoyable and somewhat unique entertainment was given by Mrs. Toohey at her residence, Innisfail, Wahroonga, on Tuesday, July 9, when she entertained about 30 guests at a "progressive" dinner. There were four tables beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers, and the guests were chiefly young people. During dinner the ladies kept their places, but after certain courses the gentlemen moved to other tables. After dinner a small dance was given.

On Thursday evening a performance was given by the "Sydney Muffs" at the Theatre Royal in aid of the funds for St. Martha's Industrial Home, Leichhardt. The Lady Mayoress was president of the committee, the hon. treasurers being Mrs. J. J. Smith and Miss Daly, and the hon. secretaries Miss J. O'Brien and Miss Brown. The performance was under the patronage and in the presence of Miss Rawson, who was presented with a bouquet of pink roses upon her arrival. The programme included the trial scene from "The Merchant of Venice" and a farcical comedy in three acts entitled "The New Boy." The ladies who performed were presented with several beautiful floral tributes. The music was contributed by the Austral Orchestral Society, and was mainly composed of women, and was conducted by Miss Ruby Guest (Mrs. W. Downs Johnstone).

As the proceeds of the recent ball held in aid of the Boys' Brigade, the sum of £65 1s 6d was handed in a few days ago by the hon. treasurer, Mrs. Rutter, who, with Mrs. Monk, Miss Phillips, and the large committee of ladies and gentlemen, worked so energetically to make the ball a success.

Captain Buchard and the officers of the French cruiser Catinat gave an enjoyable "at home" on board their ship yesterday afternoon. The deck was enclosed with flags and decorated with greenery, and the guests were received by Captain Buchard, assisted by Madame Buchard. The Consul-General for France and Mons. Deschars were amongst the numerous guests present.

The 1st Regiment Rifle Club's annual dance was held at the Drill Hall, Moore Park, on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance. Colonel Holmes presented the trophies won during the June quarter. Amongst the officers present were Captains Tilney, Woodhill, Kennard, Lieutenants Russell, Upjohn, Dakin, Howard, Bedford, Sands, Kellick, Herring, and Diamond. The management of the dance was carried out by a committee, consisting of Lieutenant Bedford, Staff-sergeant Major Draper, Colour-sergeant Thomas, Sergeants Jones and Wheeler, Corporals Jones and Moore, and Private Pegg, assisted by Mrs. Pegg, Mrs. Darren, and the Misses Jones, Bray, Black, and Lynch. The masters of ceremonies were Colour-sergeant Thomas, Sergeants Wheeler and Jones, and Lance-sergeant Flood (hon. secretary).

At the Paddington Town Hall on Thursday, the 11th instant, St. Stanislaus College Old Boys' Union held their annual dance with marked success. The decorations were in blue and white (school colours). The supper-room and tables were arranged with yellow and white jonquils and asparagus fern. Mr. Frank Clarke was president, and Mr. George Coleman vice-president. The committee consisted of Mesdames Coleman, J. J. M'Namee, Ruble, and Frawley, Misses Coleman (2), E. Connolly, Davies (2), Nelligen, Fitzgerald, Lynch, Howard, M'Cartie, Rorison, M'Veigh, Kearney, Finn, Clarke, and Corbet. The ex-students' committee included Messrs. T. and J. Seage, J. J. Ruble, P. J. Nelligen, J. A. Collins, J. Merrick, J. Dowd, J. Crick, G. Larkin, W. Hickey, J. Stevens, H. Perrignon, A. Byers, H. Finn, H. Foley, and J. O'Grady. Mr. J. T. Coleman and Mr. R. J. B. Stevens were the hon. secretary and treasurer respectively.

On Wednesday evening, the 10th inst., the Bungalow Tennis Club gave their annual dance at the A.B.C. Rooms. There was a large attendance, and amongst the ladies present were the Misses Green, Pateson, Wood, Shaw-Smith, Lhoest, Nall, Thomson and Hillier. There was one debutante, Miss Stutchbury, of Strathfield, who wore a white chiffon glace dress, and carried a shower posy. Mr. C. Parker was the hon. secretary.

The Robert Burns Lodge, No. 21, U.G.L. of N.S.W., held an entertainment on Wednesday, July 3, in the Masonic Hall, Castlereagh-street, about 200 guests being present.

The Manly Lawn Tennis Club held their annual dance on Friday, July 4, in the Victoria Hall, Manly. The entertainment proved a great success, and was largely attended by local residents and several visitors from town. Mr. S. Johnson was the hon. secretary, and with Messrs. J. Row, H. Palmer, and O. Crossman, looked well after the enjoyment and comfort of the guests.

The members of St. Joseph's College Old Boys' Union held their fourth annual ball in the Paddington Town Hall on Tuesday evening, and the attendance exceeded the anticipation of those organising the ball, over 300 being present. Mr. P. R. Louis was the president, Mr. J. Corless and Mr. J. Baker the hon. secretaries, and Mr. Charles Riley the hon. treasurer of the ball committee. The room was decorated with palms and flags. Amongst those present were Mrs. R. Alexander, Mrs. Worthington, Mrs. Temple Harrison, Mrs. M'Namee, Mrs. Hogan, Mrs. J. Alexander, Mrs. Reidy, the Misses Carroll, English, Hunt, Finn, Roarty, Roberts, Brown, Alexander, Connolly, M'Encroe, Small, Frost, Higgerty, Keane, Logan, M'Evoy, Cloran, Guerin, Messrs. Gilmore, E. Gilchrist, L. Maher, J. Ryan, J. J. Carroll, Reidy, Stephen, Coleman, Merrick, Miss Alldritt (a debutante), Mrs. Harrison, Alderman Searle, the Misses Searle, and Messrs. J. Fanning, A. Crawley, and E. Hall.

At the "Old Swiss Studios" in King-street an interesting exhibition of wood-carving is being held in aid of the Free Kindergarten in Woolloomooloo. The exhibits are the work of Miss A. E. Connor's pupils, and many are beautifully carved. The exhibition was opened by Mrs. F. Anderson, and on Wednesday (the first day of the exhibition) afternoon tea was provided by Mrs. Barry and Mrs. Witherby, assisted by other ladies. A musical programme was contributed during the afternoon and there was a large attendance of visitors.

The thirteenth annual ball in aid of the Nepean Cottage Hospital took place in the Temperance Hall on Wednesday, July 10, and proved a great success in every respect. The hall was decorated with flags, ferns, and bunting. The attendance included visitors from Sydney, Windsor, and the surrounding districts. The juvenile plain and fancy dress ball was held the following evening, when many pretty little fancy costumes were in evidence. Miss Flora Burns, from Sydney, and three of her pupils, viz., the Misses Essie Jordan and Vera Hill, and Master Calder, gave an exhibition of Highland dancing in costume, Mr. Usher being the piper. The result should be most gratifying to the ball committee. The hon. secretaries were Messrs. R. Mills and E. J. Fulton.

A pleasant dance, promoted by the members of Mark Foy's Football Club, was held at Leigh House, Castlereagh-street, on Wednesday, July 10. The committee, of which Messrs. Duban, Poynter, and Paul were principals, were most energetic in their endeavours to entertain the large gathering of visitors.

A successful dance was given by the members of the Morpeth Tennis Club in the School of Arts, Morpeth, on Thursday, July 11. Mr. Hogan (Mayor) acted as M.C., and the Misses Lowrie and Kate Murphy were the hon. secretaries.

The hospital ball held last week in the Casino School of Arts was one of the most brilliant entertainments ever held in Casino, and was attended by upwards of 300 visitors. For weeks prior to the ball a willing band of workers were busy arranging all details. Praise is due to the secretaries, Mrs. G. Thomas and Miss Emma Pyers, assisted by an energetic committee of ladies and the matron of the hospital, who were unremitting in their efforts to make the ball a success. There were six fancy sets, viz., the "Tennis" (arranged by Miss M'Dougall), "Queen of Hearts" (Miss Pyers), "Students" (Miss M'Carthy), "Newspaper" (Miss Benaud, of Coraki "Herald)", "Nurses" (Matron Clark Kennedy), and "Sailors" (Miss Hassett). During the evening ballots were taken for the best fancy costumes, with the result that the "Tennis" set obtained the highest number of votes, "Queen of Hearts" the second, and "Students" third, the best individual fancy dresses being worn by Mrs. Thomas (as Winter) and Mrs. Chauvel, Kyogle (Lady Mary of Argyle). The juvenile ball took place the following evening, and was even more crowded than the adult gathering.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Johnstone Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Simpson, and Mr. Crawford Ernest Radcliff took place at Stonehenge station on Thursday, July 11, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Arthur Johnstone. All the guests assembled in the dining-room, which was prettily decorated with white and scarlet flowers, where the ceremony took place. The bride wore a dress of hand-embroidered chiffon taffeta. Her veil was of real lace, and was arranged over a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, roses, and snowflakes, which, with a pearl and enamel necklet, were gifts from the bridegroom. Her three sisters, the Misses Sybil, Jean, and Hope Simpson, and Miss Janet Radcliff (sister of the bridegroom), acted as bridesmaids, and were dressed in pink taffeta, with green hats, trimmed with lace and pink roses, and carried granny bunches of pink rose. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Trevor Giblin, and Mr. Morris Simpson presided at the organ. The house party included Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Radcliff, Mr., Mrs., Masters, and Miss Jenkins (Herbert Park), Mr. Devor, Miss Giblin, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Edgar Belfield, Miss Jones, Miss M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson and their daughter, Miss Manning, Miss Brenan, and Mr. Godfrey Jenkins.

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at Yarramba, Killara, on Thursday, the 18th inst., when Mrs. S. J. Channon entertained a number of girl friends at a "Kitchen" Tea, given in honour of Miss Allie Howard, prior to her marriage. Many useful gifts were brought by the guests, and during the afternoon refreshments were served, and several musical items rendered.

The third series of the Moree winter dances was held in the School of Arts, Moree, on Wednesday, 17th inst. There was a large attendance, and dancing was kept up with vigour till an adjournment was made to the supper-room, where the tables were prettily decorated. Mr. G. Gerard was hon. secretary, and among the ladies were noticed Mrs. Pike, Mrs. Rosenthal, Mrs. J. N. Doyle, Mrs. E. C. Brodie, Mrs. S. Cohen, Mrs. F. Glennie, Mrs. Lamb, Miss Munro (Weebolla), Miss Pike, Miss Beryl Doyle, Miss Cohen, and Miss Cox.

PROMISSORY NOTES.

Last evening Mr. F. A. Russell, barrister-at-law, delivered an address on "The Endorsing of Promissory Notes" in the rooms of the Institute of Bankers of New South Wales, George-street. Mr. Russell, in the course of his remarks, pointed out that it was possible for a bank to be interested in these notes in several different capacities, viz., as maker or payee, or paying bank, endorsee, and agent, and collector for endorsee. He drew attention to the new Bills of Exchange Bill at present before the Commonwealth Parliament, showing that as far as promissory notes were concerned it made practically no change in the law, the simple effect being that what were formerly the Bills of Exchange Acts of New South Wales and other States would now be the law under sanction of the Commonwealth. He dealt in detail with the question of verification of endorsements on the part of the bank which paid bills domiciled with it, and with the definitions of endorsements, negotiation, and holder in due course. Mr. Russell explained that many promissory notes were at present used to raise money with signatures given by way of security, and endorsed on the back of the bill before the bill was otherwise complete. He pointed out how dangerous and loose was such a practice, as the payee to whom such a bill was given was not, generally speaking, a holder in due course, and though he might fancy himself safe in a supposed right to sue such a quasi endorser the decisions were against his having such a right.

EPIDEMICS.

In times of Epidemics of Fevers, Cholera, Plague, etc., too much care cannot be observed in keeping the digestive organs in proper order, and providing against all stomach troubles. It is a generally admitted fact that while Plague is transmitted by media of the flea, yet the individual attacked is more able to withstand its deadly effects if in a perfect state of health than one whose health is impaired. To ensure this, nothing is more efficacious than a stimulating tonic that will successfully combat all stomach ailments. The "Fernet Branca Tonic" and digestive Bitters is the greatest of all modern discoveries for counteracting those disturbances which precede Cholera, Plague, and other similar complaints, and as a remedy for those lingering ailments which last so long afterwards. It promotes appetite, aids digestion, corrects inertia and stomach weakness, and cures dyspepsia. "Fernet Branca" is composed of purely aromatic vegetable substances, palatable and agreeable; its action is rapid and most successful in all chronic liver complaints. Ask for "Fernet Branca Tonic" Bitters. Sold by all Chemists and Hotelkeepers, and wholesale by F. Gagliardi and Co., Jersey-chambers, George-street, Sydney.—Advt.

THE CHURCHES.

On Sunday his Grace the Archbishop of Sydney preached in the Cathedral. The following day he entertained the members of the Junior Clerical Society at Bishopscourt, and on Wednesday presided at the fifty-first annual meeting of the Church Society. On Thursday evening his Grace administered the rite of confirmation at St. Clement's, Marrickville, and on Friday evening at St. George's, Hurstville.

The committee appointed to attend to the details of the Presbyterian General Assembly, to be held in Adelaide during September, have completed arrangements for the accommodation of visiting clergymen during their stay in Adelaide. The full membership of the assembly is 218, and last year there were 120 delegates at the Sydney assembly.

News has reached Sydney of the death at Rarotonga on June 9 of Miss Alice Royle, who had been associated for many years with the work of the London Missionary Society. The deceased was a daughter of the Rev. Henry Royle, formerly a missionary in the Cook Islands.

A large gathering assembled in the Palmer-street Hall on Thursday to do honour to Mr. Fred. Freeland, who has been for 35 years a city missionary in connection with the Sydney City Mission, over which Dr. William H. Crago presided. Mr. Freeland gave a synopsis of the year's work. Their work was not to proselytise, but to act the part of the good Samaritan. In this way 386 individuals had been materially assisted, and of these 20 were widows, 11 deserted wives, 16 sick, and 215 children. The help was only for a short period in most cases; all others were sent on to other agencies, principally the Benevolent Society.

Arrangements for holding Methodist missionary conventions in this State, in continuation of the conventions held during the late general conference, are being pushed forward. With the exception of the Armidale convention, which for special reasons will not be held till the week commencing November 17, all these meetings will be held during the week beginning August 18. The following deputations have been appointed to attend and speak at these gatherings:—Newcastle and Maitland, Revs. Dr. Brown, P. J. Stephen, and Messrs. R. S. Callaghan and J. Blanksby; Tamworth, Revs. J. G. M. Taylor, W. Wools Rutledge, and Mr. T. H. England; Wollongong and Kiama, Revs. W. H. Beale, J. W. Collier, and Mr. F. Over; Orange, Lithgow, and Mudgee, Revs. J. Penman, C. T. Newman, F. Duesbury, and Hon. J. Garrard; Goulburn and Wagga Wagga, Rev. R. H. Richard and Hon. Wm. Robson, M.L.C.; Taree and Kempsey, Rev. W. G. Taylor and P. N. Slade; Grafton and Lismore, Rev. J. E. Carruthers and Mr. H. M. Hawkins. It is hoped that at least £10,000, including the amount already subscribed, will be the result of this effort.

The Baptist Home Missionary committee has purchased a valuable property in Temora, upon which it is intended shortly to erect a church building. There is a manse already on the site. Steps are being taken to settle a minister in that town, making it the headquarters of the Baptist work in the district.

The Rev. John Young Wai, who has just completed 25 years as minister of the Chinese Presbyterian Church, Foster-street, was tendered a social last week in honour of the occasion. The gathering, which took place in the church, was presided over by the Rev. Philip Norman, Moderator of the New South Wales Presbyterian General Assembly. Addresses were delivered by the Rev. John Walker, Commissioner of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. James Cole, convener of Foreign Missions; the Revs. James Lamont, C. H. Talbot, Dr. Dill Macky, and Mr. Godson. The latter gentleman addressed the Chinese present in their native tongue. During the evening Mr. Mark Joe, on behalf of the members of the Church, presented Mr. Young Wai with a minister's gown, a dress suit, a silk hat, and an illuminated address, conveying the best wishes of the congregation, and expressing the hope that he might live to minister to them for many years. A programme of vocal and instrumental music was gone through, many of the contributors being Chinese.

WONDERS OF THE EAR.

The wonderful invention of Dr. G. M. JORDAN, the world-renowned Aural Specialist, has revived hope in the hearts of the legion of people who for years past have been martyrs to Deafness, Head Noises, Ringing in the Ears, and Diseases of the Ear generally. The ear, which is the most fragile of all human organs, had baffled all scientific thinkers until the EAROSCOPE was happily discovered by Dr. C. M. Jordan to attain the desired end. This treatment contains no Drugs, and no Electricity, but Pure, Natural Aural Kinetics, which is used by all patients at their own homes, without the aid of any physician.

Anybody desiring to know how this Pure Aural Kinetics (Nature's own treatment) should be used for the various aural diseases can obtain full FREE particulars by writing to, or calling at, the "EAROSCOPE INSTITUTE," which is situated at 90 Pitt-street, Sydney, N.S.W.—Advt.

	£34,602 8 1

The Committee regret to have to record the death of Sir John See, K.C.M.G., and at the same time desire to express their appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered by him on the occasion of the initiation of the Fund.

His death has caused a vacancy on the General Committee which may be filled up at this Meeting.

The Executive Committee have again to thank the authorities generally for assistance in investigating applications.

This Statement of Receipts and Expenditure, duly signed by the Trustees, and audited by Messrs. David Fell and Co., F.C.A.A., is now placed before you, and on its adoption will be published as required under Bylaw No. 8.

AUGUSTUS F. ROBINSON, Chairman of Executive Committee.

VICTORIA.

ALLEGED PROHIBITED IMMIGRANT.

"FAKED" PAPERS.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Wong Ah Fook was charged at the City Court to-day with being a prohibited immigrant. When arrested last night he stated that he had been in Australia seven months, having passed the Customs authorities at Sydney under naturalisation papers in the name of Ah Fat, which he had purchased at Hongkong for 375 dollars. He further stated that the Sydney authorities had not applied the education test, but merely asked his name and age. Wong Ah Fook admitted today that his story was untrue. He said that nine months ago he joined the ship Wimbledon at Cardiff as a fireman. The vessel came to Melbourne three weeks ago. He alleged that he had been maltreated by the second engineer, and had complained to the captain without avail. Consequently, when the ship was discharging at Melbourne he deserted. The Wimbledon is at present in Sydney, and Captain Cowper is now on his way to Melbourne. The Chinese will appear at the City Court again to-morrow.

ACQUITTED OF A CHARGE OF MURDER.

The second trial of Elizabeth Downey, a nurse, on a charge of murdering a young woman named Vida Patullo, was concluded today. The Crown alleged that Patullo's death was the result of an illegal operation. Accused was found not guilty. Another charge, that of having illegally used an instrument, has been laid against Mrs. Downey, who, therefore, continues on remand to again appear before the Court.

COUNTRY NEWS.

CAUGHT BY A CHAFFCUTTER.

BEGA, Friday.

Mr. R. V. Ritchie met with a very painful accident at Springvale, near Bega, yesterday, which resulted in a compound fracture of the left arm, midway between the wrist and the elbow, and a broken tendon. He was working a chaffcutter, and got caught in the spindle of the horseworks while tightening the pin.

RECORD COAL HAULAGE.

CESSNOCK, Friday.

Last Tuesday constituted a record in haulage for the East Greta Coal Company's line. For 24 hours ending midnight on Tuesday, no less than 28 trains of coal went sea-ward from the South Maitland collieries. The 28 trains averaged 40 waggons per train, and the 1120 waggons represented over 10,000 tons of coal. This is undoubtedly the largest amount of coal that has left the South Maitland coalfields in a single day.

BREACH OF THE LIQUOR ACT.

LITHGOW, Friday.

At the Wallerawang Police Court on Wednesday, William Smith was summoned for selling one glass of rum at Cross Roads, near Newnes, on the 29th ult., without being the holder of a license. He was fined £30, with 6s costs, or four months' imprisonment in Bathurst Gaol. George Thomas Smith, for aiding and abetting William Smith, in commission of the above offence, was fined £30, costs 6s, or four months' imprisonment.

MUNICIPAL.

MACLEAN, Friday.

The Municipal Council has appointed a committee to report on the advisability to amalgamate with the Harwood Shire.

At the annual installation in connection with Lodge Star of the West, the following officers were installed:—W. M., Bro. A. G. F. Bollinger; I.P.M., Bro. D. Geddes; S.W., Bro. W. J. Saunders; J.W., Bro. A. E. M'Intosh; treasurer, Wor. Bro. E. Best; secretary, Wor. Bro. L. Myers; D.C., Wor. Bro. T. Russell; S.D., Bro. E. Davies; J.D., Bro. R. Turnbull; organist, Bro. G. P. Pararicini; I. G., Bro. W. E. Smiles; stewards, Bros. J. T. Best and F. J. Glasson; tyler, Wor. Bro. G. J. Pararicini. Wor. Bro. W. Rees fulfilled the duties of Installing Master. The visiting brethren included visitors from Sydney, Melbourne, Moree, and Orange, and other district centres. At the conclusion, a most successful ball was held, some 60 couples being present.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

NARANDERA, Friday.

The Quarter Sessions continued before Judge Rogers. Mr. Merewether appeared for the Crown. Leslie Cooper, a youth, charged with stealing £20 from Rail's station, Narandera, was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment in Bathurst Gaol.

BRAIDWOOD, Friday.

The monthly police escort took 544oz 18dwt 7grs gold to Tarago to-day.

The insurance against the late fire at the Mongarlowe post office, hotel, and store, was £400 on the hotel, in the Australian Mutual Office. The store building was not insured. The contents were insured in the same office for £375. It is estimated that twice this amount of loss has been sustained. Mr. Elliott, the coroner, holds an inquiry next Tuesday.

CARINDA, Friday.

Mr. W. H. Southwick, who has been in charge of the local post-office for eight years, was entertained at the Grand Hotel last evening, prior to his departure for Dubbo. Mr. C. L. Brown, on behalf of the citizens, presented Mr. Southwick with a silver tea and coffee service and salver; also a sovereign case.

COOMA, Friday.

Severe frosts have taken place in the district lately. In some parts, settlers cannot put a pick in the ground, and swamps and morasses are frozen over to such an extent that horses and vehicles can be driven over them, without breaking the ice. Some tourists have felt the cold intensely. Colds and bronchial affections are prevalent.

The Under-Secretary for Finance and Trade advises that the Thredbo River bridge will be proceeded with by day labour as speedily as possible. Delays had occurred through being unable to obtain supplies of timber but all orders have now been completed.

KEMPSEY, Friday.

One of the most successful balls ever held took place in the Agricultural Hall last night, in aid of the local hospital fund.

PORTLAND, Friday.

A public meeting was held in the Commonwealth Hall on Wednesday night for the purpose of electing officers for the newly-formed School of Arts. The following were elected:—President, Mr. A. E. Coates; vice-presidents, Dr. J. B. Wilson and Mr. J. Crisp; treasurer, Mr. F. Goodman; secretary, Mr. T. Ironmonger. A site for a building has been granted by the Government on the school property, and as the institution has a membership of more than 50 it is intended to start a building almost immediately.

QUEANBEYAN, Friday.

A well-attended meeting of persons interested in the formation of an Anglers' and Tourists' Association was held at Harrison's Hotel. It was unanimously decided to form the association, and officers elected were: President, Mr. John Gale; vice-presidents, Messrs. E. E. Morgan and C. W. O'Hanlon; secretary, Mr. W. E. Gale; treasurer, Mr. C. S. Harrison. A committee was also formed to draw up rules, and it is expected that a large roll of members will be secured.

TELEPHONE EXCHANGE FOR NARRABRI.

DEPARTMENTAL DELAY.

NARRABRI, Friday.

Considerable discontent has been occasioned by the delay of the authorities in carrying out the installation of the telephone exchange here. It is now over six months since the necessary number of subscribers were obtained and accepted by the department. A considerable amount of material has arrived and been lying here for some weeks, but there is yet no sign of the erection of the poles or wires. Almost all the towns surrounding Narrabri are enjoying telephonic communication, and, naturally, the delay in the installation is very much resented. The Federal representative is again to be asked to urge Narrabri's claims to immediate attention in this matter.

DETERMINED SUICIDE.

A YOUNG MARRIED MAN.

WEST WYALONG, Friday.

A young married man named Henry Thacker, a resident of Temora district, committed suicide by taking arsenic—after attempting to cut his throat—on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. He and his wife had been living apart for some time, the latter being in service about eight miles from Wyalong. It was after paying a visit to her at this place he committed the deed, which he had previously threatened. He left at night, and some of the people at the house hearing a call for help went to where Thacker was, and found him in a dying condition.

THE COMMONWEALTH PARLIAMENT.

THE SENATE.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTERS.)

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The President took the chair at 10.30 a.m.

TRANSCONTINENTAL RAILWAY BILL.

The Kalgoorlie to Port Augusta Railway Survey Bill was received from the House of Representatives, and read the first time.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

Consideration of the Bills of Exchange Bill in committee was resumed.

An amendment was proposed on clause 7 relating to the admissibility of bills of exchange, promissory notes, and cheques as evidence in court cases in order to overcome a number of legal objections raised during the debate in connection with the stamp duties of the different States.

The MINISTER FOR HOME AFFAIRS said that he had since considered the matter, and drafted another amendment which the Attorney-General thought was hardly sufficient to meet the case. He therefore asked for the postponement of the clause, which was agreed to.

Clauses 8 to 78 were agreed to without amendment.

On clause 79, providing that cheques must be presented within a reasonable period for payment, the suggestion was made by Senator Clemons that a fixed time should be inserted in the bill, and he was supported by several members, including Senator Walker, who proposed six months. Eventually consideration of the clause was postponed to allow the Minister an opportunity of considering the matter, and to draft a clause to meet the wishes of the House.

Clause 80 was agreed to without amendment.

A discussion took place on clause 81, which provides for the protection of banks in paying fraudulently-altered cheques, by limiting their liability to the amount for which the cheques were originally drawn, responsibility being thrown on the drawer if there should be negligence in writing out the cheque.

Consideration was postponed.

Clauses 82 to 99 were passed.

In clause 100, providing that where a notary is not obtainable, any householder or substantial resident may, in the presence of two witnesses, give a certificate attesting the dishonour of a bill to operate in all respects as a formal protest of the bill. A division took place on the amendment proposed by Senator Givens, to make such certificate a sufficient protest whether a notary might be obtainable or not, and the amendment was agreed to by 11 votes to 10.

The remaining clauses were agreed to, and progress was reported.

PARLIAMENTARY WITNESSES PROTECTION.

The MINISTER FOR HOME AFFAIRS moved the second reading of the Parliamentary Witnesses Protection Bill. He said it was practically a transcription of the bill which was passed in the Senate last year. That bill was read the first time in the House of Representatives, but was not gone on with.

The second reading was agreed to.

In committee all the clauses were agreed to without amendment, and the bill was reported.

ADJOURNMENT.

VICE-REGAL "AT HOME."

In response to an invitation from her Excellency Lady Northcote, about 200 ladies interested in the New South Wales Branch of the Australian Exhibition of Women's Work assembled at Government House yesterday afternoon, when her Excellency gave an "at home," which proved one of the most enjoyable and interesting gatherings possible. After receiving the visitors, her Excellency proceeded to the ballroom, where chairs had been placed for the guests, and an informal meeting was held. Miss Rawson, Lady Fawkes, and the Lady Mayoress occupied seats on the dais, and Captain Greville, Captain Stephens, Captain Fyers, Mr. Share, and Captain Wilson were in attendance. Her Excellency read an interesting report of the work being done in England, on the Continent, and, in fact, all over the world, for the exhibition. Queens and Princesses, the wives of foreign Ambassadors and all high officials, are contributing in the most hearty and liberal manner, and, as showing the value of some of the exhibits which will be on view in Melbourne, her Excellency stated that the insurance on some of them amounted to £400 each, and there were many valued at over £100. A charming letter was read from the Countess Harrach, who said the German women were gladly forwarding some work, and hoped the Australian women would return the compliment when the women of Germany held an exhibition. Her Excellency also handed round a photograph of a picture of "Pomona," by Burne Jones, which is being embroidered in silk by Anne Cary, and is 6ft long and 3½ft wide; and Mrs. Hugh Dixson showed some very old pictures embroidered in silk and aerophane, with the faces of the figures painted in, which she will probably exhibit. Her Excellency expressed her gratitude to the Sydney ladies for the great interest and help they had given, and hoped they would all consider it "our" exhibition. Miss Rawson, as president of the New South Wales branch, read a report of the work done, and thanked her Excellency, on behalf of all present, for the immense amount of trouble she was taking in connection with the exhibition. All entries should be forwarded as early as possible to the head office in Sydney for classification, and a full description of the exhibit should be supplied and signed by the exhibitor. The Lady Mayoress also spoke of the excellent progress made by the members of the central branch of the executive committee, and said she had received £100 towards prizes and expenses. Mr. David Fell has also received £100, so that the Sydney display promises to be worthy of the State. The greatest care will be taken of valuable exhibits, which will be kept under glass. At the conclusion of the meeting tea was served, and her Excellency chatted first with one and then another about the work she has so much at heart. The guests included all the ladies of the executive committee, each Mayoress of the different suburbs, members of the Lady Mayoress's central branch, and many ladies connected with the work in all departments and sections. Dr. Mackellar, Mr. David Fell, Mr. Somers, and Mr. Lane Mullins were also present.

FIRE EXTINCTION.

TRIAL ON SHIPBOARD.

At the invitation of Dr. Harker and Captain Grainger, a number of those interested in shipping, insurance, and mercantile businesses yesterday witnessed a demonstration of Dr. Harker's invention for the prevention and extinction of fires, on board the hulk Tamar in Kerosene Bay. The principle of the invention is the reduction of the oxygen in the air by the use of coal or coke. By burning these substances in ordinary air under proper conditions a gas is provided, freed from a great proportion of the oxygen in the original air, and low enough to prevent the combustion of all ordinary substances. An essential feature of the process consists in the cooling and partial cleaning of the gases before use.

The apparatus used is of the simplest description. The gases after leaving the boiler and before passing into the fan are first cooled and at the same time partially cleaned. They are then led through a pipe into the hold itself. The apparatus for cooling consists simply of a cylinder, down which a shower of sea water continually passes. The small power necessary to drive the fan and the salt-water pump are derived from the combustion of the coal used in providing the gases. In those ships working with forced draught all that is necessary to work the process would be the apparatus for cooling the gases and the pipes leading to the various holds and compartments.

In this process it is claimed that it provides a means of extinguishing fires which is not only economical and effective, but has the enormous advantage over water in that cargo is not damaged.

In the tests yesterday a few minutes only were occupied in generating the gas and pumping it into a section of the Tamar's hold. Some dealboards well saturated with kerosene were then lighted, and after they were well ablaze they were lowered into the hold. They had not reached the bottom before the fire was completely extinguished, and being hoisted on deck again there was not a spark of fire to be seen. The process was repeated with equal success, and then a campfire made of coal, and burning fiercely in the high wind, was lowered into the hold. As with the wood, it was out before getting to the bottom. Favourable opinions were expressed by those who witnessed the demonstration.

Two large pictures of the Katoomba Falls appear in this week's issue of the "Sydney Mail." One is a beautiful photograph of the frozen falls, and the other illustrates the pathetic and tragic deaths of two young people.—Advt.

A FLOOD OF SYDNEY EVIDENCE.

Every day in Sydney; every day in all parts of Australia respectable reputable citizens are voluntarily coming forward and publicly making statements of the benefit they have derived from the use of

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS

These people have no object to derive but to benefit their fellows. They have been ill; many of them cripples, and they have found that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which make new blood, have restored them to health and strength. They wish other sufferers to enjoy the same blessings. Below are given the experiences of a few Sydney people, who will tell you the same thing if you call to see them:—

Anæmia.—Enmore.

"About eight years ago I began to see that I was losing my blood supply," said Mrs. Emily O'Toole, Enmore, Sydney. "I gradually got very pale—my eyelids and finger-nails had no colour whatever. Finally I wasn't able to get about, and became so nervous and irritable that I didn't want to speak to anyone. At one period I was laid up for three months. My heart became weak, and I had palpitation on doing the slightest thing. My ankles swelled up, and I couldn't get my boots on. I often had fainting fits, which came on without the slightest warning.

"I always had to have someone in the house all the time, as I couldn't work. At last a friend recommended me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I took two boxes, and was inclined to give them up, but my husband said I hadn't given them a fair trial, and urged me to go on, which I did. After taking the next box I noticed an improvement. My appetite began to improve, and I became stronger. I kept on with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and kept getting better with every box, till at last I was thoroughly cured."

Rheumatic Fever.—Surry Hills.

"Three years ago I had Rheumatic Fever," said Mrs. Ada Kelly, 253 Riley-street, Surry Hills, Sydney. "After the fever left me I was subject to Rheumatic Gout. There was a constant gnawing pain in the joints of my legs and feet. They swelled to an enormous size. I could not put my foot to the ground. I suffered like this for years. With every change of the weather I had to lay up. I was oftener in bed than out of it. I tried many doctors' prescriptions, but all with the same result—no better. My sister, Mrs. Clara Brown, had the same complaint, but in a worse form, and she had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and she persuaded me to try them.

"After taking the first three boxes I felt very much better—certainly the pain was less and the swellings were not half as bad as they had been. I could put my foot to the ground and could move a little. I still went on taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I felt a different woman. Nine boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured me, and now I am able to do my own work like any other woman."

Indigestion.—Newtown.

"I suffered very much from Indigestion," said Mrs. Mary Gleeson, 218 Wilson-street, Newtown, Sydney. "I was under the doctor's treatment, but only had slight relief. It is barely possible to describe the pain I endured, more especially in the chest and between the shoulders. I never got a proper night's sleep, and would wake up in the morning feeling unfit for work—my legs and arms were powerless.

"I suffered from Rheumatism in my hands and feet, which were swollen, particularly at the joints. The swellings were accompanied by a dull aching pain. A friend of mine living at Blayney who had been cured of similar complaints by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, advised me to take them, so I took four boxes. After the first box I felt great relief. I lost that terrible pain in the chest, and was not afraid to eat my meals. After taking three more boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was perfectly cured of Rheumatism and Indigestion."

Woolloomooloo Worries.

"Eight years ago I had a severe attack of Rheumatic Fever, which lasted some time," said Mr. George Quinn, 30 Duke-street, Woolloomooloo, Sydney. "I started work before I was sufficiently strong. One day I became over-heated, and did as so many others do—took a cold bath—the result was I had to take to my bed very ill with Rheumatism and Gout. For eight or nine weeks I could not move. The pain was so severe that I often shrieked like a madman, for fear of being touched. My feet and hands were swollen to a great size. My arms became twisted behind my back, and to get my flannel off it had to be cut to pieces. For months at a time I could not walk without the aid of a stick.

"I suffered like this for years, taking doctors' as well as patent medicines. But everything failed to give me relief. As a last resource I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I must have been taking them for about five weeks before I could feel that they were doing me much good. After that the pains got less daily, and so did the swellings. I could even move with ease, and in a short time I soon got back to work, and from that day to this I have been perfectly cured."

Young Girl Fading.

"At the age of eleven I was a very delicate child," said Miss S. E. E. Cooper, 36 Gowrie-street, Newtown, Sydney. "I seemed to be fading away to a shadow. I lost my appetite, and soon became so weak that I could not stand. I did not seem to have any blood in my body. Judging by the colour of my face and hands what blood I had in my body turned to water. My skin was an awful colour. My hands and feet were always cold. My eyes felt heavy, and at times I couldn't hold my head up. I could not eat, so it was little use trying to tempt me with food. My sister was suffering like me at the same time, but mother never thought that I would recover.

"The doctor said that I was suffering from anaemia in a very bad form, but his medicine did not do me any good. My sister was cured by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, so mother decided to try them for me. She got a course for me, and by the time I had finished it I was perfectly cured of anaemia."

Newtown Woman's Case.

"I had a terrible turn of Indigestion—the pain I am not likely to forget, for it simply doubled me in two," said Mrs. Maggie Densley, 103 Campbell-street, Newtown, Sydney. "I constantly had a stuffed-up sensation. The pain worked from the centre of my chest through between my shoulder blades. I felt as though a red-hot wire were being twisted through my body. I was afraid to eat, because of the pain that followed. Though I ate so little I was always having bilious attacks. To try and improve my health I went to many health resorts, thinking by the change I would lose my indigestion.

"In each and every town I consulted the local doctors, but without bettering myself at all. Once my husband sent for me to attend the Land Board, but when I arrived I was so ill that I had to return home again. The doctor said I must go to the hospital, but this I would not do. Then a friend said to me: 'Why not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?' I did so, and after taking several doses I got relief. In the end I was perfectly cured, and since then I have never had the slightest symptom of my old complaint."

WHAT THEY CURE:

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills don't cure everything, but they do cure all diseases caused by bad blood. There are twenty diseases caused by bad blood, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure them all because they remove the cause.

COMMERCIAL BANK OF SYDNEY.

PROSPEROUS HALF-YEAR.

STRONG BALANCE-SHEET.

The half-yearly meeting of the above institution was held at the chief banking-house yesterday, Mr. Geo. J. Cohen presiding. The report and balance-sheet submitted showed a net profit of £79,189, which, after deducting rebate on current bills to the amount of £7390, and adding £25,860 brought forward, makes £97,659 available for distribution. The board proposed a dividend at the rate of 10 per cent. per annum, absorbing £50,000, to add £20,000 to the reserve fund, and carry £27,659 forward to next account.

In moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet the chairman said when the last half-yearly balance-sheet was presented he was able to report a very substantial expansion of the bank's business, and it would be gratifying to shareholders that the statement then placed before them showed still further improvement. As compared with those of 12 months ago, their figures showed a very satisfactory increase. The total figures had expanded by £1,434,000, made up on the debit side by increases under the following headings:—Capital, £213,565; reserve fund, £92,713; notes in circulation, £66,000; deposits and other liabilities, £1,280,000; profit and loss account, £10,560; while there had been a shrinkage of £208,745 in bills in circulation, but this was always a fluctuating item. On the other side there had been a decrease of £1,109,000 in money at short call in London, which was more than compensated for by increases in coin and cash at bankers of £566,000, Government securities £465,000, and sundry other items, amounting to £234,000, which summed up gave an increase in their liquid of assets of £297,000. The proportion of liquid assets to their total liabilities to the public was well maintained at 10s 5d in the £. There had been also the very satisfactory increase of £1,130,000 in their lendings under the heading of bills discounted and all debts due to the bank. The reserve fund then stood at £1,192,000. As he stated at the extraordinary meeting of shareholders held on April 19 last, the directors considered that the time had arrived when they were warranted to still further increase the strength of the bank, because of the large business they were doing and the great confidence reposed in them by the public generally.

The proposal made then to the shareholders, and confirmed at the subsequent meeting of May 10 last, provided that, by the issue of new shares, further capital to the extent of £250,000 should be called up in four equal quarterly instalments, beginning on June 29 last, at the same time giving shareholders the option of paying up in full on that date, with participation in profits from July 1. He was now in a position to inform them that the shareholders so largely availed themselves of this option that actually over 85 per cent. of the whole £250,000 was paid up on the 29th ult., with a similar proportion of the addition to reserves derived from the premium on the new shares.

On the 7th inst their general manager, Mr. T. A. Dibbs, completed his diamond jubilee of 60 years' service in the bank, having been appointed as a junior clerk in July, 1847. On March 20 last he attained his fortieth year as general manager. In these circumstances he proposed to give them some particulars of the past history of the bank, and its great progress during this period. The shareholders, who in 1848, when the bank was incorporated during Sir Edward Knox's management, numbered 160, have all passed away. The only surviving officer of that date was their general manager. The directors who appointed Mr. Dibbs general manager in 1867 are all deceased. Of the 625 officers then in the bank, no fewer than 606 were appointed by the various boards of directors on Mr. Dibbs's recommendation. Only 20 members of the staff, including himself, then remained of those in the bank when he took charge in 1867. The total amount of dividends paid to the shareholders during the management of Mr. Dibbs is £4,391,830, the total amount paid previous to this being only £703,989, making a total of £5,095,819 paid since the incorporation of the bank. And during the same period the directors had not been unmindful of the staff, bonuses having been paid to them approaching £200,000. The average rate of dividend paid by the bank for the 40 years under Mr. Dibbs's administration was upwards of 17 per cent. The reserve funds in 1867 amounted to £117,818. They were now £1,240,373, showing that the large sum of £1,125,555 had been added to the reserves during his 40 years' management. He would like to emphasise the fact that during this long period the average annual addition to the reserves amounted to £28,000. To have done this, and so to have built up the strength of the bank to its present position, were evidences of careful and prudent management, and must be highly satisfactory to the shareholders.

It is worthy of notice that the totals of the balance-sheet in 1867 were £2,393,000. In the detailed accounts then presented they were £18,948,000, showing the large increase of £16,555,000. The number of branches in March, 1867, was 27, whilst including the branch in London they now had 162, showing an increase of 135. Most of the early branches were opened personally by Mr. Dibbs in the pioneering days, when the facility for travelling on railways with the luxury of sleeping cars was unknown. The coin and cash balances, including British Consols, Government debentures, etc., were now £8,605,000. In 1867 the total was £329,000, exhibiting the substantial increase of £8,276,000.

He could state that this balance-sheet was the strongest, with the largest of totals, of any he had had the pleasure of presenting, and he congratulated the shareholders on the position of the bank, which had shared in the general prosperity of the State.

The report was adopted. Some proceedings in connection with Mr. Dibbs's jubilee appear on another page.

Mr. F. T. Humphery, M.L.C., was re-elected a director, and Messrs. E. S. Cape and F. W. Hixson were appointed auditors for the ensuing year.

CITY BANK OF SYDNEY.

INCREASED DIVIDEND DECLARED.

The half-yearly meeting of the City Bank of Sydney was held yesterday, Mr. Hugh Dixson presiding. The chairman, in moving the adoption of the report and balance-sheet, particulars of which have already been published, said that the figures showed considerable expansion. The activity of business was evidenced by an increase in the note circulation, which was £93,449, as compared with £76,532 a year back. An improvement in the general financial position of their customers had raised deposits and other liabilities from £1,086,151, at this date last year, to £1,233,382. That the position of the bank had been appreciably strengthened was shown by an increase of the coin, bullion, and cash balances from £330,110 to £359,736, and of Consols and Government securities from £50,000 to £92,000; and that they had met the legitimate demands of their customers for accommodation, naturally required by the increasing development of the resources of the State, was further disclosed by the amount of bills discounted and other debts due to the bank, which were £1,148,541, as against £1,052,044 last year. The board considered these figures very satisfactory, and were gratified with the progress and sound condition of the business of the bank. The prospects of the producing and trade interests of the State, with good seasons and satisfactory prices, were very promising, and, with increased population and expanding business, would assure continued prosperity. They had felt justified in declaring an increased dividend this half-year, and looked forward with confidence to a continued improvement in the business of the bank.

The report was adopted.

SYDNEY GRAMMAR SCHOOL.

JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS.

The 5th of next month will be the fiftieth anniversary of the Sydney Grammar School. It is proposed to celebrate the occasion by a public dinner, which will be given by the Old Boys' Union on August 10. Mr. R. J. Black (president of the union) will preside, and his Excellency the Governor Sir Harry Rawson will be amongst the guests.

In connection with the anniversary, it is proposed to raise a fund of money to equip the ground at Rushcutter Bay that has been recently purchased as a school ground. It is hoped that the sum of £3000 will be collected for this purpose. Many handsome donations have already been received, including £300 from the Knox family and £150 from the Fairfax family. The authorities are anxious to have all donations in hand by August 3.

BALMAIN LIGHTING.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In your issue of to-day I notice a letter over the signature of the secretary of the Australian Gaslight Company, Ltd., wherein he takes exception to a statement made by myself at the council meeting when the question of lighting the municipality with electricity was under consideration. According to the inference drawn by the writer he would make it appear that I was referring to street lighting. Such was not the case. The point I wished to make clear was that for about 2s 8d worth of electrical energy an equal amount of candle-power of light would be given to that supplied by an expenditure of 4s under gas.

I am, etc., J. GOODSIR,
Council Clerk and Engineer.

SHORT-LIVED HONEYMOON.

WHO SHALL RULE?

CHILDREN OR BRIDE.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

This morning the City Court was regaled with the story of a short venture into matrimonial life of a middle-aged widower and a young Australian woman. The partnership lasted but six days, at the end of which the youthful wife left her home. The circumstances of her departure caused her husband to obtain a warrant for her arrest. To-day she stood charged with having stolen £30, the property of her husband.

Mackgar Lucas, the husband, stated that he was the proprietor of a confectionery shop in Collingwood in May last. He was a widower. In April last the accused came to the shop, and said, "I would like very much to be here as housekeeper." He engaged her, but she did not turn up. He married the accused on a Wednesday, and she left on the following Tuesday. On Tuesday he had £30 in a box upstairs. Defendant went out to get curry-powder to make some stew, and she was still getting the powder. (Laughter.) Late on Tuesday night he found the money had gone. A few days later he got a letter from her, which read:—"Dear Sir,—I am writing to you to let you know that I found it impossible to live with you and your family. As you are aware, I have taken money with me, which you gave me the morning after we were married. I hope you will not take the matter seriously, as I thought it well to leave at once, as it was sure to come sooner or later. You need not trouble to look for me, for I intend working for my living, and under no circumstances would I return to you again."

Defendant stated that on the morning after the marriage he took a purse out of the box and told her there was £25 in it, and said, "There's a wedding present for you, my dear." (Laughter.) The children behaved very badly to her. She told her husband that there would have to be an alteration, and either the children or she would have to go. He said he could not put the children out. Witness only took the wedding present prosecutor gave her. She concluded: "On the third night on which I was married my husband said to me, 'Every time I go near you I see the face of my dead wife.' I turned to hate him."

Accused was discharged.

COMMONWEALTH PUBLIC SERVICE.

It is notified by advertisement that applications for the forthcoming examinations for appointment to the clerical and professional divisions close on the 27th inst and 10th prox, respectively. Officers of the general division may qualify for transfer to the clerical division at the clerical examination, and will compete independently of candidates from outside the service, but they will be examined in the same subjects.

The professional division examination, which will be of a higher standard than the clerical examination, is also open to persons both inside and outside the Commonwealth Public Service. With the increasingly rapid extension of the telegraphic and telephonic systems in the various States there is a growing demand for smart juniors in the branches controlled by the electrical engineers. It is recognised by the Commissioner (Mr. D. C. M'Lachlan) that a sound education, including a knowledge of the fundamentals of mathematics and science, is absolutely indispensable before an officer can hope to make any headway in electrical attainments; and as the youth of to-day will probably be the electrical engineer of the future, the Commissioner appreciates the necessity of appointing to that branch of the service only such as have a sound basic education, capable of supporting the superstructure of knowledge they will be expected to acquire during their official careers. The appointees will be styled junior assistant engineers.

THE LIFT FATALITY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—You were good enough to publish the week before last an appeal by myself, for help in this case. Will you allow me to thank the many readers of the "Herald" who have sent me contributions? It has not been possible to acknowledge each letter. The grand total this morning was £683 17s 9d. The proceeds of the concert held last evening, and of that to be given by Mr. Lawrence Campbell, will considerably increase the total. The response has been most generous, and Mrs. Burns is deeply sensible of the wonderful kindness and sympathy shown to her.

I should like to let subscribers know that all moneys received go through a bank account, and the fund will be carefully administered by the committee. I am, etc.,

AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE.

MURRUMBURRAH, Friday.

Mr. John Wason had an exciting adventure near Wombat yesterday. While driving a young draught filly in a sulky, which contained his two sons and himself, the animal began kicking and galloping. One of the shafts snapped. The occupants being powerless, in a moment or two the vehicle capsized, and the sulky falling on top of them dragged them a considerable distance. The two boys were practically uninjured, but Mr. Wason's back was hurt, and he was picked up by a passing vehicle and taken to Young Hospital.

A PERMANENT CURE.

CLEMENTS TONIC

PUTS A DIFFERENT COMPLEXION ON A MISERABLE LIFE, AND AGAIN PROVES ITS MARVELLOUS EFFICACY.

THE PROOF.

(By a Local Reporter.)

"When I was living in Cairns, in Queensland," said Mr. W. S. Hart (this statement, by the way, was made at his residence, No. 44 Toogood-street, Newtown), "I was very bad, owing to some internal derangements, and I don't mind telling you that the pain I had was too much for any mortal man to bear. It

USED TO FAIRLY CRIPPLE ME

sometimes. I remember once the pains across the lower part of my back being so bad that I dropped off a horse I was riding at the time, and you may believe it or not, as you like, but if my life had depended on it I could not get up again. And you can further gauge my sufferings by the fact that on more than one occasion I had to take to my bed, and stay there for five or six weeks at a stretch. Oh, they were if you like—couldn't read, owing to my sight being affected by a peculiar haziness and a feeling in my eyes that they were too large and heavy to keep open, and matters were rendered still more disagreeable by the almost continual presence of headaches that fairly racked my brain. Unless I got up from a chair very steadily I would receive such a shock of giddiness that for the moment I'd almost totter and fall, so I had to be careful; but it was not often I stirred myself more than necessary, because my energy was so sadly lacking.

"As a rule

I HAD NO APPETITE

at all, but when I did eat I felt worse than ever. Pains caught me in the stomach, and made me feel wretched. The same part was always filled with gases that arose from the food that I could not digest, and for a time I could do nothing but belch. Why, even if I only took a drink of water I'd start belching as if I had only been swallowing so much wind; and what a sickly taste I had in the mouth, too! All going to prove that I was bilious and generally out of order. My chest would give one the impression that a piece of rock was inside it, so oppressive was the sensation, and, as if everything had combined to make my life as miserable as possible, the sleep I used to enjoy when my health was good now steadfastly refused to put in an appearance. There I was, night after night, as wakeful yet and as each morning came round again I felt almost fatigued to death. Now, nothing I tried could alter this condition but Clements Tonic, and I have told scores the same thing. I give you my word that before I was advised to try Clements Tonic I was at my wits' end what to do to regain my health, and I firmly believe that no other remedy but Clements Tonic could bring it back to me. I say this from my own experience. But what a marvellous medicine it proved in my case can be gathered from the fact that I was well again in no time. Almost at once Clements Tonic and it had such a soothing effect on my nerves and my system generally that I never failed to sleep soon after going to bed. For the permanent relief from the pains about my back, chest, shoulders, and stomach I shall always be grateful to Clements Tonic, which was equally sure in removing my headaches and other distressing ailments."

AS TIRED AS POSSIBLE,

MADE ME EAT HEARTILY,

IN MEMORIAM.

HUNTER.—In sad but loving memory of my dear husband and our father, John Hunter, who departed this life July 21, 1901, at Walker-street, Redfern.

For many years our family chain
Was firmly linked together;
But, oh, that chain is broken now,
One link has gone for ever.

Inserted by his loving wife, Jane, and family, Ernest, Walter, and Jennie.

HUNTER.—In fond and everlasting memory of our dear father, John Hunter, who passed away to his heavenly home, July 21, 1901, at his late residence, 26 Walker-street, Redfern.

'Twas love that called him home to rest,
We loved him, too, but Jesus loved him best.

Still sadly missed by his affectionate daughter and son-in-law, M. and H. Clark, and grandchildren, Alma, Sylvie, Wallie, and Harry.

HUNTER.—In sad and fond memory of our dear father, John Hunter, who departed this life July 21, 1901, at Redfern. Inserted by his loving son and daughter, John and Maud Hunter.

He is not gone whose memory lives
In hearts that knew his worth.

HUNTER.—In sad but loving memory of our dear father, John Hunter, who departed this life July 21, 1901, at Walker-street, Redfern. Inserted by his loving son and daughter, James and Grace Hunter.

KNIGHT.—In loving memory of my dear wife, Alice Mary Knight and our darling mother, who died July 20, 1901, by being accidentally burnt while attending her sick child. Inserted by her loving husband, George, and affectionate children, William, Frederick, George, and Jack Knight.

KNIGHT.—In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Alice Mary Knight, who departed this life July 20, 1901. Inserted by her loving son, Jim.

MORCOMBE.—In loving memory of my dearly loved wife and our dear mother, Jane Morcombe, who passed away July 21, 1905. Sadly missed by her loving husband and family.

NEICH.—In loving memory of my dear wife and our dear mother, Jane Neich, who departed this life at Ashfield July 21, 1890. Inserted by her loving husband and her dear children.

RITCHIE.—In fond memory of our dear father, John Ritchie, who died July 20, 1906. Inserted by his loving daughter and son-in-law, Hilda and Percy Brissington, of Ethel-street, Carlton, N.S.W.

ROUHAN.—Sacred to the memory of our dearly beloved son and brother, Michael Rouhan, who departed this life on July 21, 1903, at his parents' residence, 24 Morehead-street, Waterloo. Sweet Jesus, have mercy on his soul. Inserted by his loving parents, brothers, and sister.

SAVILLE.—In loving memory of my dear husband and our dear father, Joseph Saville, who passed away July 21, 1903. At rest. Inserted by his loving wife, Louisa Saville, and children.

SCOTT.—In loving remembrance of my dearly beloved husband and father, William Scott, who departed this life July 21, 1899. Gone, but not forgotten. Inserted by his loving wife and children.

THOMPSON.—In sad and loving memory of our dear beloved daughter and sister, May, who fell asleep in Jesus on July 20, 1906, aged 20 years and 7 months. Inserted by her loving parents, sisters, and brother. For ever with the Lord.

THE GREAT FOOTBALL MATCH.

LOOK FOR THE SYDNEY MAIL AGAIN.

There was a tremendous demand, particularly throughout New South Wales and Queensland, for last Wednesday's Special Football Number of the Sydney Mail. Many telegrams were received for extra copies, and the time came when it was no longer possible to meet the demand. This was, in one sense, regrettable, but we may give an assurance even at this early stage that whatever is possible in the way of illustrating the great test match to-day between Australia and New Zealand will be done. Although the Sydney Mail this week was a great success judging by signs that are usually taken to mean popularity, it is quite possible that the public may pronounce our issue next Wednesday even a greater triumph. We think they will. Other features will appear as usual.

THE HEALTH CRAZE.

Is it a sign of the times and a result of physical reaction against the nervous waste and hurry of the age we live in and the competitive conditions of existence that lectures and discussions on health questions command so much attention? Or is it that the widespread practice of the adulteration of foods, and the extraordinary amount of scientific skill which is devoted to that end for commercial reasons, is so undermining the health of the people in the individual and in the mass, and so weakening the vital fibre of the race, that the human animal is unconsciously forced to grope about more or less in the dark for guidance? We are confronted by a curious paradox. There never was a time when the death rate in ordinarily well-conducted cities was lower. Preventive medicine and hygienic science have scared away the plagues and pestilences of the past. Typhoid and other dirt diseases are reduced to a minimum wherever the municipal authorities know their business and intelligently apply modern sanitary measures of cleanliness and prevention. In a city like Sydney, or like London, or Glasgow, or Birmingham, one has only to compare the decrease in the yearly death-rate with the adoption of up-to-date methods of city government to see how closely related are cause and effect. Yet there certainly was never a time when the public showed such a taste for patent and other medicines, specifics, and unfailing remedies, or when the value of such panaceas was more artfully and extensively exploited. Our trams and railway stations are full of these announcements. They fall in the form of loose leaflets out of every freshly-cut magazine. They shriek aloud at the harbour passenger from every foreshore; and they are as difficult to escape or avoid as the rattle of the collection-box at every street corner. That is the odd feature of the business. The average of public health is higher, yet there is more talk about boluses and remedies than ever before. It is an age of patent medicines and breakfast foods, of chatter about diet and vegetarianism, of the new arts of mastication and digestion, and of health fads of every conceivable kind. The normally healthy man or woman is pestered with ceaseless discussion of these things until he or she feels that it is almost uncivil to one's suffering fellow-creatures to be well, and that the sane mind in the healthy body is an affront to polite civilisation. All this is very distressing, and one almost welcomes the Christian Scientist, with her confident assurance that pain and disease are merely matters of the imagination. It is not a very convincing argument, perhaps, and probably the average citizen with the usual liability to human ills will take more comfort from a recent speech by that eminent authority Sir Frederick Treves, at Preston. He had some sound, practical counsel to offer, from which it would appear that in his opinion the middle course lies between faddism on the subject of health and ignoring the subject altogether. He is frankly and cheerfully on the side of the optimists, so far as the diminution of disease is concerned. He relies on the argument of facts for this, and their clear demonstration that infectious disease can be and has been overcome by proved and rationally applied modern sanitary science. He looks forward to a time, he said, when it would be as anomalous for persons to die of scarlet fever, typhoid, cholera, and diphtheria as it would be for a man to die of wolf's bite in England. Probably Sir Frederick is as well aware as most other people of the trite old saying about the unwisdom of prophesying unless you know, but we find him here venturing a prediction in the plainest terms. "I am certain," he says, "it is safe to prophesy that the time will come when hospitals for infectious diseases will be empty and not wanted."

The statement coming from such a source reads like one of those breezy prognostications that everyone would like to believe in and aid in their accomplishment. The lecturer seems to have expected that, for he followed up his remark by the further assurance that he looked to two principal causes as operative in bringing about the result—the progress of medical science and the intelligent interest taken by people in applying it. So far as the former is concerned we know that it is always going on. In a hundred laboratories scientific men of daring and original minds, wise in all the learning of the medical schools, are ceaselessly at work like the old alchemist in his cell in search, not of the philosopher's stone which was to transmute baser betals into gold, but of new truths and new discoveries in the domain of medical science. Every year we learn of new discoveries, but it is only by taking a comprehensive survey over decades of years at a time that we realise adequately the magnitude of the strides that progress in this direction is making. Certain great names, like those of Lister, Virchow, Pasteur, and others are the towering landmarks of this march of achievement. Of course we cannot all participate in these high studies and discoveries. Even to the highly-trained medical man the scope for original work is severely limited. But there is that popular side of the question to which Sir Frederick Treves also refers, and which has to do with the influence of the people themselves. It is not enough to talk of well-governed cities and the protection that may be conferred by legislative enactments of a sanitary character. These are very well in their way, but it has to be remembered that both sanitary laws and municipal health regulations are, after all, but the reflection of the mind of the people and their intelligent determination to have the matters to which they refer properly attended to. The inference, therefore, is that this remarkable awakening of public interest in health matters should be fed, not on patent medicine literature or the verbiage of charlatans preying on the natural fears and hopes of suffering humanity, but on sound practical instruction. Dr. Treves holds strong opinions on the necessity for this. "Men and women," he says, "must recognise that the saying that everyone must eat a peck of dirt before he dies is erroneous, and see that dirt is undesirable." They must learn to replace the old trust in the doctor's shelves full of medicine bottles by simple living, suitable diet, plenty of sun, and plenty of fresh air. Consumption, with its death toll of 50,000 per annum is preventable, Dr. Treves reminds us; the essence of preventive medicine lies in hard facts, prudence, and common sense; the fight of the present day is against the microbe, and the weapons are sanitary regulations, the sanitary inspector, and the medical health officer.

AUSTRALIAN SPORT.

He would be a very superficial and a very querulous critic who would charge Australians to-day with giving too much attention and too much thought to athletics. In England, as we know from our cables, there will be a match for the international championship at lawn tennis between an Australian and a New Zealander on the one side and two Englishmen on the other. At the same time at Bisley a number of Australians, who have already shot remarkably well, will be shooting for the most famous prize open to volunteers. At Sydney there will be a football match between another team of Australians and the representatives of a team who went through the British Isles with an almost unbeaten record. Under such circumstances the question for most of us to settle will be not whether we shall think of athletics at all, but upon what branch of them we are inclined to concentrate our attention. Such of the crowd at the Cricket Ground who are specialists will have a difficulty in so controlling their thoughts as to do justice to the game before them when they think of the chance that next year for the first time the international matches in lawn tennis may have to be decided not at Wimbledon, but in Australia, and the first move made in one sort of Imperial federation. In their dilemma they may find some reasonable consolation for any doubt whether their exultation is justified. Sport is the element one touch of which makes the whole Anglo-Saxon world kin. Australians may congratulate themselves upon the fact that the games in which they excel belong to the clean amateur kind of sport.

There is no doubt every justification for the charge that in the whole year sport occupies too much of our time, and the gossip of sport too much of our conversation. But the reasons for the charge are in many cases transplanted from an English or American setting without the necessary reconsideration. In Australia the danger appears to be that we have too much of a good thing; in England and America it appears to be the fact that largely owing to a change in the conditions of life among the mass of the people a good thing has so altered its nature that it has become in many cases of doubtful value and in others obviously pernicious. The passage from a civilisation governed by a land-owning class on feudal principles has been followed by a change in sport from a game to a spectacle. When we read of the crowds besides which our record attendance of last Saturday would be overwhelmed we know that they applauded the doings of teams who played not for the love of a game or of a locality, but for hire. The crowd itself was watching, not friends or brothers, nor the exponents of a game which men had played themselves with a less degree of skill, but eleven men selected by its club from the different parts of the British Isles to do battle for it. Sport has been transferred for the players into a business, and for the crowd into a spectacle. It has in the course of the change aroused the gambling instinct in society, and, by an inevitable sequence, attracted to itself the scum of the earth. It is not to be denied that the change is a change from good to bad. Games are meant to be played, not to be watched, and the crowd that watches football matches, not only on great occasions, but on every available day of the year not obscured by fog is composed for the most part of men who never played a game in their lives. The consequence of their support is that players are driven out of the spectacular sports who cannot give all their time, or being the unfortunate possessors of a certain amount of skill, are driven to giving many of the years to them that should have been devoted to the business of their lives.

The lesson of English experience is that the presence of the professional means the death of the amateur, as debased coins drive good money out of circulation, or an inferior race destroys the competitor with a reasonable standard of life. The professional organisation of English towns and the more advanced training centres of America are tending to kill certain sports everywhere but in the schools which should be their nurseries. Even cricket, the game in which amateurs and professionals have existed longest side by side, has been affected to its detriment. The absurd amount of publicity surrounding it has driven out of play all those amateurs who cannot keep up to an artificial standard of excellence. The best defence of the English system is that it is the inevitable result of an urban civilisation. The life of the artisan in great towns is such that he cannot take part in games himself. It is so gloomy and so monotonous that he demands excitement on his one free day, and it is the least of the possible evils that he should get it in the open air watching a healthy exercise. What we have to congratulate ourselves upon is that the same evil is by no means necessarily followed by the same consequences as it is in England. Whatever his means or his occupation the dweller in Sydney has his opportunities for participating in some form of outdoor amusement without being a spectator. It is a very sufficient compensation for the good things spread before a Londoner that an Australian city is the best place in the world for leading a healthy life among beautiful surroundings. It is the existence of these surroundings that causes us to regard the presence of vast crowds at the Cricket Ground on successive days with equanimity. We join heartily in the protest against the view that the best test of a game is its capacity for attracting an audience, or against any view which ignores the games played by barefooted urchins in the parks or by stout old gentlemen "perspiring and profane," trying to imitate Mr. Brookes' service with every variety of contortion. But at these international games there is only a small proportion of the spectators to whom the adjective "mere" can be applied. They attract the illegitimate audience, indeed, but also the present and future relations of the players and the past players themselves. They attract, too, the present players, for they show the fine flower of a great game. With them goes that large crowd of citizens which usually prefers taking exercise to watching other people take it, but which on such occasions as this feels as Charles Lamb felt when he shed tears in the Strand for fulness of joy at so much life. There is a fine levelling democratic enthusiasm in these great crowds, and there is sufficient satisfaction of the aesthetic sense to remind a poet or a sculptor of the words of Cleon to Protus about the young man with "muscles all a ripple on his back." What we need from our poets after these outbursts is a Recessional to remind us of the true place of athletics among our activities, or failing a poet, the reminder we are offered by the work of our fellow-countrymen at Bisley.

To-day's "Herald."—Mr. Lucy thinks President Roosevelt will be a Presidential candidate for a new term. The tragic death of Sir Arthur Ellis at the opera almost in the presence of the King, his master and friend of many years, is described. For those who treasure the historical associations of English schools and towns interest will attach to reminiscences of Winchester, of which another contributor, under the heading of Old-fashioned England," gives an appreciation. "A Woman's Letter" contains much matter about the summer dresses and the amusements of society, albeit the summer up to the date of our letter seems very backward. Mr. Favenc, in the concluding paper on the "Seas of Australia," touches on the calm of Carpentarian waters contrasted with the treacherous violence of the North-Western Ocean. "In the Garden" gives directions about the seasonable planting of seeds for annuals, and other garden work. In the final paper of the series on Australia, our contributor stresses the claims of this country to larger immigration. There is a note on a "Historical Document," which illustrates the function of the Privy Council and its Imperial constitution.

Illawarra Sewerage Scheme.—Mr. J. M. Smail, Engineer-in-Chief of the Metropolitan Board of Water Supply and Sewerage, was examined by the Public Works Committee yesterday in regard to the Illawarra and western suburbs sewerage scheme. He expressed the opinion that a purely gravitation scheme was impracticable, and recommended partial pumping. Mr. Smail went into technical details, and explained the action of the waves and other factors which have to be reckoned with.

State Fire Insurance in New Zealand.—A significant remark is made by Mr. Brindley, manager of the State Fire Insurance Office, in his annual report to Parliament (writes our Wellington correspondent), namely, that the rates of premiums are "lower than they should be." Now this is exactly what was said by the private companies whose iniquities the State Office was created to circumvent; and it does not seem the best business for the colony to chop down the rates, as it has done, and then to be told by its executive officer that it has cut them to an unsafe degree. The manager sets out that the net income of the State Office for 1906 was £20,962 8s, in comparison with £13,127 11s 9d for 1905. He states that early in last year the insurance companies abandoned all their higher rates, and from thence forward the rates of premium of the State Office and the private insurance companies have been alike. The difference between the rates which now prevail and those which prevailed just prior to the advent of the State Office represents, say, £200,000 per annum. "Though the prevailing rates of premium presumably are highly satisfactory to the insuring public, in view of the fact that they are very much below what they were, nevertheless experience has shown that they are lower than they should be, and this fact has been very much impressed upon the private insurance companies, whose competition has failed to make the State Office lose heavily, as they anticipated, although necessarily their action reduced its profit results by some £12,000." It will be particularly interesting to see what is intended to be done about this. Mr. Brindley is an experienced underwriter, and must surely realise the financial error of carrying on business with a premium rate less than can be regarded as secure. Yet a remedy can only be sought by adopting a policy which must condemn the procedure of the immediate past.

The Diseased Animals and Meat Act.—The question whether the owner of animals which have been sold for him by an auctioneer, and subsequently found to be diseased, comes under the 47th section of the Diseased Animals and Meat Act was decided yesterday in Chambers. A man named Bailey had been convicted and fined for contravening the section, which enacts that any person who sold, consigned, or exposed for sale, or supplied for rations, any diseased animal should be liable to a penalty not exceeding £20. He appealed on the ground that he did not sell the cows, and that there was nothing to show that before proceedings were taken the animals had been seized, condemned, and destroyed. The argument was heard on Friday week, and Mr. Acting Justice Sly delivered his reserved decision yesterday. His Honor held that the sale by the auctioneer was equivalent to a sale by the owner, and that proof that the animals had been seized, condemned, and destroyed, was not a condition precedent to prosecution under section 47 of the Act.

Municipal Clerks' Complaint.—We believe the time is ripe, as it never was hitherto in this State (states the annual report of the Municipal Clerks' Association), for the establishment of a powerful organisation of municipal workers which will secure for us an improved status, and an influence which, if discreetly exercised, should have the effect of strengthening us in our official positions. . . . . One's thoughts naturally turn to the smaller municipalities. What of the position of the clerks in these centres, under the new Act and its ordinances? How, it may well be asked, can a clerk faithfully carry out the multifarious duties imposed upon him who has also to act as inspector of nuisances and poundkeeper, and possibly overseer of works, to say nothing of the fact that he may be called upon to act in this Chinese opera-like combination of offices for the munificent salary of £75 or £150 per annum, these being actually the rates of remuneration attached to such positions quite recently advertised in the public press. That many councils are practically unable to employ a staff sufficiently strong and well paid to do the work required by the ordinances is a matter of common knowledge. It is more than likely that the work will not be done. In which case what becomes of the ordinances and the penalties provided therein for neglect of duty, or—what becomes of the clerks? Of course, difficulties of this kind could have been provided for in framing the ordinances by some method of grading, which will probably be adopted as the ultimate solution.

The Church Society.—The fifty-first annual meeting of this society was held on Wednesday night in the large hall of the Y.M.C.A. The Archbishop of Sydney presided over a limited attendance. The report referred to the great need which exists for more active and united efforts. There had been a slight decrease in the ordinary sources of revenue as compared with the previous year. The income of the free fund was £2912, including £300 subscriptions and donations. At the beginning of the year the debt balance stood at £375; it was now £390. The stipends and salaries sent by the parishes for direct payment to the clergy and catechists, and not at the disposal of the committee, amounted to £13,006. The grants in aid to clergy and catechists amounted to £2215. The sum of £500 had been allocated specially for church extension, and of this £375 had been given to the mission zone fund in four yearly instalments, and the balance devoted to the erection or enlargement of new churches. As a result of the jubilee celebrations, it was estimated that £1107 had been received. Addresses were delivered by the chairman and other gentlemen, and the report and balance-sheet were adopted unanimously.

Detention of the Aorangi.—Further complaints having been made with reference to the detention of the R.M.S. Aorangi at Watson's Bay on Monday night awaiting medical inspection, additional particulars have been obtained by the President of the Board of Health. Dr. Ashburton Thompson states that the port health officer, expecting the Aorangi, was on the look out for her. At 4 p.m. it was reported to him from the signal station that the ship was 23 miles off the Heads, and again at 5 p.m. he was notified that she was six miles away. If she arrived at 5.16 p.m., as alleged, she must have been travelling at the rate of 24 miles an hour. As a matter of fact, it was noted that she entered the Heads at 5.36 p.m., and was off Lang's Point at 5.35 p.m., and that she actually brought up in Watson's Bay after 5.40. It is the duty of the port health officer to watch for vessels, and ascertain the times when they happen to arrive near sunset, so that there was nothing unusual in the recording of the details with respect to the Aorangi's movements. Dr. Thompson considers that the methods of inspection employed were adequate.

Profitable Farming.—Many settlers on the land lately have found a kind of farming to which they were strangers not long ago pay them handsomely. They have taken up areas for cultivation on estuaries where oysters flourish, and have divided their time between tilling the land and planting-out oysters on the adjacent river flats covered at high tide with water. Oysters, if farmed in a practical way, return a handsome profit, especially in places where proper provision is made for securing spat. The growth of these double-farming areas has resulted in a general improvement in the conditions of men wise and energetic enough to engage in the occupation, and the curious fact is noted that even in places where oysters were scarce the establishment of one culture lease has vastly improved the adjacent frontages. The reason for this is that men have bought bags of tiny oysters from the Fisheries Department and planted them out where they will grow much quicker than when clustered in dense masses on rocks, and the spat they have thrown has caused the bivalves to spread along miles of estuary shore where they were previously non-existent. The growth of demand for oyster leases, not always by men owning the contiguous territory, by the way, has been remarkable during the last year, as no less than an average of 2000 yards of foreshore have been leased for oyster culture every week by the department during that period.

The "Lady Help."—As a side contribution to the complex question of how to obtain and keep domestic servants, a decision given by Mr. Acting Justice Sly in Chambers yesterday is interesting, though to reduced gentlewomen who accept positions as lady helps it may be somewhat of a shock. The case submitted was one in which a female had been engaged as lady help at an establishment at Warren, and the contract contained a stipulation that she was to assist in all household duties, except washing. According to her employer's evidence, the lady help left after a brief experience of life at Warren, and when he asked for an explanation he was informed by his former employee that she was not cut out for a life of servile domesticity. As the "young person" had not recouped him the expense of bringing her up to Warren, and declined to resume the job, she was prosecuted under the Masters and Servants Act for absenting herself without reasonable cause. Being fined, she, yesterday, appealed on the ground that lady helps came not within the purview of the Act mentioned. Mr. L. Armstrong, who opposed this contention, pointed out that in Murray's dictionary a lady help was defined to be "a woman engaged to perform domestic service on the understanding that she is to be considered and treated by her employers as a lady." Counsel put it more concisely, if less artistically, by saying, "It means that she is to be called Miss Smith, or Miss Brown, instead of using her front name." The appeal failed, because his Honor found that "household duties" in the contract and "domestic duties" in the Act were identical in meaning.

The Fall in Eggs.—For several weeks the price of new-laid eggs has been prohibitively high. The retail grocer asked half-a-crown a dozen during this dear period, and consequently the article practically disappeared from the suburban breakfast table. But the pendulum this week swung the other way with a vengeance. At the auction a sort of panic seized the dealers. Bidders began by offering the even shilling, and holders soon realised that the fall in the market had come. The curious feature of the situation is that egg-eaters will not begin to feel the benefit of the drop in values till next week. Suburban grocers have been slowly disposing of their surplus dear-bought stocks, and those who know in Sussex-street predicted yesterday morning that fresh eggs would be obtainable for a mere fraction over a shilling, and further, that next week would see them still cheaper. In the interests of Parliamentary candidates, it is hoped that any further fall may be deferred until after the elections.

Julius Caesar Fined.—At the Water Summons Court yesterday, before Mr. W. M. Macfarlane, S.M., Inspector M'Vane proceeded against Julius Caesar, master of the coal hulk Argo, upon an information alleging that he allowed coal to fall into the waters of the harbour. Defendant pleaded guilty. Inspector M'Vane reminded Mr. Macfarlane that last week three or four similar cases were dealt with, and that his Worship then, although fining the defendants only £2, intimated that in future the heaviest penalty would be inflicted. Mr. Macfarlane said that he remembered his warning, but, considering that the present offence was committed about the same time as the others, he intended to inflict the same penalty. He fined the defendant £2 and costs, and gave warning that he would in future in these cases inflict the heaviest penalty allowed.

Clairvoyant and Client.—A short time back a woman was prosecuted before Mr. King, D.S.M., on a charge of having unlawfully pretended to Luther Henry Gabriel that she could tell his fortune by clairvoyancy, in order to deceive and impose upon him. According to Gabriel's evidence it appeared that, in company with Constable Jones, he visited defendant, ostensibly to be relieved of some perplexity as to a mining speculation. He was instructed to return at 7 p.m. when defendant would be in a trance, and this he did, again supported by the strong arm of the law. A collection was made, and the lights having been turned down the clairvoyant sang "There is a land that is fairer than day," some of the expectant company joining in the chorus. The medium assured Gabriel that he would succeed in his enterprise, "but would cross the water and have some sickness." On this transaction defendant was prosecuted, but the magistrate upheld the objection that the Act 5 George IV., chapter 83, was not in force in this State, and dismissed the information. It appears that the Act referred to was passed by the Imperial Parliament to make further provision for the suppression of vagrancy, etc., in England, and some time ago the High Court decided incidentally in the case of Quan Tick v Hines that, as far as proceedings before justices were concerned, the Act was not in force in New South Wales. The Crown appealed against the decision of the magistrate to the Chambers Judge, but Mr. Acting Justice Sly held that he was bound by the ruling of the superior tribunal.

Eastern Steamship Service.—Recently the Premier received a letter from Mr. Swinburne, Victorian Minister for Agriculture, in which he offered, on behalf of the Government of Victoria, to co-operate with New South Wales and Queensland, or with New South Wales alone, in subsidising a quicker and more frequent steam service as far as Calcutta. Mr. Carruthers stated at the time that, while Mr. Swinburne's letter would be treated in the spirit in which it was written, Queensland was co-operating with New South Wales with regard to a better Eastern service, and New South Wales was co-operating with Queensland to get a better "up north" service, via Torres Straits, to London. The New South Wales Government was now inviting tenders for a steamship service, three-weekly, from Sydney to Java ports and Singapore, via Brisbane and other Queensland ports; or alternatively for a monthly service between Sydney, Queensland ports, Java, Singapore, Penang, Rangoon, and Calcutta. The tenderer is to name the number of steamers to be run, and furnish particulars as to carrying capacity, refrigerated space, passenger accommodation, and other necessary details; and to name the ports of call. Tenders should reach the Under-Secretary for Finance and Trade not later than noon on Monday, August 12.

Lecture on Linnaeus.—The interruption to Mr. Maiden's lecture on Linnaeus on Thursday night, when the lighting arrangements became disorganised, was due to some wires becoming disconnected. The lantern views were temporarily stopped, and during the interval Count Birger Morner, the Swedish Consul, delivered an address, interspersed with references to Nymphaea alba, the white waterlily, and other flowers. At the conclusion the whole of his compatriots rose and gave the lecturer the Swedish national greeting. The electric light was then restored, and the whole of the slides were displayed to the audience after a delay of 25 minutes. During the whole of the delay the large audience paid Mr. Maiden the compliment of remaining, and no person left until the conclusion of the lecture. A further lecture will, therefore, not be delivered.

Old-age Pensions.—A correspondent at Gunnedah writes in some anxiety, lest by the extension of the residential period from 25 to 35 years many old-age pensioners should be deprived of their allowances. It is not likely that any such amendment, even if made at all, would be retrospective, and after the reception of the bill last year there is an impression that the Government will not again attempt to extend the residential qualification to 35 years.

Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, of Washington, U.S., will deliver a lecture to men at the Y.M.C.A. Hall to-morrow at 3.30. His subject is, "That Boy of Yours."

Messrs. W. Lowe and Co., of George-street and Oxford-street, are starting their special sale to-day.

The ladies of the Lady Mayoress's central committee for the Exhibition of Women's Work will meet at her rooms as usual on Monday at 3 p.m.

The Robbie Burns starts running up the river to view the training of Webb and Towns on Sunday, 28th instant, and each afternoon.

Captain Webber, secretary of the Royal Shipwreck Relief and Humane Society, has received from Captain Phillips, of R.M.S. Aorangi, £30, which was collected at concerts given in aid of the society on that vessel on her last voyage.

Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" (Lobgesang) will be rendered at St. Andrew's Cathedral at 3.15 p.m. to-morrow.

A lecture illustrated by lantern slides was given by Mr. J. M. Smail, of the W. and S. Department, on Thursday evening at the Central Hall, Liverpool-street, upon his tour in the old world. Mr. T. Willis Pulsford, who presided, supplemented the lecturer's remarks with some of his own observations gleaned in travel.

A missionary meeting was held in the William-street Methodist School Hall on Thursday, when addresses were given by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Lack, of the China Inland Mission, relating personal experiences in China during the "Boxer" uprising in 1900. Miss Truscott (Sister Lise), of the New Guinea Methodist Mission, also gave an address in relation to work on the island of Dobu.

Petitions against the closing of the Camperdown Cemetery may be signed at the cemetery, at St. Stephen's Church, Newtown, and at the Diocesan Registry, next cathedral, Sydney.

The Relation of the Microcosm to the Macrocosm was the subject of a lecture delivered last evening by Mr. F. W. Hellberg at the Foresters' Hall under the auspices of the Society of the New Church for the Study of Swedenborg's Science of Philosophy. There was a fair attendance.

It is notified by the Railway Department that to-morrow (Sunday) night (only) a first division of the Brisbane mail train will leave Sydney for Wallangarra at 4.50 p.m. (Newcastle at 8.20 p.m.), conveying first and second-class passengers.

"B" writes:—I think it will be found that smearing the glass of a glazed screen with glycerine would prevent its being injuriously affected by steam or breathing.

TONGATABU ERUPTION.

COLUMNS OF SMOKE AND STEAM.

A MAGNIFICENT SPECTACLE.

WEAK SPOT IN PACIFIC'S BED.

AUCKLAND, Friday.

The Nukualofa (Tonga) correspondent of the "New Zealand Herald" writes:—On the morning of June 17 several natives came into town from the south-west end of the island of Tongatabu and reported that there had been an eruption in the sea some miles from the shore, that a column of smoke and steam was ascending, and a quantity of pumice had been washed ashore all along the beach.

The Premier and some European officials went to the scene of the outbreak in the Government cutter. They report that at present no land has been formed, but there appears to be two distinct vents not far from each other. There is a rushing, booming sound; then a column of smoke and steam mixed with black pumice is thrown violently into the air with tremendous noise. This column reaches a height of close upon a hundred feet, showing what mighty forces must be at work, for the sea at this spot is very deep.

When the column breaks the sea is strewn with pumice, and with a rush and swirl the water rushes in to fill the vacuum caused by the explosion, creating a terrible suction. Hardly has the tumult subsided than the other vent begins to play, and they keep on alternately performing.

Should the eruptions continue, probably a new island will be formed. The location of this new outbreak is on the line described by the German scientist, Dr. Linke, of Samoa, as a weak spot in the bed of the Pacific.

PERSONAL.

VICE-REGAL.

Miss Rawson, attended by Captain Wilson, A.D.C., was present yesterday afternoon at an "at home" given by her Excellency Lady Northcote in connection with the Australian Exhibition of Women's Work. In the evening his Excellency the Governor, Miss Rawson, and suite were present at the Theatre Royal to witness the performance by the University Amateur Dramatic Club.

On Monday his Excellency and Miss Rawson will be present at the lacrosse match at the Sydney Cricket Ground.

On Tuesday next Miss Rawson will give an "at home" at Cranbrook, when Miss Jessie Ackerman, of the Girls' Realm Guild, will deliver a lecture

On Wednesday evening his Excellency will be present at the Liedertafel at the Town Hall.

On Thursday afternoon his Excellency will open the new Ashfield Town Hall, and in the evening, with Miss Rawson, will be present at the ball in aid of the Sacred Heart Hospice.

On Friday evening next his Excellency and Miss Rawson will attend the Scottish Rifles ball.

A tribute to the memory of the late Judge Molesworth was paid by the Bench and Bar in the County Court (Melbourne) yesterday. When Judge Molesworth was granted leave of absence, Mr. G. H. Neighbour, K.C., was appointed Acting Judge of the Insolvency Court. The Acting Judge was to have sat on the bench yesterday, but refrained from doing so. To his mind his commission had become void through Judge Molesworth's death. The Acting Attorney-General expressed concurrence with Mr. Neighbour's view. It is, however, a comparatively easy matter to rearrange for Mr. Neighbour to act. In the meantime the work of the Insolvency Court will be conducted by other County Court Judges. The Acting Premier states that the matter will be considered by the Cabinet.

The Bishop of New Guinea, Dr. Stone Wigg, arrived in Sydney yesterday, and is the guest of Mr. E. Deas-Thomson, at Rockley, Elizabeth Bay. The Bishop is much improved in health.

Although upon her departure for Bathurst and Orange this morning Mme. Albani, O.M., does not immediately leave the State, Mr. Ernest Gye makes known the fact that he has not been able to arrange for the return of the great operatic diva to it. After visiting Bendigo and Ballarat, she sings in "The Elijah" at Adelaide, makes one or two appearances in Tasmania, tours New Zealand for the first time, and finally bids farewell to Australia at Perth. Mme. Albani and her concert party will tour India until the end of October, and during part of that time she will be the guest of the Viceroy and Lady Minto. Early in January the great singer enters upon a starring engagement for 11 of the principal cities of the United Kingdom. Her visit to Sydney has been the occasion of unalloyed pleasure to thousands of music-lovers.

Mr. Frederick C. Fish, whose funeral took place on Tuesday, was a well-known figure in commercial and athletic circles. He was a vice-president of the East Sydney Swimming Club, and for many years a prominent member of the Mercantile Rowing Club.

Mr. T. W. Young, who was connected with the New York Life Insurance Company for nearly 10 years as resident secretary, Sydney, and for the past 2½ years in charge of the company's Melbourne office, has accepted the position of manager of the Accident Branch of the North Queensland Insurance Company in Victoria as from August 1.

The death took place yesterday at Wordsleigh, Cremorne, of Mrs. Harriett Hopkins, widow of the late Captain R. I. Hopkins, of Benares, Illawarra. Mrs. Hopkins was born in Calcutta in 1822, came to Sydney in 1828, and was married to Captain Hopkins in 1842. Her surviving children are Mr. R. A. Hopkins, of Darlinghurst (late of Wellshot station, Queensland), Mr. E. C. Hopkins (of Sydney), Mrs. P. H. Throsby (of Moss Vale), and Mrs. J. H. Morell (of Cremorne).

At a special meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association, held on Thursday, the retiring officers were re-elected for the ensuing year. The president, Lady Renwick, as she entered the room after her election, was greeted with enthusiasm. Lady Renwick, in replying, warmly thanked the committee for their co-operation and hard work.

The funeral of the late Mr. Timothy O'Sullivan Green took place yesterday. A short service was conducted by the Rev. W. I. Carr Smith, at St. James's Church, after which the interment was made in the Anglican section of the Gore Hill Cemetery. Amongst those present at the church and graveside were:—Messrs. H. R. Green, Victor Green, Septimus Green (sons), F. W. Walker, J. Russell French (general manager Bank of New South Wales), R. J. Black, M.L.C. (director), C. M. Palmer (secretary), C. Miller (representing Mr. G. Miller, late general manager), Denison Miller (inspector), W. G. Banning, Thomas Sheriff, George Rankin, H. Turner, George Halloran, J. V. Bayley, T. H. Potts, T. A. Dibbs (general manager Commercial Banking Company of Sydney), H. H. Massie (inspector, C.B. Company, of Sydney), Francis Adams (general manager A.J.S. Bank), A. J. Mackenzie (manager Perpetual Trustee Company), Robert Smith (Norton, Smith, and Co.), J. L. Adams, and P. C. Trebeck.

Among the passengers by the R.M.S. Macedonia, which will leave Sydney at noon today for London, are Mr. Reginald Gooud, also Mr. E. J. Turton (of Messrs. Winchcombe, Carson, and Co.) and his daughters, Misses Edna and Hero Turton, who will visit Colombo.

Mrs. Halliday, delegate from England, who has been visiting Adelaide and Melbourne on behalf of the Women's Union, will reach Sydney next week. At the request of Lady Chelmsford and the Archbishop of Brisbane, she will go at once to Queensland. Mrs. Halliday will return to Sydney via Armidale and Newcastle.

Mrs. Emily Hone, Australasian vice-president of the W.C.T.U., was suddenly stricken with illness at Adelaide yesterday, and little hope is held out for her recovery.

PACIFIC CABLE.

PROPOSED RATE REDUCTION.

NEWS FOR THE BRITISH PRESS.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

In the Senate to-day Senator Pearce asked the Government if it was correct, as had been rumoured, that Ministers intended approaching the other Governments interested in the Pacific cable, with a view to reducing the press rate, so that more Commonwealth news might be published in European newspapers. He said that if such was proposed it was so important that Parliament should be consulted. He doubted that it would mean that the people in Europe would get one single word more than they did now. Sir William Lyne's scheme was to have news of Commonwealth matters sent over the Pacific cable by the Government of the Commonwealth. He (Senator Pearce) considered that this was advisable, for Parliament would have then some control over what was cabled away.

Senator Mulcahy quietly pointed out to Senator Pearce that when it came to a question of partisanship being displayed in the despatch of news, it could not, of course, be used to any better advantage than by a Government in office on party principles. One side of a question was represented by one section of the press, the other side would have its voice in the other section, which would not be the case if the news were despatched under control of a political party.

The Vice-President of the Executive Council (Senator Best), in reply said the question of the reduction of cable rates had not been considered at any Cabinet meeting he had attended, but the Government had had under consideration from time to time the advisability of suplementing the news sent to Great Britain on Australian affairs. Any action that might be decided upon would be communicated to Parliament in the usual way.

The Postmaster-General said this afternoon that there is very little doubt that cable rates will be reduced not only for press purposes but for the public. The whole matter is now under the consideration of the Government, but nothing has been decided upon, as there are so many interests involved in respect to Pacific cable messages from Australia to England having to pass over other lines.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

FEDERAL SESSION.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTERS.)

MELBOURNE, Friday.

In the Senate to-day Labour members took a prominent part in the discussion on the clauses of the Bills of Exchange, Cheques, and Promissory Notes Bill. With the exception of four clauses, which were postponed with a view to amendments being drafted to meet the wishes of senators, the bill passed through, and the third reading was fixed. A good deal of discussion ensued in regard to clause 7, which relates to stamp duties imposed by States, and upon which an amendment had been moved by Senator Keating on the previous night in order to meet the expressed views of Sir Josiah Symon. This amendment sought to enact that bills of exchange, cheques, and promissory notes drawn within the Commonwealth should not, except in certain specified cases, be regarded as invalid or inadmissible as evidence in any court by reason only of the fact that they did not bear stamps under the State laws. The clause as proposed to be amended, however, did not satisfy senators, and it transpired that the Attorney-General had given an opinion that the amendment as drafted did not provide for what was sought to be expressed. After a further amendment had been foreshadowed, the Minister in charge of the bill asked for a postponement.

On the question of what is a reasonable time in which to present a cheque a long debate took place, many senators urging that a definite period of time should be stated in the measure. Senator Walker, whose great banking experience in New South Wales always commands respect from all sections of the chamber, suggested six months, and eventually this clause (No. 79) was allowed to stand over to enable the Minister in charge of the bill to draft a new clause. Another very debatable matter, which it was also deemed advisable to postpone, was that of protecting banking institutions in regard to fraudulently altered cheques, dealt with in clause 81. Many senators, especially those occupying the labour benches, were averse to freeing banks from all liability, and the necessity was urged of protecting clients, who were the weaker parties concerned.

Other business transacted by the Senate was the first reading of the Transcontinental Railway Survey Bill, and the second reading of the Parliamentary Witnesses Bill, which was also taken through the committee stage without amendment.

THE MELBOURNE TELEPHONE.

When the proposal to connect Sydney and Melbourne by telephone was laid before the House of Representatives last year it was estimated that the cost would be £37,800. The following estimate of details was also given:—10 per cent. of cost for sinking fund, maintenance, etc., £3780; loss on telegraph and postal receipts, £2500; on operating expenses, £91. Total, £6371. Estimated revenue, including the intermediate stations, £4714; annual deficiency, £1657. The actual cost was £46,686. The department now sets out the results as shown by the working of the line since it was opened as follows:—Revenue from July 11 to 17 inclusive was at the rate of £3074 per annum; equal to a return of 6.58 per cent. on the actual cost. The intermediate stations, it is noted, are not on the service. If, say, £2000 per annum be deducted for estimated loss in postal and telegraphic receipts, the return on the capital cost would be only 2.3 per cent.

TASMANIAN CABLE SERVICE.

GOVERNMENT LINES PROPOSED.

The Federal Government's arrangement with the Eastern Extension Telegraphic Company for a cable service between Victoria and Tasmania comes to an end in August, 1909, and the Postmaster-General is arranging for a survey to be made with the object of laying down two cables. Captain Audley Coote, who is interested in cable matters, maintains that the best route would be from Twofold Bay, as a better bottom can be obtained, and this is being considered.

INSPECTION OF LITHGOW IRONWORKS.

A large meeting of Federal members has been organised to visit the Lithgow ironworks on Monday. It is expected that fully 40 members will take advantage of this opportunity of seeing the works. The Ministry is represented by the Minister for Defence (Mr. Ewing), who will accompany the party. Some of the members left Melbourne on Thursday, others left to-day, whilst a great many more will leave by express train. The train will leave Sydney for Lithgow at half-past 8 o'clock on Monday morning. On arrival the Parliamentary visitors will be met by Mr. Sandford, managing director, at whose invitation the party was organised, and will be shown over the works. At half-past 2 o'clock there is to be a dinner, after which members will go by special train to catch the express train for Melbourne, so that they may be in their places when the House meets on Tuesday.

CONTRACT LABOUR.

The principal cause of an angry dispute that arose between the Minister for Customs and the deputation which waited on him on Thursday was the rate of wages to be paid to contract labourers on the canefields. The deputation believed that the men were imported to work at 20s per week. It has been found, however, that the clerk who copied out the conditions for the information of the members of Parliament made an error, and stated the wage for the off season as 20s, when it should have been 22s 6d.

THE TARIFF.

Federal Ministers will probably submit their tariff amendment proposals to Parliament during the first week in August. It is understood in political circles that the Ministers have framed their new schedule on what are called high protection lines. It is known that they have considerably increased the duties on apparel, woollens, and machinery, the rate for which is at present 12½ p.c. In fact, it is stated that they propose to make the duty 25 per cent. for the most part. They are understood to have followed the recommendations made by the protectionist section of the Tariff Commission.

CRIME IN MELBOURNE.

GARROTTED AT SOUTH YARRA.

AN OBLIGING PRISONER.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

A determined case of garrotting occurred at South Yarra early this morning, when Charles Caleb Tippett was assaulted, and robbed of a silver watch, gold chain, gold sovereign case, and gold medal, the whole being valued at £20. Tippett is employed as a linotype hand on the "Age" newspaper.

The last tram having gone, he engaged a cab to drive him home. After he had taken his seat another man got into the vehicle, and they drove as far as the corner of the Domain-road and Park-street, where Tippett alighted. The stranger, who had conversed freely with Tippett on the way out, also left the cab. When in front of his residence Tippett stopped and said, "I live here." The stranger asked, "Can I get into Toorak-road?" and Tippett replied, "Yes; I will show you." They walked along together, and as they neared Toorak-road the stranger caught Tippett by the throat, threw him down, and punched him, blackening his eyes and cutting his cheeks. The man then snatched his watch and chain, and made off down the right-of-way. Tippett followed, calling "Police!" but his assailant got clear away.

A few hours later detectives arrested a man named Robert Smith, who admitted the crime, and said he had buried the stolen property in the right-of-way. On being taken to the spot Smith unearthed the whole of the booty. He was brought before the Prahran Police Court, and remanded to July 26.

A new feature—"Australian Women"—is continued in this week's issue of the "Sydney Mail." There is a splendid set of portraits of Melbourne women interested in the Ladies' Work Exhibition.—Advt.

AMERICA AND JAPAN.

JINGOISM DYING.

"FOURTH OF JULY BUNCOMBE."

LONDON, July 19.

The New York "World" attributes to President Roosevelt the statement that he has given no order to the Navy Board to send the battleship fleet to the Pacific, and that he is not aware that the board has issued any such order. The fleet will proceed on a cruise early in the fall for the purpose of engaging in manoeuvres. It may go to the Pacific, but its destination has not yet been determined. The plans for the battleship fleet have no significance in regard to the Japanese question, which President Roosevelt does not consider serious.

The "World" expresses the belief that President Roosevelt will not consent to send the fleet to the Western Coast, and declares that the jingo demonstration is finished. The newspaper attributes the demonstration to the ridiculous 4th of July "buncombe" of Mr. V. H. Metcalfe, Secretary for the Navy.

APPEASING ILL-WILL.

CALIFORNIA'S REPENTENCE.

There are some signs that the people of California are beginning to regret their campaign against the Japanese, and that they are trying to appease the ill-feeling which has been aroused.

The directors of the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange announce that they do not favour any immigration law discriminating against the Japanese. It is reported that the fruit-growers of Fresno county are discovering that the Japanese are absolutely necessary, and there is no white labour available to pick the fruit.

NEWSPAPER MESSAGE TO JAPAN.

JINGOES IN A MINORITY.

EMPIRE'S FAITH IN JUSTICE.

The New York "Herald" cabled to Viscount Hayashi, Japanese Minister for Foreign Affairs, that only a dozen newspapers out of 2200 in the United States sympathise with the jingo demand to transfer the battleship fleet to the Pacific, and therefore it was not true that the demonstration was backed by the entire American people.

Viscount Hayashi replied that all Japan had unshaken confidence in the policy of justice and peace displayed by the American Government. He was convinced of the pacific character of the situation, and that sensational reports appearing in a small section of the press did not reflect the mind of the nation.

Our New York correspondent, in a letter dated June 15, thus sums up the situation as it then appeared:—"Japan is still a cloud on the horizon; and a week ago the stock market in one day went down 2 per cent. on a Japanese 'war-scare.' That Japan could seize the Philippines and Hawaii is laid down by all high naval authorities as a proposition not to be disputed; nor are such authorities even mildly censured for this frankness by the Powers above—possibly because in this way Congress may be brought to realise where the responsibility will rest for permitting the wealthiest country in the world to be successfully attacked by one of the poorest. And that the possibility of a war with Japan should thus be a matter of open debate—simply because one American party thinks that the navy is already strong enough, and the other party thinks that it should be made stronger—is certainly a something to be deplored. But, if reports from Washington inner circles are to be credited, even official Japanese take these things in serious earnest, and do really believe that if they only talk firmly enough they will get whatever they ask for. The purpose of the Administration is undoubtedly to use all its powers to avoid giving Japanese domiciled here the faintest excuse for protest, but in all countries unpopular persons will be annoyed—even natives, and sometimes even natives of high rank—by persons whom they, perhaps innocently, annoy; and no prudent Government could consent to give to alien non-union labourers greater protection than they are able to give to non-union natives. This, in effect, however, seems to be the Japanese grievance in the latest San Francisco controversy; and this particular matter is complicated by an insinuation that the attack on the San Francisco Japanese, while committed by American citizens, was really instigated by the Kaiser in order to bring about an Americo-German understanding against Japan and her allies. The Kaiser has, indeed, lately succeeded in averting a German-American trade-war, in which, as Americans think, he would surely have got the worst of it, because the increased price of the necessaries of life would have awakened a dangerous agitation in his own domain; but Great Britain and France will also get the full benefit of any changes thus agreed upon (under the "most favoured nation" clause in their treaties), and in any case this is not a matter in which Japan has any concern. Quite possibly, even without design, Japanese diplomats have adopted the same dictatorial tone in which, before the Russo-Japanese War, all the greater Powers except the United States, spoke to Japan; and the report that two years ago there was a real 'scene' between Ambassador Aoki and Secretary Root is not only authentic, but is probably also 'authorised.' The Ambassador had complained officially that some panes of glass had been broken in the frames of a Japanese florist by San Francisco small boys, and was halted short by the statement that serious agitation of trivial wrongs could only mean that Japan was 'hunting for trouble.' Less than a year ago there was an even stormier interview between the representatives of the two Powers, but Japan then, as the phrase goes, "drew in her horns," and the matter perished still-born. The American temper—patient to the limit of honourable toleration—has still a point of overflow."

CLAIM AGAINST GERMANY.

MADE BY THE CAPE.

LONDON, July 18.

Cape Colony has made a claim against Germany for the sustenance of refugees from German South-west Africa.

Germany has refused to recognise the claim, but the Government of the Cape is persisting in prosecuting the claim.

TO RESCUE KAID MACLEAN.

TROOPS AND TRIBESMEN.

LONDON, July 19.

Sir Harry MacLean is held a close prisoner by Raisuli near Tangier. A deep trench has been dug around the prisoner's tent to prevent his escape. The Sultan's troops surround Raisuli, and the Shereef of Wazzan is influencing the tribes to cooperate with the troops.

THE WOOL SALES.

LONDON, July 18.

At the wool sales this afternoon merinos were firm, and values for crossbreds were occasionally slightly in favour of buyers.

July 19.

At the wool sales yesterday the following prices were realised for the clips mentioned:—Moree, 13½d; Waterloo, 13¾d; Canobie, 21⅝d; Annandale, 12⅛d; Jhall, 11¾d; Woodlands, 11⅛d; Hillersden, 10¾d.

CRISIS IN KOREA.

JAPANESE THREATENED.

THE EMPEROR'S MISSION.

LONDON, July 18.

One of the members of the deputation from the Emperor of Korea to the Hague Conference died at the Hague while the head of the mission was absent in St. Petersburg.

The "Times" says that though the Seoul Court was surrounded with Japanese the Emperor of Korea maintained an agent outside the kingdom, who surreptitiously despatched a mission to the Hague and St. Petersburg. Hence the demand for his abdication.

Seoul is placarded with posters demanding the death of Japanese officials.

The Korean Ministry has resigned.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

AUSTRALIANS AT BISLEY.

ARDILL WINS THE BARLOW.

LONDON, July 19.

At Bisley yesterday, Geo. Ardill (New South Wales) won first prize, of £30, in the Barlow, seven shots at 200, 500, and 600 yards, with a score of 102. Lieut. W. C. Addison (South Australia), W. H. Cutler (New South Wales), and A. J. M'Leod (Western Australia) each won £5 in the competition.

W. H. Cutler (New South Wales), Cudmore, and Lieut. Dawson (New South Wales) qualified for the second stage of the St. George's by obtaining a place in the first hundred in the first stage, 500 and 600 yards.

H. Motton (Queensland) won a prize of £5 in the All-comers' Aggregate with 167, and R. Whittington (Tasmania) won a £5 prize in The Duke of Cambridge with 46.

The St. George's Challenge Vase is competed for in two stages. The first is seven shots at 500 and 600 yards. The first hundred in the first stage shoot in the second, which is 15 shots at 900 yards. The match is open to volunteers and retired volunteers. The first prize is the challenge vase, a dragon cup, a gold cross, and £30; the second a silver cross and £25, and the third a bronze cross and £20. In all there are 28 other prizes, ranging from £10 to £1. Last year it took a score of 64 to get into the second stage, while 136 won the match.

The conditions of the Barlow are seven shots each at 200, 500, and 600 yards. The match is open to such volunteers and retired volunteers who are competing in the King's Prize competition who have not during the last five annual meetings won an individual prize of £5 or upward, or at any time won any medal in the King's or first prize in the St. George's, the Prince of Wales', the All-comers', the Volunteer, or the Grand Aggregates. Last year three men tied for first place with 99 points.

THE BRITISH TEAM FOR AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, July 18.

Sergeant Ommundsen, gold medallist, joins the British rifle team for Australia.

Australia should consider herself fortunate in the fact that two of the best shots in Scotland—Armourer-sgt. Lawrance and Sgt. Ommundsen—are visiting the Commonwealth. The addition of the latter rifleman to the team materially strengthens the combination; in fact, it is doubtful if a better man could have been selected. When the names were first cabled out surprise was expressed that he was not coming, for during the past few years he has proved an exceptionally reliable shot. His best win was in 1901, when he won "The King's." In 1906 he got top score in the two first stages of the same match, thus winning the silver medal. Last year he shot with the Scottish team which won the Mackinnon Cup, the "National" Challenge Trophy, and made top score for the mother country in the Kolapore Cup competition, his total being 99 out of a possible 105. He was also in the volunteer team which won the United Service Challenge Cup. His name is found well to the front in the individual matches, while to prove his consistency he figures in all the aggregates, including that for service matches. In addition to being a fine rifle shot, Sgt. Ommundsen can shoot remarkably well with a revolver. Six times he has got into the final stage of the King's.

AUSTRALIAN TEAM FOR CANADA.

The following representatives of the Australian rifle team at Bisley are going to Canada to compete for the Palma Trophy:—Lieut. W. C. Addison, Sregt. S. Edwards, H. Motton, G. Howitt, W. Cutler, A. J. M'Leod, Lieut. Dawson, Sergt. M'Calley, W. B. Edye, G. Ardill, and H. Hicks.

THE THEATRICAL TRUST.

LONDON MANAGERS' DENIAL.

LONDON, July 18.

Mr. A. L. Erlanger, the American theatrical manager, states that the international theatrical syndicate is not projected for the purpose of merging existing organisations, but for the purpose of acquiring vaudeville and legitimate theatres. It will, he says, be conducted on American lines.

The principal London theatrical managers deny participation in the trust.

THE TERRITORIAL ARMY.

COMPROMISE ON CADET QUESTION.

LONDON, July 19.

The Territorial Army Bill has passed through committee of the House of Lords. The Government has accepted an amendment permitting County Associations to expend private funds on battalions of school boys under the age of 16 years.

Evidently a compromise has been arranged as to the support to be given to corps of cadets under 16 years of age. As originally drafted, the bill allowed country associations to maintain cadets from their funds without restriction as to age, the Government, yielding to the pressure of anti-militarists, made the stipulation that cadet corps under the age of 16 should not receive support. This restriction was struck out by the House of Lords, and we are now informed that corps of cadets under the age of 16, may have funds from private sources granted to them by the county associations.

DISASTER IN ONTARIO.

BUSINESS PREMISES COLLAPSE.

LONDON, July 18.

A message from London, Ontario, gives details of the collapse of a business building, which buried hundreds of people in the ruins. Fifteen were killed and 12 were injured. The remainder were saved.

QUEENSLAND SUGAR FIELDS.

LABOUR FROM EUROPE.

LONDON, July 18.

RAND STRIKE ENDED.

MINERS SURRENDER.

LONDON, July 19.

The executive of the Miners' Association of Johannesburg has decided by a large majority to declare the strike "off," though the announcement of the fact has been postponed.

At the instance of Mr. R. L. Outhwaite the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Unions Congress has appealed to the trade unions to assist the Rand strikers.

THE EDALJI CASE.

THE REFUSAL OF COMPENSATION.

LONDON, July 19.

Mr. F. E. Smith (Conservative) raised a debate in the House of Commons last night on the refusal of the Government to grant compensation to G. E. T. Edalji, solicitor, sentenced on a charge of maiming cattle at Great Wyrley, and lately granted a free pardon. Mr. Smith protested that it was cruel to refuse to grant the man redress for false imprisonment.

Mr. H. Gladstone, Home Secretary, insisted that the case had been sufficiently investigated, and that it would be most regrettable to convert the House of Commons into a Court of Criminal Appeal.

The attitude which Mr. Gladstone took up when the committee appointed to investigate the case of Edalji gave in its report he maintains, and he protests against the retrial of the case in the House of Commons. When the papers were issued it was announced that the Home Secretary would advise the King to grant Mr. Edalji a free pardon, but that no compensation would be given. The committee found that too much evidentiary weight was attributed to the letters of 1903, that their authorship did not necessarily involve participation in outrages, and that apart from them the other evidence was insufficient to establish Mr. Edalji's guilt. While expressing the opinion that the case may properly be considered in an exceptional manner, the committee made it clear that on the principles which governed the exercise of the Royal prerogative of mercy Mr. Edalji as regards the establishment of innocence, was not entitled to a free pardon, and agreeing with what they took to be the finding of the jury that Mr. Edalji was the author of the letters of 1903, they were of opinion that even on the assumption of innocence, Mr. Edalji to some extent brought his troubles upon himself.

A CLEVER ROBBERY.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Mr. B. Neal, a Bendigo bookmaker, attended the Deniliquin races on Tuesday and yesterday, and as the result of his operations during the meeting had a sum of £235 in his possession when he went to bed at an hotel in Deniliquin on Wednesday night. He has informed the police that he placed the money, which was mostly in notes, in a pocket of his pyjamas, but this morning when he awoke the money was missing, the pocket having been cleanly cut out of his garment. The police are inquiring into the matter.

A HARBOUR PROBLEM.

CLEARING THE SMOKE.

ACTION BY THE TRUST.

"The smoke nuisance," said Mr. Norrie, secretary of the Harbour Trust, yesterday, "is one of the most difficult problems which we have to deal with. The president, Mr. Hickson, who is at present in England, is making investigations to assist in its solution. There is no law that would enable us to remove this nuisance, which we recognise is one of the most obnoxious that could prevail in any port. However, we do all we can to minimise the evil. Indeed, times without number the Trust has had the matter under consideration, and times without number it found itself powerless to grapple with the problem effectively. But Sydney Harbour is not singular in this respect, for the smoke nuisance is prevalent in every port, even in Glasgow, which has been held up as the acme of perfection in port administration. They have not been able to remove this undoubted evil. Depend upon it, the Trust and its officers are fully alive to the urgency of the matter, and are doing everything within their power towards the desired end."

This statement was in answer to some inquiries made at the offices of the Harbour Trust because of the City Council's determination to take drastic action to remedy the smoke nuisance ashore. Reminded of this fact, Mr. Norrie, with whom was Mr. Walsh, engineer-in-chief, said there was a great deal of difference between the smoke evil on land and that of the harbour. The factory-owner could, with tall chimney stacks, introduce condensers and other appliances for consuming the smoke. Then, again, the landman kept the one rate of fire up all day. In the ferry boats they had no means of getting rid of the smoke. The Trust certainly did its best to secure the co-operation of the ferry companies not to allow firing up of their steamers to take place within Sydney Cove, or near the city wharfs, and, to a large extent, that co-operation had been accorded the Trust. In fact, the manager of the Sydney Ferries would not allow his men to heap on coal on the fires near the Circular Quay. But the same could not be said of all the ferries. However, the Trust had issued instructions to the managers of the different ferries some time ago that if the smoke nuisance was not minimised as far as possible the Trust would be forced to adopt very drastic measures.

Can they do anything to get rid of the nuisance? was asked.

"They can do a great deal if they like," said the engineer. "A real good fireman won't create smoke. He knows what he is doing. That dense volume of smoke means the loss of so much carbon. On our own boats, for instance, if I see any of the men firing up near the wharf there is trouble at once. Our coal bill is a very heavy one, and these great volumes of dense smoke belching forth from a steamer's funnel only add to it. However, we have experimented in several ways on the boats of the Trust, with a view to finding a remedy to completely abate the smoke nuisance, but without success. So that, as I have already said, much depends upon the engineer. In the ferry companies, for instance, the deckhands do most of the firing, and what do they know about keeping down the smoke? Then they burn small coal—Newcastle at that—which is the worst class of coal for creating black smoke. In the navy in our waters, they use New Zealand coal to minimise the smoke nuisance. But there is no port in the world where the class of coal used in ferry and other boats is productive of so much dense smoke as that in use in Sydney Harbour. However, the whole thing forms a very big problem, one that is far more difficult to deal with than the ordinary man is willing to give credit for, and no one knows it better than the Harbour Trust, which, under the circumstances, is doing its utmost to secure the co-operation of all concerned to minimise the evil as far as possible."

WRECK OF THE FIDO.

NEAR TWEED HEADS.

A CLEAR MOONLIGHT NIGHT.

A PATHETIC INCIDENT.

TWEED HEADS, Friday.

The steamer Fido, 890 tons, built in Norway three years ago, in command of Captain Larsen, was stranded at 7.30 last night on a reef outside Cook Island, abreast of Fingal Lighthouse, about one mile from the latter.

The vessel, which was bound from Ocean Island with a full cargo of phosphates, under charter to William Crosby and Co., Pitt-street, Sydney, passed Point Danger headland at 7 o'clock, and was observed by Pilot Captain Smith. The chief mate, Mr. Olsen, was in charge of the Fido. When the captain left the bridge for supper Fingal light was observed. The captain is a stranger on the coast. It was a bright, clear, moonlight night, and the ship was plainly visible passing here. After striking a number of blue lights and flarelights were burnt, but, strange to say, no one, either from this station or Fingal Lighthouse, observed them.

The steamer was first noticed at daylight from the local pilot station on Point Danger. The captain, officers, and crew, with the only two passengers—a young man named Liggins, who is on sick leave, and paying a visit to a brother in Sydney, and a Mr. Steinmitz—landed early this morning, with three boats, on the open beach in Danger Bay, just across the Queensland border. The crew all told number 21.

There was a fair swell on when the steamer struck, and she was travelling about nine knots. The hull is now full of water, and considered to be a total loss. As soon as the tide suits a local tugboat, with Pilot Smith and Captain Larsen and some of his men, will proceed to the wreck.

Captain Larsen had a very valuable setter aboard, which had previously saved the life of his wife and child. Under the impression he would suffer a penalty of £50 if the dog were landed, he most reluctantly destroyed the animal upon abandoning the ship.

The steamer is owned by Messrs. Bech and Olsen, of Tvede Strand, Norway.

The Chinese portion of the crew are now under the observation of Captain Larsen and the Queensland police.

Later.

The Fido was bound from Nauru, formerly called Pleasant Island, to Sydney, with a valuable cargo of 2000 tons of phosphates. She left the former port on July 6, and experienced a rather rough trip. If the vessel had been a ship's length either east or west of the reef she struck she would have been safe. There were three bags of mails on the vessel.

Captain Larsen is part owner of the ship, which was insured in Norway.

The captain was very much grieved owing to the loss. He superintended her construction, and has commanded her since she was first placed in commission. He was also much grieved at the loss of his dog. Some time ago the ship's cabin caught fire. All hands, including the watchman, were asleep, and the dog forced the cabin door open and bit the ear of the watchman, thus saving the captain's wife and child from being burnt to death.

When the ship struck, the captain was at tea. He says the impact was tremendous. His first thought was that a collision had taken place.

The chief engineer thinks the propellor stripped when the vessel struck, and the shaft bent.

Captain Larsen complains of the conditions of the Aliens Immigration Restriction Act with regard to nine of the crew, who are Chinamen. Mr. Litchfield, the local postmaster, who is also the local Customs officer, explained the conditions of the Act. The captain protests that he could not be responsible for the shipwrecked crew. Constable Nolan, of Coolangatta Police Station, for the Queensland side of Tweed Heads, is in charge of the Chinese, who to-night are quartered in stables attached to the police station. Practically nothing was saved by the shipwrecked people, who were landed with only what they stood in.

It is feared the vessel will become a total wreck, and if heavy weather sets in she will break up rapidly. An effort will be made to board the Fido to-morrow, if the sea is smooth enough.

The Fido was under charter to the Pacific Phosphate Company, Ltd., of which Messrs. Wm. Crosby and Co. are the Sydney agents. The vessel, which was built in 1904 at Fredrikstad, was engaged in trading between Ocean and Pleasant (or Nauru) islands and Sydney. This was her second trip from the islands, and she had a cargo of about 1600 tons of phosphates. On the discharge of the cargo the vessel, it was intended, would as usual take stores to the islands.

The Tweed River pilot yesterday informed the Superintendent of Navigation that he went out in a tug in order to render help. He was unable to get near the steamer, as there was too much sea. The pilot also telegraphed that seas were breaking over the steamer, and he believed she would become a total wreck.

The coast of New South Wales commences on the northern side of Point Danger. Tweed Heads are 374 miles north of Sydney. Tweed River, just southward of Danger Point, has a fixed bright light visible 14 miles, shown at its pilot station on Fingal Head.

At 8 o'clock last night the wind was blowing fresh from the south-south-west off Tweed Heads, and there was a moderate sea. At Bellinger there was too much sea on the bar to take soundings during the day.

A number of vessels are engaged in trading to Ocean Island, which is south of the Gilbert Group, to obtain cargoes of phosphates. The Fido's departure from Nauru Island, westward of Ocean Island, where she loaded, was made early in July.

FIVE TIMES HANGED.

A PERSEVERING SUICIDE.

SUCCEEDS WITH POISON.

An inquest was held by the City Coroner (Mr. A. N. Barnett) yesterday, into the circumstances connected with the death on Wednesday of Thomas Cowen.

The evidence showed that deceased, who was 60 years of age, died from arsenical poisoning. His wife stated that he had been an imperial pensioner since 1876, and had told her that he had a sunstroke in India some years ago. Her husband had tried to commit suicide at least a dozen times, and the attempts had generally been made about the time of full moon.

"I have cut him down four or five times when he has attempted to hang himself," said his wife, "and on the other occasions he has taken poisonous liniments."

Other evidence elicited the fact that deceased had left a note saying he was tired of life, and had taken arsenic to help him out of it.

A verdict of suicide was returned.

CHILD BURNT TO DEATH.

GALLANT ATTEMPTS AT RESCUE.

BY A FRANTIC MOTHER.

LITHGOW, Friday.

The district coroner (Mr. E. P. Richards) went to Wolgan on Wednesday for the purpose of holding an inquiry into the death of the child Thomas Bland, who was burned to death in the home of his parents early on Monday morning.

William Clarke, a labourer, said that he lived near Bland's place. About 2.30 or 3 o'clock on Monday morning, he heard a woman call out, "Save my Tom!" He went quickly to the place, and saw that Bland's house was in flames. He saw Mrs. Bland trying to pull the back of the place down. She only had her nightdress on, and the sleeves of that were ablaze. He put the flames out, and then got to the bed, where Mrs. Bland said the boy was, but he could not find it. He took charge of Mrs. Bland to prevent her rushing into the burning house.

Dr. Park deposed that Mrs. Bland was suffering from burns and from mental shock, and was not well enough to give evidence. He had seen the remains of the child, and they were unrecognisable.

The coroner returned a verdict that the child died from burns, but there was no evidence to show how the fire was caused. The coroner complimented William Clarke on the courage and presence of mind he had displayed in attempting to get through the flames on two occasions to save the child, and especially for putting out the flames on Mrs. Bland's dress, otherwise she might have been killed.

WRECK OF THE WOOLLAHRA.

CAPTAIN REFUSES TO BE SAVED.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

An inquiry was held to-day concerning the wreck of the barque Woollahra. The two mates gave evidence to the effect that the captain refused to leave the ship, although urged by the crew to do so. When last seen the captain was sitting in his cabin, which was flooded with water. A few minutes later the crew got off in a dingy. The vessel then gave a heavy lurch, and the cabins filled with water.

FEDERAL QUARANTINE.

A REMARKABLE OVERSIGHT.

DISASTER PROPHESIED.

"I infer from the Quarantine Bill which has just been introduced into the House of Representatives," Dr. Ashburton Thompson, president of the Board of Health, said yesterday, "that it is the intention to carry out Federal quarantine exclusively, with the assistance of the Customs officers, under the direction of the Department of Trade and Customs. Medical officers are mentioned only as being in charge of ships, and as having charge of persons who may be detained in quarantine. No medical officer is referred to as being concerned with the execution of the quarantine laws. Singular as this is, it is a matter that is entirely within the discretion of the Federal Government. How long it will continue in force before some disaster occurs I am not prepared to say."

MR. T. A. DIBBS.

CORDIAL SPEECHES.

MEETING OF THE COMMERCIAL BANK.

At the half-yearly meeting of the Commercial Banking Company of New South Wales yesterday, advantage was taken of the occasion to refer to the notable career of the general manager, Mr. T. A. Dibbs, who has just completed his sixtieth year of service in the bank.

SPECIAL RESOLUTION.

Mr. E. W. Knox moved,—"That the directors be requested to procure a portrait of Mr. T. A. Dibbs, to be hung in the banking-room, as a remembrance of his long and successful term of office as general manager; and that a service of plate be presented to Mr. Dibbs in commemoration of the completion of the sixtieth year of his employment by the bank." Mr. Knox said: I submit this, not as one who has on several occasions served on the board, not as a shareholder and customer of nearly forty years' standing, but as the son of the man who appointed Mr. Dibbs as a junior officer, and who, for more than half a century, was himself intimately connected with the development of the business which is the pride of all of us. Mr. Dibbs entered the bank three months after I was born, but I was not very old when I began to hear my father speaking of his ability, and he never afterwards ceased to hold the highest opinion of your general manager, or to recognise his great services. Now it is proposed that his portrait shall be placed alongside those of the other two men who worked so long for you in building up the Commercial Bank—Richard Jones and Edward Knox—as a token of our appreciation of the single-minded service and the unceasing work which have earned for him the esteem and the gratitude of the shareholders.

Mr. H. C. Dangar, M.L.C., in seconding the motion, said: When I listen to the wonderful history of the bank's progress and success during Mr. Dibbs's management, I feel that a "record" has been established. I trust that the portrait will not only be a record of his career, but will serve to remind the younger officers of the bank to go and do likewise.

Mr. Josiah Mullens said: My career runs very much alongside that of Mr. Dibbs, only that I have gone out of mine and he is still at work. I am sure that there has been no more faithful service in this world than that of Mr. Dibbs'.

Mr. Dibbs, in reply, said: This resolution so eloquently proposed by Mr. Knox and seconded by Mr. Dangar has taken me completely by surprise. Our chairman has told you of the success of the bank during the past 40 years. Of course I feel proud of the bank, but I feel prouder of my officers. Of course it will please my wife and family and my friends to have this acknowledgment you are now giving me. Nothing could please me better than to have my portrait hung side by side with the portraits of the two men with whom I have worked so long, and to whom I owe so much—the late Sir Edward Knox and the late Mr. Richard Jones. I never can forget Mr. Knox, who was my first master, and it was through him that I am standing here to-day. I treasure the remarks of my old friends, Mr. Knox and Mr. Dangar, and Mr. Mullens, one of our oldest shareholders, who spoke in such complimentary terms. Without the support of the present able and wise board of directors and their predecessors, and the loyal assistance of a zealous and efficient staff, the business of the bank would not be what it is today, and I fully recognise this fact, and regard it as a pleasure to work under these circumstances. I feel that I cannot say more than that I sincerely thank you for the kind manner in which you have received me this day.

GAS EXPLOSION.

HOUSE EXTENSIVELY DAMAGED.

WORKMAN'S EXTRAORDINARY ESCAPE.

A serious explosion of gas occurred on Thursday in a house in Telegraph-road, Pymble. The house is owned by Mr. Samuel Callachor, who lives at Pymble. It was all but completed, and a plumber was engaged yesterday in testing the gas pipes. He was using a naked light for the purpose, and was well forward with his work, when there was a terrific explosion, which knocked him down. The force of the explosion can be judged from the fact that it could be heard at Killara, nearly two miles away.

The most remarkable thing about the occurrence was that the plumber escaped practically uninjured, and sustained nothing more serious than a few bruises.

The building, however, was badly damaged. Every window in it was broken, the ceilings of all the rooms were completely wrecked, while a lot of miscellaneous damage was also done.

There were nine rooms in the house, and Mr. Callachor expected to be able to move into it in a few days' time. It is estimated that it will cost nearly £300 to repair the damage.

HOURS IN HOSPITALS.

SWEATING DENIED.

With reference to the complaint made by the Shore Drivers' and Firemen's Union that firemen were kept working 84 hours per week at a wage of £2 and under at two of the metropolitan hospitals, a "Herald" representative waited upon Mr. Charles H. Helsham, secretary of the Sydney Hospital, who said:—

"There are two firemen employed at the Sydney Hospital, both elderly men. One, I know, is 60 years old, and has been in the service of the institution as fireman for five years. The other, at present on night duty, is, I think, quite 60 years old, and has been in the service of the hospital for nearly four years. It is a fact that the hours of duty are from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. day duty, and from 6 p.m. to 6 a.m. night duty, but the work performed is of the lightest possible description. Taking summer and winter together, the average amount of coal consumed under the boilers is about two tons a day. They have no other work to do but stoke the boilers and keep the brass fittings and front of the boilers bright. Each is paid £80 per annum, and gets one week's holiday per annum on full salary. No deduction is ever made from their pay when they are absent from duty for short periods through ill-health. Meals are supplied. During the whole period of their employment at this institution neither of these firemen has ever expressed the slightest dissatisfaction with the conditions of his employment. It is almost impossible to imagine lighter work anywhere for firemen.

"As to the nurses, taking time off and holidays into consideration, they work a shade over eight hours per day. They begin as probationers at £13 per year, and work up to £72 per annum. They pay no premium when they come here, and, except for their dress, are under no expense.

"The attendants and other employees work the same hours, viz., from 6 to 6, with two and a half hours off for meals. The porters are supplied with uniforms, and they get their meals, and the wardsmen get their meals and their working clothes. There is no sweating whatever in any department."

Mr. W. Epps, secretary to the Royal Prince Alfred Hospital, said that as the criticism did not appear to be directed against his institution he would rather not say anything. Asked whether such a charge could with justice be made against it, he said No. They had only two firemen, who each received £120 per year. He could not say at the moment how many hours they worked, but it was certainly not 84 per week."

Dr. Lethbridge, the medical superintendent at the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children, said they employed two firemen, one receiving £2 per week and the other 30s. They both work 72 hours per week. their work is light, and they are perfectly satisfied.

FIRST TEST MATCH.

BLACKS V BLUES.

TO-DAY'S GREAT CONTEST.

MESSENGER UNABLE TO PLAY.

The first of the series of three matches between Australia and New Zealand will be played to-day on the Sydney Cricket Ground.

There was much speculation yesterday as to what the weather would be. The Government Meteorologist has given his forecast as "squally, southerlies, and unsettled or showery." Probably there are 50,000 people at least who hope that for once the weather prediction will prove an erroneous one. A wet ball and a greasy ground rob the game of much of its fine points.

Mr. J. J. Walsh arrived from Brisbane yesterday morning for the purpose of selecting the Australian team. It was intended that three from each State should officiate, making a committee of half a dozen—a rather unwieldy body. However, two of the northern representatives could not make the trip, and as Mr. James M'Mahon saw more of the Queensland play than did Messrs. J. R. Henderson and J. F. Macmanamey, it was decided that the New South Wales selector to work with Mr. Walsh should be Mr. M'Mahon. In case of disagreement the others were appealed to. This course was approved by the N.S.W. and Queensland Rugby Unions.

Messrs. Walsh and M'Mahon had the assistance of Messrs. J. F. Macmanamey and J. R. Henderson, but their task was harder even than was anticipated. Every few minutes after 6 o'clock—and they had been sitting then six hours—the reply to the ring on the 'phone was, "In a few minutes." Those few minutes did not reach the end of their tether until about 9 o'clock. Just when visitors to the rooms were looking forward to an all-night sitting the names were announced.

The team chosen is undoubtedly a very strong one. It is a big misfortune that Messenger is absent. He was noticed limping on Wednesday, and now his ankle is so bad that he is compelled to stand down. In placing Carmichael at full-back and Dix in the centre of the three-quarters, the selectors have done well. It will no doubt cause some surprise to find Murnin omitted. Oxlade would have been chosen in the forwards had he been able to obtain leave of absence.

The New Zealanders have made a couple of alterations. These are important, one being the substitution of Booth for G. Spencer at full-back. It was thought that Gillett would again be chosen as wing forward. It is not so; Colman, who played on Wednesday, retains his position.

Some surprise has been, and will be, expressed over the fact that the New Zealand management have chosen a new referee, Mr. A. Brown, though the official for to-morrow is a good man, and has had a lot of experience. The visitors, at the close of each match, expressed their satisfaction with the refereeing. Mr. Martin has done a lot of work, and it has been applauded not only by New South Wales, but by Queensland and New Zealand. The visitors are of course quite within their rights in picking any of the six whose names were submitted to them, and Mr. Brown has done important work in that position, but not for at least 12 months. Mr. Brown has the reputation of playing a stricter game than Mr. Martin.

Their Excellencies the Governor-General, State Governor, and the Admiral have signified their intention of being present.

THE AUSTRALIAN TEAM.

THE BACKS.

P. Carmichael, who was a rival of Dix for the position of full-back, played in that place for Queensland. He is a rattling kick, and his fielding is excellent.

Russell made a remarkable entry into first grade football. He was a third-grader when given a trial, and he has not looked back since. He is a really good, strong player in every department of the game.

Dix came from New England as one of the three-quarters, and was chosen as full-back for the second New South Wales team against Queensland. The work he did on that occasion created so favourable an impression that he found a place in that position in the return Queensland engagement, and also against New Zealand. He is quick-footed, a splendid tackler, and capital kick, and will play well at three-quarters.

Bede Smith, a countryman, in form is the most solid player on the side. He could improve by just a little quickening up in attack. In defence he is the best we have.

Watson is one of the Queensland three-quarters, and is a really good and strong man. He showed to advantage for his State against New South Wales in Sydney, although he received very little support from his five-eighth. He is a solid-looking fellow.

M'Kivatt is quick and clever at five-eighth. He played a rattling second for New South Wales in the Wednesday match against Queensland. Scrum-half Wood is now showing the best form he has ever exhibited. His feeding from scrum, his rush-stopping, kicking, and tackling have reached a very high standard.

THE FORWARDS.

Barnett is the best forward in Australia. He has, perhaps, one weakness—hanging on to the ball too much. His forte is tackling and hard struggling on the line-out. This is Griffin's first season in representative football, and he has proved a big success. In the present match he would probably have been omitted had Oxlade been able to make the trip.

Rosewell, like Griffin, obtained his baptism in representative matches this year. He has shown good form on the line-out. He is a heady player, and is one of the best on the side.

Burge is always a good solid man for the State, and with M'Cue forms the second row. He is splendid on the line-out, fine dribbler, and capital worker. M'Cue this year made his first appearance, and he seized the opportunity. He and Burge are the heaviest in the team. M'Cue is just a little on the slow side in the open. He is good on the line-out, and in the ruck.

Flanagan, from Queensland, has been in fine fettle in the matches against the mother State for the past four years. He plays break-away, is good on the line-out, also quick in the open. It would be to his advantage if he had a little more weight.

James Hughes is now having his first year in interstate engagements. For University he has given ample evidence of possessing the attributes of an excellent forward, and he is now playing himself into position in the representative team. He is one of the very few forwards who handle the ball, and set the backs going in the loose. Row has displayed excellent form this year. He could, however, do a little more in the scrum.

THE EARLY MATCH.

The early match will be between the second grade team which visited the South Coast and the City and Suburban Association.

NEW ZEALANDERS' PROGRAMME.

After to-day's match the visitors will shape their way towards Brisbane. Their programme is:—

July 24.—V Queensland, at Brisbane.
July 27.—V Queensland at Brisbane.
August 3.—V Australia, at Brisbane.
August 10.—V Australia, at Sydney.

They may play at Newcastle on the return journey, on August 7.

POSTING SCRATCHINGS.

"Tasman" writes:—"Could not the numbers of the actual players (or those scratched) be posted on the board before commencing?"

TRAM SERVICE.

It is notified that a special service of trams will be run to the Sydney Cricket Ground to-day, commencing at 12.30 p.m., from Circular Quay and western railway gates in connection with the football match, New Zealand v Australia.

DEFEAT OF ALL BLACKS.

NEW ZEALAND'S INCREDULOUS AMAZEMENT.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

Commenting on Wednesday's match, the "Wellington Post" remarks:—"The silver fern leaf was trailed in the dust, and the proud invaders of the Commonwealth were compelled to cry enough. The sweeping march of the New Zealanders through the Rugby fields of Great Britain had led people here to believe their champions would never again have a taste of the gall and wormwood of defeat; therefore when they read that the 'New South Welshmen swarmed all over' the redoubtable All Blacks, they were filled with incredulous amazement. The slaughter of the New Zealanders for one day should bring about a glorious resurrection, and should put fresh life into Australian football. Steadily it has been improving, and this latest success will give it another strong fillip."

The "Christchurch Press" says:—"There is no doubt the victory of the New South Welshmen was thoroughly deserved. It is always difficult to compare past and present teams, but we hardly think the one now in Australia is equal to its predecessors on present form, though there was every reason to think it was when it left New Zealand. But this does not account for Wednesday's score. The fact is football in New South Wales has improved greatly of late. Wednesday's victory must be very encouraging to those who have worked for years in the face of repeated defeats to raise the standard of football in the senior State of the Commonwealth. We congratulate them on their victory, although we would rather it had not been achieved at our expense."

NEW ZEALAND PROFESSIONALS.

ENGLISH TOUR ABANDONED.

PROPOSED MATCHES IN AUSTRALIA.

WELLINGTON, Friday.

It is stated here that the idea of despatching a New Zealand professional Rugby team to England at the end of this month has been dropped on account of the proposals made to the New Zealand professional team from Australia, which may lead to a series of matches being played in the Commonwealth.

Private advice has been received in Wellington to the effect that a professional Rugby union, destined to affiliate with the English Northern Rugby Union, is being formed in Sydney. Mr. Baskerville, the hon. secretary of the New Zealand Football Club, declines to say more than that he had been cognisant of the fact for some time past. A few Australian enthusiasts have made a proposal to him regarding the New Zealand professional team playing in Sydney on the way to England. Negotiations are still proceeding, and if the guarantees and assurances were satisfactory no doubt the Australian public would be afforded an opportunity of seeing the "All Black" professionals play.

"E. C. W." suggests that the Cricket Ground authorities take steps to put a stop to smoking in the public grandstand. It does not add to the comfort or enjoyment of ladies, or those who prefer to see the game other than through a haze of smoke.

AUSTRALIAN THEATRE.

THE GREAT COMBINE.

EMBARGO ON ARTISTS.

DEVELOPMENT OF LOCAL TALENT.

The theatrical combine, or, as it is more euphemistically called in the cable messages, the business arrangement for the "consolidation of interests" of managers, is considered in local theatrical circles another blow at Australian enterprise in securing the visits of old world artists.

It is already well known that, owing to some secret arrangement between managers, it is absolutely impossible to secure the services of some of the European and American artists at any price. They are bound by agreements which forbid them to accept engagement outside the sphere of the combine. Attempts have been made to secure certain of these celebrities for Australia, magnificent terms have been offered, and the greatest possible inducements held out, but although the "stars" might be personally disposed to accept them, the nature of their contracts prevented them from leaving the scenes of their successes in Europe. Now the extension of the combine all over the world, or practically so, will, it is pointed out by local managers, emphasise this enormous difficulty, and until Australia can cultivate a sufficiently large reserve of dramatic and musical talent of her own she will always stand at a disadvantage as compared with Europe and America, which now have the largest supply of theatrical genius.

Visits hither of world-wide celebrities are few and far between. The vaudeville or variety stage has, of course, its specialists, who, when they become tired of old world appearances, migrate hither for a season, then return home to appear again as fresh as new. But actors like those whose names have penetrated to the uttermost parts of the earth are names only to Australians unless they cross the Equator, and hear the great ones in their own cities. But Australia can produce her own artists, and, taking them all in all, they are above the average. That is the verdict which Mr. Ramaciotti, partner of Mr. J. C. Williamson, gave yesterday. In a chat on the subject of the theatrical combine, and its probable effect upon Australian managers, the question arose whether it would make it more difficult for his firm to obtain Northern Hemisphere talent. Mr. Ramaciotti said:—"It will, no doubt, have this effect—it will increase our difficulties, which are already tangible, in getting European artists. Mr. George Edwardes, we know, since his American business started, has had very great difficulty in getting people to join him, and Australian entrepreneurs have the same difficulty. But we breed our artists. We have to.

"Mr. Williamson told a Melbourne interviewer a year ago about the aptitude of the Australians. He said that we have a field here in artists which is as good as any in the world. As a matter of fact, our children here are unsurpassed in talent in any part of the world—in any part of the world," Mr. Ramaciotti repeated. "This is not my verdict; I concur in it, but I am not giving my own opinion alone in saying it. Visiting artists like Collins and Andrew Mack have told me so, and they are not the only ones. Others say the same thing. They really say that the children are wonderful in Australia. They are quite right. Our children have a marvellous aptitude, but our Australian public do not always think so. Myles Clifton and Gouvreur, who have seen our children here in the 'Spring Chicken,' said they were marvellous. Why, in our American company awhile back the artists whom we imported were a rehearsal—they had been a fortnight at a piece, and they were still rehearsing with their parts in their hands—the Australian children whom we had as supernumeraries in the play were on the same day in their fourth rehearsal, and not one of them had their parts in their hands. They were letter perfect.

"Of course, there is the difficulty that we have in educating the public up to an appreciation of the local article. 'A prophet hath no honour in his own country and among his own kindred.' An artist hath no honour in Australia if he is born here and bred here. A thing to be good must be imported. Look at Carrie Moore. She appears in Australia, and she is simply Carrie Moore. She goes to London, and is at the top of the tree there. Look at Dolly Castles. While she was here she was 'a nice little thing, you know, but only a child.' She goes away, and George Edwardes snaps her up, and gives her principal parts. Look at Rose Musgrove, who is now in London. She has a big engagement there. Marie Lohr is another Australian. Hilda Spong is still another. There are many more if I could only think of their names. There is Cyril Keightley, one of London's leading stars. He is a native of Bathurst. There is Oscar Asche. He is one of London's leading managers, and his productions rival Beerbohm Tree's. In no part of the world are the choruses, both male and female, of the same standard of excellence as in Australia, not even in Italy."

What is the reason? Something in the air of Australia which gives clearness to the voice box?

"No, it is not altogether a question of voice box; it is also a question of aptitude, a question of interest in the work, a question of determination to do it well. You can go to any part of the world, even Italy, as I said just now, and you cannot get a chorus together as you can get one here. Look at Mr. George Musgrove in Melbourne, when he started his grand opera season. His difficulty was to make a selection from among the good voices; he had too much material. Here in Sydney we never publish that we want voices for our choruses, but every Saturday morning one of my troubles is with mothers who have their own little ambitions. They and their children fill up the lane every Saturday morning. And we have very good choruses.

"This combine, if it is a combine, will increase our difficulty in getting European artists, but we can breed our own. Some of the European artists who have come to Australia have not been able to stand the London climate, but that is their misfortune, and Australia has had the advantage of it. We, however, have no fear while we have such a choice as Australia can offer."

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL MATCH.

To promote drop-kick field goals, the Proprietors of Wolfe's Schnapps are offering trophies to the value of £5 5s for each goal so scored by the "Blues" in to-day's match.—Advt.

NEW ZEALAND LAND POLICY.

SUBSTITUTE FOR LEASE IN PERPETUITY.

RURAL LAND FOR CITY WORKERS.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

The Land Bill brought down by the Government proposes to substitute a 66 years' renewable lease for the present lease in perpetuity. At the end of every period of 66 years a revaluation will be made, it being provided that the new rental in no case shall exceed £4 per cent. of the value of the fee simple of the land. The points in dispute regarding valuation will be submitted to arbitration. If the lease is not renewed the lessee will be entitled to the value of his improvements. The owner of a renewable lease may pay off up to 90 per cent. of the capital value of his land. When he has paid off 50 per cent. he shall be free from all the conditions of tenancy, except the payment of rent, which will be adjusted in proportion to the amount paid off. All moneys so paid are to be devoted to the acquisition of land under the Land for Settlements Act. Any holder of a lease in perpetuity may obtain in lieu thereof a renewable lease. Every owner of a lease in perpetuity may purchase the freehold of his land at a price equal to the capital value at the time of purchase as determined by valuation or arbitration. This provision does not apply to the land acquired under the Land for Settlements Act. Poor lands may be leased on the condition that no rent is payable for 10 years, and the residence conditions may be modified by the board for the benefit of persons who desire to select rural land for themselves or families, but whose vocations prevent them complying with such conditions. Where the land is disposed of by ballot, landless applicants are to be given preference. Next in order of preference come married men with children, widowers with children, widows with children, married women with children, and judicially separated from husbands, and finally those who have been previously unsuccessful at the ballot. Any one who disposes of his section shall be disqualified from participation in the ballot for five years. Regarding land for settlement the Lands Bill substitutes a renewable 33 years' lease for the present lease in perpetuity on a minimum of 5 per cent. basis.

The National Endowment Bill sets aside 9,000,000 acres of Crown lands for education and old-age pensions. None of this land is to be sold or disposed of by way of right of purchase. The proceeds of such endowments are to be paid in proportion of 70 per cent. for education and 30 per cent. for pensions.

GRADUATED LAND TAX.

The Land and Income Assessment Bill makes persons owning land over £5000 improved value liable to a graduated tax, which is fixed, as follows: £5000 to £7000, one-sixteenth of a penny in the pound; £7000 to £9000, two-sixteenths; £9000 to £11,000, three-sixteenths; £11,000 to £13,000, four-sixteenths; £13,000 to £15,000, five-sixteenths; £15,000 to £17,000, seven-sixteenths; £20,000 to £22,500, eight-sixteenths; £22,500 to £25,000, nine-sixteenths; £25,000 to £27,500, ten-sixteenths; £27,500 to £30,000, eleven-sixteenths; £30,000 to £35,000, twelve-sixteenths; £35,000 to £40,000 thirteen-sixteenths. Holders of land of a value not less than £40,000, but less than £41,000, will pay eight shillings for every hundred sterling; for every additional thousand value the percentage will be increased by one-fifth of a shilling until the percentage reaches the maximum case where the land held is over £200,000 in value. In cases in which this amount is exceeded £2 for every hundred pounds is to be paid. Drastic provision is made to prevent the evasion of the payment of the graduated tax, but mortgagees are not liable for payment of graduated tax. No land tax, ordinary or graduated, is payable in respect of the value of minerals, timber, or flax. Persons having any interest in estates, companies, and joint owners are all equally liable for the payment of the tax.

THE BUTTER EXPORT TRADE.

CONFERENCE IN VICTORIA.

THE RATES OF FREIGHT.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

A strong endeavour is now being made to arrange that bodies representing the butter export trade of the different States shall act in unison in the negotiations with shipping companies that are now proceeding to secure a new contract.

A conference took place in Melbourne to-day, at which the Victorian butter export committee discussed the situation with representatives from New South Wales and South Australia, but no finality was arrived at, and further meetings will have to take place. The difficulty of coming to an arrangement is complicated by the fact that in New South Wales there are two conflicting sections in the trade, representing the co-operative factories on the one side, and the Butter Shippers' Association on the other. These two parties have not, as in Victoria combined, in order to secure the best contract obtainable. This afternoon Messrs. Hay and Oxley, who represent the Shippers' Association view, had an interview extending over an hour with the butter export committee. Afterwards, Messrs. C. E. D. Mearns and N. H. Throsby, the delegates for the conference of the co-operative companies held in Sydney this week spent almost three hours in discussing the whole matter. The P. and O., Orient, White Star, Aberdeen, and Lund lines recently submitted an offer to the butter exports committee that the new contract should provide for the carriage of butter by the mail boats at 9-16d, and a half-penny a pound by cargo boats or via the Cape. This rate, which represents an increase in the case of the mail boats of 50 per cent., and of other boats of 33⅓ per cent. on the present contract, has been declined by the butter supply committee, and the companies have been informed of this. It now remains for them to make the next move should they be prepared to accept a lower rate than was at first submitted. They will probably submit another proposition. If they do not do that it will be open for the butter export committee on behalf of Victoria alone, or if any arrangement is made, acting in conjunction with the bodies representing the trade in the other States, to make an offer for the consideration of the companies.

The large increase, which the companies are demanding, is looked upon as altogether too great, and it is contemplated that more reasonable terms can be arranged.

The meeting did not close until 10.45 p.m. The chairman, Colonel Pleasants, said the committee would meet again on Monday, when it was likely though not certain that the Sydney representatives might be present. The great difficulty in the way of the producers of the four States—N.S.W., Queensland, South Australia, and Victoria—acting in unison was the unfortunate difference of opinion between the two sections in Sydney. The Sydney representatives, though they had not refused to accept the terms offered by the companies, were not prepared to pay the rates asked by the steamship companies, so that on that point they were all in agreement, and the meeting on Monday would probably determine whether the different States would act together or independently. The representatives of South Australia were present during the afternoon, and stated that they were ready to agree with any arrangement made.

A NEW INDUSTRY.

ON SOUTH MAITLAND COALFIELD.

MANUFACTURE OF COAL BRICKS.

CESSNOCK, Friday.

A new departure in the coal industry has been started by the East Greta Coal Company, who have erected a plant for the manufacturing of coal bricks out of the waste coal—commonly known as slack. The industry, which is successfully carried on in Wales and other large mining centres in the old world, gives every promise of success. An excellent plant has been erected at East Greta. A new building has been built specially for the purpose, new and up-to-date machinery being installed. The building is situate in a handy position alongside the railway line. The plant has just been got into working order, and on Tuesday last the first batch of coal bricks was turned out. The samples submitted are regarded as very satisfactory. The brick—or briquette—measures 5½ inches by 3 inches, weighs between 12lb and 13lb, and can be handled with ease. To make the bricks, the coal is ground very fine, mixed with water, and compressed by machinery. When made it presents the appearance of black lead. It is the intention of the East Greta Coal Company to extend the industry; and, in order to do so, the most modern and up-to-date machinery has been purchased; the pressing power of the machinery being greater than that of the machinery used for briquette-making in Wales. The introduction of this new industry should mean a big asset to the colliery proprietors, for the coal utilised for brick-making is practically useless, and is invariably wasted. Now, however, coal of any description can be utilised, and nothing wasted as hitherto. It is understood the company have already found a market for their new fuel, and as the opinion expressed of the bricks is favourable, the East Greta Coal Company are assured of success in their new departure.

MARITIME TROUBLE.

COAL-LUMPERS' MEETING.

NO FINALITY AS YET.

UNIONISTS MORE CONCILIATORY.

ANOTHER MEETING TO-DAY.

There was a large gathering of unionist coal-lumpers at the Institute Hall, Miller's Point, yesterday, to hear the report of those delegates who had had interviews with the employers, the Sydney Steam Collier Owners and Coal Stevedores' Association. The business was conducted, under the presidency of Mr. W. Macey, with closed doors, and information respecting the meeting, which lasted three hours, was difficult to obtain. One fact, however, was gleaned, which shows that there are still hopes of a settlement. The proprietors' terms were not wholly rejected. The meeting decided in respect to some of them that further efforts should be put forward in the direction of securing some modifications.

Delegates from the union had a further interview with the proprietors during the afternoon. They asked if the owners could see their way to withdraw from the position they had taken up in respect to the foremanship, and also the question of the employment of free labour. The reply, in respect to the free labour matter was to the effect that there would be equal opportunities of employment for all, and that the hands would be engaged at the Institute Reserve, Miller's Point. In regard to the foremanship, the proprietors said they could not agree to the foremen being responsible to the union before being responsible to them as employers. The men were, however (so it is reported), met to the extent that there would be no objection offered to the foremen being members of the union—provided that the union would guarantee not to prejudice them in the proper discharge of their duties. The employers are said to have made it clear that unionism on the part of the men was in no way objected to, and promised that the proffered agreement (to take the place of the Arbitration Court award) would be carried out faithfully and in the general interests of the workmen—not in the interests of any one section of them.

The unionist delegates undertook to report the result of the interview to the general meeting of the Coal-lumpers' Union, which stands adjourned till this morning.

Mr. W. M. Hughes, M.P., who has been mediating between the parties, is still hopeful of the best results.

Seamen attached to one of the South Coast steamers lying at Woolloomooloo Bay Wharf refused yesterday to take delivery of coal from the Helen Nicoll because of the employment of free labourers as coal-lumpers.

THE MILLERS' COMBINE.

Although many of the bakers are taking the announcement of a combine movement amongst the millers with somewhat philosophical indifference, the subject is not being lost sight of. The millers are to meet next Tuesday to discuss the terms of what they will not admit is a combine, but which they call a business agreement. These terms have been confidentially circulated amongst them, and it is known that a definite proposal in connection with the whole scheme will be considered. This is to take the form of a suggestion to send delegates throughout the State to interview all the millers in order to see if they will ratify the agreement. It is also known that a practical agreement has existed amongst the millers on the southern and western railway lines not to undercut each other, and to adhere to three months' contracts only. This agreement has operated advantageously to the millers who endorse it, and their best customers in the baking trade have not found active fault with the latter section of it, while they have been powerless against the determination not to undercut. The disposition evinced in some circles to belittle the significance of the combine movement here is, therefore, just so much blinking of facts, and ignoring of the probabilities of the near future whose portents are unmistakable to those not wilfully blind. One matter which deserves consideration is the fact that a few substantial millers in Sydney do not want a combine. They hope to get along without it as well as ever, but these are generally men who would most likely acquiesce in what a combine decided upon, and would decidedly offer no factious opposition to the improvement of trading methods. The combine movement is otherwise steadily gaining in favour with other millers, and there is little doubt that it will become of substantial importance ere long. In New Zealand and Victoria millers acknowledge that combination has benefited them, but how the combines in those two centres have affected bakers, flour merchants, brokers, and the public is another matter. It is said here that a combine would suit the flour-brokers.

BIG LOAN PROPOSAL.

BY A.M.P. SOCIETY.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The Metropolitan Board of Works on Tuesday next will deal with an offer from the Australian Mutual Provident Society to purchase debentures of £100 each, bearing a face value of £300,000. The terms are that the bonds shall carry interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, that the price shall be £102 10s, and that the premium of £7500 shall be paid to the board within 24 hours after the society shall have been notified in writing of the acceptance of the offer. The debentures are to have a currency of 25 years from July 1, and principal and interest are to be paid in Melbourne. If the offer is accepted as recommended by the finance committee, the society will on August 1 next pay a deposit of £25,000, which will be retained by the board until payment of the last instalment. The balance of the loan will be paid in the following instalments:—£125,000 on September 20, 1907; £25,000 on January 20, 1908; £105,000 on March 20, 1908; and £20,000 on May 20, 1908. The society is to receive debentures to the full extent of the several instalments upon the payment thereof on the respective due dates.

CHARGE OF INCENDIARISM.

CESSNOCK, Friday.

At the Police Court to-day Theodore Cecil Earl Pinchen was committed for trial on a charge of maliciously setting fire to a dwelling, the property of his grandfather, William Pinchen.

REMARKABLE ACCIDENT.

CLIFTON, Friday.

A few days ago a peculiar accident happened to Harold Carrick, son of Mr. J. J. Carrick, manager of the Coalcliff colliery. He was kicking a football, and had his pipe in his mouth. The ball struck his pipe, driving the stem some distance into the roof of his mouth, where it broke off. Dr. Steele attended the sufferer, and extracted the stem.

CASUALTIES.

CUT HIS EAR OFF.

Duncan M'Kinnon, 64, an engineer, employed on a launch belonging to Messrs. Brown and Brown, iron founders, of Pyrmont, was walking through the firm's yard yesterday, when a piece of iron plate fell on him, and cut his left ear off, besides inflicting other injuries. The Civil Ambulance conveyed him to Sydney Hospital, where over 20 stitches had to be put in the wounds on his head and face.

SHOCKING BURNING FATALITY.

ULMARRA, Friday.

An infant daughter of Mr. James Forsythe, died last night from the effects of a burning accident. She was playing near a fire burning in the yard, when the flames caught her dress. She commenced to run from the house the mother having a difficulty in catching her. The burns were so severe that she died a few hours afterwards.

THROWN FROM A BUGGY.

TAMWORTH, Friday.

John Byrne, a well-known resident of Attunga, was thrown out of his sulky and seriously injured.

A PREVALENT EPIDEMIC.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Metropolitan sporting folk will be catered for this afternoon at Warwick Farm; the V.A.T.C. brings off its July Meeting at Caulfield, providing sport for Victorian racegoers; while northern sportsmen assemble at Ascot, where the card framed by the Queensland Turf Club for its July reunion will be played out.

The scratchings recorded yesterday in connection with the Warwick Farm July Meeting were The Strand out of the Hurdle Race, Legion out of the Liverpool Mile, Lady Trenchant out of the Farm Stakes, and Violet Cup out of the Pace Welter.

Mr. G. W. S. Rowe, secretary of the Rosehill Racing Club, notifies through our business sheets that applications for the registration of bookmakers for the half-year ending on December 31 must be lodged at the office of the club, and will not be received on the racecourse.

Leonator was yesterday struck out of the A.J.C. Epsom Handicap.

The programme for the Rosehill August Meeting is set forth in our advertising sheets, and owners and trainers of racehorses should not forget that entries for the following items close with the secretary, Mr. G. W. S. Rowe, at 4 p.m. on Monday, the 29th instant:—Hurdle Race, 2m; August Stakes, 6f; Granville Stakes, 1m; Flying Welter, 6½f; and Carlingford Mile, of 70 sovs each, and Rosehill Handicap, of 100 sovs, 1¼m and 100 yards.

P. Gough's string at Mount Vernon has recently been strengthened by a two-year-old filly by Acumen from Catherine Wheel, a four-year-old mare by Schimmel from Amazement, by Oudies, and a three-year-old gelding by Acumen from Lee Morna, by Archie. The trio were bred by Mr. W. H. Mate, at the Tarcutta Stud. The Morna credited Mr. Mate with the Wagga Cup, 1899.

The stable-mates, Bribery and Divham, are the popular combination for the Caulfield Grand National double.

The ex-Victorian jockey, B. Carslake, had the mount on the winner of the Austrian Oaks, which was decided last month.

The jockeys H. Mulligan and J. Somers, who were injured on Wednesday last at the Ascot pony and galloway meeting, were showing considerable improvement yesterday at the Prince Alfred Hospital; but H. Phillips, who was thrown heavily at Canterbury Park a week ago, still remains in an unconscious condition in the Western Suburbs Cottage Hospital at Croydon.

The Wollongong Race Club is in the field with the programme framed for the meeting to be held on the 8th prox, and for the following events comprised therein the secretary, Mr. F. W. Philpott, will receive nominations up to 8 p.m. on Thursday, August 1:—Opening Handicap of 10 sovs, 6f; Trial Stakes of 8 sovs, 6f; Wollongong Handicap of 12 sovs, 7f; Hack Race of 5 sovs, 6f; and Welter Handicap of 10 sovs, 7f. Entries can also be lodged with the secretary of the Rosehill Racing Club up to 4 p.m. on the 1st prox. The handicaps will be framed by Mr. W. C. Quinton.

The prize money distributed at the annual meeting of the Clarence River Jockey Club (telegraphs our Grafton correspondent) amounted to £520 5s. J. Stone, the Queensland jockey, scored four wins out of six events on the second day of the reunion.

Our local correspondent telegraphs that at a meeting of the Albury Racing Club a programme of six events was drawn up for the show meeting to be held in September.

WARWICK FARM RACING CLUB.

JULY MEETING.

Patrons of the turf are invited this afternoon to Warwick Farm, where an interesting bill of fare is down for discussion, and good sport may be anticipated. The tracks are reported to be in splendid order, and the customary arrangements have been made for the comfort and convenience of visitors. The special service by rail includes special trains starting from the Central Railway Station at 11.15 a.m. (horses and attendants), 12.17, 12.50, 1, and 1.9 p.m., stopping at Strathfield and Granville to pick up passengers. The sport commences at 2 p.m. with the Hurdle Race, in which Old John, Lance, Mulwarrie, and W.A. appear to have the best chances, and the numbers may be hoisted for W.A, Old John, and Lance. The Palmist, Anatroff, Mary of Argyle, Set Free, and Passion should have the settlement of the Liverpool Mile among them, and Passion, Set Free, and The Palmist may fill the situations. A large field is promised for the Farm Stakes, and those that should run well are Falchion, Miss Kingsley, Kirrinor, and Dalrymple, while Dalrymple, Kirrinor, and Miss Kingsley may pass the judge as written. The Warwick Handicap foreshadows a good contest, in which Lest-We-Forget, Grafton Lad, Fanshawe, Glenbrook, and Cryde should figure prominently, and the honours may be divided by Cryde, Glenbrook, and Fanshawe. Rydalmere, Attain, Jeannie Cameron, Solitary, and Queenbird may fight out the battle for the Pace Welter, and the judge may declare for Attain, Jeannie Cameron, and Queenbird. The programme is subjoined:—

Hurdle Race, 2m.—Colleague, 12st 4lb; C.K., 10st 10lb; Old John (late Jack), 10st 4lb; Lance, 9st 12lb; Mulwarrie, 9st 5lb; Boga, 9st 5lb; W.A. (late Project), 9st 2lb; Ferncliffe, 9st; Captain Lynch (late Fusilier), 9st.

VICTORIAN SPORTING NOTES.

INCREASE OF STAKES AT CAULFIELD.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Notwithstanding the fact that the last day of the A.J.C. Spring Meeting and the first day of the Caulfield Spring Meeting clash, the V.A.T.C. authorities do not apparently view the prospect, as far as their club is concerned, with apprehension. They decided at a meeting held to-day, to make substantial increases in the stakes attached to the minor events at the spring reunion. In all, the increases amount to £900. On the first day, Saturday, the Caulfield Stakes will be raised from 450 sovs. to 550 sovs., and the Ringwood Steeplechase from 200 sovs. to 250 sovs. On the second day the Emo Hurdle Race, from 150 sovs. to 200 sovs., the Mona Nursery from 250 sovs. to 500 sovs., the Eclipse Stakes from 300 sovs. to 500 sovs; and, on the third day the Gwyn Nursery from 350 sovs. to 500 sovs, and Wyuna Steeplechase from 200 sovs to 250 sovs.

In addition to increasing the stakes for the spring meeting, the V.A.T.C. committee decided to-day to raise the stakes in connection with the meeting to be held at Caulfield on September 7—the Hurdle Race from 125 sovs. to 150, Doma Trial from 125 sovs. to 150 sovs., Heatherlie Handicap from 130 sovs. to 150 sovs., Steeplechase from 125 sovs. to 150 sovs., Memsie Stakes (w.f.a.) from 150 sovs. to 200 sovs., and Warriston Welter from 125 sovs. to 150 sovs.

D. Mahony and F. Stegleck, who were injured while riding in the jumping events at the V.R.C. Grand National Steeplechase Meeting, have sufficiently recovered to leave the Melbourne Hospital.

V.A.T.C. SCRATCHINGS.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

The following scratchings were recorded to-day in connection with the V.A.T.C. July meeting:—

Leamington Hurdle Race.—Tod and South Head.

Murrumbeena Handicap.—South Head and Subterranean.

Kambrook Handicap.—Orleans.

Malvina Welter.—Orleans.

Steeplechase.—Mauser.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN SPORTING NOTES.

ADELAIDE (S.A.), Friday.

The annual report of the South Australian Jockey Club has been issued, and shows that the balance brought forward at the beginning of the year was £20,294, and the amount now carried forward was £20,495, which represents a profit of £201. The four race meetings held during the year resulted in pro forma profit of £1600, as compared with £1560 for the previous year. The amounts are not debited with a proportion of the salaries and working expenses for the year. The totalisator fractions amounted to £241, which were apportioned to the various charities. The total sum distributed by the club from this source is £6106.

The steeplechaser The Trick reached Adelaide on Friday morning from Melbourne, and went into Kelly's stables.

The Melbourne Cup candidate Sporran was on board the steamship Kanowna, which arrived at Port Adelaide from Fremantle on Friday. He is in charge of W. Claus, and, so far, has travelled splendidly.

The Morphettville trainer, George Anderson, has decided not to persevere with the education of Torah's sister, for the reason that she is growing very fast, and Anderson does not intend to tackle her again until later in the season.

RUGBY.

A football match between the Eastern Extension Telegraph Company and the Stockbrokers' Clerks was played at Hampden Park on Wednesday afternoon, and after an exciting game, was won by Eastern, 8 to 3. For the winners tries were scored by Francis and Sheppard, Lenthal converting the latter. For the losers R. Ducker scored.

LAWN TENNIS.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP.

The contest now being played in England, commonly referred to as being for the Davis Cup, is really for the championship of the world, the cup being merely the trophy which is attached to the competition.

The championship is open to any nation having a recognised lawn tennis association, and in the regulations Australia, with New Zealand, Austria, Belgium, the British Isles, British South Africa, Norway, Switzerland, and the United States of America are regarded as separate nations. Teams may be composed of two, three, or four players. This provision is made so that if a nation has any particularly strong doubles players who are weak in singles they may play in the doubles alone. Four matches, or as we in Australia call them, rubbers, are played in singles, and one rubber in doubles, the side winning most rubbers being the winner of the match. The competition is held annually, and the challenge tie is played in the country of the champion nation. The nations competing are drawn against each other as in an ordinary knockout tournament, and the winner of this preliminary tournament plays the nation holding the title.

The first contest took place at Longwood, Boston, U.S.A., in August, 1900, when the Americans, Davis, Whitman, and Ward, defeated Gore, Black, and Roper Barrett, of the British Isles. The British side was not the best possible, but yet it was considered quite strong enough for the Americans, of whose powers not very much was known. A surprise was, however, in store for the visitors, for it was in this match that the American service first achieved its fame. The British team were quite astounded when the first ball in the match served to Black by Davis broke fully a yard, and he could not even touch it. Gore was even more upset by Whitman's reverse twist, and in the end America won the first two singles and the doubles, and thus won the match. The remaining two rubbers were not played, on account of wet weather.

No match was played in 1901, as, although the British Isles issued a challenge, the nation was unable to send a representative team, and after the experience of the previous year it was useless to send any but the best.

In 1902 H. L. Doherty, then champion, R. F. Doherty, who had been champion from 1895 to 1900, and J. Pim, champion in 1893 and 1894, were nominated by the British Isles. Many consider that Pim is the best player England ever produced, and, though he had not played much in open competition for several years, he was apparently in very good form. An error of judgment, however, appears to have been made in playing him in the singles instead of H. L. Doherty, for Pim was beaten by both Larned and Whitman, and, though the brothers Doherty won the doubles, and R. F. Doherty won his match against Larned, Whitman defeated R. F. Doherty, and thus America won by three matches to two.

In 1903 the British Isles sent the two Dohertys over with H. S. Mahony, the champion of 1896. The United States were without the services of Whitman and Davis, and they ultimately decided on Larned and R. D. Wrenn for singles, and R. D. Wrenn and G. L. Wrenn for the doubles. Shortly before the match R. F. Doherty wrenched his shoulder, and was unable to play in the first round of singles. It was held that if Mahony played in the first round of singles he must also play in the second. As there was a doubt about his ability to win it was decided that Doherty should forfeit to Larned, and hope that he would recover sufficiently to play in the remaining matches. This proved to be the case, and the forfeited rubber was the only one lost, the British Isles thus becoming the champion nation, and entitled to have the 1904 contest played in their country.

Great disappointment was expressed when the United States was unable to send a team, but France and Belgium both entered. Belgium defeated France by three rubbers to two, but the British Isles team, composed of F. L. Riseley and H. L. Doherty for the singles, and the brothers Doherty for the doubles, easily won the challenge round.

In 1905 the newly-formed association of Australasia nominated N. E. Brookes, of Victoria, and A. F. Wilding, of New Zealand, for the singles, with Brookes and Dunlop, also of Victoria, for the doubles. This team easily beat Austria, but were beaten by five rubbers to nil by America, whose team comprised Beales, Wright, and Larned for the singles, with Wright and Ward for the doubles. Although beaten pointless, most of the rubbers were very closely contested. America in turn was beaten by five to nil by the British Isles, who had H. L. Doherty and S. H. Smith for the singles, and the brothers Doherty for the doubles. The British Isles won 5 rubbers 15 sets, 131 games, and America 8 sets, 101 games.

Australasia again challenged in 1906, and was represented by Wilding and Poidevin in singles and doubles, both being resident in England, but playing for Australasia under their birth qualification. As in the previous year, America defeated Australasia, though Wilding won both his singles against Ward and Little, who played in both singles and doubles. Poidevin had not been able to get much time for practice, but showed very fair form. The British Isles relied on the same players who had been so successful the previous year, and they were again rewarded by winning 5 rubbers to 0.

In the present competition only America and Australasia entered, and the latter, with Brookes and Wilding, has defeated America, represented by Wright and Behr, by 3 rubbers to 2. The challenge round against the British Isles, to be played on July 20, 22, and 23, will decide whether the British Isles or Australasia shall be the champion lawn tennis nation for 1907.

NEW SOUTH WALES v QUEENSLAND.

Players desirous of making the trip to Brisbane next month, if selected, should note that to-day is the last date for receiving nominations for the teams. Notification must be sent to Mr. T. H. Hicks, Box 275, G.P.O.

The Queensland Association will provide accommodation for the selected teams while in Brisbane.

Practice Match, Blues v Whites, Birchgrove Reserve.

ROWING.

THE SEARLE-MITCHELL MATCH.

MACLEAN, Friday.

Searle and Mitchell are in good form for their match, being equal favourites. A southerly wind is blowing, which, if it continues, will make the water rough and improve Searle's chances.

THE SCULLING CHAMPIONSHIP.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Friday.

Many Wanganui people are leaving by the Maheno to witness the Webb-Towns sculling race. Mr. Tuck, Webb's backer, is among the party. It is expected others from Webb's town will cross over by next week's boat.

BILLIARDS.

MARKERS' TOURNAMENT.

The above was continued at Messrs. Heiron and Smith's billiard parlour, 214 Castlereagh-street, last night, when Exchange, rec. 265, beat H. Franklin, rec. 265, by 8. The games for Monday night are:—W. G., rec. 265, v S. Thorne, rec. 250; J. M'Gaffin, rec. 150, v A. Watkins, rec. 275.

INMAN v GRAY.

BRISBANE, Friday.

The billiard match between Inman and Gray was continued to-day. In the afternoon Inman made breaks of 316, 104, and 77. He passed the Queensland champion. Gray then showed up, compiling runs of 50, 44, 39, 67, 134, and 54. At the close of the session the scores were:—Gray, 7507; Inman, 7492. In the evening Inman scored breaks of 82, 74, 56, 127, 77, 59, 226, 116, 56, and 104 unfinished. Gray made runs of 124, 89, and 97. At the close the scores were:—Inman, 8607; Gray (receives 4000), 8038.

SHORTAGE OF HOPPERS.

HAMPERING THE WESTERN COAL TRADE.

LITHGOW, Friday.

Mr. J. S. Bragg, secretary of the Lithgow Coal Association, reports that he ordered 200 hoppers yesterday for the Lithgow collieries, and only 53 were received. To-day he ordered 200 hoppers, and only 115 were received. There are two steamers and three sailing vessels in Sydney Harbour waiting to be loaded with Lithgow coal, and Mr. Bragg states that the delay arising from the short supply of hoppers is seriously hampering the local coal trade.

The steamer Mareeba left Brisbane at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, cleared Moreton Bay 8.30 p.m., and entered Sydney Heads 6.25 a.m. yesterday. She experienced strong south-west and south-south-west winds to Seal Rocks, then strong southerly gale, with high confused sea, accompanied with thunder and lightning and heavy continuous rain to arrival.

The steamer Peregrine, which left Melbourne at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, passed Wilson's Promontory at 1.50 a.m. on the 18th, round Gabo Island 3.15 p.m. the same date, and entered Sydney Heads at 8.20 a.m. on Friday. Fine weather prevailed to Gabo Island, thence a strong following wind with beam seas.

The steamer Bombala left Townsville on July 13, called at Mackay and Rockhampton en route to Brisbane, arriving there on Tuesday morning, and left at 5 p.m. on Wednesday; passed Smoky Cape at 2.30 p.m. 18th, and arrived at Port Jackson at 8 a.m. yesterday. From Brisbane strong south-south-west winds, with high head sea, and squalls, were experienced to Seal Rocks, thence southerly gale and heavy south-south-east sea to arrival.

The Kabinga, a new steel screw cargo steamer has been added to the fleet of the Bucknall Steamship Line, Ltd., of London. She is of the shelter deck type, and her length is 412ft; breadth, 52ft; dead weight capacity, 8300 tons. The engines will be capable of maintaining a speed of 11 knots when the vessel is fully loaded.

The Union Steamship Co. of New Zealand, has contracted with Messrs. W. Doxford and Sons, Sunderland, for the construction of a turret deck steamer of about 4000 tons. She is to be 410ft length, 43½ft beam, and 22ft depth, with engines 22in, 37in, and 61in, by 42in stroke. A speed of 10½ knots has to be attained, and the steamer ready for delivery in December. The contract price is stated to be about £35,000. She is to be used in the company's general trade on the New Zealand coast, and will be the first turret deck steamer in their fleet.

The steamer Brambley went into Woolwich Dock at 8.30 a.m. on Thursday and came out at 5.30 p.m. the same day. While in dock the vessel received two coatings of paint. Considering the size of the steamer that is regarded as a record for the dock.

The A.U.S.N. Co. liners Kyarra and Kanowna will in future reach Melbourne on Sundays, instead of Mondays, when returning to Melbourne from Western Australia, via Adelaide. They will still continue to leave Melbourne on Mondays for Sydney. This alteration will be initiated by the Kanowna on Sunday.

The International Mercantile Marine Company has arranged for nine new steamships to be built, combining a displacement of 127,000 tons. Items of this ship-building programme include a large passenger and cargo vessel for the London and Australian trade.

The Union Steamship Company's steamer Navua will leave Sydney on an excursion to the South Seas on July 25, visiting many of the interesting islands there, and arriving on return at Auckland on August 15. The following trip will be made by the Atua, leaving Sydney on August 29.

The Blue Anchor liner Wakool, from London, arrived at Melbourne on Thursday. Captain S. W. Warren, who was chief officer under the veteran shipmaster, Captain James Raglan Brodie, who recently retired from active service, is in command, and has associated with him as officers: Messrs. L. Gibbs, chief; Angus, second; G. D. Turner, R.N.R., third, R. Stringer, fourth; G. W. Hodder, chief engineer; J. C. M'Mullen, surgeon; H. W. Lenson, purser. The Wakool brought a number of passengers, 2000 tons of cargo for Adelaide, and 3700 tons for Melbourne and Sydney. The voyage began on May 28, at London, a south-westerly gale being encountered off Cape Finisterre, and bunkering call observed at Las Palmas on June 3. The SE trades region was found unusually boisterous, and a welcome change was appreciated by passengers when Capetown was reached on June 21. Later, in 60 E and 43 S north-westerly conditions commenced, and a confused sea was conspicuous until 105 E, when the vessel had to be kept two points away owing to phenomenal waves, which did not apparently cause any damage, though they frequently broke aboard in huge quantities. Easting was made over the parallel of 43 S, the Leeuwin being recorded in 46 S, on 8th inst. Steaming time between Dover and Adelaide was 42 days 2 hours. The Wakool is expected to reach Sydney next week.

Tenders are invited by the State Government for a steamship service, three-weekly, from Sydney to Java ports, and Singapore, via Brisbane and other Queensland ports; or alternatively for a monthly service between Sydney, Queensland ports, Java, Singapore, Penang, Rangoon, and Calcutta.

On the arrival of the R.M.S. Himalaya at Adelaide on Saturday, Captain Broun, R.N.R., complained that his vessel had not been reported by the lightkeepers at Cape Borda, although his signals had been answered by them. The president of the Marine Board telegraphed to the head keeper at Cape Borda for an explanation, and the latter's reply was to the effect that he failed to get through the message of the Himalaya passing the outcape owing to a fault in the line between Cape Borda and Kingscote.

The Tyser liner Star of New Zealand, from Australian and New Zealand ports, arrived at London on July 18. She will sail from New York on September 14 for Melbourne, Sydney, and New Zealand.

Since the formation of the Port Adelaide Dock Company the plans which were prepared for the old company have been revised, and the specifications altered. Everything is in readiness for the acceptance of a tender for the construction of the dock.

The report that the ship Nixe was proceeding to Port Germein, in South Australia, by way of Torres Straits, created surprise in shipping circles at Adelaide, and at first was discredited. The Nixe was chartered to load wheat at Port Germein by the South Australian Co-operative Farmers' Union. The Nixe returned to Sydney Heads on July 12, and in the afternoon headed northwards, the captain stating he would go through Torres Straits. The charterers (says an Adelaide exchange) stated that there had been no communication between the captain and themselves with respect to such a change of course.

The steamer Indra, in ballast, from Valparaiso, June 4, and Auckland July 12, reached Port Jackson yesterday morning. Strong S and SW winds prevailed during the voyage. On July 13 the steamer Veldale, bound east, was spoken. During a strong southerly blow on Wednesday the Indra was hove to for two hours. The vessel anchored in Neutral Bay, and will load coal at Sydney for the West Coast of South America.

FINANCIAL.

LONDON FINANCIAL CABLE NEWS.

The position of the Bank of England has materially strengthened during the week, the proportion of reserves to liabilities having risen from 43.71 to 46.00 per cent. No further change has taken place in the money market, the open rate of discount being still within ⅝ per cent. of the bank rate. Consols have improved ¼, while New South Wales 4 per cents are ⅛ lower, most other Australian securities being unaltered. Metals generally have taken a downward movement, copper being £3 10s, tin £3, and lead £1 to £1 10s lower. Bradford tops are advised as being quiet, but firmer held at unchanged prices. Butter is very dull in Tooley-street, while wheat is inactive at Mark-lane, with prices slightly easier.

COMMERCIAL BANKING COMPANY OF SYDNEY.

The half-yearly report of the above company submitted to yesterday's meeting, which is reported at length elsewhere, shows substantial expansion. An interesting feature in the balance-sheet is the fact that out of the prospective increase of £250,000 in the capital £213,565 has already been paid up. In every respect expansion is shown. The amount held at short call in London has, however, materially decreased, a greater part of the bank's resources being employed in Australia—a feature that is of some significance. Advances have expanded by over one million sterling during the year. Here are some of the chief figures compared:—

	Half-year-ended June 30, 1905.	1906.	1907.
Net profit	£65,273	£66,081	£71,799
Dividend, per cent	10	10	10

The following comparison may be made of the liabilities and assets of the institution now and a year ago:—

UNITED PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

The formation is announced of a company styled "The United Provident Association of the Commonwealth, Ltd." The nominal capital is £50,000, divided into 10,000 shares of £5 each. Mr. J. Earle Hermann is to be legal manager. It is the intention of this company to open branches in Melbourne, Brisbane, and Adelaide. The company will work on the same lines as the Provident Association of London, which was formed 22 years ago, and now has assurance funds totalling £2,068,242.

WHEN ARE GOODS IMPORTED?

This question may have a most important bearing shortly. The view taken by those who are conversant with Customs law and practice is that all goods brought into their port of destination from parts beyond the Commonwealth are undoubtedly imported. Dr. Wollaston, in commenting on this subject, submits: "Goods are imported when they have been brought into any port or other place within Australia from parts beyond the seas with the intention of consuming them there or adding to the general stock of the country so as to be available for consumption." This definition supports the suggestion made in our issue of yesterday that for the sake of uniformity and fair dealing all goods in the ports of the Commonwealth at the time a proposal is made in Parliament to increase the duties should be permitted to enter the Commonwealth at the old rates, the increase to apply to subsequent arrivals only.

LONDON FINANCIAL CABLES.

LONDON, July 19.

The Bank of England reserves in notes and gold are £25,118,000, as against £24,413,000 last week and £25,874,000 last year. NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Five boxes of gold were shipped by the Queensland National Bank by the Damascus, which left for London yesterday.

The following new company has been formed:—

Pender Bros., Ltd.—To take over business carried on by William Samuel Pender, Robert Logan Pender, and George Thomas Pender, as Pender Brothers, at West Maitland, and carry it on as timber merchants, sawmill proprietors, etc. The capital is £20,000, in £1 shares.

The chief figures of the balance-sheet of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company are published elsewhere. They show that, despite losses on San Francisco alone of £666,082 last year, the fire funds now amount to £2,757,799. This company also carries on a life business, and has life funds to the amount of £14,167,989.

The steamer Victoria, from Auckland, brought gold to the value of £18,243, and 72 bars of silver, of the value of £7800.

The annual report of the New York Superintendent of Insurance shows that the disclosures of last year cost the corporation £25,800,000 in the form of loss of business on their books.

The lapses in connection with the Equitable, the Mutual of New York, and the New York Life alone amounted to £108,000,000 last year.

A leading New York insurance journal—the "Spectator"—expresses the opinion that whatever good was done in the way of pointing out extravagances was far more than counterbalanced by the losses to the assured through their sacrificing their policies.

In view of their more prosperous balance-sheet the Board of the Australian Estates and Mortgage Company, Ltd., in London, have granted a bonus to their Australian staff.

An attempt is being made in the United States to force foreign fire insurance companies to make a deposit in at least one State before they are allowed to carry on business in the Union. This was brought about by the repudiation of some of the German companies that had accepted risks in San Francisco.

Since 1800 the population of the United States has increased from five millions to 85 millions.

Excessive speculation has prevailed of late in Japan, and the Government has had to be most watchful to prevent mischief arising therefrom.

The Japanese Minister of Finance says that the banks are now full of money and ready to assist in the healthy reaction that is likely to follow the elimination of a number of bubble companies.

Gold production in Australia is suffering from the abundance of employment in other directions. This is invariably the case.

Our cables state that the profits of the Australian Agricultural Company for last year totalled £89,214, which compares with £90,227 during the previous year. The amount carried forward was £9214.

COMMERCIAL.

Trade was marked by no outstanding feature yesterday, although the distributing turnover continued to be distinctly good. For some lines, cocoas and kerosene being the latest, retailers appeared to be buying in larger quantities than usual in anticipation of probable tariff alterations. Speculation in condensed milks, of which the market remains bare, has eased off, however, it being reported from Melbourne that the Victorian manufacturers of milk are against a proposed increase in the duty. Quotations for new season's Fraser River sockeye salmon will be 4½d to 9d lower than the convention rates for Scroll. Good business has been done during the week in cream of tartar, which was cabled as slightly better in London. The forward market for cornsacks was unsettled, with buyers not disposed to operate. There was nothing doing in wheat, and the depression in the flour trade has reached a somewhat acute stage.

BREADSTUFFS.

Inactivity again characterised the wheat market, millers showing no inclination to operate for the present, while holders, on the other hand, were exhibiting no anxiety about disposing of their stocks at 3s 10½ to 3s 11d Darling Harbour, which were the ruling values for small country offerings. A private cable from London indicated 36s 3d per 480lb c.f.i., as the quotation for Australian wheat, early shipment.

Our own cable states that brilliant summer weather has caused a general inactivity in the wheat markets, which have declined 1s per quarter (1½d bushel) from the top price obtained recently. The world's shipments are small, however, and the actual situation has not materially changed.

Business in flour continued stagnant. Metropolitan makes were quoted at £9 to £9 10s per ton, and inland brands at £8 10s to £9.

At Darling Harbour yesterday 418 tons wheat and 95 tons flour were manifested to arrive.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE.

Sugar.—Business has been quiet at unchanged prices. The Colonial Sugar Refining Company, Ltd., quote:—No. 1 B (brewers' crystals), £21; No. 1 X (confectioners' crystals), £27 10s; No. 1 A (dried for table use), £20; No. 1 (I.W.), £20; No. 2 (I.C.), £19 15s; and No. 3, £17 15s. Tablets in 56lb boxes, £24 10s per ton; icing and castor sugar in 56lb bags, £25; coffee crystals, in 70lb bags, £23. Prices for golden syrup and treacle are respectively £15 per ton and £11. One and two years ago the price for I.C. sugar was £20 5s and £21 15s respectively.

The Millaquin and Yengarie Sugar Company quote:—Millaquin, 1A, £20; AX, soft, £19 15s; BX, soft, £19 10s; and No. 1, £19 10s per ton.

The bonded stocks of sugar compare:—

A year ago the sugar in bond was 11,099 tons, and two years ago 8031 tons.

Tea.—Sales included 150 packages new season's Pakyongs on p.t., 75 Indians at 7½d to 9d, 50 Indians at 9d, and 200 Ceylons at 7½d to 10½d. Messrs. H. W. Carey and Co. report having offered at auction yesterday afternoon, under instructions from Messrs. Scott, Henderson, and Co., A. Tange and Co., Gibbs, Bright, and Co., Burns, Philp, and Co., Ltd., catalogues covering 457 packages Indian, 561 packages Ceylon tea, and 341 tins Fiji tea. They quitted all but a couple of lots, each of Messrs. Scott, Henderson, and Co.'s, and Gibbs, Bright, and Co.'s catalogues, about 130 packages on account of Messrs. A. Tange and Co., also the Fiji teas. Spirited biddings were again in evidence for all the lower grades of Ceylon, broken pekoes, and for assams up to 8d per lb. Ceylon broken pekoes realised up to 9d per lb; Indian pekoes, orange pekoes and broken orange pekoes from 8d to 1s 0½d per lb.

Next Week's Auctions.—Messrs. A. Harvey and Co. will offer next Thursday afternoon, at 63 Pitt-street, on account of Messrs. C. Healy and Co., a catalogue of 500 Ceylons, as advertised. Messrs. H. W. Carey and Co. have received instructions to submit on Friday afternoon next, on account of Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co., about 1000 packages new season's Foochow Congous, and on account of Messrs. Deacon and Co., 150 packages new season's Kooloos, now landing; also on account of Messrs. Gibbs, Bright, and Co., and Deacon and Co., 500 packages Ceylon tea, landing ex Himalaya, etc., as per advertisement. Fraser, Uther, and Co., Ltd., will offer, as advertised, at 8 Spring-street, next Thursday morning, under instructions from Thompson, Fraser, Ramsay Proprietary, Ltd., new season's teas, ex Prinz Sigismund and Aldenham.

Groceries.—Opening prices for new season's Fraser River Sockeye salmon will be on a lower parity than those announced for Scroll. One pound talls, it is understood, will be 4½d less, 1lb flats 7½d less, and ½lb flats 9d less. Good booking has already taken place in new season's Scroll. The agents have cabled for a shipment to be made, if possible, in the San Francisco steamer leaving in August. Last season's Scroll in flats was offering at 5s; talls were unprocurable. Herrings continued to meet with strong inquiry at firm rates. Fresh herrings were bringing from 4s 10½d to 5s 1½d, according to brand; kippers, 6s 3d to 6s 4½d; herrings in tomato sauce, 6s 1½d to 6s 3d; while red herrings were hard to obtain. Trefavenne sardines were placed at 3s 9d to 3s 10½d in quarters, and at 5s 6d in halves. Cocoas had good sale, an idea being prevalent that the existing duty of 1d lb. might be increased to 3d. Kerosene was also being purchased in large quantities, owing to the possibility of it being affected by tariff changes. The market was still bare of supplies of condensed milks, although 2400 cases Gold Medal will be here on Monday, and about 3000 cases Nestle's at the end of the month. These shipments have all been sold. Fifty gross Moir's assorted pastes were sold on p.t. Dried fruits were in fair request at late rates.

Chemicals.—Further good sales of cream of tartar were made at 8½d to 9d lb. Swedish carbide of calcium was moving slowly at £15 10s to £16, according to quantity taken.

Metals.—Rabbit-proof wire netting had moderate inquiry, second grade, 42 x 1½ x 17, selling at £36 to £37, and Whitecross A at £41 per mile. German black fencing wire was dull at £8 10s for No. 8, and £9 for No. 10. Barbed wire was strongly held for £14 12s 6d for 12 gauge.

Oils.—A Glasgow cable quoted Thistle brand raw linseed oil at 2s 1d f.o.b., which is the same figure as quoted last Saturday for B. and S.'s raw. Several parcels, totalling about 300 drums, B. and S.'s oil were secured at 3s 4d for raw, and 3s 6d for boiled. Business was also done in second brands at 3s 2d and 3s 4d. Although whitelead met with very poor sale, holders were firm in their prices, Champion's in cwt. kegs being quoted at £33 10s to £34. China oil was steady at 3s 8d, and castor on spot at 3s 4d, while for August delivery, 3s 5d was asked, and 3s 2d for August shipment. The British Imperial Oil Company, Limited, quote:—"Silverlight" kerosene, 10½d; benzine, 1s 2d; naptha, 1s 5d; motor car spirit, 1s 5d; gasolene, 1s 11d. The Colonial Oil Company's prices are:—"Snowflake" kerosene, 10½d; benzine, 1s 2d; naphtha, 1s 5d; motor car spirits, 1s 5d; gasolene, 1s 11d.

Jute.—No business of any consequence was noted in new season's cornsacks. The market was unsettled, with buyers evincing no disposition to operate. The only Calcutta quotation through was 6s 5d c.i.f., which compared with 6s 6d to 6s 7d on Thursday. Local prices ranged from 6s 3d to 6s 4½d, ships' slings. The quantity estimated to have been bought in Calcutta for Australian requirements continued to be widely discussed. One of the principal firms, who is agent for five mills, cabled yesterday in response to an inquiry that it was impossible to estimate it in Calcutta. Hessians were cabled higher, also branbags, 4s 11d being quoted as September-December shipment, as against 4s 8½d c.i.f. several days ago. Locally "brans" met with no inquiry. Woolpacks on spot had limited demand at 2s 10d to 2s 11d.

The Customs revenue received at Sydney yesterday amounted to £16,518.

At Darling Harbour yesterday 129 bales wool were manifested to arrive by rail.

LONDON MARKET CABLES.

WHEAT EASIER.

LONDON, July 19.

Brilliant summer weather has caused a general inactivity in the wheat markets, which have declined 1s per quarter (1½d bushel) from the top price obtained recently. The world's shipments are, however, small, and the actual situation has not materially changed. Cargoes are neglected. South Australian wheat, April shipment, is offering at 35s 3d per 480lb, c.f.i., and Victorian, September loading, at 37s, ditto. A better demand exists for Australian, on spot, at 36s 6d to 37s. There is no New Zealand wheat offering.

Flour is quiet, Australian brands being quoted in London at 24s 6d to 25s per 280lb. There is nothing doing in Glasgow.

Wheat freights continue quiet. Fixtures for South Australia have been made at 23s per ton.

BUTTER NEGLECTED.

The butter market remains very dull. Colonial is neglected and nominally unchanged at 94s to 98s per cwt for choicest Australian and at 98s to 100s for choicest New Zealand.

BRADFORD TOPS.

The Bradford "top" market is quiet, but everything is firmly held, forties having a slightly hardening tendency. Super 60's are unchanged at 28s, common 60's at 27d, 46's at 17½d, and 40's at 16½d.

METALS.

Copper, on spot, b £94, s £94 10s, a fall on the week of £3 10s per ton; three months, b £87, s £87 5s, a drop of £3 15s.

Tin, on spot, b £183 10s, s £184, a decline on the week of £3 per ton; three months, b £180 10s, s £181, unchanged.

Lead, soft foreign, on spot, is £1 to £1 10s lower on the week at £20 10s per ton.

Spelter is 5s to 7s 6d per ton lower on the week at £23 17s 6d to £24 2s 6d.

Pig iron is 6d higher at 56s 9d per ton.

SUGAR STEADY.

The sugar market is steady, 88 per cent. German beet being 1d higher at 9s 7d per cwt, and first marks granulated unchanged at 11s 3d, f.o.b. Hamburg.

LONDON MEAT MARKET.

Dalgety and Co., Limited, have received the following cable from their London office, under date of 18th inst.:—"There is a poor demand for frozen mutton, buyers being unwilling to operate at present prices. Canterbury light-weights are quoted at 4½d, heavy 3¾d; North Island, light 3½d, heavy 3⅜d. Lamb is in better demand, in consequence of warm weather. Canterbury light-weights 5¼d, heavy 5⅛d; North Island, light 5⅛d, heavy, 5⅛d. Beef has a better demand, and prices are firm. New Zealand ox hinds 4d, fores 3⅛d per lb."

LONDON RABBITSKINS MARKET.

Dalgety and Co., Limited, are in receipt of the following cable from their London house, dated 18th instant:—"At the periodical auction sales of rabbitskins held yesterday, there was an increasing demand at unchanged prices, as compared with the rates in force at the last sales, on June 6 and 7. The series will close to-morrow (Friday)."

Messrs. James Fay, M'Donald, and Co., received the following message:—"At the rabbitskin auction prices were firm at late rates. A better tone prevailed."

INTERSTATE MARKETS.

ADELAIDE, Friday.

Wheat continues dull, with quotations nominally unaltered at 3s 8d. Business was light. Flour was unchanged at £8 10s. Bran and pollard were not particularly strong at 1s. Butter is increasing in supply. Hops eased to-day a half-penny, and did not bring over 1s 1d. Eggs came back, and are selling at 1s 1½d.

BRISBANE, Friday.

The market was dull to-day, the leading prices being:—Lucerne chaff, 4s 1d to 4s 3d, passed; oaten, local, 3s 5d, passed; wheaten hay, 2s 9d, passed; oaten and wheaten, 3s; lucerne hay, 2s 9d to 3s 4d, passed; maize, prime, 2s 7½d; potatoes, prime, 4s 6d, passed to 5s; pumpkins, 1s 10d; pollard, 4s 3d, passed, to 4s 4d, passed; bran, 4s, passed, to 4s 1d, passed; eggs, ordinary 7½d to 8d, special 8½d to 9d. There were large supplies, and poor demand. Butter was quoted at from 9d to 10½d.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

Wheat was firmer, and more active. About 7000 bags were sold at 3s 10½d. Business was also done for August delivery at a higher price. Flour was dull at £9 5s. Bran sold at 10d, and pollard 11d. Algerian oats were firm. Milling were quoted at from 2s 6½d to 2s 7½d. Eight hundred bags of good feed sold at 2s 6d, medium to fair feed 2s 4½d to 2s 5½d. New maize, 2s 9d to 2s 10½d ex wharf, and 2s 11d ex store; old, 3s 0½d to 3s 1d. Chaff, more active, 62s 6d to 72s 6d. Hay, scarce and firm; manger hay up to £4, sheaved hay £3 to £3 10s. Potatoes, weak; Redsoil up to 50s, Pinkeye to 45s, Snowflake 37s 6d to 40s. Onions, dull; good to prime, 60s to 65s. Butter, steady; choice western 11½d to 1s, other prime to choice 11d to 11½d. Eggs, easier, 1s 2d to 1s 3d.

Further large business was done in China tea, partly to arrive. Ten bales of cloves were sold at 1s 3d. Salmon is in good demand, and about 2000 cases sold in parcels. About eight tons of cream of tartar were sold. Cornsacks were quiet at from 6s 3d to 6s 4d ships' slings. Branbags sold at 4s 9d on spot. Fair sales were made of fencing wire and wire netting.

BRISBANE WOOL SALES.

BRISBANE, Friday.

Messrs. Dalgety report that they offered 2300 bales of wool, consisting principally of scoureds. There was a splendid attendance of buyers, and good competition. Prices for good wools were unchanged, but all inferior and faulty wools were about 5 per cent. lower. They topped the market with Baynham Mitchell greasy, 12½d; also, for scoured, with 23½d for 73 bales of Rosedale, Longreach; 23½d, Arundel, Longreach; 23d, Grangedale and Clutha, Richmond; 22½d, Fairhill, Longreach. The next sales will be held on September 13.

MELBOURNE FRUIT MARKETS.

MELBOURNE, Friday.

In the Western Market to-day fruit sold as follows:—local apples, eating, 3s to 5s 6d per case; ditto, cooking, 3s to 4s ditto; pears, cooking, 4s to 4s 6d ditto; ditto, eating, 6s to 7s ditto; lemons, 2s 6d to 3s ditto; passion fruit, 6s to 7s ditto; Mildura lemons, 4s to 4s 6d per case; oranges, 4s to 4s 6d ditto; ditto, navels, 7s to 8s ditto; N.S.W. lemons, 2s to 3s per case; oranges, 2s to 3s ditto; mandarins, 2s to 3s ditto; passionfruit, 6s to 7s ditto; Queensland oranges, 4s 6d to 6s per case; ditto mandarins, 5s 6d to 7s ditto; ditto, navels, 6s to 7s 6d; ditto, pines, 5s to 6s 6d per double case; bananas, 10s to 12s ditto; ditto, 2s 9d to 3s 6d per bunch.

PRODUCE MARKETS.

TRADE IN SUSSEX-STREET.

ADVANCE IN MAIZE.

From the point of view of those interested in determining values probably the most troublesome of all produce lines marketed in Sussex-street is maize. So much speculation is done in this commodity that those who represent conflicting interests all have much stronger motives for declaring the market to stand at a certain level than those which govern them in speaking of chaff, lucerne, or, in fact, any class of grain. As far as could be gathered from such a babel of informants an upward tendency was operating in maize, the alleged reason being short arrivals from the rivers. Here and there a speculator started the morning's game by asking 3s, but as time wore on very few ventured beyond 2s 11d. The situation was that those interested were anxious to make a three-shilling market, but were unable when pressed to show sales above 2s 11d, while a fair number of transactions were concluded at 2s 10d; and some holders were content to quote the grain firm at the latter figure.

In comparison with the activity marking maize, forage lines were quiet. A steady business of about average dimensions was done in chaff and lucerne. The Hunter River boat brought 123 bales of the lastnamed. At the railway auction the very heavy manifest of 75 trucks was recorded, 44 being sold. Chaff found a strong market, as high as £4 10s 8d being paid for a choice sample. Lucerne hay was steady. Choice lucerne chaff brought £5 0s 8d, and medium from £3 to £3 5s. The potato market was again weak at the auction, while it remained unaltered in Sussex-street.

A movement took place in mill offal. It had been said recently that the standard figure was artificially maintained, and yesterday morning the trade was quoting bran at from 9½d to 10d, and pollard at from 10d to 10½d—a drop of a half-penny.

Current quotations were:—

FEED-GRAIN AND OFFAL MARKET.

Barley.—Victorian: Cape, 2s 8d to 2s 9d bus.

DAIRY PRODUCE.

EGGS AGAIN CHEAPER.

What maize is to the grain market eggs seem to be among dairy produce. The movements of both are dangerous to forecast, and even difficult to follow. It has become increasingly apparent during the past week that the spell of high prices which ruled for eggs for quite a long time was being broken. The beginning of the present week showed this in no uncertain fashion, and now that the first shock has passed the trade has been accommodating itself to the new order. Supplies of all three sorts of eggs were considerable yesterday morning, but the improved demand at reduced rates led to their disposal with such freedom that one dealer predicted cleared floors by the evening. An interesting feature about the market was the fact that cheaper eggs were moving more actively, owing to the fact that the reputation of the northerns for soundness at present stands high. This tended to pull down new-laid eggs. The bulk of the transactions in northerns took place at 11d, while in case 10½d was taken. Southerns were quoted at 11d straight out, and new-laid at from 11d to 1s.

Bacon was firm and selling well. Lard was also selling well at the enhanced price. Cheese was steady. Stocks of butter were large, and, if anything, accumulating.

In the poultry market young roosters and prime heavy gobblers found best disposal, while medium sorts were hard to move.

BUTTER SHIPMENT.

The Damascus, which sailed yesterday for London, carried 1140 boxes of butter, of which quantity the Union S.S. Company, Limited, forwarded 940, and the Farmers and Settlers' Co-operative Society 200 boxes.

Current quotations were:—

Butter.—Special flavoured brands 108s, choice 100s to 104s, seconds from 94s to 96s, as cold store 90s to 94s cwt, according to quality.

Bacon.—Prime factory, flitches 7½d to 7¾d, middles 8½d to 9d, sides 7½d to 7¾d; special brands, sides 8½d, flitches 7½d, middles 9d. Hams: In cloth, 8½d; special brands 10½d, bagged 10d; special brands 10½d lb.

Honey.—60lb tins, extra choice extracted 3½d, prime 2½d to 3d, good 2½d, inferior and candied 2d.

Beeswax.—1s 2d to 1s 3d, bright 1s 3d to 1s 4d lb.

Cheese.—Local: Prime loaf 7½d to 7¾d, good 7d, prime large 7½d, good 7d, inferior 6½d; special brands 7½d to 8d lb.

Lard.—Packets and small bladders 6d, special 6d to 6½d, bulk 5½d to 5¾d, special 5¾d lb.

AUCTION SALES.

For this time of the year, 75 truckloads was a big lot to submit to buyers. Redfern yards had a big attendance of buyers, but bidding was only fairly brisk. In all, 31 lots were passed in. Chaff and lucerne continue to provide the chief offerings. Of the former, 17 trucks were sold, out of 26 offered. Extra prime brought 4s 8d, 4s 10d; prime 4s, 4s 9d, medium to good 3s 6d to 3s 1d; and inferior, 3s 3d. Of the lucerne consignments, four were passed in and 11 sold. Mudgee sold at 3s 2d and 3s 9d; Bathurst bales, 4s 6d; and prime large bales, 3s 2d to 3s 5d. Lucerne chaff choice realised 5s 4d, medium 3s to 3s 4d. Two lots were sold, and two passed. Oaten hay sold at 3s 6d. One lot was sold, and a couple passed. Derrick straw was worth 2s 1d, 2s 2d.

Buyers evidently would not give enough for oats, all the lots being passed in. Four lots of wheat also failed to sell. Local maize brought 2s 9d.

Nine trucks of potatoes were forwarded, but only five were sold, prices ranging from 1s 11d to 2s 11d. Turnips were all bought up at 2s 2d to 2s 7d.

STOCK AND STATION PRODUCE.

The Australian Mortgage, Land, and Finance Company, Limited, John Bridge and Co., Limited, Dalgety and Co., Limited, Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co. Limited, Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, Hill, Clark, and Co., New Zealand Loan and Mercantile Agency Company, Limited, Pastoral Finance Association, Limited, Pitt, Son, and Badgery, Limited, Schute, Bell, and Co., Winchcombe, Carson, and Co., Limited, report:—

Sheepskins.—Sound pelted lines in good condition were very firm at late rates, whilst station and faulty skins were weaker. Quotations:—Merino: Three-quarter to full-woolled, 7d to 8½d; half-woolled, 6d to 7½d; short woolled, 6d to 7d. Crossbred: Fine, 6d to 9d; coarse, 7½d to 8d. Lambs: Merino and crossbred, good length, light and free, 7½d to 8½d; average length, 5½d to 6½d. Pelts: Merino, 5½d to 6½d; crossbred, 6½d to 7d; broken pieces, 3d to 5d.

Hides.—The market showed an all-round decline of ¼d to ½d per lb, sloppy descriptions showing the full extent of the fall. Queensland hides are out of demand, and prices are virtually nominal. Quotations:—Queensland butchers' hides, heavy weights (60lb and up), 6d and up per lb, medium weights (45lb to 54lb) 5½d to 6½d, light weights (36lb to 42lb) 5½d to 6½d, dry hides, 6d to 7½d; New South Wales butchers' hides, extra heavy weights (65lb and up) 7d to 9d, heavy weights (60lb to 65lb) 5½d to 8½d, bulls 4½d to 4½d, medium weights (44lb to 58lb), 5½d to 5½d, light weights (35lb to 42lb), 5½d to 5½d, inferior and faulty 3½d to 5d, dry hides 6½d to 7½d.

Messrs. George H. Moxham and Co. report having held their usual weekly sales of sheepskins and hides yesterday.

PROPERTY MARKET.

Agents generally reported a quiet week in property transactions, and the turnover was somewhat restricted.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

THE SHARE MARKET.

The market yesterday morning was an illustration of the old saying: "Much cry, and little wool." Copper, silver, tin, and gold stocks were freely quoted—indeed, more freely than during any previous period of the week—but the amount of business transacted was very small. This is explained by the fact that there was in the majority of cases not much backbone in the offers of buyers, and as sellers quoted firmly a close market was impossible. Hence the fact that the turnover was small by no means indicates a weak market.

The fact still remains that the London Share Market does not respond to an upward movement in the price of metals. This circumstance has made operators in Adelaide, Melbourne, and Sydney cautious. What they are anxiously looking for is a pronounced recovery in the London Share Market, as it is bound to be reflected in the Commonwealth Stock Exchanges.

Operations in copper stocks in the morning were confined to sales in Budgery Mines (paid) at 8s 3d, a fractional decrease on the previous day; Mount Lyells at 34s 6d; and Bogan River (contg.) at 4s 6d, a decrease of 3d. In Queensland stocks Chillagoes were not mentioned; Hampdens, M'Gregors, Glassford Creek, Mount Cannindahs, and Molloys were quoted weakly by buyers, but improved offers were made for Munganas, whilst those for O.Ks. were close up to previous rates.

As regards New South Wales copper mines, good inquiries were made for Grafton Copper, and fair offers submitted for Girilambone, North Nymagee, and Crowl Creek-Shuttleton (contg.). In outside stocks both Wallaroo and Moonta and Mount Morgans held steady.

Business in silver shares was confined to sales in B.H. Junction North at 33s 9d, a slight improvement on the previous day. All the other Barrier scrip, however, commanded fair buying offers, but holders would not, except in the case of B.H. Junction and B.H. South Blocks, make a concession on the last sales.

Tin shares were neglected, so far as business is concerned, though there were calls for Dalziell's Tin, Smith's Creek, Gilmore Tin, Amalgamated Tin, Cope's Creek, New Wylie Creek, Vulcans, and Paddock Swamp. In gold stocks Baker's Creek firmed from 4s 3d to 4s 5d, with buyers unsupplied at 4s 6d; Mount Davids changed hands at 1s 5½d (unchanged); whilst New Hillgrove Proprietary eased ½d.

A stagnant market ruled during the afternoon, very little business being done in either copper, silver, tin, or gold stocks. The only noticeable thing was an improvement of 1s in British Broken Hill, a slight hardening of B.H. Junction and O.K. Copper, and a decline in Hampden-Cloncurry from 13s 4½d to 12s 6d.

MINING NOTES.

The South Glanmire and Monkland Company (Gympie) reports a yield of 585oz of smelted gold.

London quotations, dated July 18, received by the B.H. Proprietary, give the official price of silver as 2s 7 3-8d; and the buying price of lead, £20 15s; the company's shares, 84s 6d; and spelter, £24.

The Brilliant and St. George United Company (Charters Towers) has cleaned up a crushing of 1020 tons, for a yield of 446oz of gold. Cyanide bullion worth £1900 was also recovered. There was no clean-up for the last fortnight, owing to the holidays. The Brilliant Extended Company crushed 3816 tons for gold valued at £7571.

The manager (Mr. A. Wishart) of the Dead Finish Tin-mining Syndicate reports for the fortnight ending July 10, as follows:—"Stoping in the south end, lode averaging about 20in of about 8 per cent. ore. North stope lode, averaging about 15in of 7 per cent. ore. Also stoping in the 60ft level on about 6in of 10 per cent. ore. The amount of ore broken for the fortnight was 30 tons. There are 120 tons of ore at the line, and about 10 tons at grass."

The percentage of copper in the water being baled from the main shaft of the Blayney Copper Mines and Smelting Company, has decreased from 66lb to 42.75lb per 1000 gallons. Even this reduced amount presents a remarkably strong solution of copper sulphate. Up to last Monday, some 680,000 gallons of water were baled. The De Rose shaft has reached a depth of 116ft. At the flux mine, the south-east crosscut is in 44ft; whilst No. 2 shaft is down 70ft.

Private cables state that amongst the shares quoted on the London Stock Exchange on Thursday were the following:—Black Range, 27s 6d; Munganas, 9s 9d; Zinc Corporation, 5s 9d; North Broken Hill, 78s 9d (m); Associated, 27s (sic); Great Fingall Consolidated, b 43s 9d; Boulder Perseverance, 7s 9d; Mount Elliott, b 61s 3d; Hampden, b 11s 6d; Broken Hill, 85s 7½d (m); B.H. Block 10, 92s 6d (m). Lead was quoted at £20 15s, and copper at £94, a rise of £1.

The lode channel in the No. 2 east level of Kerry's shaft (Burragorang Valley Silver Mining Company), is 15in wide, with 6in to 8in of ore in the footwall. In No. 3 east level it is 12in, with 4in of good ore on the footwall, in No. 4 east level it is 3ft, with 2in of good ore, and in No. 5 east level, it is 2ft. with 15in of ore. The lode in No. 3 east is 18in wide, and in the tunnel from 12in to 20in wide. Last week 9½ tons of firsts and 10½ tons of seconds were raised, and 4 tons despatched.

THE SILVER QUEEN MINES.

A VALUABLE LODE.

These mines, situated 30 miles east of Tenterfield, were taken over by Messrs. J. Earle Hermann and W. H. C. Lovely at the beginning of last year, and are about to be worked on a large scale.

During the past 12 months the workings have been unwatered, also thoroughly examined and sampled. A few men have been engaged in breaking ore in the open cut, and this has all been smelted at Cockle Creek for an average return of 95oz of silver per ton, the last parcel of 3 tons 6cwt having yielded 128.6oz silver per ton, and 5 per cent. lead.

The lode at the 180 feet level averages 20 feet in width, five feet of it containing about 50oz silver per ton. The remaining width of 15 feet is of much lower grade. This has been proved for a length of 60 feet, the whole 180 feet of backs remaining intact. Further areas, and an additional mine, have also been acquired, but the latter has not yet been unwatered, although records indicate that the ore body is of a payable nature.

An up-to-date 20-head mill has been secured, with cyanide, winding, and all other necessary mining plant. The dam is full of water and everything ready for a start as soon as the tube mills are erected. It is said that trials of the ore show that 95½ per cent. of the silver contents are recoverable by crushing and cyaniding, whilst the sampling of the mines, and the ore treated, indicate that the average value of the same is £5 per ton, which will give a profit of £3 per ton on an output of 300 tons per week from the present plant.

The formation of the Silver Queen Company, with a capital of £20,000, is announced. The objects of the company are to work the Silver Queen mines, in the Tenterfield district. A very considerable amount of development work has already been completed, and over 20,000 tons of ore are said to be at grass. A 20-head battery has been acquired, together with engine and boiler powers sufficient for 60 head, also a complete winding and cyaniding plant, and all the usual attendant machinery, appliances, and attributes. The Hon. Alex. Kethel, M.L.C. (of Messrs. Alex. Kethel and Co., Ltd.), is chairman. Mr. W. H. C. Lovely has been appointed managing director.

LIGHTNING RIDGE OPAL FIELD.

With reference to the complaints of the inactivity of the Department of Mines in relation to a water supply for the Lightning Ridge opal field, the Under-Secretary for Mines stated yesterday that the matter had been blocked by a legal difficulty. As a matter of fact, the site of the dam for the water supply had been selected, reported upon by the Western Lands Board, its value fixed, and a sum of £500 voted by Parliament to cover the cost of resumption. It was then discovered that legal difficulties existed in connection with the administration of the estate upon which the site is situated, and until they are disposed of no further action can be taken. The Treasury was asked to hold the vote of £500 in abeyance pending the necessary legal processes, and as soon as possible the water supply will be provided.

MINING IN THE STATE.

ORANGE, Friday.

Another parcel of ore is being prepared at the Pride of the Hills mine, by roasting, for despatch to the Sulphide Corporation Works at Cockle Creek. Objection is taken locally to the Blayney Mines and Smelting Company's tariff, as they pay only up to 85 per cent. of the contents, and also make considerable deductions, besides retaining 20 per cent. of the money value, from which to recoup themselves in the event of prices falling. The latter condition is strongly condemned.

MAITLAND TRAMWAY.

TURNING THE FIRST SOD.

BY THE MINISTER FOR WORKS.

WEST MAITLAND, Friday.

The first sod of the tramway line between East and West Maitland, the construction of which will shortly be commenced, was turned at the corner of Victoria and Lawes streets, East Maitland, this afternoon by Mr. C. A. Lee, Minister for Works, in the presence of a large assemblage of townspeople, including the Mayors of East and West Maitland and Morpeth, Dr. Liddell, M.P., Messrs. J. Gillies, Mathew Charlton, Ms.L.A., W. J. Enright (president of the Tramway League), Benjamin Lee, Canon Tollis, the Revs. W. F. Oakes, Alex. Smith, and a number of prominent townsmen.

The Minister was accorded a hearty reception on behalf of the townspeople by the Mayor of East Maitland (Alderman J. H. F. Waller), and presented by Mr. W. J. Enright (president of the Tramway League) with a handsome silver spade, suitably inscribed, with which he performed the ceremony.

Mr. Lee, in returning thanks for the welcome and presentation, said he believed they were on the eve of arriving at a state of prosperity superior to anything ever witnessed by the oldest resident. He had not taken up the work, and had not asked Parliament to sanction the work for the mere fact of giving convenience between the two Maitlands, but had laid it down as the initiation of a tramway system which he believed before many years would have many extensions. The all-round line from East to West Maitland did not comprise the whole of the present scheme, because he had determined to connect with Church-street and take the line down to the Maitland station. He had done that for obvious reasons, because he believed the traffic would be large, and as years went on would become very great indeed. Its termination in Regent-street did not mean that it could not be carried to Kurri Kurri or the coal mines if ever required, but if he waited to get the line from East Maitland to Kurri Kurri they might have waited a little longer. There would be no necessity to call for tenders for a branch to the West Maitland station. That was under £20,000, and could be done without reference to Parliament. He had approved of the tender yesterday of George Champion, but he had eliminated from it the cost of strengthening the long bridge, the tender for which was too high. He intended to build another structure alongside the long bridge, and the time for completion was nine months. The total length of the line was 3 miles 72 chains. So far as the Government was concerned, he lost no time in giving effect to the promises made to the people. He referred to the progress made in the district of late years, and said that the latest statistics showed that they now had a population of 24,728 souls in the Maitland and South Maitland districts. Referring to the North Coast railway, he said there were people who for want of knowledge of those districts were going round the country associating the work with all that was bad and ultimate failure. He knew the North Coast country well, and could give them the assurance that there never had been a railway started in New South Wales with as good prospects as the North Coast railway of paying interest and working expenses from the very first year it opened. He hoped within the next two months, or three at the outside, he would able to accept tenders for the first section of the line, which section would start from West Maitland. Mr. Lee concluded by turning the first sod of the tramway on behalf of the Government. Cheers were given for the Minister, who was entertained at afternoon tea. He afterwards paid a visit of inspection to the new hospital.

ITS REJECTION PROBABLE.

LITHGOW, Friday.

Regarding the troubles at the Vale of Clwydd coalmine, Mr. Angus, one of the Vale of Clwydd Company's directors, has been on a visit to Lithgow, and a conference between him and Mr. T. Droughall, manager, and the district officers of the Lithgow Coal-miners' Association, took place yesterday. The conference lasted about 2½ hours.

The representatives of the company offered 7d per ton for pulling down behind the coal-cutting machine. The men's representatives had previously intimated that they would be prepared to take 8d per ton for this work, subject to adjustment by the Court, or a permanent agreement later on." Mr. Truscott, the miners' secretary, stated last night that the company were prepared to allow 8d for filling if the miners' representatives would accept the rate of 11d per ton for breaking-down and filling, this rate to be in force for three months, at the end of which period the agreement could be terminated if either party were dissatisfied. The offer will be considered at the miners' delegate board meeting, to be convened as early as possible.

The manager of the mine, Mr. Broughall, expressed himself willing to employ the same fillers as were on previously. It is considered probable in well-informed circles that the offer of the company will not be accepted by the miners.

The opinion generally expressed is that the rate is too low, and if it were accepted and there was a scarcity of trucks on any particular day, the miners on the coal might suffer, while the fillers behind the machine were filling all the available trucks. "Besides," said a prominent unionist, "this matter is subject to the approval of the whole of the members of the association, and if a rate lower than is ruling for this class o work in any other part of the State were accepted, it would seem very strange, in view of the fact that the local miners have practically agreed to amalgamate with the Miners' Associations of the north and south."

CARTERS' WORK.

CONFERENCE PROCEEDING SATISFACTORILY.

THE MASTERS' PROPOSALS.

The conference between representatives of the Trolley, Draymen, and Carters' Union and the Master Carriers' Association to consider proposals submitted by the former body for an alteration in working conditions was continued yesterday.

The proceedings were conducted in camera, and beyond stating that matters were progressing favourably in the direction of a settlement, no information was available as to what had been accomplished.

As mentioned in yesterday's issue, the men asked that the hours for heavy carters should not exceed 56 hours per week, ending at 1 p.m. on Saturdays, and 57 hours per week, ending at 2 p.m. on Saturdays for light carters. As against these requests the masters, it is ascertained, proposed that heavy carters should work 60, and light carriers 63, hours per week. Heavy carriers to work from 5.30 a.m. to 7 p.m. on week-days, and from 6.30 a.m. to 3 p.m on Saturdays; light carriers from 7 am. to 9 p.m. on week-days, and from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

On the question of wages, the masters proposed the following:—Heavy drivers, one-horse vehicles, 40s per week; two-horse vehicles, 45s per week, with an increase of 2s 6d per week for each additional horse. The respective rates demanded by the union were 42s and 47s per week, with 3s per man per week for each additional horse. In the case of light drivers the wages proposed by the masters were 40s and 42s 6d, with 2s 6d for each additional horse, as against the 45s and 50s put forth on behalf of the men. So far as heavy drivers were concerned, the masters were willing to agree to the union's proposal for overtime, but in the case of light drivers they offered 1s an hour, as against the request for time and a half.

According to the Arbitration Court's award the duty of keeping the timebook devolved upon the employees, but the masters expressed their willingness to accept this responsibility. In the matter of holidays the masters objected to paying when the employees did not work, but where an employee was prepared to attend to the horses on Sundays and holidays his wages would be paid. It was also thought that the matter of working intervals should be settled between each employer and employee. The masters were willing to agree to the casual labour proposals, but the question of Sunday work, it was considered, should depend on the conditions relating to holidays.

In the case of drivers and other employees travelling with furniture, and being unable to reach their homes within specified working hours, reasonable expenses would be paid. The masters also agreed to the clause proposed to be inserted in the agreement that no employee should board with his employer or at his employer's expense.

The employers objected to preference to unionists, other than that embodied in the award at present worked under; further, they demanded that the right should be conceded of employing youths and improvers in a greater proportion than is now allowed.

In this issue of the "Sydney Mail" is published the fifth of a series of 12 articles on fishing in New South Wales, by Charles Thackeray. The variety selected for treatment is the flathead. No fisherman should miss it.—Advt.

NEWCASTLE.

COAL EXPORT TRADE.

A BRISK DEMAND.

NEWCASTLE, Friday.

The current week has been a busy one in the coal shipping trade of the port, a feature of the trade being the larger proportion of coal shipped into tramp steamers, and the brisk demand for shipment to interstate ports. This is not, however, an indication that the business in sailing ships is decreasing, as there are at present over 50 sailers awaiting to load coal for foreign ports, while the list of vessels to arrive during the next few weeks is a formidable one.

Although foreign trade, as far as steamers are concerned, and interstate shipping are benefiting by the quicker despatch which follows on the addition of loading berths for steamers by virtue of the new regulation, shipping people are somewhat doubtful as to the effect it will have on the collieries, fearing that there may be some stoppages on that account. It may, perhaps, have the effect of lengthening lay days for sailing vessels in the charters, as, under the new regulation, sailers are greatly reduced in the facilities which are at their disposal. It is generally agreed, however, that steamers should receive more consideration than was formerly the case, as the expense for delays to such vessels is an important item.

The total quantity of coal exported from Newcastle during the week ended to-day amounted to 98,309 tons, as compared to 97,235 tons during the preceding week. Commonwealth and New Zealand ports took 41,696 tons, while 56,613 tons were despatched to foreign destinations. Of coal exported beyond the Commonwealth, 19,752 tons were sent to the West Coast of South America, 21,926 tons to U.S.A. ports, 8452 tons to Mexico, and 5093 tons to Manila. During the last few weeks large tramps have been sailing regularly with full cargoes for 'Frisco, and one steamer now in port has been fixed to load for six trips.

The following vessels cleared at the Customs-house to-day:—Chillagoe, s, for Bundaberg, via Brisbane, with 830 tons coal; Firth of Dornock, s, for Tocapilla, with 1457 tons coal; Augustus, s, for Guaymas, via Sydney, with 6002 tons coal; Ashridge, s, for Melbourne, with 4750 tons coal; Thode Fagelund, s, for 'Frisco, via Sydney, with 40 tons bunker coal; Willesdon, s, for Guaymas, via Sydney, with 2430 tons bunker coal.

IMPORTANT MAGISTERIAL DECISION.

SEAMAN'S ARTICLES RESCINDED.

An interesting seaman's case was concluded at the Newcastle Police Court to-day, before Mr. M. S. Love, S.M.

This was a case in which Edward Lancy, seaman on the British vessel Palgrave, proceeded against Robert Coutts, master of the vessel, for the recission of his articles, on the ground that it was owing to the misrepresentation of the vice-consul and the master at San Francisco that he had entered into articles of agreement with the defendant, in that the voyage was represented as being from San Francisco to Newcastle, that complainant was to be paid off at Newcastle, and that the defendant refused to discharge the complainant.

Mr. W. A. Reid appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Sparke for the defence.

The parties had agreed that all depositions taken in the case of Cease v Coutts, decided on July 4, be read and taken as evidence in the present case.

Edward Lancy deposed that before signing on at San Francisco, the vice-consul, in the presence of the captain, explained that he was signing on for a voyage from San Francisco to Newcastle, and was to be paid off there.

Eleven other seamen belonging to the vessel gave evidence to the same effect.

Mr. Sparke referred the magistrate to the case of ex parte Brown, in which it was decided that where there were articles in existence there could be no verbal agreement.

Mr. Reid quoted section 168 of the Merchants Shipping Act, and held that under that section the articles should be rescinded, as the evidence clearly showed there had been misrepresentation by the defendant and the vice-consul before the complainant had signed on.

The magistrate said he had closely watched the demeanour of the sailors while they gave their evidence, and he did not doubt the correctness of their statements. He held that the complainant entered into the contract of his services by reason of the statement made by the vice-consul, and by reason of that statement prior to signing. The complainant signed in the bona-fide belief that he was to be paid off at Newcastle. He (the magistrate) therefore determined that the contract for services was rescinded.

SMELTING RETURNS.

At the Sulphide Works, Cockle Creek, 1277 tons of ore were treated during the week, giving a yield of 129⁴oz of gold, 33,408oz of silver, and 340 tons of lead.

GREEK SCULPTURE.

The last of a series of six lectures on Greek Sculputure by Professor W. J. Woodhouse was delivered in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last evening. The previous lectures traced the development of the art from the sixth to the first century B.C. The final lecture dealt particularly with the later Hellenistic and Graeco-Roman sculpture. The works of this period constitute the bulk of sculpture exhibited in modern museums and art galleries.

Most of these were executed in Italy by Greek sculptors for Roman patrons. The Romans had plundered Greek cities, and some of the greatest works were taken home by them. Less fortunate Romans desired like treasures, and commissioned Greek sculptors to execute them. The result was a series of copies of masterpieces.

Professor Woodhouse explained how the first century was distinctly a decadent epoch, in many figures. The pose betrayed a consciousness of inspection on the part of the subject, and gave an unnatural air to the figure. They were fine types of womanhood, but not comparable to the types of the sixth century masters. Relief work was a noticeable feature. This was a decadent sign, for the figure relied on pictorial accessories. Perseus and Andromeda and Dionysos showed this tendency. They exemplify the influence of painting on sculpture. The fifth century masters would not condescend to do that. Their figures relied on their own perfection to convey an idea, or portray a conception. Some of the Graeco-Roman works were almost pictures in marble. Another faulty sign was that the groups conveyed a suspicion of the theatrical. The Punishment of Dirke by Amphion and Zethos is an example.

But while essentially decadent, the Hellenistic age had a realistic tendency. Many subjects hitherto beneath the dignity of sculpture were treated—for example, the urchins quarrelling, boy and goose, fisherman and shepherdess.

Portraits naturally followed, in accordance with the realistic tendency of the age. Julius Caesar, Pompeius the Great, and Augustus were typical, and were the patterns for later days. Another phase was the rendering of agony. Real art should never cause pain. So, although the technical skill in execution was wonderful, yet the first century sculptors fell away from the highest ideals of their predecessors. The aim of art is to elevate, not to portray the seamy side of life. The decline of art was arrested for a time by the Emperor Hadrian (117-138 A.D.), and to him we owe many copies of Greek masterpieces.

Professor Woodhouse was listened to very attentively, and explained the various defects in the works. A lantern gave splendid views of the figures. Some later-day works were shown, and the professor explained how modern knowledge of anatomy had influenced our artists. Our present-day sculptors did not compare favourably with the old masters, or even with the Hellenistic school, for where we sought to portray abandonment we sacrificed grace. The lecturer was warmly applauded at the conclusion of the lecture.

MOUNT BISCHOFF MINE.

LAUNCESTON, Friday.

At the Mount Bischoff mine, the ore from the eastern portion of the north alluvial face still keeps its high-grade quality, but gets poorer to the westward. Large quantities of crushing material can be procured from the benches on the white faces, when required. No. 2 face looks fairly well. Three faces are still being worked in No. 3 bench, two being in fair tin. The ground face is falling off in grade, but the surrounding ground is making up for any loss in this direction, and from present appearance will give work for a long time. About 45 tons of fairly good ore were stoped from the 13ft vein in the Queen lode. Although the lode in the adit of the Wheal section has pinched, the quality keeps good.

An undergraduate in his first year at Cambridge, when under age, was advanced £200 by a moneylender on a promissory note for £300. The young man was entirely dependent upon an allowance from his father, who declined to pay the moneylender. The latter, hoping that to avoid an exposure the father would relent, brought an action, but, although there was some trouble in proving the age of the young man, owing to the absence of a certificate of birth, the moneylender lost his action, and had to pay the costs.

SOUTHERN COAL TRADE.

CLIFTON, Friday.

Notwithstanding the slackness of trade at some of the Southern collieries, said to be brought about through the coal-lumpers' strike, the local coal trade has not in any way been affected, all the collieries having worked full time for the past fortnight. The South Clifton and North Bulli collieries each pay full time on Friday next, and the Coalcliff Colliery miners drew full time for to-day's pay. They have worked full time for the present week. A very busy fortnight has been put in at the North Bulli colliery and coke works, but their shipping trade has been very much hampered through the scarcity of hoppers. The mine, however, was not thrown idle, as the company were able to provide full time for the miners by loading the output into their private hoppers and supplying local orders in "D" trucks. Only 1000 tons of coal could be forwarded for shipment to Darling Harbour, but the company could have supplied over 2000 tons had a sufficient number of hoppers been supplied.

The coke trade during the present week also suffered. Two hundred and fifty tons of coke should have been despatched for shipment to the Chillagoe Company, Cairns, Queensland, but only nine hoppers were supplied by the Railway Department. This represented about 70 tons. The total output of coal for the past fortnight was 3870 tons, 1500 tons of which was used for coking purposes, 1150 tons were forwarded in private hoppers to Port Kembla, and the balance was forwarded in "D" trucks to supply local orders. Nine hundred and fifty bags of coke were despatched to the usual weekly customers. Over 400 tons was shipped for export, and 800 tons despatched to Lithgow and Cobar.

Many improvements with a view to further developing the North Bulli Colliery are being carried out in the mine. More men are required for stone work, and a number of additional wheelers are also required. Of the four electric coal-cutting machines owned by the North Bulli Colliery, three are kept continually working. Mr. Cater states that a better block of coal can be hewn by the machine than by pick-work, with the extra advantage of a much smaller percentage of slack. The future trade prospects of the North Bulli Colliery are particularly bright, and the orders already in hand will keep the colliery fully employed for some considerable time. Work in connection with the repairs to the North Bulli jetty at Port Kembla are progressing satisfactorily, and will shortly be completed.

The coal and coke trade at the South Clifton Colliery for the past fortnight has also been very brisk, the output of best coal being forwarded to Darling Harbour for export. Large orders of bulk and bag coke were also despatched. Work in connection with the erection of a large slack box, capable of holding 1000 tons, at the coke ovens is being speedily pushed on, and the whole of the new ovens are expected to be in full work within the next few weeks.

The North Bulli and South Clifton coke works will draw full time on Friday next.

WOLLONGONG, Friday.

The coal trade generally this week has been very slack. The total shipments at Port Kembla only amounted to 4870 tons for Melbourne and 200 tons for Adelaide. At Wollongong the trade is more affected by the coal-lumpers' strike than at Port Kembla, the output being considerably reduced. The loss of trade in consequence of the main jetty leased by the North Bulli Company being repaired is being keenly felt throughout the district. Under present conditions it is only possible to load one vessel at a time. Cases have repeatedly occurred of late in which large oversea steamers, after waiting in the bay for as long as seven or eight days, have been compelled to leave for Sydney or Newcastle for their cargoes. A prominent mining official states that if the selling price is found to be below that ruling for the past six months, there is going to be serious trouble. The miners contend now that the wages are down to bedrock, and that they will not submit to further reduction.

The coke trade is brisk. At the half-yearly meeting of the Illawarra Cokeworkers' Union the report set forth that there had been a steady increase of membership during the year. The financial statement showed a credit balance of £11 5s 9d. The officers elected were:—President, Mr. T. Irwin; vice-president, Mr. C. Burgess; treasurer, Mr. G. Dennis; secretary, Mr. A. Liddell.

MAIL COACH BURNED.

DURING A THUNDERSTORM.

MAILS AND CONTENTS DESTROYED.

BOURKE, Friday.

An inquiry concerning the destruction by fire of the Bourke to Wilcannia coach at Yanda on Wednesday was commenced yesterday afternoon, before Mr. Helm, police magistrate. The evidence showed that the coach contained nine mailbags, in which were four registered letters, and 21 parcels, besides the ordinary mails. There were also on board several other parcels, including a case of wax matches, a kapok mattress, and a case of butter. The body, hind wheels of the coach, and all the contents were completely destroyed. Out of £10 worth of silver that had been under the driver's seat on the coach, the police recovered £9 13s 6d amongst the ruins.

Mr. W. J. Morrison stated he arrived at Yanda about half-past 12, and while there a heavy storm, accompanied by lightning, occurred. After securing everything on the coach he went into the hut, and stayed there about an hour. On coming out of the hut the coach was discovered to be in flames. Every effort was used to save the contents, but he could not save anything owing to the fierceness of the flames.

Mr. F. A. Lakey, who travelled to Yanda on the coach corroborated the evidence with regard to the weather conditions, etc., and considered the lightning the cause of the fire.

The Coroner adjourned the inquiry this morning for one week for the production of further evidence.

SOUTHERLY GALES.

CYCLONE TO THE EASTWARD.

TO-DAY'S WEATHER PROSPECTS.

Squally conditions prevailed on the New South Wales coast yesterday. There was a moderate southerly and south-west gale raging on the greater part of the seaboard, and seas on the northern part were high. Steamers from Brisbane which reached the port yesterday reported that on making Seal Rocks they encountered the gale, with high, confused seas, also a thunderstorm. Vessels which travelled up the south coast during the day had a following wind. In the metropolis the greatest velocity of the wind was 33 miles per hour.

A strong easterly gale raged at Norfolk Island on Thursday afternoon. At 2.30 p.m. the seas were high, and the barometer was down to 29.7, a drop of nearly half an inch since Thursday.

Mr. Noble, Government Meteorologist, in referring to those conditions, remarked that there was a cyclone to the eastward. The outlook as regards weather at Sydney to-day was, therefore, not too promising, and present conditions were likely to become intensified. He had remarked earlier in the afternoon that pressure conditions had still further intensified since Thursday. A general rise in barometers had taken place over eastern Victoria and Tasmania. On the other hand, barometers had fallen on our north coastal parts. These two factors, the rise down south and the fall up north, had sustained the squally conditions on the New South Wales coast. In Western Australia the rainstorm had developed rapidly, being accompanied on the west and south coasts with thunder and hail. Many stations received over an inch of rain, the heaviest being 180 points at Rockingham, and 148 at Sharks Bay. Squally southerlies with occasional showers and patches of rough sea may be expected on the New South Wales coast.

The following coastal reports were compiled at 8 o'clock last night:—Tweed Heads, fresh SSW wind, sea moderate, and heavy break; Clarence Heads, S, strong, sea moderate; Bellinger Heads, SW, moderate gale, sea rough; Manning Heads, S, moderate gale, showery, sea rough; Newcastle, SW, fresh, showery, sea moderate; Sydney Heads, SW, moderate, sea moderate; Wollongong, SW, fresh, sea slight; Kiama, SW, fresh, sea moderate; Jervis Bay, S, strong, squally, cloudy, sea rough; Gabo Island, SSW, moderate, showery, sea slight.

EMPIRE COCOA.

The Empire Cocoa Essence has been examined and reported on time after time by eminent Scientists. Mr. C. R. Blackett, F.C.S., reported that it was "perfectly pure, of great strength, and most palatable flavour, containing in due proportion all the nutritive and sustaining properties of the best quality of Concentrated Cocoa." Mr. A. H. Jackson, B.Sc., F.C.S., has written:—"For purity, strength, and flavour I found the Empire Cocoa Essence equal to the very best and superior to the majority. For solubility the Empire Cocoa Essence was superior to all." Mr. Jackson added: "Owing to the Empire Cocoa's high standard of strength, solubility, and digestibiltiy, I am of opinion that this Cocoa is most economical in use, and produces a wholesome, nutritious, and pleasing beverage."

EMPIRE COCOA.

THE EMPIRE COCOA ESSENCE IS MUCH APPRECIATED BY CYCLISTS AND OTHER ATHLETES. TESTIMONIALS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED FROM MANY OF THESE. SUFFICE IT TO QUOTE MR. CON. DWYER, THE WELL-KNOWN CYCLIST. MR. DWYER WRITES:—

"I have pleasure in stating that I consider your Empire Cocoa Essence a very valuable beverage for Cyclists. It is invigorating and sustaining in a marked degree, and therefore enables riders using it to stand with ease the exertion and physical strain incurred when racing or touring. Cyclists will find that, if used regularly, Empire Cocoa will keep them in good form, as it really possesses all the properties of both food and drink."

EMPIRE COCOA.

The Empire Cocoa is sold by all stores, and can be obtained in both tins and packets. 3oz. packets and half-pound tins are the most popular sizes. Ask your grocer about it. If he has not got it, he can get it for you. Do not take any other brand, but insist on having "Empire"—the world's best Cocoa. Don't forget the brand, "Empire." Say it over two or three times, so that you will remember—"Empire"—"Empire"—"Empire." That's right—now you've got it.

HIGHEST ENDORSEMENT FROM W. F. STANTON, Esq., J.P., S. OF T., AND I.O.G.T.
W. F. STANTON and CO., Watchmakers and Jewellers,
22 Royal Arcade, Sydney.
E. H. NORTON, Esq., Eucrasy Company, Sydney.

Dear Sir,—As a lifelong Abstainer, a Son of Temperance, and Good Templar, I, for years past, recognised Drunkenness as a disease, not a crime. When you, in 1896, introduced your Eucrasy Treatment, I became keenly interested, and recommended it so that I could more closely watch its results. My experience with what I may term my patients has been such that I can, without any hesitation, testify to its curative effects, and without any soliciting on your part, I give this testimonial, believing sincerely that by so doing I am carrying out my temperance pledges "To do all in my power to advance the Cause."

I wish you success, for every patient cured adds to the influence the Temperance Party require to enact Prohibitory Laws. You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you deem fit.

Yours sincerely, W. F. STANTON, J.P.

Mrs. SCOTT writes:—"Oh! how happy I am that my husband has lost all his appetite for whisky. Your remedy is surely a blessing for drunkards."

Mr. JOSEPH KLOSTERMAN, Cobar, N.S.W., says:—It is eight years ago since I sent for EUCRASY, and after a lapse of eight years I think a person should be able to pass his opinion. I am pleased to say that your medicine has done wonders for me. I am frequently in the company of smokers and drinkers, but have no desire myself for either liquor or tobacco. If this statement should be of any benefit you are at liberty to use same for publication, and remain, Yours thankfully, (Sgd.) JOSEPH KLOSTERMAN.

ELOQUENT WORDS FROM A WIFE WHO RESCUED HER HUSBAND FROM A TERRIBLE HABIT.

SECRETLY GAVE HIM A REMEDY IN HIS COFFEE, AND HE NOW REJOICES WITH HER.

Who can doubt there is a cure for Drunkenness when we have such an eloquent and emphatic statement from Mrs. K. Lynch. She says:—"My husband was a hard drinker. There was never a doubt in my mind but that liquor had so worked upon his nerves as to actually control his appetite. Like most men who drink, he was kind and generous when sober, but the whisky demon usually had the better of him, and his wife had to suffer. One day I concluded to try a remedy called Eucrasy, which it was said would cure the liquor habit secretly. So I mixed some of it with Mr. Lynch's food for a few days, and put a little in his coffee. I could scarcely conceal my agitation lest he should suspect me, for he had suddenly taken a dislike to liquor, said he despised the stuff, and was the most remarkably changed man you ever saw. I kept bravely at it, determined not to waver in my attempt to cure him, and I soon found out that my mission was a complete success, and that Eucrasy had wrought almost a miracle for me. I want other women to profit by my example."

Miss WELLAND, who cured her father after years of misery, wretchedness, and almost unbearable suffering, says:—"I shall be so glad if you publish my experience, for it will reach many others, and let them know about the wonderful EUCRASY. I will do all I can to help any suffering sister who will write me."

Mrs. J. HATTON,
who cured her husband with Eucrasy, writes us that she has cured also a near and dear relative, and makes a most earnest appeal to all other women to save the drunkard.

The Eucrasy neutralises the effect of Alcohol, and promptly corrects and stays its use. Send to us for scores of testimonials received daily from all parts.

INVESTMENT AND BUILDING SOCIETY,

47 ELIZABETH-STREET, SYDNEY.

REOPENING OF BUSINESS.

DIRECTORS: Hon. L. F. HEYDON, M.L.C., Alderman J. LANE MULLINS, BERNARD M'BRIDE, Esq. J.P., JOHN DONELAN, Esq., J.P.

OFFICE HOURS: Monday to Friday (inclusive), 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturdays, 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Monday Evenings, 7 to 9 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS.

SIGNOR HAZON'S DEPARTURE.

On Monday afternoon, at 4.30, the Lord Mayor of Sydney (Alderman Thomas Hughes), himself a lover of music, will preside at a meeting convened by Sir William Manning, Senator Gould, and Sir James R. Fairfax, also enthusiasts in the art, to consider the approaching departure of Signor Roberto Hazon. Meetings of this character are usually held at the Australia or at Paling's Concert Salon, but such a large attendance is anticipated on Monday that the vestibule of the Town Hall has been chosen. The return of Signor Hazon to Italy, after 20 years' ceaseless and beneficial activity in the promotion of all that is brightest and best in the musical life of the city, will involve a loss to the community not easily estimated. Prominent members of the leading societies with which he is identified, the Sydney Philharmonic and the Sydney Amateur Orchestral, will be present, and the representative musicians of the city will also attend.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

"Dorothy," deservedly one of the most popular works in the Royal Comic Opera Company's repertoire, will be revived after a considerable interval at Her Majesty's Theatre this evening. The humours of the plot and the charm of the graceful music should be thoroughly enjoyed at the hands of a cast in which the only stranger is Miss Nina Wood, a young singer, who has appeared with acceptance in London at the Strand and Prince of Wales's theatres. Dorothy, Miss Florence Young; Lydia, Miss Nina Wood; Mrs. Privett, Miss Clara Clifton; Phyllis, Miss Alma Barber; Lady Betty, Miss Pressy Preston; Lurcher, Mr. George Lauri; Geoffrey Wilder, Mr. Reginald Roberts; Harry Sherwood, Mr. Arthur Crane; Squire Bantam, Mr. C. B. Bantock; Farmer Tuppett, Mr. A. Hunter. Mr. Gerard Coventry will direct the stage (Mr. Fred. Young assisting), and Mr. George Hall will conduct the music.

THEATRE ROYAL.

Miss Maud Hildyard will open her season at the Theatre Royal to-night with the new sensational melodrama, "The Beautiful Fiend," in which she will play the name-part. The new piece, which is by Messrs. Geo. W. Wybrow and Frank M. Thorne, deals with developments in the social life of Russia during the present troubles between the Black Hundred, the socialists, the peasants, and the Government, and will be elaborately staged with new scenery and costumes. Messrs. Meynell and Gunn's new company will include Messrs. Charles Vane, Conway Wingfield, James Lindsay, Tracy Barrow, Charles Bovis, William Bovis, Miss Violet Dene, and Miss May Congdon.

THE "MR. HOPKINSON" SEASON.

"Mr. Hopkinson," one of the great comedy successes of London and New York, by R. C. Carton, author of that laughable play "Lord and Lady Algy," has been chosen by Mr. Edwin Geach for the farewell season of the Willoughby-Ward Company at the Criterion Theatre on Saturday, August 3. The new play deals humorously with the questionable successes and many blunders in aristocratic society of "Mr. Hopkinson," a dreadful person with £40,000 a year. This central character will be divertingly impersonated by Mr. Hugh Ward. Miss Grace Palotta as the Duchess of Braceborough and Mr. George Willoughby as Lord Addleton will also assume new characters for these interesting farewell appearances.

CRITERION THEATRE.

Crowded houses have continued to attend the career of "The Squatter's Daughter" at the Criterion Theatre, where the fifty-ninth performance of Messrs. Edmund Duggan and Bert Bailey's Australian melodrama will be given this evening. Playgoers will not fail to note, however, that Mr. William Anderson has at last been obliged to reluctantly announce the last twelve nights of the popular play, owing to the opening of the comedy season of Mr. Geach on August 3. There will be a matinee of the beautifully staged "Squatter's Daughter" on Wednesday next.

PALACE THEATRE.

This afternoon and evening, at the Palace Theatre, Mr. Edwin Geach will present a new programme by the Empire Picture Company, in which the animated scenes will be supplemented by the music of a capital orchestra and realistic effects. In addition to "Canada as it is," with the arrival of immigrants, the journey to the harvest fields, and a view of the Rockies, there will be vivid illustrations of the great naval manoeuvres at Portsmouth before the Colonial Premiers, and many new humorous and dramatic subjects will be shown.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

Mr. Harry Rickards' company at the Tivoli Theatre will be joined this afternoon and evening by Miss Agnes Hazel, who has returned from London, as vocalist and comedian after a long absence, and by Mr. Michael Nolan, a favourite Irish descriptive singer and actor, who has returned by the Himalaya to renew pleasant associations with Tivoli audiences. The last week of Graceful Gracie Grahame and Mr. Leonard Nelson is notified. The Svengalis are in the height of their mysterious thought-reading season, and many other favourites are in the bill.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

There will be the usual matinee at the National Amphitheatre to-day, when, and in the evening, the new artists joining will be Green and Gibson (American sketch artists), George Heatherby (ventriloquist), Baby Cooper, Tod Callaway, and Freda Maher (soubrette and dancer). There will be new pictures by the myorama, and a bright programme will include M'Kisson and Kearns, Carlton and Sutton, the Coleman Sisters, Geo. Sorlie, Geo. Sturm, Goldie Collins, and Olga Pennington.

WEST'S PICTURES—DE GROEN'S BAND.

Mr. T. J. West will take a second biograph series of this afternoon's great football match for reproduction at the Lyceum on Monday night. Big business continues at this house. This afternoon and evening Mr. West's new pictures will be "A Journey up the Beautiful River Avon," the "Sleuth Hounds of the Law," "The Lost Collar Button," "The Chef's Revenge," "His First Tall Hat," "Scenes of Irish Life and Character," etc. The All Blacks' match, the Derby of 1907, and other favourite subjects will be retained.

THE CITY ORGANIST'S FAREWELL.

Music-lovers who have enjoyed many of the City Organist's 440 recitals during the past few years will doubtless attend his farewell evening appearance at the Town Hall to-night. Mr. Arthur Mason has prepared a highly attractive programme, in which he will play the Storm Fantasia, the Ride of the Valkyries, the "William Tell" overture, Handel's Largo, "La Boheme," Lemare's Andantino, and his own Serenade Venetienne. Miss Grace Miller Ward will render songs by Giovanni, Mackenzie, Lardelli, and Meyer Helmund. Mr. Arnold Gange's numbers will be "The Two Grenadiers" and "The Sailor's Grave."

AMATEUR ORCHESTRAL SOCIETY.

Wednesday, July 31, is fixed as the date of the next concert of the Sydney Amateur Orchestral Society, when Signor Hazon will conduct, with M. Henri Staell as leader. Miss Goulder Clarke, a new soprano, will make her debut with Mozart's "Deh Vieni non Tardar," and Mr. F. Mowat Carter will play the Max Bruch Concerto (with orchestra). In addition to the fine pieces referred to in our "Music and Drama" column, Signor Hazon will conduct Moskowski's "Serenade" and Saint Saen's "Danse Macabre."

MISS IRIS DE CAIROS-REGO.

Already many seats have been reserved at Paling's for the farewell complimentary concert to Miss Iris de Cairos-Rego, to be given at the Y.M.C.A. Hall next Saturday as a cordial send-off before her departure for Berlin. The talented girl pianist will then render some favourite classic pieces, and will be assisted by Miss Emma Sussmilch, Messrs. Arnold Gange, Bertram Fisher, Cyril Monk, and J. Edward Sykes.

THE ARRAL OPERATIC CONCERTS.

Mme. Blanche Arral, whose operatic recitals in costume drew large audiences to the Town Hall last year, has returned from a tour of New Zealand, during which she gave no fewer than 45 concerts, and will renew her brilliant operatic entertainment on Saturday, August 3. The French soprano, who will appear under the direction of M. F. Aengenheyster, has prepared new scenes from her comprehensive repertoire, which include the Mad Scenes both from "Hamlet" and "Lucia," and excerpts from "William Tell" and "La Traviata." The plan will open at Aengenheyster's next Saturday.

DRAMA AT THE STANDARD.

Mr. Henry Clay, having formed a dramatic company, which includes several approved names, will on Monday night open a permanent season of melodrama at the Royal Standard Theatre with the exciting play "Dangers of London." The new combination will include Misses Roland Watts Phillips (newly returned from a season of several months at Perth and the West with Mr. Wm. Anderson's Company), Helena Burdetta, Kate Henry, Mr. Harry Diver, Mr. Jeffrey Williams, and other artists.

STATE MILITARY BAND MATINEE.

Lieutenant Bentley will conduct the N.S.W. State Military Band to-morrow afternoon at the Town Hall in selections from "Tannhauser," his own operatic medley, and other pieces. The programme will be contributed to by Miss Ruby Falkner, Mr. Kilburn Heron, Mr. C. Tall (piccolo), and Master Oswald Barlow (clarionet).

MR. N. J. GEHDE'S CONCERT.

Mr. N. J. Gehde will give his customary concert at the Town Hall to-morrow night, when Miss Elsie Pearless will sing "Ah, fors e lui," Miss Fenn (contralto) will render Liddle's "Abide with Me," Mr. Hazell will recite "Not Understood," and Messrs. Carter, Riemenschneider, and Master Galvin will also assist.

"PLAYMATES" AT ST. JAMES'S HALL.

His Excellency the State Governor and suite will be present at St. James's Hall on Monday evening, when the Juvenile Dramatic Combination of St. James's parish will perform the comic operetta "Playmates" in aid of the Newsboys' Club. This pretty musical piece will be repeated, with "shadow" and Highland dances, old English maypole, scenery, and full chorus, on Tuesday night. The plans are at Nicholson's.

SYDNEY CONSERVATORIUM.

The third term of the Sydney Conservatorium for the present year will open on Monday. Ordinary students are accordingly requested to forward fees to the registrar without delay, and at the same time class vouchers should be taken out in the manner notified elsewhere. A largely increased number of students is announced.

VICTORIA HALL PICTURES.

This afternoon and evening the American Picturescope Company will continue their biograph entertainment at the Victoria Hall, Pitt and Park streets, when new landscape scenes, and humorous and dramatic subjects, will be combined with musical selections.

ALL STARS AT MASONIC HALL.

At the New Masonic Hall this evening the All Star Variety Company will resume their regular week-end entertainment with a new programme, under the direction of Mr. F. Parkes, which will include songs, dances, comic numbers, and moving pictures.

"NOMADS" DRAMATIC CLUB.

The Nomads Dramatic Club has just been successfully set on foot with an initial membership of about 70, and with a committee, the officer-bearers in which are Messrs. P. Gray (hon. sec.), Harold Levy (hon. treasurer), and F. Maclean (hon. librarian).

THE MASON TESTIMONIAL.

In recognition of the ability shown by Mr. Arthur Mason during his five years' tenure of the post of City Organist, Messrs. B. B. Gelling and W. E. Hawkins (hon. secretaries) in another column convene a public meeting for Friday next. It is proposed that at this meeting some form of testimonial to the departing artist, who sails for London on July 27, should be decided upon.

HOSPITAL SATURDAY FUND CONCERT.

There will be a free concert at the Town Hall on Monday, July 29, in aid of the Hospital Saturday Fund, at which the State Governor will deliver an address, and the Lord Mayor will present the annual report. All the artists will generously assist under the musical direction of Mr. J. Edward Sykes. Mme. Amy Sherwin will reappear in the cause of charity, and will sing "Voices of the Angels," with organ obbligato by Miss Lillian Frost. The list will include Misses Annie Perry, Lillian Frost, Lillian Foulis, Bebe Kussmann, Grace Audley, Messrs. Henry Rofe, Lawrence Campbell, Henry Weir, Master Oswald Barlow, and the State Military Band, under Lieutenant Bentley, A.R.C.M.

UNIVERSITY DRAMATIC SOCIETY.

The first performance of "The Man of Destiny," a one-act play by G. Bernard Shaw, should have attracted a larger audience than was the case at the Theatre Royal last evening, but the comparative want of patronage probably arose from the fact that Friday is well recognised as an "off night" for new ventures. The University Dramatic Society certainly showed commendable enterprise in producing the piece, as it has only just been staged in London, with Mr. Dion Boucicault and Miss Irene Vanbrugh in the chief characters. These characters are General Bonaparte, at the age of 27, and a Strange Lady. The lady is known to be concealing despatches which the young general is determined to recover. The interest of the play arises from the verbal fencing between the two, in the course of which, by the most delicately insidious suggestions, the lady at last makes Napoleon realise that the "woman's love-letter" included in the packet is really from his own wife to Barras. The dialogue is very spirited and clever, and was delivered with quiet point by Miss Bertha Ward, and with a fair attempt at brusque intensity by Mr. Cyril Portus. The lady, who also appears in uniform as her own supposed twin-brother, mightily befools a brainless young lieutenant (Mr. Gilbert Nathan), and a shrewd innkeeper (Mr. O. B. Williams) completes the cast. Both characters were creditably rendered. When the lady forces Napoleon to see that he had better burn the letter with the papers, "because Caesar's wife should be above suspicion," he replies, with the documents in the flames—"Would Caesar's wife be above suspicion if she saw us here together now?" The lady replies in provocative meditation, "Ah! I wonder!" and the curtain comes slowly down. The amateurs deserved the hearty recall which followed. The University Dramatic Society closed an enjoyable evening with "The Importance of Being Earnest." Mr. Gehde conducted an efficient orchestra.

MME. EILEEN MITCHELL O'MOORE.

Mme. Eileen Mitchell O'Moore, whose studies under Hans Sitt at Leipsic, Ysaye at Brussels, and Sevcik at Prague formed stepping-stones to many brilliantly-filled engagements as a violinist in Germany and England, will on Monday open a studio for pupils at Paling's.

BANK DRAMATIC SOCIETY.

The Bank of New South Wales Musical and Dramatic Society will repeat Pinero's brilliant comedy "The Times" on Wednesday, July 31, at the Palace Theatre, in aid of the Waverley, Bondi, and Randwick branches of the District Nursing Association.

THE OXFORD.

Mr. William A. Crawley, who for a number of years has been well known locally as a theatrical critic, has taken a lengthy lease of the Oxford, and will this afternoon and evening introduce a new picture and vaudeville company. Among the new pictorial subjects will be the football match for the British championship at the Crystal Palace, Snapshots in Canada, and Hordern's employees leaving work. The vaudeville programme will be contributed by eight artists of note.

CLAY'S VAUDEVILLE COMPANY.

Harry Clay's Vaudeville Company will play as usual to-night in the Standard Theatre. Several new artists will appear, including the Misses Nellie Maher, Annie Fontenoy, and Mr. Charles Smith. There will be a change of illustrated songs and also of the bioscope pictures in the new programme.

PENNYDOM CONCERTS.

These new idea half-hour concerts are nightly proving themselves popular. To-night's new moving pictures will include "Lost in the Snow," "A Trip to a Star," and "The Lost Spectacle." Two of the newest American song successes, illustrated with beautifuly coloured slides, will be rendered.

BONDI RECREATION COMPANY.

On Wednesday next prizes for events decided on Saturday last will be presented, and an egg and spoon race and a hoop and lighted taper race will be decided. Post entries for these will now be accepted. On Monday, August 12, there will be a novelty hat and tie carnival, with prizes.

THE HAYMARKET HIPPODROME.

At the Haymarket Hippodrome to-night Mr. Cole's Bohemian Dramatic Company will produce Dion Boucicault's bushranging drama, "The Bushranger, or on the Goldfields." Mr. Cole has had appropriate scenery painted, and a special cast has been engaged. A matinee will be held to-day.

ENTERTAINMENT AT NORTH SYDNEY.

A concert (with tableaux) was given at the North Sydney School of Arts last night, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the funds of the Melanesian Mission and the Royal Alexandra Hospital for Children. There was a good attendance, and an admirable programme was carried out under the direction of Mrs. Fitzgerald, the tableau vivants being arranged by Miss Peake. Vocal and instrumental items were rendered by Miss Dorothy Dibbs and Mr. J. M. Harvey (songs), and Miss Hammond (violin), while recitations were given by Mr. L. M. Stephen.

DENILIQUIN SHOW.

DENILIQUIN.—The thirty-first annual show of the local Pastoral and Agricultural Society was concluded to-day in perfect weather. The attendance was the largest for some years, the gate receipts showing an increase of £10 as compared with the last year. The show, on the whole, was below the standard. The following is the result of to-day's judging:—

Single buggy horse: J. A. Johnston, Woodend, 1; A. Ferguson, Bendigo, 2. Galloway, single harness: A. Ferguson, Bendigo, 1; E. Gorman, Berrigan, 2. Single buggy pony: J. A. Johnston, Woodend, 1; S. STOTT AND HOARE'S BUSINESS COLLEGE.

The half-yearly prize distribution of this college took place in the lecture hall on Wednesday last. Mr. W. Dobell occupied the chair. The principal, Mr. A. W. Nicol, stated in his report that the number of students now in attendance was 804, an increase of 190 as compared with last year. The staff had been increased, and now included 25 teachers. Candidates presented by the college obtained 104 of the 121 passes in the theory examinations, and 29 of the 46 passes in the speed examinations of the Incorporated Phonographic Society, held in March last, including 19 of the 20 passes with distinction in theory, and all the passes at the five highest rates of speed, 160, 140, 130, 120, and 110 words per minute. The college students had gained the first and third passes at the Public Service Board's examination for lady shorthand writers and typists, held in March last. Students had also been successful in the examinations of the Society of Accountants and Auditors (England), the Water and Sewerage Board, Public Service Clerical Division Entrance, Bankers' Institute, Pharmacy Board, Sydney City Council Junior Clerks', and Railway Department examinations.

TESTIMONIAL FROM A PROFESSIONAL NURSE.

Clyst St. Mary, Exeter.

Dear Sirs,—I feel that I would like you to know how much I value Angier's Emulsion. In my professional work as nurse I have had many opportunities of witnessing its wonderful effect in chest complaints. In cases of well-established phthisis it has worked wonders—in one case in particular, that of a personal friend thought to be in the advanced stage of the disease, with the usual symptoms so fully developed that we all thought she could not pull through the winter. When in this apparently hopeless condition she decided to try Angier's Emulsion, and took it most religiously—not a small bottle or two and then give it up; she clung to it the more as she felt her strength returning and her weight increasing. I am sure you would have felt gratified had you seen the change it worked. She declares that if those suffering in the same way would only take Angier's Emulsion and stick to it, it would soon show them what it would do for them also. I have an uncle, a clergyman, who suffers from chronic Asthma and dreads the winter months. He would tell you that Angier's Emulsion is his best friend, giving great relief to his cough and breathing. He takes a dose every night the last thing before retiring. At the present time I am trying Angier's Emulsion in a case of chronic Bronchitis, that of a dear little boy. He has had some distressing turns with fearful nights of coughing and difficult breathing, and medical aid seemed to bring no relief. I am delighted to tell you that Angier's Emulsion is really doing him good, and I have great hopes of his complete recovery. You have my full permission to publish this letter. (Signed) NURSE E. ELLSON.

TESTIMONIAL FROM A DOCTOR.

Dear Sirs,—I have, during the last few years, prescribed your Emulsion extensively with the best results. In my opinion it has no equal as a lung healer and in chronic lung affections.

"THREE MONTHS' REST AND ANGIER'S EMULSION."

57 Derby Street, Moss Side, Manchester.

Dear Sirs,—About four years ago I was told by two lung specialists that I had consumption, and was advised to go into a home for consumptives. My husband, however, would not let me go, and I was placed under the care of my sister's doctor, who advised three months' rest and Angier's Emulsion. I went to West Kirby, and after nine weeks had gained 2 st. 2 lb. I attribute this solely to Angier's, and wish I had heard about it sooner. I am never without a large bottle, though I don't use it continually. I advise anyone that I come across with colds, etc., to use it, and have frequently bought small bottles for my friends. I have converted many to my belief in it, especially my sister, who persevered a long time with other emulsions until I bought her a bottle. Now, like myself, she is never without it. My two babies have never had serious colds, because immediately I see them looking not well I give them Angier's for three or four days, and they ask for it themselves. I have tried almost all other chest cures, but I now rely solely on Angier's, for besides curing the cough I firmly believe it heals the lungs. (Sd.) (Mrs.) J. JONES.

"THERE IS NOTHING TO EQUAL IT FOR THE LUNGS."

Church Road, Hazel Beach, Pemb.

Dear Sirs,—I have felt for a long time that it was my duty to write and let you know of the great benefit I have derived from Angier's Emulsion. Some years ago I had inflammation of the lungs, which left me in a bad state, but thanks to Angier's Emulsion I am now a very different woman. Your Emulsion has done me more good than anything else I have tried, and I can conscientiously say that I do not think there is anything to equal it for lungs and chest, or for any internal complaint, such as kidneys, etc. It has built me up as nothing else has done, and I recommend all my friends who have colds or coughs to try it.

(Signed) (Mrs.) E. CODD.

It has no equal as a Lung Healer.

Angier's Emulsion is the best of all remedies for lung troubles and wasting diseases because it combines exceptional soothing and healing qualities with great tonic and strengthening properties. No other remedy has such a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane of the throat, lungs, stomach and intestines, and no other remedy will so invariably promote appetite, aid digestion and improve nutrition. In consumption, from the very first symptom, through every stage of the disease, no better remedy can be employed. It keeps the digestive organs healthy and greatly assists the assimilation of all forms of nourishment, while by its antiseptic, soothing and healing properties it exerts a marked beneficial influence upon the various symptoms such as cough, fever, night sweats and diarrhœa. The most convincing evidence of its value in consumption is the fact that it is extensively prescribed by eminent lung specialists and is used in hospitals for consumption. The soothing, healing and strengthening properties of Angier's Emulsion make it superior to any other remedy for the relief and cure of troublesome Coughs. It is equally good for the cough of chronic bronchitis with profuse expectoration, the dry, harsh, throat cough, the irritating laryngeal cough of influenza, the spasmodic cough of asthma, and for whooping cough and croupy coughs of children. It will be found especially valuable in cases where appetite and digestion are impaired or where the system is "run-down" from any cause. Angier's Emulsion is pleasant to take and agrees perfectly with delicate stomachs. Of Chemists and Drug Stores, 1s. 3d., 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d. Write to-day for a free sample.

The most palatable of all Emulsions and a great aid to digestion.

RAMIE,

THE NEW MATERIAL FOR TROPICAL AND COLONIAL WEAR.

"TUXEDO" WHITE RAMIE MATERIALS.

These new materials, made from pure Ramie, will stand any amount of washing without losing strength or lustre, and are absolutely unshrinkable and inexpensive. In fact, "Tuxedo" is by far the most durable material on the market. This altogether unique combination of qualities, not to be found in any other textile, places "Tuxedo" in the premier position for Ladies' or Gentlemen's Summer Wear, especially for Costumes and Suits for Boating, Riding, Tennis, and other recreations.

"UMUSTAV"
"VATSUMU"
RAMIE UNDERWEAR.

The pure Ramie Fibre from which "Vatsumu" is made possesses unique qualities for absorbing and diffusing perspiration, thus preventing chill, and preserving a normal temperature under circumstances which would otherwise produce exceptional heat.

THE NEW RAMIE KHAKI MATERIAL.

Absolutely Waterproof, but allows free ventilation.

No rubber is used in its manufacture.

This material is made in all weights. The lighter materials are most suitable for uniforms, clothing, and rough wear. The heavier makes are unequalled for tents, blinds, awnings, etc.

THE EVIDENCE AND REASON WHY.

TEETHING WITHOUT TROUBLE.

THE EVIDENCE from 8 Pritchard-street, Marrickville, N.S.W., July 9, 1906.

"I gave my little Triffie, who was very delicate, and suffered severely from diarrhoea while teething, SCOTT'S EMULSION, and from the first dose I noticed an improvement; she was able to digest her food, the diarrhoea gradually ceased, and she has cut five teeth without any trouble. My little one is now well and rosy."

(Mrs.) T. M. VOGAN.

THE REASON WHY SHE IS ROSY.

Strength—that is the secret, and Scott's Emulsion gives it without fail, because Scott's is always made of the finest Cod Liver Oil in the world, made perfectly digestible (and therefore far more nourishing) by the original SCOTT process of manufacture. Stomach and bowel troubles are cleared away, and, better still, the lime in SCOTT'S brings the teeth out white, straight and strong, and a pleasure and pride to look at.

All this is only true of Scott's, and you will have to MAKE SURE "THE FISHMAN WITH THE FISH" IS ON THE PACKAGE.

BUSH BALLADS.

By GUY EDEN. Price 3s 6d.

This volume of breezy bracing verse is proving immensely popular. The Standard says:—

"Like Adam Lindsay Gordon and Kendall and Paterson, and as much almost as any of them, Mr. Eden breathes into his lines the spirit of the Australian country life, and fills them with the atmosphere of the great grassy desert and the vast bare uplands that lie open to the Southern stars. He tells of the joys and struggles and trials of the life of the bush, and makes us feel the indefinable attraction that seizes the heart of the man who has once tasted it, and will not let him go. The wistful yearning that fills the most beautiful of all Kipling's poems is heard in some of Mr. Eden's. Mr. Eden tells some good stories of ranche and racecourse, and gives us the thrill of the Stockrider's gallops. It is a fine, breezy writing, that does the home-staying Londoner good to read."

10,000 TEETH
SUCCESSFULLY TREATED WITH CATAPHORESIS
by
DENTIST CHARLES L. HARRIS.

One reason why I have built up such an enormous practice is because during the 16 years I have been at my present address I have never EXTRACTED a tooth that could possibly be SAVED. With CATAPHORESIS treatment I have been successful in saving teeth that were considered "INCURABLE," and which had been condemned by others.

Remember this is no idle boast—it's a positive fact—which I am always ready and willing to prove, and in view of such evidences of the wonderful efficacy of my new treatment, any doubt or prejudice on the part of a sufferer from toothache is little short of criminal folly.

I fully realise that when I say I can absolutely CURE toothache and FILL or EXTRACT teeth WITHOUT PAIN, I am making a very great and grave statement, and I ask, not that you should accept it on the strength of my assurance, but that in your own interest you should searchingly investigate my claim, and satisfy yourself before coming to a decision.

I have in my possession many valuable letters attesting to the painlessness of my

His Excellency the LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR Sir SAMUEL WAY
(Lieut.-Gov. of South Aust.),
Rev. CANON SHARPE
(Rector of St. Paul's College, Sydney University),

A.A.A.

IT IS SURPRISING WHAT MODERN DENTISTRY CAN DO FOR YOU!

Teeth can be saved even when you may think them gone beyond redemption.
Any number of Teeth may be quickly extracted without the least inconvenience or pain, and no nasty after-effects.
The same applies to Fillings.
Artificial Teeth that are undetectable from the real, and that fit comfortably and masticate perfectly are another of the Great Boons of Modern Dentistry.

DENTIST P. B. REANEY

BRILLIANT SUCCESSES AT THE
I.P.S. SHORTHAND EXAMS.
GAINED BY STUDENTS OF STOTT AND HOARE'S
BUSINESS COLLEGE.

The Secretary of the New South Wales District of the Teachers' Section of the Incorporated Phonographic Society has received from the Secretary to the Examining Board in London the results of the Shorthand Examinations conducted by the Society in March last. These show that our students have

39 OF THE TOTAL OF 46 PASSES
IN THE SPEED EXAMINATIONS,
AND 104 OF THE TOTAL OF 121 PASSES IN THE THEORY EXAMINATIONS.
We gained in the Speed Examinations
ALL THE PASSES
AT THE FIVE HIGHEST RATES,
150, 140, 130, 120, AND 110 WORDS PER MINUTE.
In the Theory and Elementary Examinations our Students gained SIXTEEN OF THE TOTAL OF TWENTY.
PASSES WITH DISTINCTION.

In the eight Speed Examinations which have been conducted by this Society our Students have gained 342 passes, all other candidates 68 passes, and we have in EVERY examination gained ALL the passes at the HIGHEST RATES of speed. In the two Theory Examinations we have secured 191 out of the total of 235 passes, including 25 PASSES WITH DISTINCTION.

The above remarkable successes in the only impartially conducted Shorthand Examinations held in Sydney afford the most striking proof of the superior efficiency of the training we impart.

PETERSHAM, DULWICH HILL.
SOMETHING EXTRA SPECIAL!
A Superb NEW COTTAGE RESIDENCE, designed and finished on a most elaborate and expensive scale, for present owner's use. Money and brains have been freely used to make it a show place of the district. There is a noble entrance porch, the arched brickwork supported by fluted columns; then comes the hall, 8ft wide right through; pretty drawing-room, connected with a splendid dining-room (about 22 x 15). The wide tiled verandah in front returns around the side, and connects with the dining-room by casement doors. The verandah is also enclosed with fixed venetian blinds. There are 5 large and lofty bedrooms, large breakfast-room, suitable for billiard-room; kitchen, with fitted range, fitted dresser with sliding glass doors, grand bathroom fitted with porcelain bath and lavatory, tiled floor and walls, laundry with all modern conveniences, lovely fernery, etc. The Land is a magnificent corner block, easterly aspect, and Torrens title. More land if required, suitable for tennis court. There is also a paddock adjoining, with stabling and full-grown trees, which the vendor will sell cheap with the property if taken as a whole. Price asked for this Modern Home, only £1450.

HOW TO SAVE
A YEAR.
Many of you in receipt of small salaries can't afford to buy a block of land for yourself. That's what you think. It's your honest opinion. But we don't agree with you. We "KNOW" that you can "COMPEL" yourself to save, even if it's ever so little, by putting a few shillings each month into a "Land Lot" on the Dellwood Park Estate, Granville. The amount immediately becomes "Money you cannot spend," and, incidentally, it is also "something you have saved."

TWOPENCE EACH DAY WILL PURCHASE A HOME SITE.

Now look! You've some business a block or two up the street, or you're on the way to the Quay or station. Into a tram car you hop! "Fare, please!" Good-bye, penny. That's one penny you would have saved by doing as Nature intended you to do. Walk! And you, Sir! You're in the habit of taking a pint of ale or a glass of lager occasionally, are you not? There's no objection to that in the least, but cut "ONE" out daily, only "One." You'll feel none the worse, and it's THREEPENCE saved.

TWOPENCE EACH DAY WILL PURCHASE A HOME SITE.

You have already saved fourpence, equal to £6 a year. A sum of money which will pay in full the instalments on, not one, but "TWO" fine building allotments. Marvellous, is it not? You see you hardly know you're saving, and yet there's £6 worth of your own land staring you in the face. There's no need to go further, our task is done when we have shown you how easy it is. You simply secure a block of this good building land on terms of 5s month, 1s 3d week, or 2 pence a day.

TWOPENCE EACH DAY WILL PURCHASE A HOME SITE.

This fine land we are selling on such easy terms is situated at Granville, about a mile from the station, gas and water are available, and every block is as level as possible. The full price is from £7 10s block, and the terms 5s month, with a deposit of 10s. We charge you no interest, and give a free Torrens transfer to every purchaser.

WHERE TO GO ON THE LAND.
THAT IS THE QUESTION.
The answer is:—
1. Where you can get the best and most productive land.
2. Where the terms are most liberal.
In these important matters
THE GREAT WARRIEWOOD ESTATE
STANDS EASILY FIRST.
It is situated in the beautiful Narrabeen District, 9 miles from Manly, 15 from Sydney, in the coastal rain belt, and is so fine that a very few acres is sufficient for a comfortable living.
THE TERMS EXTEND OVER 10 YEARS; THE DEPOSIT IS ONLY £1 PER ACRE; AND NO INSTALMENTS ARE REQUIRED FOR TWO YEARS FROM PURCHASERS WHO IMPROVE THEIR LAND. IN ONE-FOURTH OF THAT TIME IT WILL BE PAYING FOR ITSELF.
A Marked Plan and a Free Illustrated Booklet, with full particulars, will be posted to whoever cares to ask for one.

COWRA.

IMPORTANT SALE OF TOWN PROPERTY AND BUSINESS, AS A GOING CONCERN,
SATURDAY, 27th JULY, 1907.
AT 2.30 P.M.

U. W. MUGGRIDGE has received instructions from the Executors of the Will of PETER MURRAY, late of Cowra, Storekeeper, deceased, to SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION,
at
MURRAY'S HALL, COWRA, on SATURDAY, 27th OF JULY,
at 2.30 p.m.

The Property is known as MURRAY'S STORE, situated at the corner of Lachlan and Kendal streets, having a frontage of 220 feet to Kendal-street and 66 feet frontage to Lachlan-street, on which is erected a commodious Stone Store, with every convenience, together with Stock-in-Trade of a General Storekeeper, valued at about £4500, and Goodwill.

The Auctioneer begs to call Special Attention of Capitalists and others on the look out for a good Business or Investment to the above Sale. As Cowra is one of the best and soundest districts in the State such an opportunity is seldom offered to the public, but this occurs owing to the winding-up of the Estate. Inspection invited, and full information will be supplied to intending purchasers by the auctioneer.

U. W. MUGGRIDGE,
Bank-chambers,
Cowra.

THE SCULLING CHAMPIONS
WILL ROW RIGHT PAST THE ESTATE.
ONE OF THE VERY BEST VIEWS OF THE FAMOUS PARRAMATTA CHAMPIONSHIP COURSE IS OBTAINABLE FROM THE WATERSIDE ESTATE,
CABARITA, CABARITA.

Fully a Mile of the course being plainly visible, and on August 3, when the great struggle between Webb and Towns for the World's Championship eventuates, will be a great opportunity for you to inspect the allotments which are for AUCTION SALE, ON THE GROUND, AT 3,
SATURDAY, AUGUST 17.

The Waterside Estate is fortunate enough to possess both Boat and Tram Service, the official opening of the latter being definitely fixed for WEDNESDAY, JULY 31, and as no fewer than 32 Blocks of the Finest Building Land conceivable have a frontage to this same Tramline you can readily imagine what a Tremendous Future Value the Land must have. However, we will sell to you at
YOUR OWN PRICE
ON THE AUCTION DAY. AND NOT ONLY THAT, BUT HAVE ARRANGED THE PARTICULARLY EASY TERMS OF FROM £1 DEPOSIT, 10s MONTH.
THERE ARE 18 WATER FRONTAGE LOTS, EACH POSSESSING "ABSOLUTE RIGHTS OF RECLAMATION." THEY ALSO MUST BE SOLD, OUR TERMS BEING £5 DOWN, £2 MONTH.

These Water Frontage Lots will lend themselves most readily to Building purposes. Some are naturally terraced; others gently sloping to the water, and, taken altogether, the whole 102 Allotments comprising the Estate are as fine a collection of Building Sites it has ever been our good fortune to handle. Magnificent views are obtainable from each one, and you will do well, indeed, by taking advantage of this Sale to possess yourself of a first-class Home Site on Easy Terms in a Most Choice Locality.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1907.

THE WELL-KNOWN SPLENDID WOOLGROWING AND FATTENING RIVERINE ESTATES, BUNDYULUMBLAH AND GELAM.

BUNDYULUMBLAH is situate about 30 miles north-westerly from Deniliquin, and has a frontage to the Billabong.
GELAM is situate about 7 miles westerly from Maude, and has a frontage to the Murrumbidgee.

FIRST-CLASS PASTORAL PROPERTIES.

THE NEW ZEALAND LOAN AND MERCANTILE AGENCY CO., Ltd. (in conjunction with Messrs. HERBERT POWER and SON, Melbourne), have been instructed by the Executors of the Estate of the late DAVID MOORE to offer for sale by PUBLIC AUCTION, at SCOTT'S HOTEL, MELBOURNE, on AUGUST 21, 1907, at 3 p.m.,

BUNDYULUMBLAH AND GELAM,

together with the High-class Flock of Merino Sheep, also Cattle, Horses, Plant, Furniture, and Stores.

BUNDYULUMBLAH comprises:—
FREEHOLD, 55,765 Acres.
C.P., 1408 Acres, to convert about £332.
PREF. OCCUPATION LICENSE, 7193 Acres; Annual Fee, £74 18s 7d.
OCCUPATION LICENSE, 1719 Acres; Annual Fee, £16 2s 4d.
TOTAL AREA, 66,113 Acres; Annual Fee, £91 0s 11d.

OCCUPATION LICENSE, 6065 Acres; Annual Fee, £65 18s.
TOTAL, 31,416 Acres; £223 15s 10d.

The country comprised in the estates consists of nearly level, open, alluvial plains, which are intersected by belts of timber, the soil being rich black, chocolate, red, and grey loam, which produces grasses, salt and cotton bush in abundance, and other herbage, of the very best quality. There is no sounder or better fattening country in Australia. The estates, which are worked in conjunction, are abundantly watered by the frontage to the Billabong, in which there are several permanent lagoons; by the frontage to the Murrumbidgee, which is a perennial stream; by a large number of tanks, and by four wells, which yield abundant supplies of fresh water. The improvements are ample for the proper working of the estates. There are on Bundyulumblah a comfortable and commodious Homestead built of pise, and all necessary outbuildings, a woolshed—fitted in 1906—with 12 Wolseley machines, shearers' and station hands' huts, yards, etc.
The run is fenced and subdivided into 31 paddocks by good fences of posts and wires, and is enclosed and subdivided by wire-netting. There are on Gelam a comfortable manager's house, built of wood, men's huts, woolshed, yards, etc.
The run is fenced and subdivided by good fences of posts and wires, and is enclosed by wire-netting.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR

AND MOLES.

Any inexperienced person can set up and claim to remove hair by an electrical process, but my system of Electrolysis is the result of many years constant practice, which justifies me in claiming to be an expert—quite the most experienced in Australia.

This is why I am in a position to OFFER TO REMOVE TWO OR THREE HAIRS FREE OF CHARGE,

just to show you exactly how the work is done.
You can then wait a sufficient time to satisfy yourself that these hairs have not grown again before continuing the treatment.
If I was not certain of the permanency of my work, I could not possibly make such an offer. Please call. Tel., 193.
I also remove Moles and Tattoo Marks and Birthmarks.

MEDICAL VIBRATORY MASSAGE.
Have you ever tried
VIBRATORY MASSAGE TREATMENT?
It has become a recognised cure for various complaints, viz., Rheumatism, Gout, Sciatica, Paralysis, Muscular Weaknesses, Stiff Joints, Defective Circulation, Indigestion, Nervousness, and General Debility, Throat Troubles, Deafness, etc. It is highly recommended by the medical profession. The effect of vibration is soothing, relieving pain, and builds up the whole system. It also increases the circulation of the blood. VIBRATORY MASSAGE is also a splendid and beneficial treatment for Facial Blemishes and scalp troubles. My fees are very moderate, and within the reach of all. I have had many years' experience, and am holder of Hospital and University Certificates for Massage Treatment. I should be pleased at any time to explain our methods, and consultations are free.

GRACE BROS., THE MODEL STORE,

BROADWAY,
SYDNEY.

12 DAYS' SALE. LAST DAY.

The following is an extract from a Lady's Diary for 1885:—"To-day I received my allowance for Dress—£10 for the year—and this is my first purchase:—
"7 yards Cashmere, at 5s 6d, £1 18s 6d.
"I could not AFFORD common stuff."
This one item made a large hole in the £10, but it was not extravagance, but economy, which prompted her to buy good material.
It is just the same to-day. If you buy high quality goods, it is economy. Grace Bros.' methods of buying large stocks for spot cash enable them to give you high-class goods at low prices at ordinary times, and during the 12-days' sale the prices are exceptional.
To-day is the LAST DAY that you can secure the following high-class goods at sale prices:—

SHOWROOM BARGAINS.

570 JACKETS PURCHASED.
Our buyer succumbed to temptation, and bought this line because the price was so low, and the value so high. We will sell them for one quarter less than original cost price.
Come and see what we can offer at 5s 11d, 7s 11d, 10s 10d, 15s 11d, 21s.
CHILDREN'S CREAM BEARSKIN COATS. Extraordinary values from 5s 11d. A line of red and blue Children's 22in PALETOTS. To be cleared at 1s 11½d.
The balance of our Children's and Girls' Costumes will be offered at a very low price, according to size.

COSTUMES AND SKIRTS.
Do not fail to inspect our special bargains in these goods, which have all to be cut down to bedrock in order to clear.
DRESSING JACKETS, 1s 11d. We are putting in a line of these, made of a good flannelette, ample in size, and well trimmed. We have only about 100 left. This is the last opportunity to buy them at such a low price as 1s 11d.
GOLF JERSEYS, 2s 11d. We have a few which we are offering at this price. They are mostly cream, and all much below anything we have previously offered.
FURS, 5s 11d.
The last opportunity of buying Furs at SUMMER PRICES. See our line of White Stoles at 5s 11d. Originally 10s 11d.
See our line of Imitation SABLE NECKLETS, 2s 11d, originally 4s 11d.
MUFFS 5s 11d.
We have decided to offer all our remaining stock of Sable Hare Muffs, Russian Hare Muffs, Stone Marten Hare Muffs, Chinchilla Hare Muffs, irrespective of size or price, at one clearing price, 5s 11d. An opportunity too good to miss, as if you come early you may get a 14s 11d Muff for 5s 11d.
IMITATION FURS, 11½d.
We have an exceptional line of Black and Grey Real Mohair Astrachan Stoles and Muffs. These we have purchased at a big reduction, and we are offering them at less than one-quarter original price. The Muffs are bag shape, good size, and well-lined. We offer for 1s 6d, and a few better Stoles also at 1s 6d; but there are 300 Stoles to be sold at 11½d. Do not be too late, because this is such an exceptional bargain that they will not last out the day.
JACKETS, 2s 11d. This line of Jackets is simply unequalled in value, and the price speaks for itself. This is your last opportunity. They will be sold TO-DAY.

THE RIGHT TIME TO BUY

CALLAGHAN BOOTS!

The cold weather, and the wet weather, too, are about, and it's a good time to buy a pair of CALLAGHAN BOOTS.

If you want dry feet and warm feet your boots must be of the wet-resisting kind—made from carefully-prepared leathers.

The Man-about-Town GETS THIS in the CALLAGHAN BOOT.—It is A WET-RESISTING BOOT, A WEAR-RESISTING BOOT ALSO.

CARPETS AT BEARD, WATSON'S.

Both our Windows this week display something new and unique in Carpets.
We have long been recognised as the leading House in Australia for Eastern Rugs and Oriental Carpets, and we have just opened some of the most perfect specimens of the New

IVORY GROUND EASTERN RUGS.
IVORY GROUND EASTERN RUGS.
IVORY GROUND EASTERN RUGS.

These Rugs are the finest in design and general decorative value ever seen in Sydney; and, as they are exclusively held by us, and the stock of them is necessarily limited, it would be wise to call and see them as soon as possible.
We also show a New Shipment of the well-known

AXMINSTER CARPETS.

The rich deep tones and floral patterns will be much admired. We have the largest selection in Sydney, and our Prices are STRICTLY MODERATE.

A visit to our Carpet Departments will sustain our contention that we hold the pride of place for FRESH, UP-TO-DATE, and EXCLUSIVE DESIGNS, and one glance at our stocks will show that the usual uninteresting and commonplace Carpet finds no place in our fixtures.

A SOLID GOLD WATCH FOR A LADY, £3.

You can't tell the difference between a ten-guinea Watch and the H. F. Smith Lady's Watch at £3.
In time-keeping qualities it is equal to any watch at ten guineas—so it is in appearance—though the ten-guinea one would be heavier, no doubt—yet this splendid watch is as good in every other way.
We guarantee it for two years—it has perfect keyless action—is full jewelled, and we will refund money to anyone who is in anyway dissatisfied.

PRICE, £3; POST FREE.

HOWES AND HOWES' TAILORING!!

In more ways than one your Suit will be better if you order it at Howes and Howes', and pay cash for it. For one thing, it will be of better material. The credit tailor buys his Woollens as he uses them—we import cases and cases of them, and pay cash. For another thing, a Howes and Howes Suit will be better in style and workmanship, because getting the cash enables us to put more work into it and give better value. Taking it all round, the Suit you get at Howes and Howes is better value than any credit tailor could ever hope to give you.

HOWES AND HOWES' SAC
SUITS TO ORDER, 63/

It's a specialty with us—this Price Suit. We make a tremendous number of them for business and professional men. We don't quote 63/ just to get you into our establishment, to induce you to order a higher-priced Suit. We like to make them. We have tiers upon tiers of materials at 63/ the Suit. You'd be surprised at the variety. They're all the very latest designs in Greys, Browns, Greens, Stripes, Overchecks, etc.—so many different patterns that you'd probably find it hard to decide which to select, they're all so good. Other tailors get 25 per cent. more.

HOWES AND HOWES' SAC
SUITS TO ORDER, 75/

Better Quality Material than our 63/. Would do for better wear. A big range of Fabrics at this price, too. The way we make the Suit gives it a shape that holds good for a long term of service. When you are passing our establishment, just call in for Patterns—we are sure to have the material you want. Again, if you've got your own ideas as to how you want the Suit made, we will follow them out in detail.
